

Cruel Heart Lover Novel

Chapter 666

Seeing that Selena had chatted with Louis for so long, Daniel's face became slightly condensed: "It's time to take the medicine."

"Oh... right now!" Selena hung up the phone.

Just as he was about to return the phone to Daniel, his eyes widened.

This, this, this...

She thought that Daniel was just trying to cooperate with them in such a spoof photo, but she didn't like it. She didn't expect...

Hey hey hey, how can the big devil be so cute...

She also really wanted to set these photos as the desktop of her mobile phone, but unfortunately her profession does not allow it, too high a profile will definitely cause unnecessary scandals.

However, she also likes the current mobile phone desktop, and it is very meaningful. It is the first time Rick painted her a portrait...

So far, there have been many times when people saw it and asked which master she hired to paint the portrait, and asked her to introduce it.

But, of course, it is impossible for her to introduce Master Rick!

Daniel saw her looking at the desktop of his phone with an unnatural look on his face, so he took the phone away and handed her the pill.

Selena looked at the dozens of pills, big and small, and her head grew dizzy, "Why are there so many? Do I have to take them all?"

The little nurse holding the tray hurriedly explained: "Mrs. Lu, you have to eat all of it. You still have a low-grade fever, and your wound is very inflamed. Besides, your..."

The little nurse Balabala talked for a long time, and the central idea was that one must not be missing.

Selena could only look at Daniel for help.

However, Daniel's expression was unnegotiable, instead he was extremely stern: "If you don't want to take medicine, don't mess around next time."

Selena blinked her eyes: "Husband....."

Daniel: "...After eating, I will take you out to play. There are sika deer in the garden."

Selena's eyes lit up, and she obediently took the medicine immediately.

Although she was quite afraid of taking medicine, she wasn't to the point where she didn't want to take it. It's just...she was too greedy for the warmth of Daniel's body...

Only in front of him, would she completely let go of her weakness and self-willedness...

The little nurse next to them looked at the two and burst into tears with envy. This is too spoiled!

It's completely coaxing a daughter!

It's unbelievable that Mr. Lu is usually so cold...

After that phone call, Selena began to think about how to confess her love.

She thought she was a pickup artist in vain, but she didn't expect that such a trivial thing as a confession would stump her!

In fact, it doesn't mean that this matter is so difficult, the main target is the Great Demon King, and she has done so much for her, she thought that this confession should not be too shabby, so it is inevitable to be cautious and cautious.

So, that night, Selena started to seek foreign help after her hard thinking to no avail.

The level of foreign aid this time was obviously higher than that of Louis.

"Hey... who is it..." The person on the other end of the phone seemed to be awakened from his sleep.

"Hey, Second Young Master, it's me!"

"Selena!!! Are you okay? I heard from my brother that you were kidnapped. And shot? Why did you call me so late? What happened?"

"Yes! It's a very urgent matter! Second Young Master, please help! How can I make a confession that will impress the other party forever?" Selena asked in one breath.

On the other end of the phone, Saul was silent for a long time before he stuttered, "Tell... confess...Selena, do you want to confess to someone?"

Chapter 667

Selena rolled her eyes and replied, "It's not me, it's a friend of mine!"

If it was herself, she would definitely not teach her how to protect his brother.

However, I didn't expect Saul to be quite witty, so he was filled with righteous indignation, "You lied, it must be yourself! Who are you going to confess to! I'm going to kill him!"

Selena raised her eyebrows, "Are you sure?"

"Of course I'm sure! My big knife is already hungry and thirsty!!!"

Selena laughed, this guy is really loyal to his brother!

Now that Saul found out, he would definitely not help her, so she had no choice but to use some special methods.

So, Selena deliberately said in a threatening tone, "You don't care who it is, you'll know later anyway! How about it? Do you teach me or not? If you don't teach me, I'll let your brother teach you Me!"

Selena was going to surprise Daniel, but of course it was impossible to directly tell Saul who it was, otherwise, given the pissing nature of this guy, she would definitely not be able to bear it, and told Daniel as soon as she turned her head. Then she made a fart surprise!

"Selena! How could you do this! Let my brother teach you, and my brother will not die of grief! Selena, from today onwards, I have decided not to like you! You let me down so much!" Saul's small universe exploded.

Selena suppressed her smile, and said in a villainous tone, "Hmph, so, little goldfish, do you teach me or not? If not, I'm really going to ask your brother!"

"You..." Saul said in a distressed tone, "Okay... I'll teach! Also, I'm not a goldfish! I'm a koi!"

It's so sad that I don't forget this question...

I am obviously a koi carp, why am I so sad!

So sad!

"Then tell me quickly!" Selena urged, lowering her voice, and cautiously glanced in the direction of the bathroom. Daniel was taking a shower and should be done soon.

Saul said absent-mindedly, "Smear some mud on your face, draw a clown, ride a unicycle, lead a donkey..."

Selena interrupted him with black lines all over her face, and said angrily, "Saul!!!! If you're not serious, I'm going to ask your brother!"

Saul sobbed for a moment, and said weepingly, "If he's just flirting, you should take off your clothes; if he's seen countless people, you can sit by the stove! There's only so much I can teach you! This is the essence of what I've learned all my life. Yes! You can understand the details yourself! Believe it or not, I'll hang up and goodbye!"

Your friend Lu Jinli has been seriously injured...

Saul thought to himself, judging from his little understanding, at least he could be sure that the guy Selena liked was old and cunning, so he asked Selena to cook him a meal and confess his love!

This was already the safest method he could think of, and it wouldn't let Selena trouble him...

Selena looked at the hung up phone, speechless.

However, after careful consideration of Saul's words, it does make sense.

She also understands this truth, but she is temporarily limited by her own thinking.

She always wants to make a big scene!

In fact... a different way of thinking is also good!

At the beginning of love, she used beauty tricks...

Read countless people and use the gourmet plan...

Daniel hasn't been in a relationship for decades, so it must be his first love!

Tsk tsk, this guy Saul, even when he is totally ignorant of the truth, he is able to assist him like a god, that's amazing!

Chapter 668

"Still sleeping?" Daniel came out of the shower and saw Selena was holding a mobile phone in his hand, while talking and memorizing something in a small notebook, looking excited, he couldn't help frowning.

"Right away!" Selena hurriedly stuffed the little book under the pillow like a baby.

Then, he secretly planned a big confession plan in his heart.

Daniel glanced at the pillow from the corner of his eye. He seemed a little suspicious, but he didn't pay much attention to it. "Have you taken the medicine yet?"

Selena nodded repeatedly, her eyes kept sizing up Daniel's body in pajamas with a honey-colored chest exposed, "Eat, eat! Drink the milk too!"

Hey, this way of confession...is it really enough to make people unforgettable forever?

Is there really no need to create a sea of flowers for ten miles at an altitude of 8,000 meters, and then announce it to people all over the world? I feel that this is in line with the style of the Great Demon King!

Well, she doesn't have that ability for the latter either...

Daniel dried his slightly damp hair with a towel, then approached her, and touched her forehead with warm and damp palms, "Fortunately, I don't have a fever."

Selena was about to start implementing the plan, when there was a loud and disturbing cell phone ringing in the room, she couldn't help puffing her cheeks with a dark face.

Who is this!

Daniel walked to the table, picked up the phone, glanced at it, and then picked it up.

"Hey?"

"Hello! Brother!!!" Saul's voice was crying, and it was deliberately lowered, as if he was guarding against something.

"What's the matter?" Daniel had never heard Saul's voice so sad before, so he couldn't help frowning. Could it be that something happened at home?

"Brother, is Selena by your side?" Saul asked.

"exist."

"Then go away and answer the phone, don't let her hear it, I'm going to tip you off!" Saul said nervously.

Daniel was puzzled, but he followed his advice and walked to the balcony, "Let's talk."

On the other end of the phone, Saul seemed to be struggling violently before he said, "Brother...I didn't want to tell you...but...I think it's better to tell you now than when you're completely unprepared. It's better...so...I still think it's fine to tell you now...it will save you from being more sad when you know..."

"What's the matter?" Daniel frowned, vaguely having a bad premonition.

Saul took a deep breath and said word by word, "Selena is going to confess to that person."

Daniel's face was blank for a moment: "What did you... say?"

Saul was filled with grief and indignation: "Selena is going to confess to the man she likes! She called me just now and told me herself! She even asked me to give her advice!"

Dead silence.

After an unknown amount of time, Saul was so nervous that he was about to have a heart attack, and finally Daniel's voice came from the other end...

"yes."

"Brother...are you alright?" Saul asked anxiously.

"It's fine." There was nothing unusual in Daniel's tone.

However, Saul became even more worried, and could only comfort him helplessly, "But brother, you don't need to be too nervous, Selena is just confessing, and it may not be successful!"

However, when he said this, even he himself didn't quite believe it.

He thinks, with Selena's skills, and she still moved her heart and used her serious attitude, the success rate...is too high...

There is almost no chance of failure.

Chapter 669

The more I think about it, the more sad it becomes. Not long ago, I suspected that Selena might have some meaning for his brother, and was planning to test it out. Who knows, after finally meeting someone, before I had time to test it out, I got such shocking news... ..

Saul simply told Daniel everything in detail, "Because she threatened me that if I didn't teach her, she would ask you directly, so I had to teach her a little casually.

I told her that if the other party has a lot of people, she will cook for the other party by herself, and if the other party is in love, then use the beauty trick. I reckon she must be ready to cook.

Uh...it's over...what if she combines my methods and cooks first and then tricks her... oh...brother, I'm sorry..."

Saul was still chattering in his ears, but Daniel felt that his voice was getting farther and farther away, and even the whole world was gradually moving away from him.

The moment he heard Saul say that Selena was going to confess to that man, the world beneath his seemingly peaceful surface was already shattered into ashes as if hit by a planet.

All the bloodthirsty and negative emotions flowed backwards in the blood, collided with her insanity and hurt her reason, rampaging through her body again and again, almost tearing his whole body into pieces...

My heart hurts so much that it almost explodes...

Selena rolled on the bed for a long time before Daniel finally finished his phone call and went into the room.

It's just that he doesn't seem to be right...

how to say.

Just like the sun in a solar eclipse state, all the light is lost in an instant, and all emotions and vitality are also converged in an instant.

Selena's eyebrows twitched, and she was keenly aware of something.

Immediately, he cursed in his heart!

fcuk!

That phone call just now couldn't be from that ba5tard Saul, right? He told Daniel everything?

don't think about it anymore...

Definitely is...

Otherwise, Daniel couldn't have such an expression.

She thought Saul would not talk too much in case Daniel would be sad, but unexpectedly, she told him directly.

Dmn it! Originally, she still wanted to brew a little more!

But now, looking at the expression of the Great Demon King...

Obviously, instead of erupting in silence, they perish in silence!

She couldn't bear to delay for a second, okay!

It must be done quickly!

Selena sighed, pinched the center of her brows, and then buried her head under the blanket.

A few seconds later, she poked her head out, looked at the man and said, "Master Boss..."

Daniel raised his head and looked at her with empty eyes.

"Can you come over here?" Selena asked, her voice was unusually soft, as if she was afraid of disturbing something.

Daniel's slender figure was straight and stiff, and he mechanically walked to the edge of the bed like a conditioned reflex.

Selena stared fixedly at the man in front of the bed, "Master Boss...that...let me tell you in advance...wait a minute...I might do...the following things..."

After finishing speaking, before the man could realize the deep meaning in her words, the girl turned off the light with a "snap", then suddenly got up from the bed, knelt up straight, wrapped her arms around his neck, and pulled him down without any hesitation. k!ssed him hesitantly.

At the same time, because of her kneeling posture, all the quilts that had been covering her body fell off.

Selena groped, and pulled the man's cold, iron-like palm from her side, covering her waist.

There, there is no thread.

Before the man recovered from the sudden k!ss, his fingers visibly trembled when they touched the girl's warm and delicate skin.

At this moment, the girl's soft and clear voice came next to her ears...

"Daniel...I like you...I like you very much...I like you very much..."

Chapter 670

The night is dark, there is no moon outside the window, only stars hanging in twos and threes in the black curtain.

Inside the window with the lights turned off, there was no light in the darkness, only a vague silhouette could be seen.

The man stiffened his slightly leaning body, with one palm covering the girl's waist, the girl knelt on the bed, her arms wrapped around the man's neck, the slightly raised neck was stunningly beautiful in the dim light...

If Daniel was bombarded by the bad news of Saul just now, the whole world was wiped out, and his mind went blank because of his inner struggle, then at this moment, he probably doesn't even know who he is.

It was so quiet.

The other party remained motionless as if struck by lightning.

In the end, Selena's heart was pounding, what's going on?

Whether it's good or bad, you have to give some feedback, right?

Thanks to her preparing for so long, dying so many brain cells, and still going all out...

Selena's tone inevitably felt aggrieved, "Hey, Daniel, I'm confessing to you, can't you respond? Even if it's a refusal..."

Daniel finally reacted, but his body remained motionless like a sculpture, only the warm breath coming from him showed that he was talking...

"What did you say?"

"I said I was confessing to you!"

"With me?"

"Nonsense, otherwise who do you think?"

After a short conversation, there was a dead silence again.

It wasn't until there was a "Ah Sneeze" sounded in the air as thin as a mosquito's moan, that this moment that seemed to be frozen was finally awakened.

It's already deep winter, even if the heating is turned on in the house, it will still be cold if you don't wear anything.

In the next second, before his brain could react, Daniel's body quickly picked up the quilt next to him and wrapped the girl tightly like a silkworm chrysalis, "Nonsense! Don't you think I'm not sick enough?"

Selena shrank her neck from being yelled at, sniffled her nose and muttered softly, "It's so boring... It's a pity that I almost lost my head thinking about it, and turned down my face to ask people for advice, so I came up with this idea. You have a confession experience that will be unforgettable for a lifetime! Ah Choo..."

"Put on your clothes! Where are your clothes?" Daniel felt like he was going crazy.

"I won't wear it, you haven't given me an answer yet!" Selena muttered in disbelief.

Her clothes were still under the quilt. Because she was really in a hurry just now, she could only get in and "undress" quickly.

Hearing this, Daniel had an indescribable look on his face, "Do you still need an answer from me?"

Selena's eyes lit up, and then she continued to ask: "Then were you pleasantly surprised and unforgettable? I always feel that this way of confessing is too common and not exciting enough! I blame that guy Saul for having such a big mouth! Originally, I was going to brew it up and perfect it, at least I will tell you tomorrow, but it turned out that you misunderstood, and I was afraid that you would think wildly, so I had to temporarily change it to the present, which made me so hurried!"

Hearing the girl's complaints, Daniel didn't know what to say.

His slender fingers helped his forehead helplessly, and finally, he grabbed her hand and placed it on his left chest, his voice was hoarse and hoarse, as if he had just returned to the world from the depths of hell: "Not exciting enough? My heart... ...I'm almost scared to stop by you, what else do you want?"

"Uh...so serious?" Selena blinked.

She was afraid that it wasn't exciting enough and not special enough, but she didn't expect that she would, she used too much force...
