

Chapter: 3365

“Director Huang, you are reasonable.”

The white high-heeled shoes stopped in front of the dining table for the two of them, and Yang Ning’s noodles were almost at the end. She picked up the bowl and took a sip of the soup. She took a long sigh of relief and wiped her mouth with the paper on the side.

Huang Ping didn’t want to ignore Tang Qian from the beginning to the end. He glanced at Yang Ning, who had already finished eating, and then looked at the half bowl he still had, and couldn’t help laughing: “It’s really old, If I were your age, with a good digestive system, I could eat so fast.”

“That is, Director Huang looked very energetic when he was young.”

Yang Ning echoed with a smile, and sang a double reed with Huang Ping, completely putting Tang Qian aside.

Hearing Yang Ning’s voice, Tang Qian, who was standing by the table, immediately widened her eyes. Since her eyes were always on Huang Ping as soon as she entered the door, she didn’t even know that her enemy was sitting in front of him.

“Yang Ning, you...why are you sitting here!” Tang Qian wanted to scold, but after thinking about it, she realized that all the acquaintances in the circle were sitting here, so she couldn’t be too presumptuous.

Hearing this, both Yang Ning and Huang Ping glanced at her in disgust, and the atmosphere in the store suddenly dropped to freezing point.

From the moment she came in, Yang Ning knew that the two of them must have quarreled, and sure enough, before they chatted for three and a half sentences, Tang Qian couldn’t help but target her with a broken mouth.

Anyway, she was already prepared, and she was even more adept at dealing with it.

Yang Ning glared at her, raised her chin slightly, and stood up straight. Even if she was a bit shorter than Tang Qian, she could never lose her aura.

“Why, are you going to sit here? Then I’ll let it go to you.”

Huang Ping glanced at the two people who were arguing with swords and arrows, and didn’t mean to persuade. He usually left long ago when he encountered such a situation, but Yang Ning was here, and he felt that it would be okay to stay and have a look.

Anyway, when you go back, don’t you say something that will never be possible to the photos?

Hearing Yang Ning scolding her, Tang Qian’s chest was about to explode, she stomped her feet, her face seemed calm, but a violent storm was brewing in her eyes.

In her life, she had the most disdain for those who looked down on her. Yang Ning’s mocking face made her raise her hand and wanted to fight it.

“You still want to hit me?” Yang Ning couldn’t be bullied at will, she raised her hand to stop Tang Qian’s hand sneeringly, her bright pupils were full of coldness.

Being provoked over and over again, Tang Qian could no longer suppress the anger in her heart. If she hadn’t cared about Huang Ping and her face in front of her peers, she would not only beat Yang Ning, but also punish her. Beat to be convinced!

Closing her eyes, Tang Qian told herself not to meet ordinary wild women in the countryside. She suddenly shook off Yang Ning’s hand, and her eyes moved to Huang Ping’s body again. The flashing earrings on her earlobes were shaking violently.

Ignoring Yang Ning, Tang Qian consciously shielded her naturally, her eyes fixed on Huang Ping with a leisurely face in front of her, and she pursed her lips: “Director Huang, let me get straight to the point with you. The role, you have to give it to me no matter what.”

It is estimated that she is the only one who directly asks the director for a role like her.

She seemed to think that she was still alive a few years ago, that she was a pure and ignorant girl who stumbled into the world and finally became the head of a generation of jade girls in the entertainment industry.

As everyone knows, this setting is now the patent of Yang Yue.

Yang Ning chuckled and shook his head for Tang Qian’s ignorance. The opposite Huang Ping gave her his gaze and snorted in disapproval.

“Why, do you think you have the capital to play this role?”

“I.....”

After all, she was used to being domineering. When encountering a hard nail like Huang Ping, Tang Qian couldn’t say a word at all. She could only bite her lip and hold her breath.

Seeing this, Yang Ning raised her eyebrows. She didn’t know why Tang Qian insisted on playing the role of Concubine Xian. According to her memory of her last life, Concubine Xian was a bad character from beginning to end. She was very arrogant and domineering, but it also caused sympathy.
