

Chased 54

Chapter 54 Brown family

She admitted that Isabella is very beautiful today. Although she is only dressed in simple clothes, her outstanding facial features and the cold aura emanating from the inside out. are really eye-catching.

Seeing that everyone was thinking of Isabella, she couldn't help biting her lower lip, and whispered, "Her private life is really messed up..."

"What did you say?" Gail thought she knew something inside, and hurriedly asked.

Not only Gail, Michael and the Moore family were all attracted by her words, and all looked at her!

Daisy seemed to have found a sense of existence, and said softly:

"Harris and I saw her help a man to the hotel before, and the man was too old to walk..."

"After serving the old man in the hotel, she got into a luxury car and went to accompany other men..."

"Now that she can enter that ward, I don't know if she has some unclear relationship with Old Mr. Mason, or what capacity she used to visit Old Mr. Mason..."

"No matter which possibility it is, it is a pity..."

"She was pretty good at first, but she really did too many wrong things in order to stay in Bomsville."

When Daisy said this, she pretended to sigh, with a heartbroken look on her face.

Gail couldn't believe her ears, "Is this damn girl's private life really so chaotic?"

If you go in as a lover, you are not afraid of affecting the recovery of Old Mr. Mason!

"Isabella's biological family seems to be very rich, so they should disdain to do such a thing."

Hearing what Harris said, Daisy was stunned, "Harris, are you speaking for her? If her biological family is so rich, how could her family agree to her serving an old man in a hotel? You saw that day too, she The action with that old man is very intimate, just like a lover..."

and

It's okay if Daisy doesn't say it, but when Harris said it, he thought of Isabella's white hands holding the old man, felt unhappy immediately.

Daisy took the opportunity to add fuel to the flames, "If her biological family is really that rich, they can easily come up with billions in cash. Then her parents must be at least the richest man in the city, or even the richest man in the country..."

"But obviously, this possibility is very low. The luxury car that day may also be the car of some old man. The servant may also be lying..."

"I wonder, if her biological family is so rich, how could she go to the hospital and watch the old lady wake up... She has been there several times!" Gail thought to herself, "She must be waiting for the old lady to open her eyes." Eyes, decide for her, let her stay in the Brown family..."

Speaking of which, Isabella's parents really have no money.

At this moment, several bodyguards received the news and began to "drive away" the people outside.

"Old Mr. Mason didn't see anyone today, please go back, don't stand here, the air isn't circulating."

"But that girl went in just now..." Daisy said softly and with a smile on her face, "May I ask what is the relationship between that girl and Old Mr. Mason inside? Can you tell me?"

Seeing her hypocritical appearance, the bodyguard immediately felt disgusted. You must know that they have been in the Mason family for many years, and they have not seen a thousand women like this, and there are hundreds of them.

Seeing that the bodyguard ignored her, Daisy was a little embarrassed. With so many eyes watching, she could only say cheekily, "To be honest, that girl is my sister..."

"Since it's your sister, you can ask her yourself later." The bodyguard choked her back with a word.

Gail pulled Daisy back, not wanting to embarrass her.

But Mrs. Moore couldn't bear the girl's embarrassing appearance, and felt disgusted in her heart.

Many people left, and many people were still waiting nearby for Old Mr. Mason to come out.

After a while, the door of the ward opened.

Isabella helped Craig out, everyone was shocked!

The old man was hale and hearty, smiling and talking to the girl. The girl nodded obediently, looking very harmonious and warm, like a family!

The heads of several small companies froze for a moment, and rushed up to find Old Mr. Mason, but were blocked by bodyguards.

"Mr. Mason, are you leaving the hospital?"

"I wonder if you can give me five minutes?"

"I can do it in a minute!"

"Mr. Mason, Mr. Mason!!"

Ignoring the voice behind him, Craig chatted and laughed with the girl beside him, and walked towards the elevator together.

Bob followed them with his luggage, looking like a loyal servant.

"Sister really has a close relationship with Old Mr. Mason..."
