Chapter 52 Unless It's Your Daughter-in-law

"What big shot?" Michael didn't hear the news at all.

"This big man is very powerful. When he was young, he created a huge business empire in the business field! Later, his grandson took over the business and expanded the business territory. At a young age, he became the world's richest man!"

"You mean Benjamin?"

Everyone knows that Benjamin is the richest man in the world! It's just that he himself rarely shows up, and the media has never published his photos...

"The big man you're talking about is Old Mr. Mason? Is he sick and hospitalized?"

How come no one has heard of such a sensational news?

Gail talked about what happened, "Old Mr. Mason was very ill a while ago, and a high school student happened to pass by to perform an operation on him..."

Because of the news, many people knew that Old Mr. Mason lived in Cameron Hospital, and came to visit him one after another.

"What high school student is so powerful?"

Michael thought to himself that saving Old Mr. Mason meant earning a lot of money.

High school students at the age of seventeen or eighteen have the guts to perform surgery on Old Mr. Mason? Also successfully rescued Old Mr. Mason?

Think about Isabella who has been raised for eighteen years. Not only is she useless, but she also makes things difficult for him!

"I heard that Old Mr. Mason is going to be discharged from the hospital, we must seize the opportunity, so we recommend ourselves..."

"But Old Mr. Mason will meet us?" Michael was obviously worried.

A big man like Old Mr. Mason, meeting him, the richest man in Winter Town?

"We can try! How will we know if we don't try?" Gail thought to himself, if Old Mr. Mason is willing to help the younger generation, the Moore family would not dare to be arrogant in front of them...

In the future, when Daisy marries into the Moore family, she can sit back and relax and live a good life.....

"Then what are you waiting for, let's prepare the gift ourselves, and find a time tomorrow to visit." Michael regained his confidence and dug out all the treasures at home one by one.

The next day, Isabella went to work at the company for a day, and received a friend request as soon as she stepped out of the company.

[Granddaughter-in-law, it's me. ]

Did Old Mr. Mason add her?

"Why hasn't Isabella approved my friend request..."

In the ward, Old Mr. Mason turned on his mobile phone from time to time, turned around and asked Bob beside him, "Didn't you say that girls would like it if you add modal particles after a sentence? You see, Isabella didn't even pa*s my friend request, would she?" Don't think I'm a pervert..."

Bob held back his smile, "I heard that she went to work, she should be busy, I didn't see the news."

"Go to work? To experience life or not enough pocket money?" Old Mr. Mason saw the phone light up before he could ask why. He looked at it and said excitedly: "My granddaughter-in-law asked through my friend!"

Isabella tapped the screen with her slender fingers, wondering: "Grandpa?"

[Isabella, it's me, I asked Benjamin for your contact information. He was reluctant to give it to me at first! ]Old Mr. Mason typed a text.

Isabella raised the corners of her lips and asked concerned, "How is your health today?"

[much better! ]

Old Mr. Mason just made this sentence, but quickly retracted it, and sent an aggrieved expression:

[Today is not very good, no one came to see me! I am so alone! Isabella, when will you pick me up and leave the hospital?]

Isabella finds it interesting, "Tomorrow."

[good! What time tomorrow? ]Old Mr. Mason couldn't wait for a while, but he didn't wait for the other party's reply.

At this time, Benjamin's car was already waiting outside the company.

As soon as Isabella got into the car, he pulled her into his arms, "Whose message?"

If he read correctly, when she walked out of the company just now, she was replying to the message, with a smile on her lips...

Who can make her laugh from the bottom of her heart?

“Didn’t you push my phone number to your grandpa?” Isabella asked with raised eyebrows.

“The old man calls me more than twenty times a day.” Benjamin was also entangled, “He talks a lot, so don’t bother him.”

Isabella finds it funny, is this what her grandson said?

[Isabella? Are you busy? ]

[I heard you went to work? Is it to experience life or not enough pocket money?]

[If you don’t have enough pocket money, you can find me. How much do you want? Grandpa will transfer to you!]

Benjamin saw that his always majestic and powerful grandpa was still so cute, “Grandpa even learned to type for you.”

This change is really big.

Isabella leaned on the seat and lazily replied: “No, just to experience life, the summer vacation is too long, let’s pa*s the time.”

[If you want to pa*s the time, you can come to me! I will take you around the world! Or do you want to stay in Bomsville? There are many attractions in Bomsville, I can show you there! ]

Just as Isabella was about to reply, the phone was taken away by Benjamin. He pressed the screen, and his voice was full of interest, “Grandpa, you have disturbed our two- person world.”

Old Mr. Mason didn’t expect his grandson to be with his daughter-in-law, the corners of his mouth parted, and he hurriedly put away his cell phone so as not to disturb them.

“What time should we pick up Grandpa tomorrow?” Isabella said lazily.

“You decide.” Benjamin returned the phone to her, playing with her little hand, “Listen to you.”

“Then go over after lunch?”

Because I have to go to work in the afternoon, I am afraid that grandpa will wait too long...

“good.”

Benjamin played with her fair and slender fingers, each one was beautiful, even the nails were very clean and beautiful.

This girl seemed to have magic. After holding hands, she never wanted to let go.

Early the next morning.

Old Mr. Mason freshened up and was in good spirits, waiting for Isabella to come...

Bob entered the door again, and said helplessly, "A lot of people have come to visit you."

"No see!" Old Mr. Mason wanted to see Isabella, not these outsiders!

The purpose of these people is obvious, isn't it just to marry their daughter and granddaughter into the Mason family?

Did they think he was too old and confused to see?

"Then I'll decline them first and say you're still resting..."

"Let's go out, I won't see anyone today!"
