Chapter 49 We Can't Help With This Favor

After seeing Austin, Isabella was driving home when she suddenly received a call. Seeing the familiar number on the screen, she pressed the button on the steering wheel and hung up.

But Michael hit it over and over again.

"What's the matter?" Isabella answered impatiently, with a hint of displeasure in her tone.

"Isabella...I'll make a long story short, I saw you having dinner with the CEO of Oink Capital Group tonight? Do you know each other?"

"It's related to you?" Isabella didn't expect him to call and ask such a boring question, and was about to hang up.

"Isabella, tell me the truth, does Austin have a crush on you? Is he pursuing you?"

"You didn't let him run our company, did you?"

"Actually, it's a good thing that you can marry a wealthy family, but you also need the status of your mother's family, right?"

Isabella's icy eyes showed a trace of coldness, "What do you mean?"

"Your biological parents are in the country, don't mention the dowry, it will embarrass you! But I can support you, think about it, the richest man in Winter Town is your father, and the dowry is also prepared for you. You won't suffer when you marry, how wonderful!"

Isabella curled her lips coldly, "What do you want?"

"As long as you help me connect with Austin, let us meet and make us work together again..."

"It can't be done."

Isabella was about to hang up when he heard him pleading, "Isabella, I have raised you for eighteen years! You really don't plan to save me? Now the company is in crisis!"

"It has something to do with me?" Isabella said disapprovingly, "I don't know where you have the face to tell me this, the person who raised me was grandma, have you paid a penny all these years? Come back and see me?"

Every winter and summer vacation, she is sent to a group of old men to learn this and that, but her so-called parents have never found out these years!

One can imagine how many times they go home!

"I'm busy making money, but I can't help myself..."

Isabella ended the call, too lazy to waste time with him.

“How about it, what did that damn girl say?” Gail, who was waiting at the side, saw Michael’s dejected look after hanging up the phone, and vaguely guessed, “She refused?”

‘I’ve said it all! Be nice to her! Don’t make a scene too ugly! If you don’t listen, it’s fine now!’ Michael sighed, not knowing what else to do.

Gail felt angry, “It’s not the only way to go! That damn girl is unreliable, don’t we still have Daisy? Damn the VIP ward must be arranged by the Moore family. We will invite the Moore family out for dinner tomorrow night, Talk to them about the predicament, besides Oink Capital, there are two other groups that do not cooperate with us? Those two groups are close to the Moore family, let the Moore family help us...”

“It can only be the.”

Remembering that the Moore family could help, Michael felt better, “Come on, call Daisy down.”

He has something to say.

At this moment, Daisy happily ran downstairs and said happily, “Dad, Mom, my piano piece won the second place in the country!”

“What?” Michael and Gail didn’t expect their daughter to be so outstanding. Wasn’t she picked up by the cleaners to raise her? How can you play the piano? Can I still win an award?

Daisy hurriedly held the phone in front of them, “Look, the Logan family daughter Cecilia won the first place, and I took the second place!”

Gail was so proud of her that he couldn’t help turning his head and said, “Michael, this is a good opportunity...”

Michael also found out, “Daisy, with the second place, are you sure you can invite Harris’s family out for dinner?”

“You want to invite even uncles and aunts?” Daisy was a little surprised.

Michael told her about the company’s plight, but she did not expect her to promise, “Mom and Dad, I’m responsible for this!”

“What a good boy!”

After Isabella returned home, she suddenly found that there were many people in the living room, all of whom were complimenting Cecilia.

“Ms. Logan, you are amazing! You won the first place in the piano competition!”

“I’m really glad that I’m a helper in this family. I can listen. to such an elegant piano sound every day when I have nothing to do, and accept the influence...”

“Ms. Logan’s piano sound is really wonderful!”

It was Eloise who found out that Isabella was back first, and immediately stepped forward, “Honey, are you home from get off work? Are you tired from the first day of work? The company didn’t make things difficult for you, did they?”

“People in the company are saying that the person in charge who went today is very powerful and capable! They don’t know that the person they are talking about is my precious daughter...”
