

Chased Her 111

Chapter 111 Legacy “Okay, okay...” Alexis was very relieved, “I’ll tell you a secret...you come here.” Alexis waited for her to approach, and then whispered, “I have already left a will in the will bank, in case something goes wrong, the shares on hand, as well as deposits, houses, cars, are all yours...” “Grandma, how can I do that?” Isabella just wanted to refuse. Alexis just hissed, and whispered, “Listen to me...Michael always listens to Gail, and Gail is mean, and doesn’t want to see you...The two of them have no business talent, and if things are handed over to them, sooner or later they will Lost.” This is true, Michael and Gail’s business ability is really not good. “But you have this ability, and I am willing to give it to you. Besides, these years, I have regarded you as my own granddaughter. No matter whose family you are from, you will always, always be my Alexis’ favorite and most promising granddaughter.” !” When Isabella heard it, the tip of her nose was slightly sour. “Let me say something long-term. Gail and the others always bully you. After you get the shares, you either sell them for money, or kick them out of the company directly. Don’t let them ruin the Brown family’s property. In short, don’t fight with them. Together, we have wronged ourselves!” Isabella didn’t expect that the old lady would even help her figure out the way forward, and her nose became even more sore, “But it’s Ligay yours, it’s the Brown family’s, I can’t have it.” “You don’t want it? Then I donate it and don’t give it to them...” Isabella was silent again, she knew that Michael and Gail’s actions over the years had completely broken the old lady ‘s heart! It is impossible for an old lady to leave an inheritance to them.

“These are mine in the first place, and I can give them to whomever I want. You don’t have to worry about it. In the future, grandma will close her eyes, and you will keep these things well. Treat them as if they were given to you by grandma.” When Alexis said this, he smiled lovingly and kindly, “I don’t know what kind of young man will be blessed to marry such an excellent granddaughter like me...” Isabella suddenly remembered something, and took out something from her bag, “Oh yes, your birthday will be in two days, so I wish you a happy birthday in advance.” Old Madam Brown was very happy. Unexpectedly, this girl still remembered her birthday. She first opened a gift box, and inside was a beautiful flower ornament. pleasing to the eye. At the end of the flower branch, there is music when you touch it lightly. She couldn’t bear it when she saw it. “How much will it cost, it’s too expensive...” “not expensive.” This was Henry’s birthday present to her. Isabella didn’t say it, but said, “Touch here, and there will be music.” Legacy The old lady was very happy. “This way I can listen to Muise when I am bored.” This is a specially customized model, and there are hundreds of piano songs in it, all of which make people feel happy after listening to it. “There are two more.” These two copies were sent by Isabella. Old Madam Brown was pleasantly surprised, “Anything else?”

“This is a mobile phone suitable for the elderly.” Isabella set it up for her personally. The program inside is very simple and easy to use. “Click here to contact me.” “This is good, this is good!” Old Madam Brown lacked something to contact her, “I want to hide this, so that Gail and the others cannot find it.” “There is also a bracelet, which is very suitable for you.” It is a high-quality jade. Isabella felt that it fit the old lady's temperament at first sight. She took a picture of it herself, designed the style, and asked her staff to make this bracelet. It is much more expensive than the bracelet she gave before.. "You child, you are so filial..." Old Madam Brown was moved to tears, "I like it so much, please help me put it on!" Isabella gently put the bracelet on her wrist, and said, "It suits you very well." Wear it to show the temperament of the old lady.

Ligay "It's beautiful! It's so beautiful!" Satisfied and happy. Alexis held Isabella's hand and chatted. Isabella held her hand and gently covered her with the quilt after she fell asleep. And Bennett waited outside the ward until Isabella came out before taking her to the office for dinner. Several nurses who passed by saw them and couldn't help whispering. "That's the lady who saved Old Mr. Mason before, right? Looks like a good match for our Dr. Robinson!" "Yeah, both of them have good looks, and their medical skills are above everyone else." "I really hope they get together!" "I also hope they get married in place!" "Don't pay attention to them." Bennett brought Isabella into the office. His food was already cold, but he didn't care. His monstrous and indifferent face softened a little because of Isabella's arrival. "It's been a long time for you."

"You know it's hard work, so give me more food. You see, you've lost weight recently." Bennett watched her eat, and for some reason, she looked delicious. Back home at night.

Legacy Cecilia trotted up to Isabella in front of her parents, and coquettishly invited. "My awards ceremony will be in two days. I wonder if you are free. Come with me to the theater?" Isabella remembered the phone call today, and she hasn't responded yet... "I still have to perform the award-winning piece on stage that day. If I am alone, I will be a little stage fright, but if you go with your parents, it will be different! Can you and your parents go to cheer me on?" Cecilia acted coquettishly, looking pure and harmless. Williams asked with a smile, "Isabella, is the company busy recently? If not, let's go together? The awards are over, and our family went out for a meal. We haven't gone out for a long time." "Yeah, you have been back for more than ten days, and you only went out for a meal. I always feel that I have treated you badly." Eloise also wanted her to put down her work and go outside to have a look. "Okay." Isabella never made it difficult for her parents, as long as it was proposed by her parents, she would agree. Cecilia was very happy and complacent about what happened two days later! Then Isabella will know how good she is at the piano! Unexpectedly, Isabella suddenly asked, "Where is Scarlet? Why didn't I see her today?" Cecilia's expression froze, "Scarlet? She's not feeling well today..." "Is it an upset stomach? Then eat more bird's nest."

Chapter 112 Cecilia Two days later, the annual National Piano Competition Awards Ceremony will be held in the Grand Theater. Early in the morning, many reporters squatted at the entrance of the theater, wanting to take a close-up of Cecilia, the most popular daughter of the Logan family this year. Cecilia is the daughter of the richest man. She was born in a superior position and has a beautiful appearance. She has been proficient in piano, chess, calligraphy and painting since she was a child. She is the winner in life that countless girls dream of becoming. Daisy knew that her family's conditions were not as good as hers, so she got up early in the morning to dress up, in order to compare her in appearance. In the past two days, Michael sold the other cars in the family, and bought a limited-edition Maybach S680 with some extra money, with a total price of 6 million, in order to support his daughter. On this day, he asked the family driver to put on an expensive suit uniform and white gloves, and opened the car door for Daisy himself. At the entrance of the theater, Daisy got out of the car gracefully. Wearing a tulle dress, she smiled gracefully. After landing, she waved to the reporters. The reporters froze.

“Who is this person? It looks quite impressive.” “I’m wearing QY’s dress. QY’s jewelry, and QY’s high heels... This outfit costs at least three million dollars, right?” As we all know, most of the works designed by Sofia Welch are priced at 500,000 to 800,000, and the real boutiques start at a million. “She still rides in a Maybach S680... Her family should be pretty good.”

“It seems to be the second place this year, Daisy, the daughter of Michael, the richest man in Winter Town.”

“Oh, so it’s her? She looks pretty, but her face is a little swollen.” Daisy’s expression froze when she heard this. After being beaten by Kara two days ago, her face was still swollen and she looked a little baby fat, but at this moment, she was still smiling and trying to show her beautiful side. At this time Michael also got out of the car, he bent down gentlemanly, and took Gail out of the car. It’s been a long time since Gail showed off like this. She wore a priceless peacock necklace. The peacock’s tail was inlaid with countless precious stones, occupying most of the space at her collarbone, and looked very gorgeous. She also took care of her makeup and hair, exuding the arrogance and superiority of a rich person all over her body. Reporters stepped forward to take pictures of them. After all, they are also the richest man in Winter Town. The clothes of this family of three are enough to make people discuss! Chap 112 a On the other side, Isabella was sitting in a luxury RV, carelessly dealing with private matters on her mobile phone, before she said, “You guys get out of the car first.” Her identity has not been released, but if she is with Williams and Eloise, she will attract the attention of reporters. Once the reporters dig into her identity and the “richest man’s daughter” is exposed, her life will never be peaceful in the future. and it will be inconvenient for her to go out and do errands. Living under the camera every day is not a good thing for someone like her with too many identities. Take those enemies as an example. Once they know that she is the daughter of the richest man and has lived in Bomsville for a long time, they will definitely come to make trouble. She doesn’t care, she just doesn’t want to hurt her family. “Isabella...” Eloise felt a little distressed. The identity of this child has not been revealed to the outside world until now, which really made her feel wronged. “It’s okay.” Isabella reassured in turn. It’s always better to be low- key and cautious, and she still understands this truth. Daisy was still waving and posing, and Michael and Gail were also arm in arm, enjoying the highlight moment brought by their daughter. But they haven’t had enough filming yet, the reporters suddenly dispersed and went to film another person! They followed the prestige and saw a luxury car parked at the entrance of the theater. After the driver of the car in high-level

Da uniform got out of the car, he respectfully opened the door for Cecilia. Cecilia made her way down the RV stairs with impeccable beauty. After all, it is a child held in the palm of a wealthy family. Compared with Daisy, the gap is too big! Daisy thought that she would be able to outshine everyone by wearing millions of outfits today, but she was too superficial. Cecilia's dress, hairstyle and jewelry complement each other, and her temperament is even better. Even the self-cultivation and temperament of the RV driver are different from those temporarily taught by their family! The reporters surrounded Cecilia on three floors inside and three floors outside. Immediately afterwards, Williams and Eloise got out of the car, attracting a lot of attention. Daisy knew that the family of three had been severely compared, so she smiled and said awkwardly. "Dad, Mom, shall we go in first?" Michael also knew that there was more than one world between him and Williams, and now that he approached Williams, he might be too lazy to talk to him... He didn't want to lose face in front of so many people, so he went in with Gail and Daisy first, thinking that he would get close again when he had a chance.

After all, he is the richest man in the country, and there are many people who want to get close to him. If you don't seize the opportunity today, when will you wait? Cecilia was enjoying the pursuit of the flash lights, and she could imagine the feeling of Isabella following behind the crowd! She raised her head more happily, smiled, and showed her most beautiful scene in front of the camera. Isabella followed the crowd unhurriedly, holding a mobile phone in one hand, and was reading a new message. [You didn't come to this year's awards ceremony, and the group of people under your command blocked me every day, begging me to come. But the ceremony without you guys is nothing to watch, it makes people feel boring, and I don't want to go out.] Holding the phone, Isabella replied, "Oh, I just arrived at the scene." The other party was very surprised, and hurriedly replied: [Are you at the scene? Very good! I'll be there in a while. Where are you? I'll ask the people below to pick you up first.] "No, I'm already in." [Great, those students must be very happy to have you here today!] Upon hearing this, Isabella knew that the other party had misunderstood her meaning, and replied lightly, "I came here as an audience." The other party understood that the senior must want to use the identity of the audience to see how well the winners of this year are and how the award ceremony is arranged! It must be so! [I heard people under my command say that the qualifications of these winners this year are good, but I haven't heard their songs, so I can't judge their level yet. I | Mr. Griffith would regret it if he knew you were here. | [He has always wanted to see you, and he was still thinking about you two days ago. If he had known in advance that you would come. he would definitely be the guest of honor.]

Chapter 113 Two Slaps Just then, a reporter noticed Isabella. She followed behind the crowd, with a beautiful face that was white and clean, with outstanding facial features, cuteness and coldness intertwined all over her body, she was indescribably stunning. He couldn't help but point the camera at her and take a few photos secretly. Sitting in the sixth row of the auditorium, Daisy peeked at her. phone. At 9:30 in the morning, Harris still didn't show up or send her a message. On the contrary, Michael, seeing a familiar old friend, came forward to shake hands with a smile, "Why are you here?" "Your daughter won the second place, congratulations..." A friend of his laughed, holding Michael's hand and said, "My daughter just won the fifth place..." "The ranking is not important, the important thing is to participate. Daisy is also a fluke, just a fluke." Michael smiled and said a few words to the other party. Gail also met an old friend here, and was quite surprised, "You also came with your daughter? What is the number?" "Don't mention that incompetent thing. It took twelve years of piano practice to get the eighth place. How can it be as talented as Daisy, who easily won the second place."

Two Slaps After exchanging pleasantries. Gail asked Daisy next to him in a low voice. "Where's Harris? Why hasn't this time come yet?" "he....." Daisy called Harris last night, but he said he wanted to see if he was available today. Daisy also sent him a message in the morning, and he said that he was a little busy, so he would check it later, and he didn't know if he would come in the end. "It's all his mother's fault! His mother must be instigating trouble behind his back. He was a good boy, and he treats you wholeheartedly..." Gail panicked when he thought of this, "When I become famous in the future, let his mother Regret going!" "Mo m, don't worry, I believe Harris will definitely come..."

"Send him another message. After a while, the awards ceremony will start! Let him see your beautiful side!" "Okay..." Daisy bit the bullet and took a photo of the scene for Harris. [Harris, I've reserved a spot for you. If you're busy, it's okay if you can't come.] She also sent a kiss emoji. Harris on the other side, although he had already arrived at the entrance of the theater, did not get off the car for a long time. After receiving Daisy's message, he didn't reply right away, his eyes were staring ahead, not knowing what he was thinking. "Hasn't Harris responded yet?"

Slaps "Send a few more words, don't be so concise." "Be more enthusiastic, first care about whether people are busy or not, and then talk about the awards ceremony!" "If it doesn't work, send a few more intimate expressions, say a few soft words, and coax him here." "Boys can't stand girls acting like a baby." "Haven't you replied yet?" "Ten minutes have passed, and he hasn't called you yet? Have you turned on the ringer? Is the signal here bad? Turn on your phone again? Why don't you go out and call him?" Daisy was already upset, and couldn't stand being urged by her mother, so she got up and said, "I'm going to the bathroom." "Daisy..." Gail knew she was bored, but Harris was such an excellent candidate, how many people wanted to be with him!

"Stop urging Daisy! You can't lower your posture and keep begging!" Michael couldn't stand it any longer. "But there are so many people I know at the scene, if Harris can come, our family will have more face!" Harris' identity alone is enough to make people around them look up to the Brown family! "Besides. Harris is here, which means he still likes Daisy! Otherwise, if his fiancé doesn't show up on such an important occasion, how much affection do you think he still has for Daisy?" Michael felt justified by what she said.

Daisy just bent over to wash her hands after going to the bathroom. when she saw a familiar figure passing behind her, she was taken aback, "Isabella? Why are you here?" Those who can enter this grand theater today are either related to the competition or are backstage staff! Nobody like Isabella can get in at all, unless she comes to work in the theater? impossibl..... How much money does she make spending a night with a rich man? How can she value such a small amount of money as a part-time job? Daisy suddenly realized, "I see, you are here with the client?" Isabella was too lazy to talk to her at first, but upon hearing what she said, she stopped and looked at her coldly, "Your face doesn't hurt anymore?"

Do you still want to ask for a beating?" "You dare to hit me..." Daisy subconsciously covered her face. Isabella just smiled. "You, you..." Daisy gritted her teeth, and suddenly had nothing to say, so she had to call out her parents to pressure her, "I warn you, my parents are here with me today!" "so what?" "If you dare to bully me, I'll let them deal with you! Then you will be the one who will lose face!" Isabella thinks it's funny, how old are you and you still use your parents to scare others? How useless is it? "What are you laughing at?" Daisy felt guilty. "Next time let me hear your nonsense. I'll cut off your tongue and throw it into the sea to feed the fish!" Daisy suddenly felt a pain in her tongue, raised her voice and said. "How dare you?" "You try, I dare not." Isabella was about to go into the bathroom, but unexpectedly. Daisy took some water and sprinkled it on her, raising her eyebrows deliberately, "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to." Although Isabella noticed it quickly and raised her hand to block some, she still got the clothes. Daisy was complacent and didn't realize that Isabella slapped her hard across the face. A crisp sound appeared in the air. Daisy was taken aback, and then covered her right cheek in disbelief, "You dare to hit me?" "It was you who hit me." Isabella raised her hand again, and slapped the other side of her face fiercely, "I'm not Gail, so I won't spoil you." "You, you..." Daisy was about to get angry when she suddenly heard a familiar voice. Daisy, are you okay?" Gail saw that she had gone to the bathroom for so long and hadn't come yet, and was looking for her, when he saw Isabella slap her daughter twice from a distance! She took a closer look, Daisy's face was swollen! Both sides are red! Daisy will be presenting awards later, Isabella, a dead girl, must have done it on purpose! Thinking of this, Gail raised his hand to teach Isabella a lesson. However, Isabella grabbed her wrist easily. "Let me go..." Gail didn't expect the strength of this damn girl to be so strong, and she couldn't pull back her hand after several attempts. She said angrily, "I let you let go, do you hear me?"

Chapter 114 Apology "Oh." Now, Isabella really let go. Gail fell backward due to inertia. Daisy wanted to help her up, but her skirt was stepped on by her, and both of them fell to the ground. their foreheads hit each other, extremely embarrassed. "You..." Gail pointed at Isabella, too angry to stand up. When Isabella came out of the bathroom, she saw Gail standing in front of her. "Daisy's face is something you can hit if you want? Last time you encouraged your friend to hit her, and you dare to bully her in front of me today. Let me tell you, if you don't apologize to Daisy today and let her fight back, I will call everyone to come and judge!" "Okay." Unexpectedly, Isabella readily agreed to her, and said disapprovingly, "Then call everyone, and let them talk about whether this behavior of stealing other people's piano music is worthy of winning the runner-up trophy." "What did you say? Stop slandering Daisy!" "Whether it's slander or not, you can just ask her." Isabella looked at Daisy without paying attention. Daisy was a little guilty, she didn't expect Isabella to know this so soon, she gritted her teeth and said, "Do you have evidence?" "Yes, what evidence do you have to prove that Daisy stole other people's piano music? Even if she stole it, how do you know? Can you understand piano music?" Although Old Madam Brown had bought this girl a piano before, he had hardly heard her play it... Don't think that if you know a little bit of rhythm, you can say that people steal things without any reason! "I see! You just saw Daisy won the second place, and you were mentally unbalanced, so you deliberately slipped into the theater to embarrass Daisy? How vicious! How could the Brown family raise someone like you!" "Who's raising whom?" Isabella raised her cold eyes and curled her lips coldly, "Since I was a child, have you ever spent a penny on me?" "The Brown family's money isn't mine?"

"That's from Old Madam Brown!" "I'm not arguing with you, just tell me if you're sorry?" Gail's voice had already drawn several people over. Daisy was a little embarrassed, took Gail's hand and said, "Let's go, Mom." "No, I have to ask this girl to apologize to you today!" Gail was determined to persuade Isabella to give in. "Mom, there are other people watching..." Daisy was afraid of calling reporters. "We don't know her as well, let's go, there will be opportunities in the future..." "Let me go and let me teach her a lesson. With me here today, don't be afraid!" "Have you acted enough?" Isabella was impatient. "We let you go, what else do you want?" Daisy has never seen this kind of person, docs she have to provoke everyone around her to be satisfied? "Oh, of course I want you to apologize." "Me? I apologize?" Daisy unheard. Gail was even more stunned, "You want Daisy to apologize to you?" Are you crazy? "You can't understand human language? I'll say it again, apologize." Isabella said every word, "If you don't apologize, I'll ask the staff to call out the surveillance over there." Although the location of the washbasin cannot be captured by surveillance, the location where Daisy splashed water when Isabella was about to enter the bathroom just now, the surveillance may have captured it! Daisy looked up, it's true, the surveillance captured the corridor in front of the bathroom, and Isabella was standing there just now... Damn it, if I knew it earlier, I would have splashed water on her later! "Gail wanted to go forward to teach Isabella a lesson, but was held back by Daisy. At this time, Daisy's face was a little ugly, and she looked at Isabella in humiliation. The number of onlookers has grown from two or three to four or Apology five. If this continues, it will be a big embarrassment! "I'm sorry, I was careless just now..." Daisy could only grit her teeth. and apologize. But Isabella raised her eyebrows, and seemed dissatisfied with her apology, "Do you want to let everyone see whether you were careless or on purpose?" Daisy could only humiliate, "I'm sorry, I was wrong just now! I won't do it in the future." "In the future, stay away from me." Isabella dropped this sentence, too lazy to waste time with her. Gail still wanted to catch up, but Daisy hugged her arm tightly and begged in a low voice, "Please, don't make trouble!" "Daisy, why are you apologizing to her? Why are you afraid of her? Just slap her twice, we are the one who is right!" What Daisy is afraid of is that the piano music will be debunked, this is the big deal! Apparently Isabella already knew about her stealing the piano piece. Will she be exposed directly in the next step? You must know that she found the piano piece in the room where Isabella used to live. Although there was only a climax, she once showed it to the piano teacher hired by the Brown family. Ashamed! She searched the Internet many times, but there was no sign of this song, so she thought about it, took the climax part, and wrote the intro and intro by herself, and then submitted it for submission. Also took second place! Apology She suddenly changed from a person who didn't know the rhythm to a musical talent! After finally having her current aura, she must keep it well. What is an apology? Isabella was pampered by the Brown family since she was a child. Even if she really learned the piano and knew how to compose. what evidence docs she have to prove that the piece is hers? Daisy comforted herself in her heart, don't be afraid, forgive Isabella for not being able to cause any trouble! Even if Isabella insists on saying that the song is her own, as long as she refuses to admit it, what can Isabella do? In the end, the clown is still Isabella! At this moment, many people exclaimed, "President, are you here?" Daisy followed the prestige, and saw a woman with a strong aura and a rather feminine charm walking towards her, wearing a women's suit, cool and fashionable. That's the president of the National Piano Association, Lena Farley ! Her piano attainments are extremely high, and she has won many Chinese and foreign awards since she was a child. She has been the president of the president for several years before she was 40 years. old, and she is honored as a piano master. Seeing her, Daisy hurriedly adjusted her clothes, and looked at herself in the mirror. Under the dim light, the blush on her face seemed to be made up. Realizing that she was quite decent, she hurried forward and introduced herself generously. "Hi Ms. Farley, my name is Daisy. and I won the second place in this piano competition." Lena originally saw Isabella in the crowd, but she was slightly disappointed when she walked over but found no one. She looked at the girl who greeted her, and when she heard the familiar name, her eyebrows were a little displeased, "The daughter of the Brown family?" She had heard Isabella mention the scumbags of the Brown family... Daisy thought that Ms. Farley knew her identity and was happy, but Ms. Farley's face turned cold.

Chapter 115 Disdain to Be Her Apprentice

Daisy didn't know why, but still bought time and said with a smile. "Ms. Farley, I really like your music. I wonder if there is a chance to learn from you?"

Ms. Farley raised her brows, a little curious, "Which song do you like?"

Daisy froze for a moment.

Too bad, she was just talking politely, and she couldn't find any songs under Ms. Farley's name in her mind!

She only knew that Ms. Farley was a very powerful person who became famous at a young age and was an existence that many piano scholars looked up to.

Seeing Daisy blushing, several people around couldn't help but say:

“You still have the nerve to say you like Ms. Farley?”

“I can play one hundred and thirty-two famous pieces under the name of Ms. Farley, will you?”

“I really don’t know how you got the second place.”

Daisy blushed, and said awkwardly and embarrassingly, “I’m sorry Ms. Farley, I’m so happy to meet you. I forgot in a moment of excitement...”

Ms. Farley was about to leave, but Daisy hurriedly stopped her and said, “Ms. Farley, I really admire your talent. I don’t know if I have the chance to get your advice. I will live up to your teachings!”

She thought Lena would be moved by her diligence, but Lena saw that the girl was ambitious, and said coldly, “Sorry. I don’t accept apprentices.”

Several people around were stunned, they didn’t expect Ms. Farley to refuse so bluntly, it seems that she really doesn’t like Daisy.

That’s right, as the winner of the second place in the piano competition, I don’t even know what repertoire Ms. Farley has...

Daisy was extremely embarrassed, seeing that Ms. Farley still wanted to leave, she hurriedly shouted, “Does Ms. Farley have other candidates in mind?”

Lena stopped for the third time, and this time, her eyes fell on her sharply, “There is someone to choose, even if there is no one, I will not choose you.”

Daisy’s face paled, “Can I ask why?”

“Because you are from the Brown family, I don’t like it.” Lena finished bluntly, and then took another look at her whole outfit, “You don’t fit this outfit, and these jewelry, Sofia Welch is a person with personality, you In this way, it is ruining her work.”

People around sighed, and then looked at Daisy carefully, her appearance really can’t handle these clothes and jewelry, it doesn’t look good.

Seeing Lena leave, a few onlookers followed suit, Gail was stunned, and stepped forward after a while, “What kind of shit president, how can you talk to a child like that! It’s too much!”

“Mom, I’m fine...” Daisy is still a little self-aware. “I didn’t say her song, it’s my fault...”

“Even if you forgot, she can’t embarrass you in front of everyone! You won the second place anyway!” Gail looked angrily at the back of Lena leaving, “And said you don’t deserve the clothes and jewelry. She decides whether she deserves it or not? If we have money, we can afford Sofia Welch’s clothes and jewelry, what’s wrong?”

“Mom, let’s go...” Daisy didn’t want to be ashamed of standing here anymore.

“She doesn’t want to take an apprentice, and we don’t bother to be her apprentice!” Gail took Daisy’s hand and returned to the auditorium, thinking along the way. “Who doesn’t know that Mr. Griffith is the most powerful in the piano world today., become his apprentice!”

“...” Daisy wanted to say that people with the status of Mr. Griffith, there are many people who want to be his apprentices, let alone her, even Cecilia, they don’t like it!

But she didn’t say anything at this time, and sat back in her seat, silently feeling a little sad.

At this moment. Michael's friend asked curiously, "I saw Ms. Farley chatting with your Daisy in the passageway from afar just now? Ms. Farley has taken a fancy to Daisy? Want to take her as an apprentice?"

Because it was too far away, he couldn't see clearly. He only knew that a group of people surrounded them, and they didn't know what they were talking about... It seemed that they were quite close.

Daisy was already embarrassed, but when she asked this question, she couldn't hide her expression, it was extremely embarrassing.

It was Gail who smiled. "Oh, Ms. Farley did mean that just now. but in this industry, the most powerful is Mr. Griffith, so I'll ask Daisy to think again, don't rush to agree..."

He didn't expect their goals to be so high, he was stunned for a moment, and said with a smile, "If you can make Ms. Farley like it. it means that your piano skills are very high... My daughter has been learning piano for many years. Farley pointed out, but Ms. Farley didn't agree... Daisy can make Ms. Farley fancy, it's really not easy!"

"Daisy won the second place, and our daughter only won the fifth place. Do you have the nerve to compare with others?" His wife said with a smile, "Daisy is so good, the chances of getting Mr. Griffith's attention in the future are probably very high..."

Gail was originally in a bad mood, but after being hugged by them, he smiled happily again.

"After the host finishes his opening remarks, the top eight contestants will go up to perform their own pieces. Daisy must perform well, maybe looking back, Mr. Griffith saw the replay on stage today, and was very impressed with Daisy..."

“It makes sense!” Gail hurriedly pushed Daisy when he heard that, “Daisy, do you hear that? You have to behave well in a while!”

“Understood.” Daisy was a little downcast at first, but when the phone beeped, she received a message. When she saw that it was from Harris, she immediately beamed with joy.

[I’m in the auditorium, where are you? |

Daisy stood up all of a sudden and looked back. When her eyes locked on Harris, she immediately raised her hand and said, “Harris, here I am!”

After she finished speaking, she couldn’t wait to greet her.

“Who’s here? It’s nice to see Daisy...”

“Oh, it’s Daisy’s boyfriend, and he came here to cheer her up!” Gail didn’t expect that Harris would come at this point, and he felt even better.

“You just graduated from high school, and you have a boyfriend so soon? Looks like a well-bred child. Which family’s child is it?”

“Oh, it’s the son of the richest man in Autumn Town.”

“Harris?” I didn’t expect the Brown family to be able to get together with the Moore family!

“You know him too?” Gail knew that with the power of the Moore family, if she said it, others would only envy her!

“It doesn’t count as knowing...” The lady next to her only knew Harris’ mother, but she hadn’t actually met Harris a few times.

Chapter 116 When Did You Learn Piano? At this time, Daisy took Harris's arm and came to the fifth row of the auditorium, and she introduced his identity to the people around him. Harris didn't want to come, but he struggled outside for a while, and still felt that as a fiancé, if he didn't attend the fiancée's award ceremony, it wouldn't make sense at all. So, he still reluctantly came. Although he was reluctant in his heart, when Daisy introduced his identity, he still greeted the people around him in a personable manner. His performance undoubtedly gave the Brown family, Michael and Gail unspeakable pride! Instead, Mrs. Lynn took out her mobile phone and quietly sent a message to Mrs. Moore, "Why didn't you tell me about Harris dating Daisy? If I hadn't met you in the audience, I wouldn't have known you had a daughter-in-law!" Mrs. Moore was drinking tea when she received this message and almost fainted out of breath. She hurriedly replied, "Audience? What audience?" She asked her son not to go to that dead girl of the Brown family again these two days, but he still didn't listen! "It's the awards ceremony of the National Piano Competition! My daughter won the fifth place, and I accompanied her to participate. When Did You Learn Piano? didn't expect that Daisy won the second place. You have a good vision..." Mrs. Moore just felt her heart was blocked, almost suffocated, "Where is the location? I'll go and have a look." "Why, your daughter-in-law didn't invite you?" Mrs. Lynn joked, "I think they have a good relationship..."

At this time, Daisy held Harris's hand sweetly. She didn't know what she said to Harris. Harris listened to her with his head down and smiled slightly. That picture is as beautiful as a painting! Mrs. Moore was furious, "What kind of daughter-in-law, it's just children playing." "Huh??" Mrs. Lynn was surprised, "Just for fun? His parents take it very seriously..." "You know, how many people come for the Moore family..." Mrs. Lynn understood, it turned out that the Brown family was being selfish. The parents of the Moore family don't agree with this marriage, but they are good enough to spread the word here... Harris was accompanying Daisy to watch the host on the stage say the opening remarks, the phone vibrated twice, and it was a message from his mother. "You want to piss me off, don't you? How many times have you told me to break up with that damn girl! You just don't listen!" "Okay, if you have the ability, you go to the Brown family to marry! Our Moore family will treat you as a son!" When Did You Learn Piano "If you like to find someone so much, then don't come back to this house in the future!" Harris saw the message from his mother, and couldn't understand why his mother knew about his presence... He turned his head and looked around, except for the parents of the Brown family, they were all people he didn't know... Strange. "I'll be back later, don't be angry." Harris didn't want to come here either, he just wanted to accompany Daisy, otherwise he always felt owed. Because Daisy got close, she saw the words on the screen. At this moment, she was secretly angry, but she couldn't show it, so she could only softly say, "Is the aunt urging you? If so, you can go back first and leave me alone." Harris looked back, her eyes were pure and kind, but also a little bit unbearable.

"Harris, you can go back, don't make auntie sad, auntie is your only son." Daisy said empathetically, "No matter what she thinks of me, as a mother, she must hope that her son will be well and that he will find a good son. Girl, live happily ever after for the rest of your life." "Don't you blame her?" Harris was a little surprised, looking into her eyes and asked, "In the hospital, she said such exaggerated things..." Daisy shook her head and smiled more gently, "She loves you as much as I do, and both want you well. I know her intentions are good, so I don't blame her." Harris was immediately moved by her kindness. He put away his phone and held her hand, and the haze of the past few days was swept away. He didn't care if those classmates taunted her. If she couldn't get on the stage, she wouldn't be on the stage. As long as she became his wife in the future, who would dare to laugh at her? She also didn't want to be picked up by the cleaners to be raised, but fate made a big joke on her. Instead of complaining, she always treated the people around her with a kind heart... In this world, is there any better girl than her? Even if she has dated other boys before, so what, she has no fatherly love since she was a child, and she longs for someone to care for her, is it wrong? Thinking of her family environment when she was a child, Harris suddenly had a question, "At what age did you learn to play the piano?" I still remember that she once said that the mother of the cleaner worked very hard to help her grow up, and it was not easy...

In that environment, it should be impossible for her to learn the piano... Daisy didn't expect that Harris would suddenly ask her this question. This question also aroused the curiosity of Gail next to her. Yes. Daisy didn't seem to have learned piano before returning to the Brown family!

Then how can she play the piano and still win the prize? "After I returned to the Brown family, once, I saw a piano in my sister's room, so I learned it online..."

This is true. In order to improve her status as a daughter, Daisy has learned a lot on the Internet. "There are also piano lessons online. When no one is around, I practice by myself..." "Later, my father saw that I really liked it, so he bought me a new piano and invited a tutor to teach me piano knowledge..." This is also true. Seeing that she likes it, Michael asked his tutor to come to teach her every day, but they didn't know whether Daisy had learned it or not, and how much he had learned. "That's it? You just learned it? The piano itself is very complicated. I learned it for ten years, and I won the first place in the competition the year before last." Harris didn't expect his fiancée to be so talented, so he returned to the Brown family for a few days. In ten days, you can learn such a difficult instrument! "That's talent, Isabella, that damn girl who uses the piano as a decoration every day! You ruined such an expensive piano!" Gail felt distressed when he said that, "Daisy, on the other hand, just took the second place after learning for a while It's amazing! It's amazing!" Daisy was a little guilty by their praise, of course she knew her own level, she could do it, only this piece, although the other ones were taught by tutors, they were terrible! Anyone who knows how to play the piano will know her level when she hears it! · Pana! Therefore, during this period of time, she practiced the award-winning repertoire desperately at home, in order to perform normally today! She knew Harris knew the piano, so she practiced hard. At this moment, she found that the way Harris looked at her was as gentle as before, and she felt at ease for a while.

Chapter 117 Can't compose on the stage. The eighth prize winner is playing a piano piece composed by himself. This year's competition not only tests the players' playing level, but also requires them to compose their own music for the competition. Many people who are good at playing the piano missed this year's competition because they can't compose. At this time, the eighth winner finished playing his own piece, stood up and made a grand curtain call. After the host took the lead in applauding, he invited the seventh winner to perform on stage... Suddenly, Eloise received a call, her eyebrows were relaxed, and she lowered her voice and said to the two daughters beside her, "Your grandma has been in a coma for many days, and she finally woke up. Let's go and see her, and she will be back in a while." "Dad, Mom, don't worry." Cecilia showed her empathetic side, "It's still a while before I present the award, don't worry." "We'll try to get back before you present the award." Eloise said kindly, then looked at Isabella again, "Isabella, call mom anytime if you need anything." "good." After Williams and Eloise left. Cecilia looked at Isabella from above, and asked slowly, "Have you ever learned the piano before?"

Curl compite Have you won any prizes?" She looked at the stage and said in high spirits. "I started learning piano when I was four years old. Teacher Andy, who never took apprentices, saw my playing and accepted me as an apprentice. Do you know who Teacher Andy is? A well-known piano player.

Master... No matter how many people want to ask her for advice. they are not qualified... Under her guidance, my piano skills have improved by leaps and bounds, and I have won more than 50 first prizes since I was a child!" Her tone was proud, and she raised her neck and asked, "What was the name of your former tutor? Did you win any awards in this field?" Perhaps because she didn't wait for Isabella's reply, she turned her head and saw that Isabella put on her carphones at some point, and she was so focused on playing games.

Cecilia was a little annoyed, but when she thought about it carefully, was she going to be like this for the rest of her life? After an unknown amount of time, the host took the microphone and said impassionedly. "Next is Daisy, who won the second place in this competition, and I will bring you a song called Sadness." Daisy heard the host's voice, got up with a smile, and went on stage with millions of outfits. She sat in front of the piano, took a deep breath, and then slowly played this good piece that got her second place. Lena, who was sitting in the first row, heard the first half and thought it was a bit unpleasant, but after listening to the whole song, she felt inexplicably familiar, as if she had heard it) somewhere... Many people in the audience whispered: "The climax of her song is so nice! It's so artistic!" "It's just that the technique of playing is a little rusty. I don't know if it's because of being too nervous." "Leaving aside the front and back parts of the song, her climax is really well written. A teenage girl can write such a beautiful song..." Many people have praised Daisy.

Even the piano masters in this field laughed and said to Lena beside him, "Ms. Farley, aren't you looking for qualified students recently? What do you think of this Daisy?" Lena doesn't like the Brown family from the bottom of her heart, so she doesn't like the child Daisy. In terms of qualifications, she has never seen a child with more qualifications than Isabella in these years! But her piano attainments are higher than hers, it can be said to be far superior to hers. However, a young and talented master like Isabella doesn't even think about such trivial matters as accepting apprentices! "This second place not only knows how to write music, but also writes it well, especially the climax part is so nice." "I was also attracted by the climax of this song, as if brainwashed, after listening to it once. I want to listen to it again..."

Cant compone "Mc too!" "She didn't write well before and after, but the climax is really impressive!" Several heavyweight guests around Lena were praising Daisy's song. After playing one song, Daisy slowly stood up and bowed gracefully to everyone in the audience. When I raised my eyes, I happened to see Harris in the audience applauding her with love and appreciation in his eyes. Daisy's heart was a little excited. Looking at Lena again, I expected a regretful expression on her face, after all, it would definitely be Lena's loss not to have such a talented female disciple like her! But Lena's expression was not very good-looking, she even frowned, tapped her fingers on the table, as if she was thinking about something. What, she didn't play well just now? Daisy was about to look away, but accidentally saw Isabella sitting in the third row, only two seats away from Cecilia, the daughter of the richest man! She couldn't believe it, and felt incredible, how could it be possible? The entire row of seats is either occupied by people of great status and status, or by winners or their family members. But Isabella is nothing, what right to sit there? Cam compo Could it be that Cecilia has a beautiful heart and doesn't care? Or did she come with the client? Daisy deliberately looked to the side again, there was no opposite se x beside Isabella, and she didn't know what kind of person could bring Isabella to sit on an equal footing with the richest man's family... Because Daisy bowed gracefully, there was warm applause from the audience, and even several teachers and seniors at the award presentation table were full of praise for this child. "The name of this piano piece is 'Sorrow', but I can hear hope from the climax, as if encouraging those who have suffered from natural and man-made disasters to work hard and live bravely. There are still many good things in life..." "Yes, when I heard the climax, the ruins after the earthquake and the courage to live again suddenly flashed in my mind..." "Such a coincidence, I also associate images of natural disasters in my mind..." "Me too." Ms. Farley suddenly realized, she finally knew where this sense of familiarity came from, earthquake, inspiration, bravery, tenacity... She looked at the girl who stepped off the stage, her eyes were full of displeasure! Next, the host invited Cecilia to perform on stage. As the finale of the awards ceremony, Cecilia received endless applause as soon as she took the stage! Although she didn't invite Benjamin and Old Mr. Mason to watch her award ceremony today, but she can make Isabella envious and jealous, and she has earned it! She sat in front of the piano gracefully and played her own music very gracefully. Five minutes later, she stood up and took the curtain call, but when she looked towards the auditorium, she found that her parents hadn't come back yet, and Isabella was still playing games, showing no sign of envy or jealousy at all! Cecilia was suddenly furious! There was endless applause from the audience. "Cecilia's song is so well written! As good as she is." "As expected of the daughter of the richest man, she has been outstanding in everything since she was a child!" Why sent there an award for the serned piara?

Chapter 118 Why isn't there an award for the second place? "Having said that, I like Daisy's song better. Leaving aside the front and rear parts, the climax part in the middle is really brainwashing! Very inspirational!" "I also like Daisy's song, but again, only the climax part..." Cecilia stepped off the stage just as she heard someone say that. Her nails sank into her palms, but she still smiled and nodded to everyone. I have to admit that Daisy's climax is really nice, and her creative level is definitely above hers!

But unfortunately, the front and rear parts stretched the hips, so I ended up in second place. When Daisy heard that everyone liked her song, especially the climax part, she was happy and excited, feeling that she stole the limelight. "Just now the first eight winners have played their award-winning repertoire to everyone. I believe everyone has a better understanding of their rankings." "Then we come to the most important part of our day – the awards ceremony." "We invite our famous pianist to present certificates of honor to the top four to top eight winners!" There an award In the second There was warm applause from the audience. The master buttoned up his suit and went on stage in style, awarded certificates of honor to the winners one by one, and took a group photo for souvenirs. After they left the stage, the host picked up the microphone again and said passionately, "Next, we will invite L, the president of the Piano Association, to present honorary trophies to the first to third place winners!"

The applause from the audience was even louder, like thunder. The winners left their seats and walked towards the stage in a graceful manner. They are seventeen or eighteen years old, full of talent and outstanding looks, and they are a highlight of this year. Along the way, while waving to everyone, Daisy also nodded to Cecilia, but Cecilia didn't seem to notice her gesture, and instead of responding, she waved and smiled at the others. After Lena took the stage, she presented the championship trophy to Cecilia, and then looked at Daisy with an extremely cold gaze. That look, as if looking at a thief! The host was stunned for a moment, and hurriedly smoothed things over, "Ms. Farley, there is a second place... You forgot to give out the trophy for the second place..." Daisy was a little embarrassed, but there were so many eyes watching from the audience, and the cameras of the reporters followed, she smiled and remained polite. "Ms. Farley, I am the second winner of this competition, Daisy. 11 ||| 118 Why jart there an amant for tha second place! "I know." Lena's tone was cold, and her eyes were sharper than before. When Daisy said that she was "second place", the knife in Lena's eyes wanted to cut through her lics. Everyone was a little confused, so even the host didn't know what happened. I always felt that Ms. Farley looked at Daisy like an enemy... He could only use his eyes to hint at the hostess who was holding the trophy next to him. The hostess understood, smiled, and handed the trophy to Lena, which meant that the trophy for second place was here, and it could be awarded to her. Lena stood still, like a towering mountain, her eyes were extremely cold. "You don't deserve the trophy for second place!" As soon as this remark came out, the audience was in an uproar!

Even the blood on Daisy's face faded instantly, extremely embarrassing. Michael and Gail in the audience stood up suddenly, what's the matter? Even Harris was stunned, and couldn't believe that the amiable Ms. Farley would say such a thing! "What does Ms. Farley mean?" The host smiled. "Did you hear Daisy's performance just now and think she can get a higher ranking?" The host's words made the audience who thought there was Whest them on and for the p something wrong with Daisy's song just now heave a sigh of relief. it turned out to be the case. Ms. Farley thinks that Daisy's level can win the first place? Cecilia next to her subconsciously clenched the championship trophy. No way, Ms. Farley won't announce in front of everyone that Daisy is more qualified to win the championship? "I'm asking you." Lena didn't go down the steps given by the host. but looked into Daisy's eyes and asked word by word, "Did you compose the piece you played just now?" Daisy has realized something, her heart is so guilty, her heart is beating like a drum, and her whole body is weakening, "Of Course..." "That is to say, this song, from the beginning to the end, every tone and every melody, is your own idea, and it has nothing to do with others?" Daisy was about to lose her footing, she didn't understand what Lena meant, did Lena know that she took Isabella's climax, so she questioned her in public? No, it's impossible, who is Lena, how does she know something like Isabella? Unless Isabella found her and said something to her, otherwise... "Ms. Farley, I don't know what other people said to you." Daisy was going to deny it to death, and the best way at this time was to make a fuss and turn other people's attention elsewhere!

"If you think I'm whimsical and ignorant because I admired you in the audience just now and want to be your apprentice, I'm sorry." Why is there an award for the second planet Daisy maintains the self-cultivation of girl, neither humble nor overbearing, she advances by retreating. "You said just now that you don't accept disciples, even if you did, you wouldn't accept us from the Brown family. I don't know what we, the Brown family, did wrong. What... But you are a senior, you have the right to accept the apprentice you like... I understand, I don't force it, and I even feel that I am not good enough to get your favor." "But you just said in front of so many people that I don't deserve to wear Sofia Welch's clothes and jewelry. You may not know that I have always regarded you as an idol in my heart, and I worked hard to learn the piano in order to leave. Come closer..." With a few simple words, she portrayed Ms. Farley as a negative character who is "impolite" and "high and proud"! This was the first time Lena had seen such a person. "I didn't expect Ms. Farley to be such a person. Daisy tried her best to learn the piano to get close to her. It's fine if she doesn't accept apprentices, and she said such hurtful things. Daisy is so sad to hear it?" "I think Daisy looks good in Sofia Welch's clothes. Does Ms. Farley care too much? What does she want to wear, what does she wear?" "Ms. Farley doesn't support the younger generation, it's fine to help the younger generation, and deliberately embarrass the younger generation in front of such an important occasion..." "I think Ms. Farley is too uneducated..." "It's also thanks to Daisy's strong mentality, her mentality is different from ordinary people..." Most of the audience are praising Daisy.

Seeing that she turned the situation around with a few words. Daisy looked at Ms. Farley with a trace of provocation in her eyes.

Chapter 119 Copying Other People's Works How could Lena not be able to see her mind, smiled coldly, and announced in public, "The climax of your song is copied from The Wish!" As soon as these words came out, the audience fell silent, what? The climax of Daisy's song is actually a copy of Muise's song? Muise is a myth in the piano world. In recent years, he has won numerous high-value awards at home and abroad. He is a master figure who is tied for the first place with Mr. Griffith! But Muise is more mysterious than Mr. Griffith, no one has seen her appearance, and no one knows how old she is. "Ms. Farley, how can you be so sure that Daisy copied Muise's works? I'm also a Muise fan, but I didn't know that Muise also had a song called The Wish ...Do you have any evidence?" Daisy felt at ease in her heart, even the host had never heard of Muise's The Wish, besides, she obviously took the climax of the song in Isabella's room! It was still handwritten by Isabella! What's more, she has searched the Internet many times, but there is no such part of the song, so she is relieved and boldly uses it in her own song! Isabella raised her lazy eyes and looked at the scene on the stage disapprovingly. She could even hear Gail's angry voice coming from two rows behind!

Copying Other People's Work a "What's the matter with this Ms. Farley? It's fine if you don't want to present an award to Daisy, but you still slander her for copying the master's works! You deliberately let Daisy down from the stage. Daisy is so good at playing the piano, do you need to steal other people's works?" Gail can't wait to rush to the stage and argue with Ms. Farley.

But Michael grabbed her hand, "Maybe Ms. Farley has listened to too many piano pieces, and when she heard something similar, she felt that Daisy had plagiarized it. Let's stay calm and wait."

Harris on the side had a bad premonition, "Ms. Farley has always been fair and just, if there is not enough evidence, she wouldn't say that..." "Harris, why don't you trust Daisy? You praised Daisy just now in front of her..." Gail was a little annoyed. "Strange..." Mrs. Lynn on the side couldn't help but said, "Didn't Ms. Farley still chase your Daisy just now, and wanted to take your Daisy as his apprentice? Why did Daisy say on stage that Ms. Farley didn't like her?" She, you don't want to accept her? You also said that she is not worthy of the clothes and jewelry designed by Master Sofia Welch?" Gail's face froze, and he didn't know how to lie, "Yes, yes?" She actually forgot about it! Just now she showed off in front of Mrs. Lynn that Ms. Farley wanted to take Daisy as an apprentice, but they felt that Ms. Farley's level was too low, and they only wanted to be Mr. Griffith's apprentice... Copping Orhan Penghia Waka Mrs. Lynn also saw that she was lying, and looked at her with some disdain and contempt. "Evidence"? Of course, I have it!" Lena's words were forceful, and everyone in the audience was shocked. Daisy's face turned pale, no, it's impossible... "Before I present the evidence, I also want to ask you, what is the climax of your song Sadness expressing?" When Daisy was asked by her, she felt a little confident. She had asked her tutor before, and the tutor said that she heard a lot of sadness from this part of the song. "Of course, it's sad! Everyone's understanding of music is different, but I believe that good music can resonate. What I express in this song, just like the name I took, is endless sadness! A person, being

Wrapped in sadness, I want to break free, but I can't break free..." Unexpectedly, Lena smiled, and looked at Daisy with superficial eyes. "Then you have misunderstood it! If you don't believe me, you can ask other people present what they think of when they hear the climax part. Come on, who will tell me?" "?" The host spoke first, "What I heard was indeed intense sadness, wrapped and torn by a surge of sadness, I don't know how long it took, a ray of sunshine came in, and suddenly there was a force pulling me, wanting to I will live on..." The audience also stood up, and the host passed the microphone over. "What I hear is the courage and strength to break free from grief..." "The image that comes to mind is the earthquake that was reported

"Me too, when I heard the climax, the image of the earthquake popped up in my mind..." "I also think of natural disasters and man-made disasters!" Lena saw Daisy's face turn pale, and smiled coldly, "That's right! The earthquake shattered the families of countless people, and those survivors were in great pain, immersed in grief and unable to get out. Muise created The Wish, aiming at Use the power of music to give them hope and warmth, and help them get out of the haze!" -And Daisy doesn't know the rhythm, and the tutor he hired is not very good, so what he hears is very superficial and superficial. They only know that there is sadness in the climax, but they don't know that under the destruction of sadness, there is a force pulling the survivors and asking them to live well... "Why am I so sure that Muise created The Wish? Because! Just in March this year! Her song was included in the music teaching materials through my hands because of the positive and positive influence. The new teaching materials have been printed out. In September this year, everyone can see Muise's works! Before that, it was not announced!" Everyone was stunned... Didn't expect this to happen... Even Daisy was stunned and couldn't believe it...

Muise's original version is more than a dozen levels more Copying Other Bangla beautiful than your version!" 10 "If I'm not wrong, you copied the climax part of Muise, but you were afraid that others would find out, so you wrote the front and back parts yourself, but you can't reach that level, and the front and back parts can't support such a majestic momentum. Forcibly combined with the climax of Muise, very strange!" "When I first listened to it, I didn't recognize it, and even thought it was a bit unpleasant! I didn't feel vaguely familiar until the climax part sounded!" "If it wasn't for the climax, the judges wouldn't have let you advance." "Your front and back parts are unremarkable, and you can say that you are very hip if you pick them up alone! Let alone the second place, you can't even get the 20th place!" "You copied Muise's works but refused to admit it. You don't deserve this award! You don't even deserve to eat in this industry! On behalf of the Piano Association, I reject your joining in this life!" Ms. Farley's words clanged to the ground, and everyone's heart can no longer be described as shock... I didn't expect that Daisy dared to plagiarize the works of her predecessors at such a young age. Just now she refused to admit it and tried to frame Ms. Farley to divert attention... Daisy's complexion was extremely ugly, and she couldn't even stand upright. Being judged by the president of the Piano Association in public that she can't do work related to this industry in this life is almost worse than death!

Chapter 120 Do you dare to face your seniors?

No, she can't easily admit to plagiarism!

Otherwise, her piano career in this life will be completely over.

Because the glory brought by the second place will also disappear.

In this life, she will never be able to wash off the stains on her body.

Others will also take her as a joke.

Once she admits to the plagiarism, her parents and Harris will definitely be disappointed with her, her uncle and aunt will hate her even more and refuse her to step into the Brown family, and other people who support her and like her will also turn black.

She must not be overwhelmed by this!

“All these are your one-sided words, included in the textbook? Who saw it?”

“You...” Lena was very angry, “Okay, I’ll let you see!”

She asked people to take pictures of the latest textbooks and cast the score on the big screen.

“This is Muise’s song The Wish !” Lena cast her eyes on everyone, “Those who can understand the music score will naturally see the similarities, not one or two sentences are the same, but the entire climax is completely copied!”

“Yeah, it’s really...”

“The climax is exactly the same!”

“Ms. Farley didn’t slander the second place, she really plagiarized.”

“The front and back parts of Muisc are much better written than Daisy!”

“Those who don’t understand the score, don’t worry, I will let someone play the climax part of the Muise, and you can listen to the difference with your cars!”

Lena’s eyes swept across the audience, and finally landed on the third place, “You come.”

A third place is enough to slap Daisy in the face.

She was suddenly called by Ms. Farley. She was a little confused, but she quickly sat down in front of the piano and played the climax of Muisic according to the score on the big screen.

The same melody spread to everyone's cars, and even Michael and Gail, who defended their daughter at the beginning, were stunned.

Although they couldn't read the music score, it's impossible to say that there is no plagiarism for the exact same music...

Every time the girl played a note, it felt like she was slapping Daisy hard in the face. In the end. Daisy was beaten so weakly that her face was extremely pale.

Sitting in the first row of the auditorium were the judges and teachers of this year's competition. They were very optimistic about Daisy, especially one of the teachers, it can be said that they really like Daisy.

Daisy was able to get the second place precisely because of her full

But now, she is a little disappointed and angry. She thought it was a good seedling, but it's a pity.

After the girl played the climax part, the host knew that Daisy's plagiarism was a certainty, so he picked up the microphone and said earnestly. "Others have worked so hard to plant a tree. but there are people who have picked off other people's trees without their consent. fruit, harming the rights and interests of others."

He glanced at Daisy and said solemnly. "As the host of the competition, I regret to announce to everyone that Daisy, the second winner of this competition, was disqualified for plagiarizing Muise's work. According to the rules of the competition, future Can't compete in the same type of competition."

Daisy just felt trembling all over...

“Now, let’s leave a picture of the first, third and Ms. Farley on our cameras...” The host originally wanted the reporters to get closer to take pictures and bring this matter to the past...

Unexpectedly, Daisy suddenly insisted loudly, “I didn’t plagiarize!”

“Her plagiarism has already been proven, and she still quibbles?”

“Could it be that she was really wronged? You can see that there is stubbornness in her eyes. The plagiarist should have a guilty conscience... not like her...”

“But the climax of the two of them is the same. She didn’t copy Muise’s work. Could it be that Muise copied her?”

“This is clearly plagiarism!”

Ms. Farley said angrily. “In pursuit of fame and fortune, the bottom- line slips and morals are lost. Is it because the creator’s mentality is out of balance or the character is not good? You plagiarized Muise’s work, and the industry dismissed you. You should get out of here.” How dare you say that you didn’t plagiarize?”

“I just didn’t plagiarize!” Daisy stubbornly insisted. “I wrote this piece at home myself! Can Ms. Farley provide evidence to prove that I didn’t write it at home?”

“Then can you explain why your orgasm is the same as Muise’s? With the degree of stretching your hips at the front and rear, you can create such a wonderful orgasm?” Lena obviously didn’t believe it, “Will everyone present believe what you said?”? You said you didn’t plagiarize, do you dare to say it again in front of Muise!!”

What?

Muise?

Not only does Ms. Farley know each other, but it looks like she wants to invite her out?

It's just that such a master figure will come forward to solve such a trivial matter?

Daisy didn't expect that Lena would move out Muisc to suppress her. Who didn't know that Muisc's whereabouts were a mystery. She guessed that Muisc just didn't want to stand in the spotlight, so she kept hiding her identity for so long.

Lena said to say it again in front of Muisc, to call someone? Or is it a live connection video?

Either way, Daisy was a little uneasy, the beautiful manicure just done today fell into the palm of her hand unknowingly.

"Muisc happened to be here today, and she was in the auditorium, witnessing you plagiarizing her work and refusing to admit it!"

As soon as this remark came out, the audience was in an uproar, looking around for Muisc's shadow.

The blood on Daisy's face was completely gone, is Muisc here? No. it's impossible...

How could such a powerful person like her appear at the awards ceremony of such a small competition?

Lena looked at the outstanding girl in the auditorium, and said respectfully and cautiously, "I'm really sorry, because this small matter disturbed you, I originally wanted to solve it as soon as possible..."

When she said this, she looked at Daisy with fierce eyes again, "I didn't expect this girl to copy your song, and she boasted that she didn't copy it! This is not only disrespectful to you, but also disrespectful to the original environment. respect."

Ms. Farley looked at Isabella in the audience, and said word by word, with a clear point of view. "Plagiarism must be punished. If the plagiarist has nowhere to go in this circle, other people dare not take the risk, otherwise it will only encourage the arrogance of plagiarism.”, so that there will be fewer and fewer people who will devote themselves to creation in the future, and there will be more and more plagiarism!”
