

Chased 90

Chapter 90 Do You Like Benjamin?

At half past eleven in the evening, Isabella finally returned to Riverside Villa.

“You’re back?”

Cecilia, who was about to go downstairs, saw Isabella lift her foot up the stairs. A gust of wind happened to blow by, and several hickey marks on Isabella’s neck came into Cecilia’s eyes.

Cecilia’s heart seemed to be hit hard by some blunt instrument, and the pain hit, unbelievable.

“Why did you come back so late? Did you go out with him?”

Although she knew that she was likely to be with Benjamin, but seeing the hickey on her neck, Cecilia still couldn’t accept it!

How could a man as abstinent as Benjamin kiss a woman so strongly?

Isabella must have seduced him!

“Although there is no family ban in our family, you still have to come back early, otherwise if it spreads, others will say that our family education is not good.”

Isabella raised her eyes and asked lightly, “Do you like Benjamin?”

“Of course, I don’t like it...” Cecilia lowered her head in denial, not daring to meet her gaze.

It’s not that I’m afraid of her, but mainly because I’m afraid that she will sue her parents. Even if she likes Benjamin, it’s impossible to admit it in front of her...

“Then keep a distance from him.” Isabella’s tone was careless, unable to detect any emotion, “Just mind your own business.”

Cecilia watched Isabella go upstairs step by step, and couldn’t help clenching her fists.

She’s just a wild girl who grew up in a small place, so why talk to her like that?

Do you really think it would be great to return to the Logan family as the real daughter?

Isabella went back to the bedroom, the phone vibrated suddenly, it was Kai calling.

“Boss, the S TEAM incident has been resolved. In addition, you asked me to investigate the cause of the Hancock Hospital fire on September 10th eighteen years ago. Now I have some clues.”

“The cleaner who picked up Daisy to raise her once told her good friend that it rained heavily that night. At that time, the roads were bad, the rainfall was heavy, and there were many waterlogging points that needed to be treated for stagnant water.”

“About two o’clock in the morning, several cleaners were cleaning up the garbage on the road and beside the manhole, cover to help drain the waterlogging. It didn't take long to hear a deafening explosion."

"Then, there were explosions one after another. At first, the cleaners were afraid to approach. When they were about to rescue people later, they found several unlicensed black cars. leaving in the opposite direction."

"In that era, in that place, very few people had cars. I guess that the fire should be inseparable from those cars."

Isabella's eyes darkened a bit, "Who would it be, and what would destroy the entire hospital?"

"I also find it strange. If she can pay attention to who is in the car, or what characteristics are there, it will be easier to investigate."

"But that cleaner is pretty miserable now."

"Huh?" Isabella raised an eyebrow.

Isn't she Daisy's adoptive mother?

Although Daisy has now returned to the Brown family, how could she have worked so hard to raise Daisy for so many years, so how could she end up in such a miserable situation?

"After Daisy recognized her ancestors, the Brown family gave her 100,000 dollar. She didn't want it. She just wanted to see Daisy when she was free, but Daisy didn't recognize her and didn't want to have anything to do with her."

"She has been to the Brown family several times, but was driven away by the servants of the Brown family. Now she is not in good health, has no income, and has no relatives to take care of her. It's quite pitiful."

Isabella knows Daisy's virtue, and her past identity will only make her feel ashamed.

"Another strange point is that the whereabouts of several high-level officials in the health center are now missing, and the archives are gone."

"Now we can only look for useful clues from the cleaners and other rescuers, but Boss, you have to be mentally prepared, the results may not be so fast."

"Hmm." When Isabella said this, she heard the vibrating sound of her phone, looked at it, and Benjamin's call came in, "I hung up."

Talked to Benjamin on the phone, took a shower, and Isabella went to bed.

In the dream, she seemed to have returned to the Brown family, and saw a little girl holding Gail's hand and asking tearfully, "Mom, when will you come back next time?"

"Isabella, you're never finished! Your father and I are so busy every day, you think we're free? We only have a fever of 39 degrees and you let us see you?"

Little Isabella felt aggrieved, sobbing softly, "I didn't..."

"If you hadn't told your grandma, your grandma would call us and force us to come back? Do you know that when we come back, the project is yellow again!"

"She's still a child." Michael smoothed things over.

"What child!" Gail said angrily, "Which child have you seen who would use elders to deal with us at a young age! Look at how mother favors her Isabella, let me tell you, the more you are like this, the more I hate you!"

Seeing Gail open the door and leave, Michael hurried to catch up, "Don't be like this... The child doesn't know that after her grandfather passed away, she left the company to us to take care of, so many people in the company wanted to kick us out, and secretly made troubles. The kids just miss us."

"She only ruins our affairs every time. If she has the ability to save us from making money, what else can she do but cry!"

Little Isabella wiped her tears, as if she had made a decision in her heart. If she became better and helped the family earn money, wouldn't parents have to work so hard? Will he fall in love with her?

With the help of several grandpas, she became outstanding. That's when she knew that the relationship between Old Madam Brown and Gail's mother-in-law and daughter-in-law was not good, because the equity issue was still a little unpleasant...

Gail doesn't like Old Madam Brown, whenever Old Madam Brown protects Isabella, Gail hates Isabella even more...

Gail even felt that Isabella was a disaster. Every time she came back, she would make mistakes at work, so she didn't want to go back to this home more and more.

The number of times that Michael and Gail have been home in these years can be counted on the fingers, and the family relationship between them and Isabella is very weak.

In the past, Gail didn't like to hear Isabella cry. Slowly, Isabella became a child who couldn't cry. In the eyes of outsiders, Isabella was even cold and unhuman.

I don't know how long she was in the dream, Isabella opened her eyes again, and the sky outside the window was already bright.

Her heart was empty.

I picked up my phone and looked at it. It was only half past six, and there were still a few unread messages on the phone screen, which were sent by Benjamin.

[Isabella. ]

[I think you can't fall asleep thinking about it.]

[I want to sleep with you in my arms. ]

Isabella's empty heart just now seemed to be filled with something, the feeling of loss was gone, replaced by a touch of happiness.
