Chapter 2571

The old man invited him in.

The old man's wife poured a hot cup of tea for Edison and placed it in front of him. The old man asked her to go take a rest and asked, "What would you like to ask?"

"Mr. Bart Duval was shot to death a while ago. I'm here to investigate that."

The man heard that and was shocked. "What? Bart is dead?"

Edison nodded.

"I heard that he used to be your neighbor, so I'd like to ask if you know much about him. Does he have any relatives?"

The rain started pouring.

After a long while, Edison said goodbye to the old man and walked to his car. He then stopped because he noticed that something was off.

A few men in black approached him in the rain.

Yorrick then looked at the people. "So, His Highness' wife and offspring are fine. Why would he need to take revenge then?"

All the ministers were speechless. If that were the truth, Nollace would have no reason to poison the inmate because she didn't succeed in her plan and cause any harm.

Nollace wouldn't have a reason to take revenge.

Diana broke the silence and said,

"You heard that. I know my son well enough. If I wanted to cover for him, why would I let the police investigate him? My son and daughter-in-law were wrongfully accused. Should I not say something?"

"The matters of the country are important, but so are family matters. If I can't even protect my family, how will I be able to run the country? I'm under pressure from all sides. Is this what you call loyalty? Should I vacate this throne and let you take it?"

"It was raining too heavily, so I didn't get a good look. But based on their movements, I guess they're mercenaries. They had no regard for their own safety."

Nollace looked in the direction of the room, and after a long pause, he said, "Stay here and keep an eye on him."

“Yes, Your Highness.”

Nollace left the hospital, got into the car, and slammed on his steering wheel. The veins on the back of his hand popped up. However, he could be sure now.

All these were linked to the Taylors.

Now that Edison was in a coma and they had no evidence, the police wouldn't be able to detain anyone for questioning.

The mysterious hacker put everyone on high alert, and soon, news that the cabinet members were working with the police got out.

They thought throwing one person under the bus would be good enough, but the hacker exposed another cabinet member two days later.

It seemed to be targeted at the cabinet, but it was actually exposing the dealings between ministers and the Taylors.

On the cruise, in the room...

Colton closed his laptop and looked toward Nollace. "Are you sure this will hurt that old man?"

"If it doesn't, the ministers will take the fall for him. Everyone else will soon become pawns that he abandoned. We need to create more noise and give them pressure. If we make them

After a while, Cecelia ignored the pain on her face and called her mother. "Mom, what happened? Did something happen to Dad?"

Bianca didn't know what to do but still ended up telling her daughter.

When Cecelia found out the truth, fear flashed across her eyes. If her father had really done all those things, their family would be... No, that couldn't happen!

The status and power of the Taylors were all she had! What would happen to her if she lost all that?

She couldn't lose everything that she had. She just couldn't!

Meanwhile, Nollace visited Edison with Daisie.

Edison was showing no signs of waking up. The doctor said that he was too badly injured and waking up was up to luck.

Daisie turned to look at Nollace, who looked gloomy, and grabbed his hand. "Don't worry. He'll wake up." Nollace looked down, and his lips moved. "If it wasn't because I was too confident that he'd be fine and overlooked the possibility that he would be attacked, he wouldn't have gotten injured."

Yorrick smiled and moved to the side. "Please come with us."

Lucius flung his hand and left the living room, followed by the police.

Cecelia dropped to the couch when her father was taken away, looking just like a wilted rose.

Her father would never do something like that. He must have been set up.

Suddenly, a person's face appeared in her head.

Nollace squinted and thought for a while. "I guess we can only try our luck on the Home Minister."

Since he was the only one willing to admit the guilt and take the blame, Lucius must have threatened him.

Yorrick patted his shoulder. "We have only three days. Try your best."

After that, he turned around and left.

Nollace came to the room that detained the Home Minister. The middle-aged man inside looked haggard. Apparently, losing his freedom was not a pleasant experience.

Meanwhile, in the Home Minister's house...

Since her husband was being investigated and there was a chance that he might serve time in prison, his wife bought tickets to Florinia and planned to take her daughter out of the country to escape the storm.

When they finished packing up and went out of the door, a few cars stopped in front of their house, and their faces turned pale.

A few bodyguards got out of the cars and said, "Ma'am, I'm sorry. But I'm afraid you can't leave now."

Inside the car, Nollace received a call from the bodyguards, and a smile appeared at the corner of his lips. "Well done. Now it's time for us to fight back."

He ended the call, and the bodyguard in the passenger seat answered a call. He smiled and said, "Sir, Edison has woken up!"

"Go to the hospital."

They turned their car and headed to the hospital.

Cecelia grinned coldly, and there was a manic glint in her eyes. "You work for Daisy, right? It seems to me that she cares a lot about you. I wonder if she will still care about you now or not."

Mia instantly understood what Cecelia was trying to do. Her brain went blank, and her heart was clutched by fear.

Meanwhile, Daisy was resting on the bed when her phone rang.

She took her phone and answered it when she saw it was Mia. "Yes, Mia?"

"I'm not Mia. You didn't think I'd have her, right?"

Daisy's pupils constricted. The voice did not belong to Mia, but it sounded familiar. "You... You're Cecelia?"

"Yes, it's me. I told you that I'd make you all regret it. So listen up, Daisy. Your maid is in my hands now. If you don't want her to die, then come to me."

"Daisy, don't listen to her! Mmmhm!"

Daisy clutched tightly to the phone when she heard Mia's voice. She bit her lips and said, "Cecelia, this is between you and me. You don't have to drag an innocent person into it. Release her now, or--"

"Nolly, promise me to be safe." Daisie caressed his cheek. "Promise me."

After a long while of silence, Nollace grabbed her hand and said in a hoarse voice, "Okay. I promise you."

Daisie hugged him and said, "I promise you too."

Cecelia was sitting on a chair, playing with her phone. Soon, she received a call from Daisie. She put it on the loudspeaker and said, "So, have you made up your mind?"

Daisie said, "Yes, I've already made up my mind. Didn't you want me there? I accept your challenge."

Mia's mouth had been duct taped. She could not shake her head while whimpering.

Cecelia laughed. "Are you coming alone, or are you bringing people with you? But it's okay if you bring s
