Chapter 105: News From Capital

After Aniuue returned to the capital, Myne finally breathe a sigh of relief and lay down on the couch to relax a little.

Sylphy and Aisha both looked at Myne confusedly don't understand why he behaved like he just avoid a disaster.

"By the way, Sylphy I hear from Aisha that she told you about our little adventure in Adol Town, you don't have any problem with what we did right?" Myne asked calmly. But after hearing his question both Aisha and Sylphy's faces turn red.

This pervert when did I tell him something like that? It seem like he was eaves·dropping when I and Sylphy taking the bath, Aisha thought angrily but decide to stay silent.

"Ahh yes, I hear about it from Aisha," Sylphy said embarrassedly while looking down like a little girl.

"Good, here I brought some souvenirs for you," Myne said with a smile and took out Troll Gazer's drop, "Linus Sword" and Speed Shoes, from his inventory which was no secret to Sylphy as she already know about his awaken skills and handed them to her who accept them after some hesitation. Then he took out Ciel Sourie and handed it to Aisha.

Aisha also happily accepts her gift and quickly wears them.

Dropped items are basically attached with a magic which will automatically alter it according to the size of the person equipping it, so there is no need to worry about fitting.

Sylphy did the same, she first try her shoes and she like them very much. Then she use her new sword which was clearly many times better than the previous one, she was carrying with her.

After this, both Aisha and Sylphy try to use the special effect of their equipment but because of lack of practice, they both kiss the wall as they can't control their speed, making their own joke in front of Myne and Ted, who were both laughing while holding their stomach.

Then Aisha and Sylphy silently sit down on the couch with an embarrassed expression, clearly, they lose their excitement of getting new powerful equipment. Aisha who always thought that Ted was in her team becomes a little angry seeing him laughing, so before sitting she put her foot on his tail making him cry out in pain.

Myne also calm down seeing Ted crying face, and in order to light up the atmosphere, he hurriedly change the topic, "Sylphy can you tell us about what happened in the capital?"

Sylphy hearing Myne's question nodded her head, "Firstly, our marriage has been approved. Since there are the preparations at the temple and the selection of guests, it'll take some time, we'll go to the capital. It has been quite a while since there was a marriage in the royal family, so I think the scale will be quite large.

Large-scale marriage huh? This means I should be ready for a lot of trouble, there is no way that this marriage can be complete without a lot of drama. According to what I had heard from Aisha, Sylphy seems quite famous in most of the kingdom, and there seem to be a lot of youngsters who admire her, commoners' treated her as an idol.

Everyone understands the fact that the royal family attaches importance to skills when it comes to marriage, yet there is an unceasing line of young nobles who apply for marriage with her, clearly for noble there are many more things that matter other than skills. Aisha also mention that there was even a pervert Marquis over 50 years old who applied for Sylphy to be his second wife.

But because it is hard for an over 50-year-old man to have many kids, Sylphy's Father said that it was out of the question and directly refused him. Now if I think about it if that old guy can convince Sylphy's Father that he can give many children to Sylphy then would Sylphy's Father agree to marry Sylphy to him?

Well the way politics work, I think there is an 80% chance that Sylphy's Father would have agreed, Myne thought curiously while staring at Sylphy with worry-filled eyes who look like a hot potato to him now.

"Lord Husband, I understand your worries, but... it's no use getting nervous from now," Sylphy said with a helpless smile after seeing the worry on Myne's face.

"I know about it, but there would be a lot of nobles who courting you, and they won't be pleased with a commoner like me marrying you, so I am a little worried that my peaceful life soon be going to mess up and believe me if I hate anything the most than that is unnecessary trouble," Myne said with a forced smile.

"Don't worry you are just overthinking, there won't be much trouble, after all. this marriage has been formally approved by Father himself. If an idiot who tries to pick a fight with Lord Husband appears, it'd be as if flinging mud at Father and that won't be very nice for that guy. There probably isn't an idiot who would go that far," Sylphy said confidently.

But Myne and Aisha could only shake their head after seeing her innocence.

This girl is clearly too naive, it is really difficult to imagine that she is the first princess of this kingdom, Both Myna and Aisha thoughts the same thing.

"Also, if there is such a guy, Elder Brother Aniue probably won't stay silent. He can deal with such a problem, Lord Husbandn doesn't need to worry," Sylphy said causally. Then her eyes fall on Aisha who was calmly stroking Ted's smooth hair.

"By the way, Aisha, you seem quite calm, but you're coming too, you know?" Sylphy dropped a bombshell on Aisha without hesitation.

"What!?" Aisha raised her voice in surprise at the talk suddenly turning onto her. From start to end she was thinking that it would be Sylphe and Myne's marriage, and she would marry Myne after that to avoid further trouble, but Sylphy directly pull her into muddy water as well.

"Eh, eh, eh!? Me too!!? But why?" Aisha asked quickly with an innocent face.

"Well, of course, because if you and Lord husband marry just after our marriage then nobles will start making a noise afterwards if Lord Husband's wives increased. And although you are already retired as an adventurer for many years, but you are still quite famous as Sacred Bow. So Isn't it better to end the troublesome things in one go?

And most importantly as Lord Husband's first wife, how could you marry him after me and still be called the first wife?" Sylphy said with a smile waking Aisha from her senseless thoughts.

Aisha was at first surprised after hearing from Sylphy that she is also going to marry Myne with her, but then she thought a little and calms down.

Yes, Sylphy is right, as Myne's first wife, if Sylphy married before me, then won't I become Myne's second wife officially?

No, I can't let this happen, first place is mine, and why am I worried in the first place, Myne is the one who is going to marry Sylphy so around 95% of people's attention would be on him, I would become a minor character in front of his charm, yes, let him face all the trouble and I just enjoy in the background, Aisha thought while nodding her head.

"That being the case, we'll be contacted from the capital once their preparations have finished. The both of you should mentally prepare... Shall I proceed to the next topic?" Sylphy asked with a smile after giving Aisha enough tension.

Myne and Aisha nodded in return to Sylphy's question.

Seeing that, Sylphy also nodded her head and started talking, "Next is about the establishment of our Clan, this was also approved. We will cooperate with my little brother's Alchemy Clan, rather, mutual finance has also been settled. The details are that they will offer the purchase of materials and subjugation requests of specific monsters."

"By the way, my little brother is a super rich guy in our family, and as you guys remember I had informed my Father about Orc King, for that simple information he gave me 50 platinum coins and 200 extra platinum coins as an advance wedding gift.

you can easily imagine just how damn rich he is," Sylphy said with a little envy, but the thing that she is also going to create a clan for herself she quickly throws out her envy from mind.

F*ck!! Just for simple information 50 platinum coins? Just how rich that guy is? Myne thought jealously, and decided that when he meets Sylphy's little brother he sold all the monster's corpse in his inventory to him. This kind of generous person always buys everything without thinking too much, he believes that he will defiantly earn much more than what he gets from a normal merchant.

"Okay, you two calm down this is not much money as you think, as you guys build such a nice bathroom, you might already understand that such a simple construction work cost a lot of money, compare to it, when we create our clan headquarters then its amount of money would be a drop in the bucket.

Although Father said that he wanted to build our clan headquarters in the capital city, but I rejected it since I believe Lord Husband didn't want to work in the capital, I did the right thing to reject his offer right Lord Husband?" Sylphy asked innocently.

What can Myne say about her innocence? He just nodded his head with a forced smile, although deep down he was cursing,

F*ck, bloody loss, how can there be such an idiot in the world, can't she just accept that offer? It's not like we have to work from the capital no matter what, can't we have two headquarters? Idiot," Myne thought angrily and looked at Aisha, who had the same expression as him, clearly she also thinking the same thing.
