Chapter 104: Sylphy's Cooking

Next Morning. As soon as Myne woke up, he look beside him and Aniue was missing.

Huh? Where did that guy go so early in the morning? Since his quilt is still warm, it shouldn't have been that long since he exited the room, Myne thought while yawning and stretching his body.

"Hearing the cracking sounds of the bones from his back truly feels good," Myne spoke and jumped out from my bed and headed towards the well to wash his face.

The peculiar fresh morning air feels great, and Myne can feel it revitalising his half-awake body and lazy mind little by little.

After washing his face, and attending the natural call in the open air like always, Myne headed towards the kitchen and saw Aisha and Sylphy who was already preparing breakfast.

Omg! Am I still in the dream, or I really saw Aisha who not only woke up early than me but already preparing breakfast? If she can wake up so early, then why did she always get up so late before today? Myne thought suspiciously, and decide to ask Aisha about it later.

"Good morning!" Myne enter the kitchen and greeted both of them with a smile.

Hearing Myne's voice both fiancées looked at each other and replied at the same time.

"Good morning! Lord Husband!" Sylphy said formally with a red face.

"Morning!" Aisha causally reply as her main force was still on the dish she was cooking.

Thanks, can I help with anything? Myne asked while taking the glass of water from Sylphy.

"No, it'll be good if Lord Husband takes a sit and wait for us," Sylphy said shyly, trying to look cute in front of Myne, this is what Aisha told her to do last night in order to attract Myne's attention.

"That's right, even though it's Sylphy's first time cooking, she's quite fired up to make it and also working hard!" Aisha said with a smile.

Huh? If I remember correctly, Elder Brother had told me last night, that Sylphy was once forced by her mother to learn cooking, but as a result, half of the palace cooks and kitchen servants were put on bed rest for a whole week just by smelling her dish. After that incident, even her stubborn mother declares that cooking is not Sylphy cup of tea.

I am having a bad feeling about this, it seems like I am going to become a scapegoat, Myne thought nervously but seeing Sylphy's excited face, he still force a smile on his face, giving her an encouraging thumbs up.

Aisha in the background seeing Myne's nervous expression but still encouraging Sylphy for her cooking, nodded her head with an evil smile, today she is finally going take all the previous revenge from Myne with interest, he has given her a lot of trouble before but she didn't find the right opportunity to do anything to him, but today thanks to Sylphy she can complete her task.

I hope Myne can still smile after eating Sylphy hand made food, Aisha thought while looking at the purple hot soup made by Sylphy in front of her, which look more like poison than normal soup.

"Don't worry, Lord Husband. Look forward to Sylphy's handmade cooking! You will defiantly never forget it after eating it," Aisha spoke with a gentle smile, giving goosebumps to Myne who hear the hidden meaning in Aisha's words.

"By the way, do you know where is Elder Brother?" Myne asked after calming down, he decide to find someone who can become his partner in such a dangerous situation, and of course, no one can be a better candidate than a Siskon who can't see his cute little sister sad.

Elder Brother is training in the courtyard. It's his daily routine," Sylphy said while spooning in her soup.

"I see, then you guys continue your work, call me when you are finished, till then I am with Elder Brother," Myne said hurriedly and was just about to run away, but stop when he saw Aniuë coming toward the kitchen with a towel in his hand, wiping sweat from his body.

Well since the goat itself has come to be slaughtered, what can I say now, Myne thought with a smug expression on his face which he quickly hide away, and silently sit down on the dining table.

"Good morning everyone!" Aniuë greeted everyone with a smile, and sit down opposite Myne.

Myne and others greeted him back.

"So how was your sleeping Myne, I didn't disturb right," Aniue asked casually as he and Myne both were waiting for food.

"To tell the truth, I didn't sleep well, I have a habit of hugging and burying my face into my favourite soft pillow, which was missing last night, Myne said with a forced smile.

Aisha who was making breakfast after hearing Myne calling her a pillow, her face become red from shyness.

This pervert at least don't say those things in front of others, Aisha thought angrily, but deep down she was happy that Myne miss her so much, and she herself didn't sleep well last night as In order to make Sylphy comfortable she didn't take off her clothes like she always does before sleeping with Myne.

"I see, well then try to find your pillow maybe you found it", Aniue said casually with an expression like I don't care.

"Brother, do you forget about your promise?" Sylphy said while arranging breakfast on the table.

"Sigh, Myne I am sorry for my rude behaviour, and as well for beating you... I am only saying that thing because of Sylphy's happiness don't think that I care about you," Aniue said the other half sentence in a low voice which only Myne can hear after Sylphy walk away from them.

"See, I said apologizing isn't as hard as you think, right? Sylphy again comes back with a smile on her face, and Aniue can only nod his head for her shake.

"Well don't worry about those small things, and thanks to that fight, now I know my own weakness much more better than before, so I should say thank you for your help," Myne didn't make things difficult for Aniue as he can already see his and Aniue death in Sylphy hands and said with a smile.

Aniue, and Sylphy both become surprised as they didn't expect Myne would say thanks for yesterday's beating.

Maybe I am thinking too much, Both Sylphy and Aniue thought the same thing and looked at each other and a smile appear on both of their faces.

"Okay let's stop talking now, let's eat breakfast before it gets cold," Sylphy said as she start serving the food on Myne and Aniue's plates.

"Which one did you make Sylphy?" Aniue asked excitedly although he indeed hears from his mother about Sylphy's cooking incident, but out of his love for his sister it was very difficult for him to accept that Sylphy's cooking skill can be bad at such a level, so he never takes his mother talk seriously and always wanted to taste Sylphy's hand made cooking himself.

"Brother, why don't you restrain yourself a little, it's my first home cooking, you know. I worked hard to let Lord Husband taste it," Sylphy said helplessly but she was clearly happy seeing that Aniue excitedly wanted to eat food made by her.

"No, exactly because it's my little sister's first home cooking, I want to taste it first, and no one can take this chance from me," Aniue said seriously while staring at Myne with threatening eyes.

Myne whose 6th sense is already giving him a warning just as Sylphy brought her hand-made food, immediately raises both hands, while gesturing to Aniue that he can eat as much as he wants. If possible he can eat all that dangerous liquid.

Aisha sitting beside Myne looks at Aniue with pitiful eyes, but then her eyes fall on Myne and her face immediately becomes rosy as her revenge is about to complete, and to make things difficult for Myne she even locks the toilet door, and hides the key in her blouse.

Hahaha, things really become more and more exciting, Aisha thought with a smug expression on her face.

"Don't be happy too much if I suffer today, then I will also not going to let you go easily," Myne whisper in Aisha's ear making her happy face lose all colour. .

"But Sylphy why is your soup colour purple? Also why its smell is so so unique?" Aniue finally comes out from his blind sister's love, after seeing soup made by Sylphy on his plate with a confused and nervous face.

"Ohh, don't worry, I made it just as the book describes, so everything is fine, you just give it a try and tell me how it is," Sylphy said proudly.

Aisha if I smell that thing for some more minutes then I am definitely going to faint, Myne spoke nervously in Aisha's ear, and she also nodded her head, now even a blind can say that what Sylphy made is everything but a thing that anyone can eat.

Aniue hesitantly looks at Aisha and Myne who give him a final salute for his sacrifice while Sylphy not looking at them, after seeing pity in both of their eyes, Aniue finally finds where is the thing about to go, but out of his sister's love, he took a deep breath, pick up a spoon from the table, filled it with Sylphy's purple soup and after remembering some good memories with his family, he put it in his mouth.

Suddenly a deadly silence spread across the entire room, Myna and Aisha stared at Aniue worriedly who just sacrifices himself for the greater good, ready to rescue him if things goes out of hand, and Sylphy also starring at Aniue waiting for his review.

Bang

Aniue who was sitting on his chair with eyes close, and a small smile on his face, suddenly his body shook a little. The spoon in his hand fall on the ground, and white foam started coming out from both sides of his mouth.

"Brother!!!" Sylphy screams in horror seeing Aniue's weird condition. Myne and Aisha also hurriedly come to him, Aisha cast her healing magic on Aniue trying to rescue him. Myne also took out a bottle of anti-poison potion from his Inventory and quickly feed it to Aniue.

Soon with Aisha's continuous healing and anti-poison potion, Aniue finally opens his tired eyes and the first thing he said after waking up is, "Sylphy your food is very delicious, can I get more?" before he loses his consciousness again.

Aisha and Myne have a tear in their eyes after seeing such a brotherly love, which they can only read in books, Sylphy on the other hand also start crying hearing her brother's words.

After that little episode, Sylphy decide that she would never let someone eat her handmade food again until she can learn how to cook, which made Myne very happy. Aniue also recovers completely by the afternoon and receives a lot of love and care from his sister which he desires the most.

so according to him if he can get his sister so much care for such a little suffering then he is willing to do it every day. And only after Myne told him just how much he and Aisha work hard to save his life, did he drop this dangerous idea.

"Myne, since you have to conduct the marriage ceremony with Sylphy and Aisha, you're coming to the capital in a few days, right? I was thinking about conducting an all-out training for you there. I'll leave the contents for your desired training until you come to the capital, so don't you skip out on it.

Although I told you that I am going to train you today but last night I remember a very important thing, which I can't ignore even if I wanted to, so I have to go back to the capital, don't worry I will make everything prepared till you come to the capital, and believe me you never forget that," Aniué said with an evil smile while laughing and clapping on Myne back with his all strength.

After venting his anger, Aniué wrote the training program and the things Myne need to pay attention in the way he move my body on a memo with small handwriting and handed it over to him.

Then Aniué has a sweet conversation with Sylphy, as he told her something which she should pay attention and he then returned to the capital.

Myne then read the memo handed by Aniué carefully, it was easy to understand and everything is very carefully written in full detail, that even a child could understand. After reading it he put it into his Inventory.

"Finally, trouble is gone," Myne said with a happy smile and closed the door.
