Chapter 2461

Diana asked anxiously, "Honey, do you think Daisy will like these gifts or not? What if she doesn't like them? Hmm... I feel like something is missing. Should we go buy more?"

Rick massaged his temples and shook his head helplessly. His wife had never been so thoughtful when preparing his birthday present.

Soon, a maid called her from downstairs. "Ma'am, Master Nollace is back."

Diana left her husband at the side and ran downstairs. When she saw Daisy and Nollace, she went up to them with a smile on her face.

Ignoring Nollace, she rushed right up to Daisy and hugged her.

"Daisy, you've finally come to visit me. Do you know how much I've missed you?"

Daisy had already experienced Diana's enthusiasm. Putting on a smile, she said, "Me too, Mom."

Diana was stunned. She looked at Daisy with disbelief and asked, "What did you just call me?"

"Mom? You don't like it?" Daisy thought Diana did not like her calling her that.

"Alright. I'll go downstairs first."

Before Diana went away, she looked at Nollace and said, "Don't you dare bully Daisie, you got it?"

Nollace was rendered speechless.

After Diana left, Daisie couldn't hold herself back anymore and laughed. "Your mother is still as enthusiastic as always."

Nollace chuckled helplessly. "That's because she likes you."

Daisie looked at him and said, "She likes you too. After all, you're her only son."

The next day, at the National Film and Television College...

Freyja was preparing her script for her short film in the classroom when Shannon, Leia, and a few of her classmates came in.

Shannon said, “By the way, my boyfriend is holding a sorority party at his house today. Do you want to come along?”

“What? You have a boyfriend?”

“Yeah, we’ve been together for more than a month. I didn’t have time to introduce him to you, but you guys will see him today.”

“I’m so jealous of you. What does your boyfriend do for a living?”

Shannon smiled and replied,

“His family owns a business. His father planned to let him take over the company recently.”

After Shannon finished speaking, she walked up to Freyja and asked, “Freyja, are you coming? You can bring your husband as well.”

Colton checked through the contract. After a long while, he signed his name on it, and his lawyer also stamped it.

After they left, Colton received a call from Maisie. He answered the call and said, "Mom?"

Maisie said,

"Cole, Daisy and Nolly have returned to Yaramoor. When you have time, help me to pay a visit to the Knowles. Remember to bring gifts."

"What? They're in Yaramoor?"

"Daisy is pregnant, so of course, she has to go back to Yaramoor with Nolly. Since you're in Yaramoor, remember to pay a visit to the Knowles from time to time to promote the relationship between our families. Don't make the Knowles feel that we're slighting them. Understand?"

Colton pressed his lips thin. "Okay."

After he hung up the call, he looked outside through the window. If Daisy was pregnant, did this mean that he would also become an uncle?

For the sake of Daisy's kid, it seemed to him that he should pay a visit to the Knowles.

"What are you guys doing? I've brought you all some wine." The man came over with two bottles of wine in his hand. Another two men were standing beside him as well.

Shannon had never seen those two men before and was momentarily stunned. She walked up to her boyfriend and asked, "Are they your friends?"

The man asked, "You guys don't mind, right?"

Before Shannon could say anything, the other female students chimed in and teased, "Of course, we don't mind."

The party continued.

Freyja had been staying by the grill while the two men were having fun with those women in the pool. Those men were getting handsy on those women, and Freyja frowned. She did not know why but had a feeling that Shannon's boyfriend was up to something no good. It seemed to her that he did not care about Shannon's classmates at all. Otherwise, he wouldn't have brought two strangers with him.

Soon, Leia came up from the pool. Her face was dark, and she walked toward Freyja. "Can you come to the restroom with me?"

Shannon was slightly taken aback. She stared at Freyja and bit her lip. Freyja was profoundly surprised too. After all, she did not remember telling Colton about the venue. ‘How does he know that I’m here?’ Shannon’s boyfriend took a closer look at Colton. “Who are you?” After saying that, he asked Shannon with a slightly irritated expression. “Is he your friend?” Freyja walked toward Colton. “How did you know that I was here?” Colton glanced at the people behind her indifferently, stretched out his arm, and embraced her. “Why didn’t you tell me you’ve come to this place?” “Oh my God! Colton leaned back in the chair. "As soon as we bring your father over, this will be your home from now on."

She was flustered and stared at Colton. "You..."

"There's no need to thank me in such a hurry." Colton stroked the ends of her hair, hugged her in his arms, and pressed his lips against her ear. "After all, I still can't accept the fact that my wife is being looked down upon out there."

Her eyes turned bloodshot instantly, and her heart trembled and skipped a beat.

After everyone got out of the cars, they were surprised again.

No one could believe that this was Freyja's husband's residence.

Halfway through the conversation, Colton appeared behind her and placed his hands on her shoulders. “Are you guys badmouthing me?”

Someone replied with a smile, “We were just asking Freyja how she met you.”

“Really?” Colton narrowed his eyes, looked down at the woman sitting right in front of him, and stated meaningfully, “We studied at the same college. One wouldn’t say that it’s a story of love at first sight, but it’s definitely a story of true love.”

Freyja

was astonished, feeling something was wrong with his side of the story, so she raised her head. “What are you talking about?”

“Isn’t that the case?” Colton leaned over and stared at her. “I wonder who’s the woman who couldn’t get me off her mind, so much so that she traveled to Zlokova looking for me.”

Freyja smacked his hand off her shoulders. “Did you inherit that shamelessness?”

Her ears were flushed.

Colton rubbed her earlobe with his fingertips and sneered. “Are you implying that our father is a shameless man?”

"But do they really want to leave the company? It's just that they think they're overworking, so they're full of complaints. If so, all we need to do is give them the opportunity to leave the company. That will shut some people's mouths, while those who don't really want to leave will consider the pros and cons themselves, making their own decisions based on the situation that they're in. And when that's happening, we only have to tweak the benefits and salaries. With that, what do you think will go through their minds?"

Hedeon gave it a good thought. "I see. They'll think the notice asking them to resign is only a temptation."

The elevator door opened, and Nollace got in. "They'll think that it's a fluke, they'll be glad that they've chosen to stay, and those who left the company will miss the benefits and salary raise. With that, the complaints will naturally stop."

Hedeon was in a daze as this seemed to make sense. Nollace held the elevator and looked up at him. "Aren't you going to come in?"

Hedeon returned to his senses and hurried in.

The elevator arrived at the first floor, and the moment the two metal doors opened, Nollace looked up and saw Daisy standing at the door.

He was slightly startled, then pursed his lips and let off a smile. "Why did you come here in person? Didn't Mom tell you to get more rest?"

Daisy picked up the lunch box hidden behind her and grinned brightly. "Mom asked me to bring you lunch."

Hedeon stared at the two of them and asked faintly, "Bro, is this your wife?"

At the same time, Freyja sent her classmates out of the villa one after another.

Leia walked up to a car, stopped all of a sudden, and turned around to look at Freyja." Thank you for the hospitality, and I owe you an apology."

Freyja was slightly taken aback.

Leia lowered her gaze. "I recognize Shannon as a friend of mine. She defamed you when she badmouthed you back then. Although you didn't mind that, I should have stopped her. I'm sorry about that."

Freyja pursed her lips tightly. She had always been a loner and did not like to maintain close connections with others, which was why she never minded what others thought of her.

It might look like she did not mind it on the surface, but she actually cared a lot deep down. She was a little surprised that Leia would apologize to her, but she felt a slight surge of warmth within her chest cavity at the same time. "It's okay."

“Freyja, you’re your truest self when you’re with your husband. Although you’re normally very friendly when you’re around us, I can see that your smile is only a disguise that you use to alienate yourself.”

Leia stared at her. “Actually, you don’t have to pretend when you’re around us. Everyone thinks it’s rather difficult to get to know you because you always alienate yourself from us, so it’s not that everyone hates you.”

After saying that, Leia got into the car.

After the car left, Freyja was still standing on the spot as what Leia had said echoed in her mind.
