Chapter 63 I gave you a chance

Isabella glanced at Frank casually: "Frank, call the police."

Kate was startled when she heard the word call the police. She who had been aggressive just now suddenly softened in front of Isabella, leaning on the table and begging.

"No, don't..." Kate's voice was trembling, "Ms. Young..."

"The one who planned to let you go was you who insisted on settling this score with me."

Isabella raised her eyebrows, feeling a little helpless, "I didn't want you to compensate the company's losses, and I didn't want you to go to jail. It was you who said that you must report it to the headquarters to make things worse.'

Kate regretted it, "Ms. Young, it's all my fault! I shouldn't tamper with the attendance records without authorization to defraud the monthly salary and full attendance! I shouldn't accept the company's annual rewards against my conscience. I was wrong! I Can I apologize to you?"

"Is this the only thing you're wrong about?" Isabella's eyes fell on her, with a little oppression.

"What else..." Kate's tears were stuck in her eyes, and she was panicked, apparently unable to think of anything else that made Ms. Young catch the pigtail.

"In the past few days, I logged into the company's official mailbox and restored the deleted things one by one. Guess what I saw?"

Kate seemed to be aware of something, but she wasn't sure, and asked timidly, "What is it..."

"It's the person who left the company this year who wrote the letter of complaint! There are a total of sixty-three letters of complaint against you."

Kate was shocked, and the colleagues outside were also shocked, so many? It seems that Kate did bully a lot of people.

"You are abusing your power and covering up your colleagues who are doing mischief with you. Those upright people who don't want to cooperate with you are all forced away by you! The company can't keep talents, so it's because of you!"

"Ms. Young, listen to me, those people don't cooperate with the company's system...'

Before Kate finished speaking, Isabella's eyes became a little colder, "Now that things are going on, you still want to wrong them?"

"Ms. Young, I was wrong! Please give me another chance!" Kate begged, "I will come to apologize to those who were forced to leave by me!"

Seeing that Isabella didn't pay attention, Kate added with a choked voice, "I will return the twelve months' wages and bonuses given to me by the company within three days! Please don't call the police! If you call the police, I'm finished! My life is ruined!"

Isabella looked into her eyes and said word by word, "Then when you forced them away, did you ever think that some of their lives would be ruined by you?"

"Ms. Young..."

"When you framed them, did you ever think about their feelings?"

Isabella looked coldly at the short-haired woman in front of her, "I also saw in the complaint letter that you threatened some colleagues with their personal affairs, and two or three colleagues transferred money to you in order to settle the matter. The amount is not small. Multiple crimes and punishment if you don't, you'll have to spend at least two years in prison."

"Ms. Young..." Kate was very frightened and said with tears streaming down her face, "I was wrong! I was really wrong...'

"too late."

Frank had already called the police just now, and at this time several policemen came to the door and asked about the relevant situation, and they were about to take Kate away.

"Ms. Young, just say something, let me go..." Kate didn't want to be arrested, she bet her last hope on Isabella, and cried loudly, "Ms. Young, give me another chance!"

"I gave you the opportunity, but you didn't cherish it."

"Ms. Young, Ms. Young..."

Seeing Kate being taken away by the police, there was an uproar outside.

"I didn't expect her to be so hateful..."

"Also received benefits in private."

"Is the fun enough?" Isabella's voice suddenly sounded.

The outsiders ran away in fright and didn't dare to stay any longer. It seemed that the new president was not to be provoked.

Seeing that the person had left, Frank couldn't help but come in and offered a cup of coffee, "Ms. Young, if Kate doesn't come to see you, are you going to let her go?"

Seeing Isabella drinking coffee with her head down, Frank said to himself, "She has done so many bad things, if she is really let go like this, it would be too cheap for her!"

"Of course not." Isabella's eyes glowed with confidence, "She will definitely come."

“How do you know?”

“I have read the previous complaint letters. She dared to confront Mr. Barnes because of a trivial matter, which shows that she has a very hot temper. If I fire her, she will feel ashamed and will definitely come to me to reason.”

“So, you dug a hole for her to jump in because of this, and you will call the police anyway!”

“Of course.” How could Isabella let her go?

After taking two sips of coffee, Isabella added lightly, “It is inevitable that there are people who like to watch the excitement in the company. If they know that she is coming, they will definitely come and eavesdrop.”

Frank looked at Isabella in shock, “So, the person who was hiding outside and peeking just now was also in your expectation?”

Fortunately, he kept clasping his hands and begging these people to leave. After a long time, did Ms. Young let them see it on purpose?

“The company has been too disorganized this year. There are many people and many things that need to be reorganized.” Isabella didn’t take it seriously, and said in a disapproving tone, “You go down first.”

“Yes.” Frank was still sighing when he left, Ms. Young is amazing, all developments are under her control...

On the other side, Benjamin looked at the messages he had sent in the past. It had been an hour and forty-two minutes, and there was still no reply.

This little girl forgot about her fiancé as soon as she started working!

His fingers couldn’t help but click on Isabella’s head, which was a shadow reflected on the wall.

Although the shadow is black, there is no doubt that the beautiful skeleton and shape belong to her.

I didn’t expect that even her shadow was so beautiful.

Benjamin stared at her profile picture for a while, and couldn’t help but imagine what kind of weather she was taking this photo, what kind of clothes she was wearing that day, and how she was in a good mood...

Thinking of her beautiful face, Benjamin’s eyes softened unconsciously.

I clicked on her profile picture to save it, and returned to the chat box, but she still didn’t reply on the other end.

What is she up to? I don’t even have time to look at my phone.

Isabella was going to reply a message, but the phone vibrated at this moment, it was her father calling.

She slid over to answer, and as soon as she called Dad, Williams said happily, “Honey, you went to the office again early in the morning?”

This is too dedicated!

“I heard people from the company talk about Kate! I didn’t expect her to be so courageous. You did a good job.”
