

Cheat. A 101

Chapter 101: Aniue's POV

Aisha and Sylphy bought fake unconscious Myne to his bedroom, and gently lay him down on the bed.

After which Aisha immediately start healing his nonsexist wound, while Sylphy wiped the blood on his face with a wet cloth.

Sigh, so much care, injured people have their own benefits, Myne thought happily while enjoying care from his both fiancees.

"Aisha, Lord Husband should be fine, right?" Sylphy asked concernedly.

"Don't worry Miss. Princess, Lord's Husband is very powerful, and this level of injury is nothing for him, if he hadn't been hit on the head, he would still be fighting Your Highness," Aisha said with a forced smile trying to relax Sylphy, even though she herself was also very worried from inside.

Is Aisha completing me or insulting me? What does she mean that I could fight more? does she want to see me getting beaten, I know it, she is really an evil woman, I should have to discipline her quickly before she makes Sylphy like herself, Myne thought with a frown, and continued his eavesdropping on their conversation.

"Sigh, it's all my fault if I would have stopped elder brother earlier, this kind of thing never happened," Sylphy said with a sad face.

Naive girl, even if she try to stop her elder brother, I'm sure that Siskon would have definitely ignored her, and vented his anger on me no matter what, that thing clearly written on his face, Myne thought helplessly.

"It's not your fault Miss. Princess, it's just Lord Husband is a little too weak compared to Your Highness, and you don't have to blame yourself for this, after all Your Highness just wants to see Lord Husband's real strength, so this kind of thing is normal seeing how much he loves you," Aisha spoke hurriedly seeing Sylphy depressed.

Hey! How is she calling weak? I am a magician all right, it is natural that I don't know fighting techniques. Also if I had used my magic skills, then I would have defeated Sylphie's elder brother before my unbeatable skill was deactivated. Also why the f*ck, Aisha also calling me by that nonsense name?

Don't she promise last time that she wouldn't use that name again, Myne thought angrily, trying to calm down himself for not getting up and giving Aisha a well deserve beating.

Sylphy after hearing Aisha's explanation finally calm down, took a deep breath and spoke with a smile, "By the way, Aisha, didn't I tell you last time that you don't need to be so formal with me? We are sisters anyway, you can call me Sylphy like my family calls me."

"Ahh sorry, I forgot about it," Aisha said laughing awkwardly and rubbing the back of her head.

"Haha, No problem, but from now on, you call me Sylphy okay? Let's go outside, let Myne have some rest," Sylphy suggested, and Aisha nodded her head, after carefully putting the quilt on Myne, she walk out of the bedroom with Sylphy.

"Finally alone, now I should also take a little nap anyway I am injured, and this is what injured people do," Myne mumbled while laying comfortably on the bed.

Aniue POV...

"I am Aniue Augusta, you're my sister's fiance... huh?" I said while looking at the man in front of me who was eating breakfast.

This is the man my beloved little sister chose as her husband.

From my first impression of him, honestly, he doesn't look strong but a lazy and annoying guy, whose just after seeing his face people have a desire to beat him.

But, since my cute little sister's personally marrying into his family of her own free will, so he might have some ability, at least this much trust I have in my little sister. Also, he has defeated Orcs by himself just after awakening.

However, after seeing him personally It is still hard for me to believe that this guy is only 15 years old, he clearly looks 20 years old by appearance, he might be exercising every day, other than this I have no explanation for his unnatural body shape...

By the way, should I really fight with this guy?

I've heard from reports that his Skills are [Appraisal • Complete] [Inventory] and [Cut & Paste].

Father's opinion is that he has some kind of secret aside from his natural skills, but....

Well, whatever. I have no interest in what he's hiding. The only thing matter is whether this guy can really protect my cute little sister or not.

If I don't make sure of that, I will never be able to approve of this man. now I think about it since even Miss. Sacred Bow is marrying into his home.

But why he is silently starring for so long? Does he get scared of me after hearing my name? Well, this is not the first time, so let him calm down. This is what I thought naively till I heard his reply.

"Hello, your highness, my name is Myne, nice to meet you, and sorry for not being able to greet you properly as I can't leave my breakfast midway, otherwise someone would be angry, please try to under,"

This bastard, is he trying to make fun of me? What does he take me for? Does he have no respect for elders? Yes, I also know that leaving food midway is not the right thing, but he can at least greet me properly before continuing his food, but he didn't even stand up from his chair, now no matter what happened I will fight with him, to confirm his strength or course.

Then I heard my cute little sister's voice who always was on my side no matter what happened, today taking someone else side while saying bad things about me. Is she really my cute little sister who would try everything to just play with me?

Wait a minute seems like this bastard has done something to my cute little sister, I have to show her that I am still her great knight whom she admire the most since her childhood, and no one can take my place.

Yes, I have to beat the hell out of this bastard who rob my cute little sister from me, I thought and hurriedly challenge him to a fight, "Well, that's fine if you don't have a problem, I guess. By the way, you're called Myne, right? If possible, I want to see your true strength, I'm entrusting my important little sister to you, after all. My sister...no, there's also Miss.

Sacred Bow, I want to confirm as a brother and as a man, whether you have what it takes to protect those two ladies,"

As I challenge him, and under my pressure he immediately accepts it. Yes, now the stage is set, only thing left is beating the hell out of him in the name of measuring his ability, hehehe.

There can't be deaths in a sham battle, after all. so I decided to use wooden swords, instead of real ones.

If I use real swords then I am afraid that he can't even come at me seriously before getting beat like shit, and If that's the case, I can't accomplish my objective of judging whether his true strength is worthy enough of handing Sylphy him as his wife.

Also, it might be called a wooden sword, but it is constructed through charging magical power into raw ebony by the Royal Magician. It is a much more powerful weapon compared to regular swords and can also be called a pseudo magic item.

Also with wooden sword nobody will die, so there is no need for me to hold back, and I can use my all strength to beat him... Cough I mean measure his abilities. Anyway even if he gets some injuries and broken bones, there is Miss. Sacred Bow, who can easily heal him, so no need to worry.

Finally, he seems to be getting into it. But no matter what say seeing my own little sister cheering for someone else so he can defeat me, is really not a nice thing, now I want nothing but quickly start the battle.

Hm? Did he try to use some kind of secret technique? Otherwise why he is just standing in front of me absentmindedly like an idiot? Also for a second, I think I saw him getting blare as if he was about to get invincible. Maybe I am thinking too much, he doesn't even have such a skill.

But still in order to not get embarrassed in front of my cute little sister, it would be better if I don't let down my guard, and I have to win this battle with absolute advantage, otherwise, how will I later be arrogant in front of him?

"Why aren't you coming to me? Do you want to let me attack first? If this is the case, then..." I spoke after seeing him not moving even after 2 minutes of waiting, and activate my skill Support Magic • Speed Enhancement.

After that, I plunged towards him with my super fast speed and kick him on his right shoulder with all my might.

At first, I thought he could 't even see me with my speed, but surprisingly not only did he follow my movement all the time easily but he can also raise his wooden dagger at the right time, and tried to defend himself with it. But he still underestimates my strength and was comically blown off.

What he was doing? Was he really think that he hit me with a childish attack? Where from Sylphy found this joker? I thought with a frown and dodged Sylphy's so-called maybe future husband attack coming toward my face, and give him a return gift at his stomach and again blow him off.

Huh? Why is his skin so hard? Also is I am hallucinating or something otherwise why the f*ck he is still fine even after getting hit by me two times but didn't even have a single injury on his body, what kind of magic is this?

Well, whatever. I understood from our two exchanges that his battle techniques are no doubt similar to a novice.

I understood completely from the way he moved and used something. Though he certainly has quite the talent, also he is somehow very powerful and fast but he can't make use of his powers at all other than running around me.

Let's try to give him some advice maybe he can learn from it.

Then I again dodge his simple attack and while standing right in front of him, I swung my sword right down on him.

Defending with a dagger? His situation assessment also seems to be naive.

If he receives a swing from a one-handed sword using a dagger... See that? You've lost the only weapon you have, you see? What are you going to do now? How are you going to fight without a weapon?

Now in the middle of a battle, he is still staring at his hand which was holding his dagger a moment ago like an idiot. This guy is completely helpless, although I understand that he is a commoner and it is very normal that he doesn't know how to fight, but dude, even my maid knows that you shouldn't distract during the ongoing battle.

Then I hit on his shoulder with my sword, and finally hear his painful scream.

Aa finally, I would have never expected that someday I will enjoy other people's painful screams so much. Looks like his whatever secret is can no longer protect him from getting hurt.

"You're full of openings!! At least try to read your opponent's movements instead of standing in front of him like an idiot after attacking him! Can't you just make a distance from me after failing to hit me?" I said disdainfully while laughing wildly in my heart. Bastard, you want to steal my sweet sister from me huh?

By the way, with his current fighting techniques, it is really hard to believe that this guy has killed Orcs.

But at least his fighting spirit is quite high, he stood up on his legs even after taking my hit. Also even though he already lost his weapon, his mental strength in not giving up the match is quite worthy of note.

There are even some among the knights who would give up at this point. Well if he gave up with just this, there's no way I'd hand Sylphy over to him.

"Umu, good! Your fighting spirit is quite impressive! However..."

I was interrupted in the middle of my speech after seeing his right arm heading towards me at an outrageous speed.

For some reason after seeing his move, I felt a little weird like if his hand touch me then I will defiantly going to suffer a little, so I avoided it in a panic and countered.

My counter splendidly succeeded, and he was once again blown off to his back. But after seeing him vomiting blood, I feel a little bad, it seem like I overdid this time.

"Brother! You're overdoing it! Please stop now!"

"Myne!!

"Woof!!"

I heard Sylphy, Miss. Sacred Bow and his Dog worried shout.

Although it's a sham battle, Sylphy immediately stops it. As expected, even the Princess General became soft when it comes to her fiance.

Sigh, seem like that bastard really stole my cute little sister from me, and now I can do nothing about it.

However, since he is not knockout, even after taking my full strength hit, this is also quite remarkable as the strength from the ebony sword, his own momentum, and on top of that, my Skills

[Physical Strength Enhancement • Large] and [One-handed Sword • Sacred], are not something that most people can handle.

He's quite something to be able to open his eyes, with so many broken bones. That level of pain is not something a novice can endure.

He's still inexperienced, No doubt about that. However, if he really studied battle techniques, he would probably become outrageously strong.

I could see that without a doubt. I also don't think he is bad, personality-wise. But I still have to observe him a little more. m|v|l|e m|p|y|r original content

Anyway, the person Sylphy's marrying... is perhaps a good person. Sigh, It can't be helped, I'll approve of him. And I don't have any other candidate anyway. At least he is hundreds of times better than those f*cker of nobles. Who only knows how to eat, shit and f*ck like animals all day long.

"Although you are quite strong, much more than what I expected but you are like an unpolished rock, full of openings, doesn't have any proper techniques. So rather than completely depending on your skills, it would be better if you try to strengthen yourself," I said and walk into my sister's future house, to eat something.

Let's end this battle.

There's a lot to talk about after that.
