

Chapter 66

"If you knew nothing about my purported affair with another man, why would you bring it up? Megan, we're siblings. How could you side with the others? When I become the subject of slander, are you really going to smear my name as well?"

"You! Your infidelity is a known fact. No one is slandering you! Not only did you sleep with another man, you even had his child! That little girl is proof of it! Do you think that you could start off anew as the president of JNS Corporation? No matter what title you hold, it doesn't change the fact that you're a sl*t!" Megan roared at Selena at the top of her lungs.

Megan's behavior of calling her half-sister a sl*t made the guests question her character.

Selena was calm in the face of Megan's outburst. "I naively thought that Finneas was the father of the child I carried. I took great care of the baby, fearing that I would hurt her. But Finneas suddenly told me that he wanted a breakup because you were pregnant. Ah, I almost forgot about it. Your child should be around three years old now. Is that correct?"

Everyone at the wedding instantly understood what had happened. If Selena had indeed gotten pregnant with someone else's child, she would not have been foolish enough to give birth. Instead, she would have undergone an abortion!

It appeared that Selena's unfortunate situation was planned out by someone. Not only that, Megan and Finneas were together before he broke up with Selena. At this point, it was very clear who was the cheater and the sl*t.

"You—" Megan almost fainted from anger. She had not expected Selena to be as shameless as to expose every embarrassing detail of their past.

"You shut up!" Once again, Finneas gave Megan a slap across her cheek—his second time in the same day.

All the guests were taken aback by his action. Tsk tsk, she hasn't officially married him yet, and she has been slapped twice by her husband in public. When she finally becomes a part of the Lake Family, her life will probably be miserable!

Covering her stinging cheek, Megan stared at Finneas in disbelief. This was the second time she got slapped. She could endure the humiliation for the first time, but he clearly crossed a line now! She burst into tears and ran down from the stage.

Seeing that, Meredith hurriedly ran after Megan. Before that, she took a look at Selena. I guess we cannot underestimate her anymore.

"Are you planning to ruin your sister's wedding today? Huh?" Roland bellowed at Selena.

"It was you who invited me to the wedding and to give a toast, which I did. I wished them everlasting happiness. Isn't that good enough?" Her expression soured.

In the end, the wedding host had to announce the completion of the wedding to put an end to the drama. After that, Selena had absolutely no appetite for the feast and left with Juniper.

However, the moment they left the entrance of Regalia Hotel, they saw a man in front of them. This time, Pierre Fowler seemed to look different from before.

His sharp features looked like the product of a sculptor. His straight and bushy brows were manly, and his deep, dark eyes could entice one's soul. His tall and bulky figure had a dignified feel to it.

That's right? How have I never suspected the mismatch between his profession—a gigolo who frequents entertainment centers—and his special aura? Selena Yard, are you blind?

With a hand in the pocket, Pierre stared at her with a scorching gaze.

"You're shameless." She could not stop herself from blurting out. She had no intention of talking to him and headed in the direction of the parking garage with Juniper in tow.

"Juniper, let's go."

"Hmph! Go away, you big fat liar!" Juniper made a face at Pierre in an unfriendly fashion and did not turn back again.