

Chased Her 611

Chapter 611 Going Back

Cecilia sobbed again, tears streaming down her face.

“I really didn’t do it on purpose. Seeing my grandma hurt like this, I also blamed myself. I wish all the injuries would fall on me...”

“Why does the wheelchair slip?” Isabella asked.

“The tree in the garden is blooming. There are so many flowers and they are so beautiful. I pushed my grandma to see it, and wanted to pick a few and put them in her bedroom to enjoy. The branch was too high. I jumped several times. When it landed, I accidentally hit the wheelchair...”

Perhaps knowing that the problem was with her, Cecilia cried and hugged Eloise.

“Mom, I really didn’t do it on purpose. Grandma loved me for eighteen years, and I would never hurt her. At that time, I wanted to pick flowers for grandma. Grandma likes flowers the most...”

Eloise patted her on the back, “This is the end, there’s no use crying. You should pay more attention next time. Your grandma is still not well, and this fall will cause you to suffer for several more days.”

“I know Mom, I will do everything with your consent in the future, and I will never hurt grandma again...”

Cecilia cried very pitifully.

The servant on the side couldn’t bear it and stood up to testify.

“At that time, I saw the wheelchair slipping away from afar. Ms. Logan went to rescue the old lady immediately, but the wheelchair was too heavy and the sliding speed was too fast, and Ms. Logan was dragged forward. Falling farther than the old lady...”

“Let Cecilia change first.” After Jed finished speaking, he ordered the nurse on the side, “The old lady is guarded by Isa. Go and see where Cecilia is injured, and give her some medicine.”

“Yes, sir.” The nurse came to Cecilia’s side.

Cecilia was still crying, “Uncle, I’m sorry, I really didn’t mean to...”

At this time, Isabella noticed that the person on the bed opened a slit, and there was a weak voice.

“Isa...”

“Grandma, I’m here.” Isabella immediately leaned over and asked softly, “What’s wrong? Is there something uncomfortable?”

“My stomach hurts, I want to vomit...” Old Madam’s expression was painful.

“Slow down, I’ll help you up.” Just as Isabella helped her up a little, the servant brought the trash can, and Old Madam vomited it out.

“Tremella Congee?” Isabella saw it all at once, “Who gave Grandma Tremella Congee?”

The servant looked at Cecilia tremblingly.

Cecilia looked blank and explained, “I checked on the Internet. Tremella Congee can nourish yin and lungs, nourish the stomach and promote body fluids, so I made some for my grandma. She used to like to eat this. What’s wrong? What’s the matter?” Question?”

The servant brought a mouthwash cup and asked Old Madam to rinse his mouth.

Another servant brought a warm towel and wiped Old Madam's face.

Another servant brought a cup of warm water and asked the old man to drink a sip of water to moisten his throat.

The air purification system was turned on, and Isabella helped Old Madam lie down slowly, and then said, "Grandma has poor digestion, the tremella and the glutinous rice inside will increase the burden on the stomach and make grandma flatulence."

"I don't know..." Cecilia was flustered, isn't it just a bowl of Tremella Congee? Why is she still gasping...

"Cecilia, you have to ask the nurse or Isa first what to feed grandma in the future." Eloise didn't expect such a thing to happen, and made her mother suffer again in vain.

"The child is kind, she doesn't understand these things. Let someone take Cecilia down first to change clothes."

She's been sitting here for a long time, don't catch a cold. Those who don't know think they punish children in this way...

"I really didn't know that Tremella Congee would make grandma flatulence..." Cecilia's tears fell again, "I just remembered that grandma loved Tremella Congee and wanted to please her, so I made it for her. I just. wanted to get closer The distance from grandma..."

"Let's go first." Jed didn't criticize him harshly. If the servant was so careless, he would have fired him long ago.

“Isa...” The old man on the bed, his tone was still weak, “I have a stomachache...”

“I’ll massage for you.” Isabella has a method for massaging her stomach.

Before Cecilia left the bedroom, she also saw Isabella sitting on the bed and taking care of her grandmother carefully...

I could only hear Isabella asking softly, “Is this any better?”

The old man on the bed replied: “Well, it’s much better...”

The conversation between the two made Cecilia’s tears well up again.

Why, why did she try her best to save her grandma, but in the end, Isabella got the limelight...

She felt so that her bones almost fell apart...

She obviously just wanted to be closer to grandma, why is it so difficult!

“Do you believe I was really careless?”

After leaving her grandmother’s bedroom, Cecilia was full of grievances and had no one to tell, so she could only ask the nurse next to her.

The nurse said kindly, “Ms. Logan must have been careless. Don’t say that the old lady has hurt you for eighteen years, and it is impossible for Ms. Logan to grow up in such a warm family. Take the initiative to harm others.”

Cecilia immediately covered her face and began to cry.

“Ms. Logan, don’t blame yourself. Just now, I saw that the husband didn’t mean to blame you. Adrian didn’t blame you. Ms. Isabella just asked about what happened, so that I can find out what’s wrong and prescribe the right medicine. do not be sad.”

Cecilia was comforted by her and cried even harder.

After a while, the nurse came back to serve Old Madam, Jed asked quietly, “Is Cecilia’s injury serious?”

“Some were bleeding, some were red, swollen and bruised. There were many injuries on her body, more than the old lady. She was crying all the time while giving her medicine, because she blamed herself...”

People around me feel bad.

Because of grandma’s fall, Isabella stayed for another day, until the phone call said that Nora really couldn’t bear it anymore and was coughing up blood. Isabella said goodbye to grandma.

“Why don’t you stay for a few more days?” Old Madam was so reluctant to part with her. In the past two days, Isa took care of her so meticulously and thoughtfully that Old Madam felt that she would be very uncomfortable when Isa was not around.

“Isa has to go back to class, and she has work to do...” Jed said gently, “I’ll take you to see her when you’re better.”

Isabella also said softly, “I’ll come and see you when I’m free.”

“Then you must come...” Old Madam held the girl’s hand reluctantly, “I’ll see you when I can get out of bed...”

“Okay, it’s a deal.”

“You hold this thing, and open it when you get home.” Old Madam put a small wooden box with exquisite workmanship into Isabella’s hands, “This is a gift from me, you must accept it.”

Chapter 612 Rescue

“No need, grandma...”

“Take it.”

There was Cecilia beside her, so Old Madam didn't say much, but forced the small wooden box into Isabella's hand.

“Let's go home and see...”

“Thank you grandma.”

Isabella looked at Eloise and the others again, “Then we're leaving?”

“Mom, you have to take care of your health, we will come to see you when we have time...” Eloise said goodbye to her mother reluctantly.

Williams gave a few words of advice, and his eye sockets became moist.

Adrian couldn't help teasing, “Okay, it's not life and death. I want to see you someday, you fly to see me, or I fly to see you, isn't it just a matter of twelve hours?”

Eloise was amused by him again.

“Grandma, I'm leaving, remember to watch my concert online~” Adrian said with a smile.

“Okay, Ann, I want to watch the surveillance.” Old Madam couldn’t get out of bed, so he could only watch them get on the plane through the surveillance.

The plane was parked on the grass outside the villa.

Jed personally sent them to the airport stairs, and he did not forget to tell Isabella who was walking at the end, “Come find me when you are free. I will also find you when I have time. If you have nothing to do, call us or send a message.” OK.”

Isabella walked up the machine stairs, stood at the highest point, stopped suddenly, waved her hand in the direction of the monitor, and said goodbye to her grandma with a smile.

Old Madam, who was watching the surveillance, saw such a heart-warming move, tears welled up in his eyes.

Isabella still held the small wooden box in her hand.

After saying goodbye, she walked into the living room that came with the plane, and sat down on a single sofa.

Cecilia peeked in that direction.

She really wanted to know what grandma gave Isabella and why she couldn’t open it face to face.

Isn’t that very precious, I’m afraid she, an “outsider”, will see it.

Isabella noticed her gaze, put the small wooden box directly into the backpack, closed her eyes and meditated.

Twelve hours later, the plane landed on the apron that comes with Riverside Villa. When Isabella got off the plane, the phone had just been charged, and the screen displayed more than a dozen missed calls and more than 20 unread messages.

All said the same thing.

Kay and Eliza had an accident and are being rescued

now.

Freda was defiled in order to save them. She was injured in many places and was dying...

“Isa, come quickly.” The voice Nathan sent to Isabella was even choked with sobs, “Cameron Hospital, third floor, hurry up.”

“Dad, Mom, I’ll go out for a while.” Isabella immediately ran towards the garage.

“Where are you going?” Before Eloise could react, her daughter had already run a long way.

In the blink of an eye, a red sports car quickly left the garage at an astonishingly fast speed.

“What happened?” Williams looked in the direction Isabella left in puzzlement, “What’s the rush? It’s so late, driving so fast, it’s too unsafe.”

"I suddenly had a bad feeling..." Eloise grabbed Williams' hand subconsciously, and asked worriedly, "Do you remember the last time? Isa's speed was scary. Could it be that someone beside us had an accident?" So, that's why Isa is in such a hurry?"

"Don't scare yourself..." Williams was also a little worried when she said this, "Let's ask Isa when Isa comes back."

Cecilia on the side was a little dissatisfied. Even if Isabella has a small business to start, she shouldn't rush out as soon as she gets off the plane. Who is she pretending to be so busy for?

It's past nine o'clock in the evening, what can she do urgently?

Don't you just want to get your parents' attention??

This little scheming is clearly seen by her!

Isabella's sports car made a beautiful curve and stopped directly in front of the emergency building of the hospital. She got out of the car quickly, and as soon as she arrived at the corridor on the third floor, she heard Nora's cry.

Nora couldn't stand crying anymore, two transfer beds were in front of her eyes, and the two people on the bed had been covered with white cloth.

Nora cried on the white cloth, while Nathan comforted her, she couldn't bear it, and there were tears in her eyes.

Isabella stood still, knowing that she was late, that Kay and Eliza were dead.

"Dad, Mom..." Nora's piercing cries echoed throughout the corridor.

The doctors and nurses bowed their heads in silence, unable to help.

had only one breath left. They lost too much blood and missed the best time for treatment.”

“If my sister is here, it’s absolutely fine!” Before Nathan finished speaking, he looked up and saw Isabella standing not far away, and immediately said, “Isa, Freda is still inside to rescue!”

Isabella nodded, and went first to change into sterile clothes.

The doctors at Cameron Hospital had already seen her medical skills, and when they saw her push the door in, they all explained the situation to her.

Freda’s injury was particularly serious, and there was hardly a single intact part of her body...

“I think she seemed to have something to say just now...”

“Doctor Isabella, you have also seen that all our rescue efforts are in vain...”

Because the injury is too serious, there is no chance of survival, so it is better to let her leave a few last words.

Freda were slim, her brother’s red eyes and Nora’s cry were still deeply etched in her mind.

Outside the operating room, Freda’s parents rushed over. Hearing that their daughter was seriously injured, they couldn’t help asking Nathan, “What’s going on?”

“Uncle Tel, Aunt Cara, it’s all my fault.” Nathan said guiltily.

“What happened between you? Who is she?” Cara asked anxiously when she saw a girl crying next to her.

“Freda was hurt to protect my parents, I’m really sorry.” Nora stood up, bowed deeply to them, tears couldn’t stop flowing, “I’m sorry.”

“Who are you?” Tel had never seen her before.

At this time, the elevator door opened, and Williams and Eloise rushed over after receiving the news, followed by Cecilia.

Tel and Cara called them and said that something happened to Freda and it seemed to be related to Nathan...

Hearing that the injury was serious and their lives were in danger, they were so frightened that they hurried over by car, and they kept praying that Freda would be fine along the way...

“She’s my girlfriend Nora.”

Hearing this sentence, the three people who had just stepped out of the elevator were instantly stunned and couldn’t believe it.

Tel and Cara were also stunned.

The girl who bent over and bowed to them in front of him turned out to be Nathan’s girlfriend.

Nathan has a girlfriend??

Their precious daughter, in order to save the parents of Nathan's girlfriend, was seriously injured and in danger of life??

"What's going on?" Tel asked, grabbing Nathan's collar.

Chapter 613 The situation is critical

"Uncle, it's none of his business." Just as Nora wanted to step forward to stop it, the poison in her body exploded.

She supported the wall with one hand, but the pain made her unable to hold on, and her whole body finally collapsed.

Although she didn't want to expose her embarrassment in front of so many people, the piercing pain made her unable to maintain her dignity for a second.

Williams and Eloise were dumbfounded, and even Cecilia was completely stunned.

What the hell is going on with this girl?

She looked as if she was seriously ill.

"Nora, are you feeling uncomfortable again?" Nathan hurriedly supported her, "Don't get excited... I'll help you to sit on the chair for a while."

"My daughter is still suffering in there, but you are here to care about other girls!!” Tel strode forward and grabbed Nathan’s collar again, “You kid-”

“Tel, don’t be angry, don’t be angry, now is the time when your family needs you...” Williams hurried forward to smooth things over, and took Tel’s arm and said, “Don’t worry, I’ll ask him what’s going on.”

Seeing that Nathan was still worried about Nora, with all eyes on Nora, Eloise slapped him on the shoulder angrily, “You still owe Uncle Tel and Aunt Cara an explanation, so hurry up and make it clear!”

“Wait a minute, Nora is suffering now...” Nathan didn’t want to make Nora angry at this time, but no one here knows better than him how painful the poison in Nora’s body is when it explodes!

He hurriedly took out the life-saving medicine that his sister had given Nora earlier from his bag, and there was only the last one left.

After Nora took it, she finally felt better.

Because the weak body can no longer bear the dual effects of toxicity and medicinal properties. She fainted all of a sudden and fell into Nathan’s arms.

“doctor!”

Nathan hurriedly carried her to the doctor.

Cara burst into tears, “I’m just such a daughter...”

“Cara, it’s all Nathan’s fault. When he comes back later, I will make him explain clearly and apologize to you two!” Eloise also blamed herself, because she didn’t expect things to turn out like this.

They watched Freda grow up.

Now Freda is lying on the operating table, life and death are uncertain...

If something really happened, how would they explain it to everyone in the Evert Family.

At this time, the door of the operating room opened, and a nurse hurried out.

Several people rushed forward at once, and Cara asked anxiously, "Nurse, how is my daughter?"

"Don't worry, Dr. Isabella and several other doctors are already doing their best to rescue him. This time, Dr. Isabella will perform the surgery himself, so the chances will be higher."

"Will my daughter's life be in danger?" Tel asked again with red eyes.

"Don't worry, as long as there is a glimmer of hope, we will not give up. Please wait patiently. Now the patient has lost a lot of blood, and I am going to get blood. Please let me..."

Cara wanted to say something more, but remembering her daughter had lost too much blood and was afraid of delaying the best time for treatment, she could only watch her leave.

"It turns out that Isa is inside..." Williams finally realized that the little girl left Riverside Villa in such a hurry just now, it turned out that she was the first to receive the news and ran here to save people, no wonder she drove so fast.

"Tel, Cara, with Isa here, she will definitely try her best to save Freda's life..." Eloise comforted, "You guys sit on the chairs first..."

"Isa is a doctor?" Cara raised her teary eyes, as if she couldn't believe it.

"Does she have a doctor's license?" Tel asked again.

Not to mention Tel and Cara, if you were an ordinary person, hearing a college student operating on their family members in the operating room would feel absurd, unbelievable, and even a little scary...

But Eloise came up with the most favorable persuasion, "She performed the operation on Old Mr. Mason herself, and it succeeded."

Tel and Cara had heard a little about how difficult Old

Mr. Mason's condition was.

I heard that his heart has undergone many surgeries and is already scarred, and it was successful to be able to operate on such a scarred heart.

It can only be said that Isabella's medical skills are very good.

Tel and Cara were somewhat relieved.

"Eloise, you must let Isa save Freda, we only have such a daughter, please..."

"Cara, what are you doing, get up quickly..." Seeing that she was about to kneel down, Eloise hurriedly supported her, "You know Isa's character, needless to say, she will do her best with the patient in her hands!"

Cecilia on the side bit her lower lip, but she didn't expect that the doctor who performed the surgery was Isabella!

Cameron Hospital is a large hospital, even college students without graduation certificates or licenses can enter the operating room to save people, and they are still the chief surgeon!

Is the hospital crazy or the doctor crazy?

Don't you take the patient's life seriously?

Although I know that Isabella is the genius doctor

Eloise, but Cameron Hospital is a big hospital after all, how can a college student be fooled!

As time passed, Isabella found that the patient's vital signs were getting weaker and weaker.

"Doctor Isabella, with her injuries, it is impossible to survive..."

"Although we understand your desire to save the patient, she is so seriously injured that she is powerless."

"Let her have her last words with her family?"

Isabella was still stitching the wound, her eyes were calm and calm, "You want to sentence the patient to death before her heartbeat stops? Do you think the patient will agree? Or the patient's family?"

"Doctor Isabella..."

"I don't want to be rescued." Isabella didn't even look at them, and continued to move, "I don't want to hear what I just said a third time.""

The other doctors were frightened by her aura, so they could only shut up and cooperate with all their strength...

Cara's slight sobs could be heard in the corridor of the hospital, and Tel also had red eyes, sitting on a chair, holding his head with a splitting headache in despair.

Cecilia was so sleepy that she secretly yawned. If I had known she would not have followed, I waited here for more than three hours in vain. Isabella's speed was too slow!

Williams didn't know how to comfort them. Eloise poured two glasses of water and wanted them to take a sip, but they were immersed in pain and couldn't extricate themselves.

On the other side, Nora was sent to the ICU by the nurse.

Her condition was so serious that Nathan could only watch her being pushed in by the nurse, but there was nothing he could do.

From a distance, Eloise heard her son's out-of-control voice coming from the end of the corridor.

"Is there nothing you can do?"

"We've never seen such a condition, it's so strange. The toxins in her body have accumulated for a long time, and the composition is very complex. You said that Dr. Isabella has a solution, so what we can do now is to keep her alive and try to last until Doctor Isabella is here."

Chapter 614 Last Words

"Aside from my sister, your hospital doesn't have any other good doctors? My sister needs to save every patient, so why do you need your doctor?"

Both Tel and Cara were attracted by his voice and looked over.

Even Cecilia was a little surprised. It was the first time she saw her brother lose control since she was a child.

Williams didn't expect his son to have such a violent side, it seems that the girl inside is very important to him.

"Sir, as long as we have a little bit of confidence, we won't let the patient go. It's a complicated condition, and there's nothing we can do. So, let's ask Dr. Isabella to communicate with Dr. Isabella and see when she can come over to show the patients here..."

"My sister is not a doctor you can call at will in your hospital! She didn't get your salary! Why did you ask her to come and see? What about other doctors? No one can think of a better way?"

"I'm really sorry sir, I understand your feelings, but the patient is still inside, she can hear your voice..."

Nathan fought back his anger.

"Please wait patiently, we will call other doctors over to discuss countermeasures..." the male doctor bowed and left after finishing speaking.

Nathan lost his center of gravity, and his whole body was so weak that he was about to fall...

He was afraid that Nora would disappear from his life like last time...

He couldn't imagine losing Nora again.

At this time, Eloise walked towards this side on high heels and hit him hard on the shoulder.

"This is a hospital, why are you yelling? Tel and Cara are still watching, hurry up and explain things clearly!"

"mom....."

“hurry up!”

Remembering that Freda was still alive and dead in the operating room, Nathan stood up, and as soon as he came to Tel, he was struck by Tel’s fist and hit the right side of the cheek.

“Tel, what are you doing...” Cara hurried forward to stop her.

“My daughter is still being rescued inside, and I don’t know if she is dead or alive, but he is thinking about another person!” Tel was shaking with anger.

Cara remained silent, and also felt that Nathan’s actions were wrong. In any case, he had to give them an explanation first.

“Uncle, aunt, it’s all because I didn’t do well...” Nathan took the initiative to take the blame, “This is how it happened.”

These days, Nora’s condition has deteriorated badly, her complexion is very bad, and she can no longer visit Kay and Eliza.

Kay and Eliza probably guessed this and wanted to visit Nathan’s daughter.

The daughter had mentioned Nathan’s address before, so they begged the chief bodyguard hard.

The chief bodyguard also had no choice but to ask Green for instructions, but no one answered the phone on the other end. He called Ms. Isabella’s subordinate Peter again, but there was no answer on the other end...

No way, the chief bodyguard called Nathan again, but at that time Nora had a toxic attack, and Nathan had no time to answer the phone.

In the end, the bodyguards couldn’t resist the request of the second elder, and dispatched most of the troops to protect them from going out.

Originally, when I went out, there were eight cars for protection in all directions, front, rear, left, and right, but gradually, there were four fewer cars.

“Why are there four less?” Eloise couldn’t help asking.

“We only found out later that the people in the four cars received news one after another. Either their family members were taken away, or people close to them were in danger. In short, they did not dare to speak up when they received the news, one after another. Get out of the car and finally...”

If they dare to say a word, the family will be gone!

In the end, there were only four cars escorting the elder to Nathan’s house, and only halfway through the journey, one was crashed into the river, and the other was smashed in two. In the end, all the men suffered.

Freda found Kay and Eliza in the car next door while waiting for a traffic light.

A long time ago, the year Nora disappeared, she checked Nora’s whereabouts and had a photo of the second elder.

While waiting for the traffic light, she found that the second elder seemed to be in danger, so she drove secretly to follow him.

The driving recorder captured the bad guys pulling Kay and Eliza out of the car and trying to drag them into an abandoned warehouse. Kay and Eliza resisted desperately, and the bad guys beat them up violently.

Freda drove over and opened the door to let Kay and Eliza get in the car, but she didn’t expect that the door of the abandoned warehouse was opened, and there were many people inside.

Eventually, the dashcam captured her being dragged inside.

Immediately afterwards, the client couldn't wait for her and called her secretary, who subconsciously contacted Nathan.

When I found the abandoned warehouse later, there were only three dying people lying on the ground, covered in blood,

It is said that when Freda was discovered, there was no cover on her body, and the wound was shocking...

Hearing this, Cara fainted suddenly.

Tel didn't expect this to happen, his daughter was just

At this moment, Isabella noticed that the girl on the operating table seemed to have something to say.

Isabella sewed up the last wound on her hand, leaned over and asked softly, "Freda, it's me, what do you want to say?"

Freda opened her mouth and made a sound with great difficulty, "Dad..."

"You want to talk to your father?" Isabella immediately responded, "Wait a minute, I'll ask him to come in."

Freda was injured too badly, no anesthetic was used, fearing that she would pass out completely and there would be no hope, and she should be conscious at this time.

Hearing his daughter calling him, Tel hurriedly changed into a sterile suit and rushed to his daughter's side.

Even though he has seen many things, Tel still burst into tears when he saw his daughter lying on the operating table.

“Dad...” Freda didn’t have the strength to speak anymore, and even the “Dad” came out after a long, long time of hard work.

“You said, I’m here. I must clean up those beasts and let them die!” Tel cried, not knowing how to comfort his daughter, “I will definitely not let them go.”

“Let go...” Freda tried her best to squeeze out one word at a time, “Let Nathan go.”

Tel was startled, tears streaming down his face.

“Don’t blame him.” Freda fainted after finishing the last sentence.

“The patient has no vital signs, hurry up and rescue him!”

“Sir, please go out...”

“speed.....”

Tel didn’t know how he left the operating room, he only knew that the moment the door of the operating room closed, his tears could no longer be stopped and he cried out.

Cara was frightened by his posture, “What’s going on? You speak quickly...”

Chapter 615 A Different Breakfast

Tel was crying her heart out for a long time before she said, “Our silly girl, she was hurt like that, and she asked us to let him go.”

When Cara heard this, she knew who he was referring to, and tears began to flow.

The others did not think, Freda called dad in, is to let dad let Nathan...

She knew her father's temper and knew that if she was hurt like this, her father would be angry for her...

She is afraid that her father's anger on Nathan, even if she knows that she is dying, she is still using the last bit of life to protect this man...

Nathan's eyes turned red.

In this life, he owes Freda so much. So much.

I do not know how long it has been, the night outside the window has become day, the lights of the operating room are always on, seven or eight doctors and nurses are still fighting for death in front of the operating table.

Cecilia had already taken several naps and fallen asleep several times, and would have slept better if Cara hadn't been there sobbing.

At that moment, the door of the operating room opened and another nurse hurried out.

Cara had been crying for so long that when she rushed forward, her head swelled and her body shook a few times, clearly losing her footing.

"Nurse, what's going on in there? It's been nine hours..." Cara cried. For nine hours, 540 minutes, 32,400 seconds, she had been in agony and anxiety.

"The patient could not have made it nine hours ago, but Dr. Isabella did everything she could to keep going." The nurse patiently explained, "I understand the feelings of your families, but I ask you to trust the doctors inside. Each of them has been fighting death for nine hours without a second's rest."

Cara's tears started to flow again and she nodded, "Thanks for your hard work."

As the nurse passed Cecilia, Cecilia suddenly glared at her.

The nurse was confused, but it was important to save people She didn't think too much and left in a hurry.

Cecilia is very dissatisfied, a doctor Isabella, always say nice things to Isabella for what? How much did the nurse charge. Isabella for her services in there?

Benjamin hadn't been able to get in touch with Isabella since last night, and she had sent him an Instagram message just before the flight that she was leaving her uncle's house and heading back to Riverside Villa.

But Benjamin didn't hear from her again until seven in the morning.

When Green reports that Kay and Eliza are in trouble,

Benjamin follows the lead and finds out that Isabella is still in the operating room trying to save Freda.

He came over with his breakfast, and in the distance he saw Tel holding his wife and sobbing, as if they had aged ten years overnight.

Williams and Eloise had already said all the comforting things, but they still didn't help.

Nathan folded his fingers across his forehead as if he were still suffering.

Only Cecilia sees him coming, smiles and waves with him, then sneaks off to the distant water fountain to get a glass of warm water and trots to the bathroom to gargle, trying to freshen her breath in front of Benjamin.

Benjamin brings breakfast to Williams and Eloise.

Looking down, Williams saw a pair of shiny new shoes appear and looked up. "Benjamin, you're here?"

"Isa's still in there..." Eloise pined.

"I know." Looking at them, Benjamin knew that he had not slept all night. He took out his breakfast and said, "Eat something first."

He put his hand on Nathan's shoulder and said softly, "Nathan, eat."

Hearing Benjamin's voice, Tel and Cara sobbed and looked back.

"Tel Cara, you have some, too. The people inside will need you to pages now

"Cara....." Tel's words have not finished, his throat has been choked to say a word, burning hot.

Cara also covers her face and cries, "Our daughter is still alive..."

"Because of this, you need to maintain your strength, you do not know how long the operation will be over, you do not know what you need to cooperate with later, now down, who will take care of your daughter?"

Tel felt reasonable, swallowing his grief, choked up and said to his wife, "Go eat some."

"But..."

“I eat, too.”

Tel had worked with Benjamin a few times before and knew he was a trustworthy man, and today was the first time he felt his warm side.

When Cecilia finishes gargling, her eyes suddenly light up when she sees Benjamin’s breakfast.

Finally a chance to eat Benjamin’s own breakfast...

At this point, Benjamin gets the phone call and steps forward, “Well, you say...”

Cecilia looked at the back of his slender gentleman and suddenly thought he was much better than Wayne!

Whether it is height, looks, temperament, wealth, or power... A thousand times better than Wayne, a thousand times

Cecilia wouldn’t have wanted to settle for anything if Scarlet hadn’t sifted Wayne through the wealth list!

Thinking about Benjamin’s breakfast, how much of it was reserved for Isabella, Cecilia struggled to finish it... My belly is bursting!

After seeing Benjamin on the phone, Cecilia did not forget to say, “Breakfast was delicious, thank you for thinking of everyone and bringing you so many delicious things...”

“What should I do?” she said. “I forgot to leave it for sister Isabella.”

The elevator doors jingled open and Green arrived with a breakfast.

“Boss, on my way to your house just now, it was rush hour and I was stuck in traffic for a while. Your chef said that Ms.Isabella hadn’t eaten her breakfast for a long time, so today’s order he made extra, I hope Ms.Isabella will enjoy it.”

Benjamin said flatly, “She said the breakfast you bought was delicious.”

“Huh?” Green was surprised and looked at Cecilia, “Thank you Ms. Logan, you both bought breakfast at Jude Restaurant. If it tastes good, I’ll buy it there again next time.”

Cecilia was surprised to find herself bursting at the seams when Benjamin didn’t buy her breakfast!

Benjamin asks the family cook to cook breakfast for Isabella alone, and asks Green to drive to get it.

Two hours later, the doors of the operating room opened and Isabella and several doctors came out.

The crowd rushed to her.

Eloise was the first to ask, “Isa, how’s Freda?”

“Did she survive?” Tel is worried, too.

“Why are only you doctors coming out, Freda people?” As Cara craned her neck to see her daughter, she collapsed to the floor as she cried, “Freda, my Freda –”

“Cara, take it easy...” Eloise tried to help her, but it was too heavy to lift.

“Freda can’t live without me...” Cara was devastated. She was crying.

Tel also said sadly, “Do you want us two old people to mourn for young people?”

“Everybody calm down.” Isabella spoke at last.

She didn’t even have a chance to speak when she was talking.

“Listen to me, Jude is in very serious condition and is being transferred to the ICU.”

“You, you mean, she’s alive?”

“Yes.” Isabella said gently. “But the situation is not encouraging. The family should be prepared.”

“No, I beg you Isa, you must save her, she must not die, our Evert Family is only such a daughter, I kneel down for you...” Cara fell to her knees in front of Isabella, crying and kowtowing to her.

“Cara, get up first.” Isabella quickly reached out to help.

Tel knelt down and begged, “Uncle Evert is on your knees too. Uncle Evert will give you whatever you want if you can save her!!”

“Don’t do that...” The female doctor next to her said helplessly, “Dr. Isabella has done her best, the patient is too badly injured... Aren’t you making it difficult for Dr. Isabella?”

“Isa, aren’t you the best doctor?” Cara looked up and asked Isabella, crying, “Didn’t you save Old Mr. Mason from a complicated illness? You can save my daughter, can’t you? If you cure Freda, I’ll give you whatever you want, even my life.”

“Isa, uncle please, uncle kowtow to you, please must save Freda -” Tel banged heavily on the ground, his forehead was red.

“Uncle Evert.” Isabella knelt down quickly and stretched out her hand to stop them both. “Aunt Evert, listen to me.”

Her eyes were particularly sincere, as if she could feel the pain, “Jude suffered multiple fractures, nerves, tendons, blood vessels and other places were broken, and organs throughout the body were damaged to varying degrees... The situation is critical.”

Cara burst into tears.

When my daughter was young, her finger was accidentally cut by the glass, and she cried for a long time.

How badly hurt she must be now!!

“I’ve done all I can, and now it’s up to her to get through this on her own.” “But you have to be prepared. If you do, she’ll need care for the rest of her life.”

“It doesn’t matter, it doesn’t matter, as long as I can keep her alive, I can take care of her all my life!”

As if seeing hope, Cara clutched Isabella’s hand and said, “As long as she can call me mom, I’ll be satisfied in my life!” Isa, if you can keep her alive! As long as she is alive, there is hope for both of us...”

“Yes, even if it takes years to hear her say dad, it doesn’t matter, as long as I can keep this life...” Tel’s tears also flowed out, “Even if I can’t take care of her until I die, I will arrange things for her and let others take care of her!”

“Cara Tel, when I say care, it may not be the same as what you mean by care.”

Isabella felt sorry for herself, but at last she spoke frankly.

“Even if she survives this, her hands and feet... Can not voluntarily control, if the disease worsens later, may need to amputate... Given her current condition, there is a high probability that she will need to carry a urine bag for life... She can't go anywhere without a wheelchair, she needs to be fed food and water, which will be a big blow to her...”

Tel and Cara were stunned that their daughter would have such a difficult time surviving.

“Lifelong recovery?” “Cara asked, her voice shaking.

“HMM.” Isabella affirmed, “In terms of the current level of medical care, it is true, but do not rule out the next few decades, the level of medical development...”

Cara's tears slide down again, if there is no hand, no foot, how can my daughter play and dance, how can she walk to the person she loves, how can she embrace the world...

If the daughter even needs to be fed water, but also carry a urine bag for life, according to her temperament, even to die, but also do not want to live...

At this time, Freda in the operating room is wheeled out by the nurse, and Tel and Cara see their daughter lying quietly on the transfer bed, her face is pale, her brain is blank, and she can't stop crying.

Isabella watched as they left, then noticed Benjamin coming and, went up to him again and whispered, “I'm going to change.”

“Your face is white.” Benjamin was distressed. The silly girl lasted eleven hours in the operating room.

Not a breath, not a drink.

‘Dr Isabella... The female doctor in charge of Nora trotted toward this side, “There is another patient in critical condition, you need to see...”

Benjamin is a little upset. Since when does the girl take care of all the patients in this hospital? His girl’s on the hospital payroll? Or do you owe it to their hospital?

Everything. She doesn’t need water, food, rest, all right?

The female doctor is alarmed by Benjamin’s aura and quickly explains, “Yes, it’s a patient Ms.Isabella knows...”

Nathan on the side quickly asked, “Is Nora’s condition worsened again?”

“Let Dr. Isabella decide first.”

After all, their hospital formed a team of experts, but each other has no better idea, Nora such a condition, let alone their hospital, even if it is looking at the world, it is also the first...

Isabella realized that she had missed the best time for her sister Nora because she had taken so long to save Freda...

“I’ll go and see.” She walked quickly toward the ICU at the end of the hallway.

Benjamin, still holding his breakfast in his hand, saw the girl hurrying away, and felt more distressed. He hurried after her and handed her a bottle of warm milk.

“Take a few sips first.”

Isabella drank the milk out of the bottle as she walked, so as not to worry him.

“Come out and eat something later.” Benjamin urged.

“Yeah, okay.”

Nathan followed Isabella closely. “I heard the nurse say that eleven hours ago Freda was not going to make it.”

“Well, but I told her that if she died, her parents would kill you, and that’s how she got through this.”

Nathan’s eyes grew redder and his guilt for Freda deepened.

“I also told her that if she was going to leave, at least say goodbye to you.” “So I’m sure she’ll wake up, and whether or not she’ll survive... There are no guarantees.”

“Isa, tell Nathan the truth, what are the chances Freda will survive this?”

Chapter 617: I don’t agree with this relationship

“Less than 10 percent.” Isabella confesses, “In her current condition, it’s going to be really hard to pull through.”

When Nathan heard this, he felt even more sad.

“And more.” Isabella, standing in front of the ICU, turned to Nathan and said, “If I had been there, I wouldn’t have been able to save Mr. Scott and his men. They had fatal wounds to their heads and necks, ruptured livers, punctured intestinals, fractured heads and spines... When they arrive at the hospital, the blood is almost drained, so you still need to arrange the placement of their bodies and subsequent funerals.”

Because of Nora’s current condition, she can no longer prepare for her family.

Isabella said, pushing open the ICU door, “I’ll go in first and help sister Nora.”

Outside the door.

Eloise asks Nathan quietly, “What happened to your girlfriend?”

“Poisoned.”

“Why was it poisoned?”

With Eloise’s problems out in the open, eventually, Nathan chooses to let them all out.

Not only Eloise, but Williams couldn’t believe it and was

“So, the last time you took your sister to Lyon, it wasn’t to play, it was to see your girlfriend?”

“You let yourself and your sister get involved in something so dangerous, and Freda too!”

“Nathan! What do you really think, in your position, what kind of girl do you want? You chose this...”

“Mom, keep your voice down.” Nathan is afraid that Nora inside heard, will be sad sad.

“The last time you told me you had a girlfriend, I was happy for a while, mom doesn’t care about the right family, but the environment she grew up in, the people she came into contact with, and the dangers she now faces, are not in the same world as us!”

Eloise was very angry, and her voice was very excited. "Did you see that? What will happen to her parents will happen to you and Isa!"

"Mom, it's not that serious..."

"Yes, you now have the ability to protect yourself and protect her, so you think it's okay, but what about your family and friends?" There's always an oversight. Do you want them to end up like her parents? You know better than anyone where those people came from! That's not something you and Isa can handle!"

Eloise really could not understand why her son would like such a girl, is it not from a small family and good looking girls have seen a lot, so tired of it, like to do something different...

"And her body..."

In spite of her illness, Eloise could not accept that her future daughter-in-law was a sickly person.

"Isa has a solution, she's already working on a cure..."

"Isa, Isa, trouble everything Isa! How much trouble has this whole thing caused Isa? She didn't come back to this house to be told what to do! She came back to be with her family."

"Also, Freda is still lying in the ICU..."

"Mom, what happened to Freda was an accident."

"How did her parents, Freda, and herself end up in this situation if it wasn't for her sensitive identity and the danger she posed to those around her?"

Yes, Freda was kind enough to see that Kay and Eliza were in danger and wanted to follow them...

But if Nora itself is an ordinary child, did not provoke anyone, is there no such situation?

"I don't agree with this relationship." Eloise flatly refused.

"I, I listen to Eloise." Williams also didn't look away from his son's grief.

"Williams, Eloise... You don't know Nora, she is really good, this life I only identify her, I only want her!"

"the Logan family won't let her through this door." Eloise's attitude was very strong, "You die this heart, even if you never marry, it is better than you marry such a dangerous person into the family, this life will make the family difficult, when she is well, you find a chance to explain to her."

Eloise said that and was about to leave.

"Eloise, Nora really has a lot going for her..."

"Don't you understand? I don't want anyone around me lying wounded on the operating table like Tel's daughter, I don't want to feel the pain of losing a loved one, that group of people is very powerful, you marry her, it's equivalent to a million time bombs in the home, you don't know when and where suddenly exploded, you can take out one bad person, you can take out a hundred, a thousand, Ten thousand??"

Every little bit of mishandling will make her life hell,

She doesn't want to feel the pain of losing someone, does she?

“Eloise, I know what you’re worried about, and I’ll take care of it...”

“What do you do with it? How do you handle it? Can you assure me that you handled it perfectly, that there was nothing wrong with it? Nathan, if you’re tired of these rich girls and want to marry an ordinary girl, I’m all for it, but she’s a danger to everyone around you, and I won’t let her in.”

Eloise is not worried about herself, but about her children, parents, in-laws...

She couldn’t afford to lose any of them...

“You calm down first, don’t be angry with the body...” Eloise was gone before Williams could finish comforting her, leaving her cold and resolute behind.

All Williams could say to her son was, “Freda used to visit us all the time, caring about us, bringing a bunch of stuff every time she came, and when Isa and Cecilia went to school, the house was very quiet, and Freda came to stay with us every other day, and she went to have a beauty and coffee with your mother.”

“The last time Dad had a pain in his back, Freda cooked dinner, sent therapy machines and massage chairs, and asked famous doctors to come to your dad’s house to look at it.”

“I’m saying this to tell you that even if you don’t have feelings for her, a girl like this who’s really good for you, good for your parents because of the power behind your girlfriend, and now lying in the ICU dying, you should at least care.” Care how your Uncle Evert, Aunt Evert, feels?”

Williams then went after his wife again.

Nathan leaned feebly against the wall as if the weight of reality had hit him hard.

In the ICU.

Nora's face, silently sliding two lines of tears.

She heard all the fighting outside.

She knew that it was her own fault that brought so much trouble to the people around her, but for her, the foster parents would not have died.

Remembering her adoptive parents who loved her in the past, now covered with a white cloth and sent to the morgue, her tears could not stop flowing, her emotions became more and more excited, and her heart became more and more painful.

"Dr. Isabella, Dr. Isabella..." A nurse noticed something different, hurriedly called two, and did not forget to pull out the paper towel to Nora wipe tears, "you, you don't cry..."

Chapter 618: Be Happy

The nurse had heard the quarrel and felt sorry for her.

Isabella didn't hear her. She was on the phone to confirm the study value with grandpa Brown, who told her the test results. Isabella also provided her own ideas, and grandpa Brown was responsible for the revision.

Hearing the nurse's voice, Isabella said to the person on the phone to hold on, and asked the nurse, "What's wrong?"

Suddenly, the ECG came a beep, Nora gave up the hope of living and closed her eyes.

“Oops, patient has no sense of survival.” ‘said the nurse quickly.’ Dr Isabella, what shall we do?’

“Grandpa, send the medicine to you as soon as you finish revising it!” Isabella hung up the phone and rushed to the rescue.

“Oh, I’m not finished, the cure has not been tested, and if it has any side effects, who is responsible?”

Unfortunately, the old man’s last sentence has not finished, the call has become a beep beep end tone...

He called Isabella two more times, but she didn’t answer, so she’s probably busy again...

Nathan waited outside and soon saw several doctors hurry up, seemingly to help Isabella.

Nathan some worry, do not know if Nora had an accident, the moment the door opened, he was anxious to look inside, nothing looked, only heard the voice of the nurse, as if to say, the patient can not.

He banged apprehensively on the door, Shouting desperately, “Nora, Nora — you’ve got to hang on! You promised me you’d survive, you said you’d be with me for life, Nora – you can’t break your word!!”

“Family, I’m sorry, please be quiet.” Inside came out a nurse, helplessly advised, “you will affect the doctor inside the play.”

“How is Nora? A nurse? Is she dying?” Nathan asked anxiously.

“The patient has no sense of survival, maybe he heard you arguing just now...”

“No, I’m going to go in and explain it to her.”

“I’m sorry, family, but if you would please wait outside, any explanation would be worse for her. Leave it to Dr. Isabella.”

The nurse closes the door again and Nathan waits outside...

I don’t know how long after, there was thunder and lightning outside, the sky became gray, and soon there was a heavy rain.

The branches beside the road were shaking badly, the temperature was a few degrees colder, and this winter seemed extremely cold...

Nathan sat from noon to afternoon, and from afternoon to evening...

He doesn’t know how he survived, only that he doesn’t know whether the two girls he was involved with in the two icus don’t know whether they are alive or dead.

And this time.

Freda suddenly shouted from the hospital bed, “Dad.”

At first, Tel thought he had heard wrong, but he looked up and saw that his daughter on the hospital bed really opened an eye seam, and he was so happy that his eyes turned red.

“Dad is here, Mom and Dad are with you, and your Uncle Logan Aunt Logan is here too... Do you feel any discomfort? Shall I call the doctor to look at you?”

“Yes, yes, I’ll call the doctor...” Cara quickly rang the nurse’s bell, and the nurse went to call Isabella.

Cara looked at her daughter's injuries, and distressed, and happy for her wake up, "You finally woke up, you scared mom... Just wake up, just be fine..."

"Ma," he said. Freda's voice is still weak, but the corners of her mouth are trying to pull together a smile. "Don't cry."

Cara didn't want to cry in front of her daughter, but when she heard this, the tears began to flow and she couldn't stand it anymore.

Her daughter is hurt like this, and she comforts her back...

"Mom, I want to go home."

When Tel and Cara heard this, they were stunned.

Is this the so-called "return of light"?

Before Tel's third uncle was very sick in his eyes, that day, he was dying, but also suddenly clear mind, said to go home, the family sent him home as quickly as possible, he smiled, took a last look at the home where he lived for many years, and then closed his eyes safely...

It used to be said that a dying person would always make one request, which was: I want to go home...

"No, honey, we're not going home, you're not well yet, we're here for treatment... When you are well, Mom and Dad will pick you up..."

Cara holds her baby daughter's hand, tears can not stop flowing, she is afraid, afraid of losing her daughter from now on, she dare not think, even dare not listen to her daughter's "last words" like words...

“Dad, Mom.” Freda tried very hard to hold her parents’ hands, but her strength was too weak and her voice was weak, as if every sound had been made with great effort.

“In this life...”

“To be your daughter...”

“I’m proud...”

When Tel and Cara heard this, they broke down in tears.

“After I left...”

“Don’t cry, don’t be sad...”

Freda seemed to be leaving her last words, telling her word by word.

“The daughter just exists in a different way... Will be in heaven, continue to watch over you, with you...”

“Silly daughter, what are you talking about, you will live, even live longer than Mom and Dad...” Cara cries, “Don’t say it again, don’t say it again, are you thirsty? Mama, get you a glass of water...”

“Mom, just hear me out...” Freda seems to be dying, and after a long pause, she said, “Don’t blame Nathan and Nora for this... Promise me you won’t hurt them...”

Cara shakes her head and cries, “No, no, no more...”

“Promise me.” Freda can hardly breathe, but she is still waiting for an answer. “Answer, answer, me!”

Tel looked at her daughter’s uncomfortable and painful appearance, crying his heart out, “Well, dad promised you, as long as...”

Before he could finish his words, the door was suddenly opened, and Nathan, hearing the news that she was awake, rushed first.

Even faster than a doctor.

“Freda.....” Nathan didn’t know what a heavy burden of guilt he was carrying.

Freda’s eyes filled with tears. She tried to smile, but the strength of her body seemed to be fading. She could barely see Nathan’s face.

All she knew was that the man who broke in was Nathan, and his voice was very worried and worried...

She tried to smile, using up the last of her life, hard to squeeze out three words, “to, lucky, lucky.”

Nathan’s tears fell instantly.

Drip, drip...

The ECG becomes a straight line...

The team of doctors took them out, and Tel and Cara were crying so much...

Isabella explained Nora’s side of the situation, and desperately rushed here, once again into the rescue...

Williams and Eloise both had tears in their eyes.

Chapter 619: The Body Grows Cold

After an unknown amount of time Isabella's movements stopped, and so did all the doctors.

According to all medical instruments, the patient has completely lost vital signs and cannot be saved.

Isabella glanced at the clock on the wall and silently announced, "Time of death, December 28th, nineteen o'clock, twenty-three in the evening."

The doctors and nurses of the entire operating room, bending over in silence, sent the patient on his last journey in this way.

Isabella couldn't stop replaying the scene in her head.

"Sister Isabella, I hear you've just come home. Are you used to it?"

"I heard that you used to live in J city, I haven't been back for a long time, can we go shopping together?"

"Let's go to Cave Restaurant and clock in."

"Is it convenient to add an Instagram App?"

Freda's voice and smiling face still haunt her.

Isabella's eyes suddenly glowed with tears, and she pulled the tube out of the bed with her own hands, covered it with a white cloth, and said hoarsely, "Push it out."

All the movements of the doctors and nurses were silent, but the unseen sadness was loud.

When the door opened and Cara saw her daughter in the hospital bed covered in a white cloth, the shock hit her head and tears started streaming down her face.

Tel also could not believe his eyes, until the transfer bed pushed in front of his eyes, he shook his hands, do not know how long it took to have the courage to uncover this layer of white cloth...

The girl's face was bloodless and she lay peacefully on the transfer bed, motionless.

Tel's hand trembled, put the fingers to her daughter's breath, has not felt her daughter's breathing, and then put the neck, did not feel the blood beat.

One second was still talking to his daughter, the next second suddenly no...

"My daughter..." Tel suddenly collapsed to the extreme, threw himself on the white cloth, crying very sad.

"Why did you leave like that? How could you leave Mom and Dad behind? How can mother live without you?" Cara cries as she holds her daughter's body.

Williams and Eloise are heartbroken, unable to imagine that such a cheerful, beautiful and intelligent girl, suddenly so lost... Tears came to her eyes.

Nathan on the side, is red eyes, tears rolling down from his eyes.

Freda's bright smile and cheerful voice kept popping into his mind.

"Nathan, what have you been up to?"

"I understand the girl's mind, the next time you go to play where you can take me ah, to ensure that your sister happy to go out, happy home."

"Aunt bought me a lot of beautiful clothes, I am so happy..."

"Nathan, did I say something wrong to upset you? I'm sorry..."

Nathan's shoulders shook as he looked at the girl on the transfer bed and remembered the cold morning when she came to him with her breakfast.

"I know you have Nora in your heart, and I know you won't like others in this life, but I don't give up, holding the psychology of luck to try to impress you."

"I do like you, and I do approach you in the name of 'brother', and now that you two are reconciled, I sincerely wish you happiness."

"I can't be with you, and I can't let you go anytime soon, but the thought of her coming back and you smiling more than ever gives me satisfaction."

"Nathan, as long as you are happy, whether it is me or not, it doesn't matter, although it does feel a little sad..."

Nathan feels bad about himself.

The girl in the past optimistic and cheerful, lively and lovely,

“This is the breakfast I made for you, and if you praise it, these breakfasts have fulfilled their purpose.”

“Here are the clothes and skirts, aunt sent me last night, in my identity, is not suitable for the door, you help me to give her, thank you for her kindness.”

“This small book remembers some of the usual preferences of uncles and aunts, as well as some of the consumption places they like to go, etc., I have given them a VIP, and some card passwords and problems I also remember in it...”

“You have a girlfriend now, if it is not a group activity I will not appear, so as not to make people misunderstood, you take care of yourself at the same time, don’t forget to take care of your girlfriend ah, I go~ must be happy yo.”

Nathan slid down the wall and sat on the floor, his big hands over his eyes, his shoulders shrugging, crying bitterly.

“Baby girl, what do you want your mother to do? The rest of your life is so long, how can you let your mother live?”

Cara cried bitterly, “How can you let mom send black hair, you clearly promised mom, said that after this busy period, will take mom to Paris to play... How can you lie, get up, get up, daughter...”

“As long as you open your eyes, whatever you want, Daddy will say yes!” Tel cried bitterly, “Freda, my good daughter, do you hear me? As soon as you wake up, you can ask Daddy to do anything, please wake up, Daddy has never asked you, just this once, just wake up... Wake up and see if Daddy’s okay?”

“You can’t do this, you can’t leave us...” Cara was crying.

Seeing the two of them crying like this, the nurse pushing the transfer bed looked at Isabella with some embarrassment.

Isabella motioned for them to withdraw.

Holding her body, Cara broke into tears as she sang: "Twinkle, twinkle, twinkle, little stars..."

This is the daughter's favorite song when she was young, but also the daughter learned the first piano music...

When Cara sings the song, she recalls the image of her daughter as a child, crying as she sings, "Hanging in the sky like so many little eyes..."

The girl lying on the bed was not moving, her hands were getting cold...

Cara touched her hand, felt her fading body heat, and suddenly wailed and cried harder.

My daughter is gone...

After raising such a big daughter, suddenly lost...

It's really gone...

Really gone...

Cara was crying her eyes out and couldn't handle the shock.

Eloise's phone vibrated again and again.

She did not want to pick up, but the other party did not play until she could not give up, and continued to play several...

She could only hold back her tears, and just as she slid across the screen, she heard the other person's voice.

“Hello, is this Mrs. Logan? The CVO liquid that Ms. Evert ordered for you has arrived at J city. Are you at home now? Is it convenient to deliver?”

CVO is for the royal family only.

Williams worked so hard in his youth that he still suffers from shoulder and neck pain, which sometimes keeps him awake at night.

Chapter 620 Why?

Freda used her connections a month ago to order a supply of liquid medicine for the next 10 years, which will be delivered to Riverside Villa at a fixed time every year.

Eloise did not receive the call is OK, a answer, the whole person suddenly burst into tears.

The girl's sensible, intimate, so that at this moment she hurts like a knife.....

“Mrs. Logan? What's the matter with you?” The person on the other end of the line did not understand why Mrs. Logan suddenly began to cry, but was still confused and concerned, “Hello, Mrs. Logan, are you all right?”

Isabella, seeing that this painful grief is not over soon, went to change out of sterile clothes and disinfect her hands.

Benjamin opens a bowl of warm soup, waits for her to come out, and immediately brings it to her. "Have some first."

Isabella had been busy for twenty-one hours, from ten o'clock last night to seven o'clock tonight, trying to save either Freda or Nora...

I drank a bottle of milk, let alone sit down and rest, and I didn't even catch my breath.

Benjamin saw that her eyes were a little red with fatigue and said distressed, "The cook had to cook the dinner again. I'll feed you some."

Isabella had a bowl of soup and was already tired. "I'm just going to talk to Nathan."

"Good," said Hermione.

Benjamin thought, the girl must be exhausted, can not eat, suddenly more distressed.

"Isa." Eloise saw her daughter emaciated a lot, quickly wiped away the tears, and asked with concern, "You must be exhausted, I'll ask the driver to take you home, and I'll ask the chef to cook something you like for dinner." What do you want to eat?"

"Don't bother, Benjamin is ready, but Nathan..."

Isabella glanced at the man in the corner, who was still sitting on the floor, shoulders hunched, as if he had fallen into a deep valley of sorrow.

"Nathan..." Eloise looked at him and said nothing, "Don't worry about him. Your Uncle Evert Aunt Evert is very sad. Your father and I will stay with them."

“Thanks for your hard work.” Williams says guiltily.

“No hard work.”

Isabella went to Nathan again, crouched down beside him, and said softly, “Cry enough. Cry to feel better.”

Nathan raised his scarlet eyes and asked puzzled, “Why?”

Why did the gang kill Kay, Eliza, and Freda...

With three hostages, wouldn't it be better to force him or Nora or Isa to show up?

“Before, they wanted to capture people around us and force us to show up.” Isabella explained quietly. “But not any more.”

Nathan's eyes were red and he looked at her as if he didn't understand.

“It seems that we want people around us to die one by one, so that we can suffer the pain of losing loved ones.”

Nora is a “traitor” in their eyes, can not catch her, take the people around her, the same can make Nora pain.

Isabella is “nosy” and helps Nora get away many times... That's why I was targeted by those guys.

Of course, the gang will not let Nathan go, it is because Nathan and Nora come together, Nora has a “betrayal” heart, want to break away from them, and Nathan start and finish...

“Their next target is someone close to me.” Isabella's expression was pale, her voice even more calm, as if she were talking about something that had nothing to do with her.

But Nathan suddenly realized why his sister had been reluctant to reveal her identity as the daughter of the Logan family.

Not to mention how much trouble and danger she brought to help Nora, just her identity as a “boss” is destined to keep a low profile in this life.

If at the beginning, all the friends and family know that she is the daughter of the Logan family, now that the gang can't catch her, they will naturally take advantage of these friends and relatives.

There are a lot of bodyguards with the family, and the younger sister's men will secretly protect their parents.

But other relatives and friends, not everyone does everything with a lot of bodyguards, there are always negligence, not in place...

With the power of Isabella, she can protect some of the people around her, but how can she protect all of them?

“We all have to be careful next.” Nathan hoarse voice, “I will find out their IP, one by one to send them to prison, uncle aunt, and Freda revenge.”

“HMM.” “The medicine has been given to Nora, because the time is urgent, the medicine has not had time to do the final test, but it is better than nothing, r Nora will wake up in 24 hours, I heard the nurse said that she heard you and mom and dad dialogue, you should think about how to comfort her in advance.”

“Thank you.” Nathan turned his face sideways, his eyes red with gratitude, “I really don't know what I would do without you.”

“Call me if you need anything.”

Although sister Nora would not normally wake up tonight...

But in case...

Isabella still spoke up.

“I’m going back.” Isabella got up. “You can take it from here.”

“Don’t worry.”

Isabella leaves ahead of Benjamin.

at this time, sitting in the car, she finally took out her phone.

There are so many missed calls and unread messages, mostly from Uncle, grandma, and Ann.

Jed: “Isa, are you at Riverside Villa yet? Are you tired after a twelve-hour flight?”

Grandma: “Not long after you left, grandma misses you again...” Do you like the gift? Time is too short, do not know what to prepare for you, I heard that your parents, uncle have bought you a lot of clothes, shoes and bags, so send these again feel boring... In the box is my grandmother’s heart, and I don’t know if you like it...”

Ann: “Ms.Isabella, are you at Riverside Villa yet? You left this time, the old lady said hello many times, I also miss you, looking forward to your next time to play Ha ~”

Isabella replied to their messages first, and before she could open the little box her grandmother had sent her, her phone vibrated again.

It's Jed calling.

“Isa, I heard from your mother that there was an incident with the Evert Family, that you went into surgery on their daughter right after you got off the plane last night, and your mother just heard that you saved another person, and you've been

Isabella heard her uncle's pain and said, “I'm not tired.”

“You silly child, bent on others, did not take good care of themselves, go back to eat something, take a bath, have a good rest... Don't tire yourself out?”

Before Jed's words were finished, the phone was asked by Old Madam to pass, “Isa, Grandma again worded, be sure to eat something to cushion your stomach, let someone massage you with sour hands, take a good bath, go to bed to relax... Don't wear yourself out, or grandma will be distressed.”

“Ok, got it.”
