Chapter 30 Reporting Whereabouts

“Grandpa wants to see you.” Benjamin’s gaze fell on the girl across from him, his magnetic voice gentle and seductive, “When will you be free to go see him with me?”

“Isa, since Old Mr. Mason wants to see you, why not do it tomorrow?” Eloise asked tentatively.

“If you don’t want to go as my fiancée, you can represent the Logan family and show your concern,” Benjamin suggested, his dignified aura shining through even in retreat.

“That’s a good idea!” Williams was surprised at how clever Benjamin was.

“That’s right, you can show some concern on behalf of the Logan family...” Eloise also echoed.

Isabella thought to herself, “So no one asked her opinion?”

“So. Isabella, you’ll go visit Old Mr. Mason tomorrow. You’ve been home for two days, and it’s time to visit him.”

After all, when they proposed this marriage contract back then, Benjamin’s conditions were quite good.

Now Benjamin’s grandfather was still hospitalized, and his situation seemed not quite good...

As the younger generation, it was necessary to pay a visit and show some concern.

uts

“Yes, that’s right, you should go and visit him.” Williams arranged with a smile. “Bring some gifts. Don’t go there empty-handed...”

“You don’t need to bring a gift, just bring yourself.” Benjamin’s voice was clear.

“No, no, it’s the first meeting. We can’t be rude!” Williams insisted.

“Then let me handle it.” Benjamin’s eyes softened as he looked at Isabella. “Shall we set a specific time later?”

Isabella’s face was proud, but seeing her parents’ expectant eyes, she finally agreed, “Okay.”

She would just go check on Old Mr. Mason’s recovery, after all, she had received his blank check a few days ago.

Benjamin stood up after a brief chat, his thin lips parted slightly, “Sorry for disturbing you. I’ll be leaving now.”

“Are you leaving now, Benjamin? You’ve brought so many gifts, what are they for...” Eloise hadn’t finished speaking when she saw Benjamin stop and turn his head, his voice deep and light, “Just a small token of appreciation.”

“Isa, you should see Benjamin off!”

Isabella was speechless.

Why did she have to see him off?

“Thanks, but no need. Ms. Logan.”

The meaning of the word “Logan” is unclear.

Seeing the faint smile on Benjamin’s lips, Isabella raised her eyebrows. Was he blaming her for only telling him her name and not her surname?

She had just taken on this surname two days ago and was not yet familiar with it.

“Rest early, my fiancée.”

What fiancée?

Did she agree to it?

When Williams and Eloise heard it, they were immediately elated!

It seemed that Benjamin was very satisfied with Isa... It was beyond their expectations how things between the two went!

On the second floor, Cecilia could no longer contain herself and ran down the path in the garden where no one was watching.

“Benjamin...”

Seeing Cecilia rushing towards him. Green immediately blocked her way, “Ms. Logan. is there something you need?”

Cecilia looked at Benjamin’s figure, feeling extremely tormented in her heart, “Benjamin, your grandfather’s condition has worsened, and it was my fault. I feel guilty... thank you for not bringing it up in front of my parents just now...”

Green did not know what to say.

Benjamin just didn’t take her seriously; it wasn’t like he deliberately gave her face...

“I heard that your grandpa’s condition isn’t good, and I want to go see him. When you pick up my sister tomorrow, can you take me along?”

“No need.” There was a hint of indifference in Benjamin’s dark and clear pupils. “Grandpa wants to see my fiancée.”

Not you.

Cecilia didn't expect him to refuse so decisively. While feeling heartbroken, she still held onto a glimmer of hope. "My sister can go as your fiancée. I'm only representing the Logan family... Benjamin, please let me go and apologize to him."

Cecilia looked at Benjamin expectantly, wishing he would nod in agreement.

But a cold aura enveloped Benjamin's entire body, and under his pitch-black eyelashes, his cold eyes surged with hidden waves.

"The only one who can represent the Logan family is my fiancée."

His eyes grew even deeper, his jawline sharp and clean, and his voice was merciless.

"Benjamin..."

Seeing that Cecilia still wanted to catch up with Benjamin, Green stopped her and said, "Ms. Logan, Mr. Mason is engaged. Please keep your distance from him in the future."

"Green?"

Cecilia didn't expect this servant to stop her!

Before Isabella came back, this servant was very respectful to her!

"If someone sees this, it won't look good," Green said and then turned to follow Benjamin's footsteps.

Cecilia looked at Benjamin's back and shouted. "Benjamin, believe it or not. I didn't mean to harm your grandfather... I didn't mean it!!"

Green was once again left speechless.

Did Cecilia think that Mr. Mason's indifference towards her was because of Old Mr. Mason's matter?

But it was clear to everyone that Mr. Mason was not interested in her at all!

As for Isabella, on the other hand...

Mr. Mason seemed to treat her differently.

a

In the living room, Eloise looked at the pile of gifts in front of her and said. "Isa, these gifts from Benjamin..."

"You guys deal with it."

Isabella went upstairs. She didn't expect to get a fiancé after finding her biological parents, and the situation seemed more complicated than she had imagined.

"Benjamin..."

In the garden. Cecilia sobbed softly as she watched the direction. Benjamin left.

Scarlet comforted her, "Cecilia, he's gone now..."

"Scarlet, what should I do..." Cecilia raised her teary eyes, "It seems like Benjamin treats my sister differently."

"The game has just begun, and it's not certain who will win or lose." Scarlet caressed her back and analyzed rationally. "Isabella grew up in a small family and only her face stands out, which may not be enough to catch Mr. Mason's eye."

Cecilia's tears welled up in her eyes, and she instantly felt that Scarlet's words made sense.

"I think Mr. Mason will discover that you are the best choice for his fiancée in just a few days!"

After all, Cecilia had been trained in various arts and was the epitome of a lady, a socialite! Isabella, on the other hand, came from a small place and just had a pretty face.

And the Mason family was a top-notch wealthy family that only accepted people with both education and substance. They wouldn't want eye candy that's all show and no substance!

"Even if Mr. Mason likes her, it's only a momentary infatuation. When Isabella causes a scandal in the future and embarrasses the Mason family, they will discover that you are the most suitable one by his side!"

With Scarlet's comfort. Cecilia felt much better.

Meanwhile, Isabella had just returned to her room when her phone vibrated.

It was a familiar number, and it had just called her today.

She slid to answer and heard that familiar and deep voice coming from the other end of the phone.

"Isabella." Benjamin's voice was clear and magnetic, "I'm home."

Isabella asked subconsciously. "Anything wrong?"

This question amused Benjamin. Did this little girl not know that he was reporting his whereabouts to her?
