Chapter 106: Splitting Up Work

After scolding Sylphy helplessly for a while, Myne finally calm down and spoke, "But Sylphy, although I understand your intention but our little money would defiantly not be enough to build even the smallest size clan headquarter.

You don't need to worry about that, Father will pay half of the construction fee as the wedding present, and I also have some savings. Fortunately, there are a lot of areas left over around our house, and the land here is also extremely cheap too. If Lord Husband says it's okay, I will negotiate with the Town Lord.

All that's left is where to ask for the quality goods," Sylphy said confidently, relieving Myne all tension regarding the money problem of the clan headquarter.

Hoo, at least she has a backup plan, otherwise I really don't know from how many people I have to borrow their storage pouch to gather all the money, Myne thought wiping sweat from his forehead.

"Un, I'll entrust Sylphy with the land matter then. As for me, I'll take over the matter of finding a craftsman for the construction," Myne said after thinking for a while, finally Sylphy's special identity would soon start showing its effect.

"Hm? Do you have someone in mind who can build our clan headquarter? Sylphy asked curiously, she really didn't expect that Myne would take this kind of heavy work with his own will.

"Yes, I have an old man in my eyes, whose craftsmanship can be said one of the best in our kingdom, he is also one who built our bathroom. But I feel a little sad about his discipline, after all,

I was the one who give them vacation some days ago, and now because of me, their boss again going to put a hellish workload on them.

They are all very nice guys, I hope they survive till the end of the construction," Myne said with a smile, making Aisha beside him giggle, while Sylphy stared at both of them dazedly don't understand what was so funny about it.

"Aah well, if this is the Craftsman who built our bath then there shouldn't be a problem to hiring him. Putting the scale aside, our bath is even more gorgeous compared to the royal family's," Sylphy said with a small laugh.

Hehe, it seems like my little princess is getting addicted to the bath, I just hope I don't become both girls' bath servants whose only work is filling the bathtub with fresh water, Myne thought happily watching the beautiful smile on both Aisha and Sylphy's faces.

"Yosh, this will be the last matter. It's about our position after the marriage, like I said before, we will be treated as an emergent noble. Well, though it's called nobles, it's just a name, so there isn't a land to manage or duty to fulfil. Also, a house name that works as our symbol is also needed.

Lord Husband, please think about it carefully until the marriage ceremony," Sylphy said with a serious face.

House name, huh, now this is quite interesting. What kind of name should I use? It would be better if the name is a little dangerous and mysterious, as well as a little creepy so people have to think 10 times before messing with my family.

Let's put the house name aside for now. I shouldn't be in a hurry with such an important matter, I still have to quilt some time to think about the name matter carefully, Myne thought while rubbing his chin.

"That's all the things which were settled in the capital for now. Next is..." Saying till here Sylphy's face suddenly starts becoming strangely red, while she continuously starring at her feet.

Sigh... Although she behaves very bravely from the outside trying to take most of the responsibility on her soft shoulders but from inside she is still a little girl who wants love, Myne thought with a gentle smile, but he didn't try to comfort her or said anything just silently watch her waiting for her next word.

Sometimes it is better to be ignorant and let the other party do the thing they feel embarrasses most, this will not only give them confidence after overcoming their fear but also make valuable memories.

"No, it's nothing. Well then, I'll head over to the Town Lord's place," Sylphy said with a red face and hurriedly walk out of the house, she felt that if she spend some more time with Myne then she might not be able to control herself and would do something stupid.

"I'll follow her since I know the Town Lord a little bit," Aisha said and before Myne could respond she also walk out of the house, leaving stun Myne and Ted alone in the house.

"Sigh, I should also head to the Roku workshop," Myne spoke to himself, and then his eyes fall on Ted who was laying on the carpet and asked with a lazy look, "Do you want to come with me?"

Hearing that Mine wants to take him with him, Ted immediately jumps on his feet while waving his tail left and right happily, he bark two times, giving Myne his answer.

"Okay, okay, stop playing now, let's go."

"Sylphy, I don't think it is a good idea to hide your feeling, Instead of hiding your thoughts from him, why don't you say it to his face," Aisha said calmly while walking beside Sylphy, she clearly knew what Sylphy trying to say a moment ago, but in the end she runs away from Myne.

"No, it's embarrassing putting it into words, it's really hard to say for me," Sylphy said with a sign, she really can't muster the courage and say boldly to Myne 'that since you made love with Aisha, then let's made it with me too.'

There's no way I can directly say something like I want you to make love to me. And what makes me most worried is the fact that Aisha is already made love with Lord Husband, which I cannot turn a blind eye to.

Although according to Lord Husband, she is his first wife and no one can take her place, but from other people's standpoint, I'm the one who will become Lord Husband's legal as well as his first wife. So a situation where a child is born from a second wife or to the concubine earlier than the princess, the legal wife, must be avoided at all costs.

Of course, it's not impossible that a pregnancy suddenly appears when the Clan's establishment with only the three of us has already been settled, it wouldn't be a laughing matter. I hope Lord Husband and Aisha also understand that and are properly using contraception, Sylphy thought deeply with a helpless expression while walking.

"Well... at night... I'll say it," Sylphy said with determination.

"That's the spirit, I hope you successfully express your true feeling tonight," Aisha encourages Sylphy with a smile, making her a little relaxed.

Otherwise, I don't know how long I have to pretend like an idiot, I haven't put Myne's little brother inside me for many days, thanks to those two brother and sister, Aisha thought she is now a really little frustrated nowadays every time she tries to make love with Myne, Sylphy comes out from nowhere and ruins their entire mood.

This should be where Aisha and my age differences show. Although she is younger than me, but she is clearly more bold and experienced than me in those kinds of things, she can easily win someone's heart no matter if it is with her sweet talk or her cooking.

And I'm on the other hand not accustomed to such things, most of the things that happened between couples, I only heard about it from maids or read in some books, I stole by accident of course. The issue between husband and wife is quite the difficult one for me, Sylphy thought exhaling a deep breath.

While having such an important, but embarrassing talk with Aisha, and learning about some of her experiences, Sylphy and Aisha arrived at the Town Lord's office.

They quickly entered his office. But to their disappointment, the receptionist lady didn't recognise Aisha. She didn't give them a face, and directly reject their request to meet the Town Lord, and told them that they can't meet him without an appointment.

Aah, I see. She doesn't seem to know who I am, since I have a hood and robe on, but I don't think my face is hidden completely that she can't see it, maybe she didn't expect to meet me here in the first place, Sylphy thought with understanding, and took off her hood.

Sylphy while showing her face openly come forward and once again talked to the receptionist. stay updated with m,v,l,e,m p _y,r

But to her surprise, like Myne when she meet him the first time, she just look at her and said "You're here again?", she defiantly doesn't know who is she.

Seeing the outcome Sylphy's face become red from embarrassment, she really didn't expect that even people working in the Town Lord's office would be so ignorant, only god knew what she did that she gets this job.

Aisha after laughing silently from behind Sylphy, took a deep breath, put her hand on her shoulder, and sent a signal with her eyes as if saying "Please leave this to me.

Then Aisha looked behind the receptionist girl and call out the man who just come out from a room.

Yo, long time no see, Bilt.
