

Cruel Heart Lover Novel

Chapter 32

"No, I must have read it wrong..." Fortunately, before Selena could answer, the reporter denied his question.

Probably because she finally remembered that Selena was obviously an artist of Empire, how could her stylist be Arthur, Su Yimo's queen stylist of Shengshi Entertainment!

Selena breathed a sigh of relief, fearing that they would ask similar questions again, she hurriedly said, "After all, today is the opening ceremony of "The World", so everyone should ask some questions about the movie!"

"So, Miss Ning, is this your first filming?" someone asked in the crowd.

"Of course not. I've been on film crews since college, but I didn't have many roles before, so everyone doesn't know me." Selena answered truthfully, not minding her meager resume at all.

The media can dig up all these situations, so it's better to explain it humbly.

"I don't know what roles Miss Ning has played before?"

This question was normal, but it was a bit embarrassing for Selena, but since the other party asked, she couldn't help but answer.

"I've acted in..." Selena began to count down the roles she played after returning to China.

During the four years of studying abroad, she spent all her spare time on film crews. She had been part-timers in many well-known dramas, and had a lot of roles. Under the circumstances that foreign people generally don't like to use Chinese, Selena It is not easy to have such a resume.

The reason why she didn't talk about her experience abroad is because of her absurd relationship history when she first went abroad...

Although they are all normal contacts that do not violate morality, the identities of her ex-boyfriends seem to be a bit too conspicuous.

The most important thing for her now is a work that can be sold. If she is full of gossip when she debuts, so that the public's attention is all focused on her private affairs, she may be able to get a temporary exposure, but it is not good for her in the long run. develop.

Selena had tried her best to recall the roles she played that she could speak about after returning to China, but the reporters were left speechless after saying it.

What is this acting like...

The mistress, the vixen, the witch, the bumpkin, the brain-dead lady, and even the vicious old woman...

Such a big beauty, what kind of hobby is this?

Why do I always like to play such awkward roles.

Sure enough, someone asked, "Why do you play all the villains?"

Of course, it was impossible for Selena to expose Janice on such an occasion, so she said calmly, "I didn't pay attention to this. For me, acting is the career I love the most. Every role has its own life, no matter how big or small it is." Noble and humble."

The media then asked several more questions, and Selena answered them perfectly without any prior instructions from the manager.

Guo Qisheng on the side looked at her repeatedly, "This girl is really good! With such qualifications and emotional intelligence, she has been in the industry for a year, and she has only gotten so far...Old Wang, what do you think?"

Producer Wang Taihe said meaningfully, "Either the executives of Empire Entertainment are blind, or..."

After speaking, he gave him a "you understand" look.

It was clear that someone from Empire deliberately suppressed her.

Guo Qisheng looked regretful, "What a pity for such a good seedling!"

"It's gold that always shines, besides, doesn't she have a Bole like you?" Wang Taihe laughed.

At this moment, Susie's nails were cut off in the palm of her hand, and her face was so ugly that she was almost unable to hold on to such an occasion.

She never expected that Janice had deliberately asked Selena to notify Selena temporarily so that she would make a fool of herself at the opening ceremony, but in the end she made an appearance at the finale, stunning the audience.

Dmn it, Selena's outfit and that outfit alone cost millions. Where did she get so much money?

Clothes and jewelry can be rented, but who made her look like this?

This country bumpkin, she underestimated her!
