

Cheat. A 116

Chapter 116: Challenge...

"Aah, what is the meaning of this! For a Royal and a lovely person like Her Highness Sylphid to stay in such a dirty little shack!!"

"If you have so much problem, then why not you just f*ck off bastard, rather than torturing people while showing them your ugly face," Myne said with a poker face, and before that man who insulted his parent's house could say anything Myne slammed the door in his face.

"Did that f*cker just slam the door in my face while insulting my beautiful face?" The man from the noble family asked his butler in confusion.

"I am afraid he did Young Master. What should we do now?" Butler asked while wiping cold sweat from his forehead.

"Is this even a question to be asked? Go and bring that beggar out from his hole, let me see his reaction when I burn down his entire house and break his all bones, then he'll know who he messed with, The man while gritting his teeth.

"But Young Master, have you forgotten Your Highness Miss Sylphid also inside the house, if we use force then the consequence wouldn't be good," Butler said nervously.

"Ohh, yes, I forget about it, then try to call her out, if she still didn't come out then use your skill and break the main door, I don't think she'll be able to ignore me even when I'm stood in front of her," The man said angrily with an evil grin on his face.

"Lord Husband, who was outside?" Sylphy asked with a frown after seeing Myne slamming the door with full force.

Myne turns his face toward Sylphy and with a smile on his face he replies calmly, "No one dear, some monkey making noise outside our house, just ignore them."

"If you say so," Although Sylphy felt that Myne hiding something from her otherwise he wouldn't have lost his temper, but since he didn't want to talk about it, then she is also not interested in putting her nose in this matter.

"Myne who are those two guys standing in our courtyard?" Aisha who saw a carriage and people come in it from the kitchen window asked with a frown while coming toward him. "I think they are planning to do something bad..."

"Her Highness Sylphid please come out, my Young Master are here to meet you."

Before Aisha could finish her sentence suddenly that nobleman butler's loud voice come out from outside, making everyone frown especially Aisha, which of course doesn't go unnoticed by Myne, but now he doesn't have the luxury to think about it.

"Let me see who is making trouble," Sylphy said angrily and open the door.

"Ooh! Your Highness!!! It's been a while. Oh dear, you look as lovely as ever!! Even in such a dirty place, Your Highness's beauty hasn't been tarnished at all!"

Just as Sylphy open the door and walks out, The man hurriedly walks toward her and greets her excitedly.

Sylphy on the other hand seeing Noble man's face made shit eating face and finally realized the reason behind Myne's sudden anger.

"You're speaking quite a lot about my partner and house, aren't you? Claude Roselia. Who do you think you are?" Sylphy didn't give a f*ck about Claude's identity and directly confront him.

Myne and Aisha also walk out of the house and stood behind Sylphy silently watching the drama unfolding in front of them. They can clearly see that Sylphy doesn't have a good impression of this Clause.

Claude who didn't sense Sylphy's anger, continued his nonsense, "Her Highness Sylphid, a noble person like you shouldn't stay in such a dirty place, how about you come with me to my manor? There we can have a proper talk, I am already feeling uncomfortable just standing here. People like us...

"Aisha, if I blasted this bastard's head will it bring trouble to Sylphy in any way?" Myne who was controlling his anger while hearing Claude insulting words about his house, whisper in Aisha's ear.

Aisha hearing Myne's question looked at him with shock but seeing his angry face, she thought about it and spoke with some hesitation, "Although there won't be any direct impact on her considering her identity but only openly, but if you really did that, his family will do everything to destroy us behind the sense, and the end result would be either we kill everyone related to him, or get killed by them.

Overall one thing is clear after his death we will not be able to live in peace."

Killing his entire family huh? That really would be a pain in the ass. Maybe I can assassinate him, anyway, I am just a newly awakened person, they won't suspect me, now this sounds like a good plan, Myne thought while rubbing his chin, and staring at Claude, who is still talking nonsense about his wealth.

The butler who was clearly more smart than his Young Master seeing that everyone giving them unfriendly glances, nervously walks beside Claude and whisper, "Young master, young master, please calm down, we are not come here to show our wealth."

Although the butler tried to stop Claude in a panic, but he was still a step late.

"Did a noble like you come here to pick a fight with me?" Sylphy finally couldn't hold back and angrily asked.

Looking at the situation, Claude also comes out from his daydreaming and understood that he is messing up everything.

"N, Not at all! ...N, no... Your Highness... living in such a dirty place, pitying, no, um..."

"Oh, is that so, I understand. Why don't I accept your challenge, let's have a good fight, I haven't played with my sword for many days, it would be a good exercise for me as well," Sylphy said with an evil smile, making Claude tumble from fear, after all, he knows very well that he is no match of Sylphy when it comes to fight.

Seeing that things getting out of hand the butler forced his way through once again.

"Please forgive this rudeness, Young Master Claude doesn't bear any ill will and just wanted to help Your Highness Sylphid. Please understand and forgive us."

Looking at the butler who is older than her own father bowing deeply, Sylphy breathed out a deep sigh and folded her arms below her chest.

"it shouldn't happen next time"

Sylphy squinted and glared at Claude.

"Putting aside you coming here to pick a fight with me, what the hell did you come here for? If you don't have any solid reason then f*ck off and never come back here to disturb me and my family again," Sylphy said in a loud voice.

Hearing Sylphy's piss-off voice, Claude finally recalled his business to come here and took out a letter from his breast pocket.

"I've heard that Your Highness will be marrying soon, and your partner will be a commoner, so the people who proposed to Your Highness up until now including me cannot consent to this kind of thing. That's why we have a proposal. Before the marriage ceremony, we would like to play a game with Your Highness's partner. If he wins, we will be obedient and give our blessings for Your Highness's marriage.

If he loses, we want this marriage to be called off."

While saying that, he handed over the letter he took out from his bosom to Sylphy with a perverted expression on his face.

"Why do I need you bastards' blessings? There's no way I'll accept this shit. That's all, right? Now get the f*ck out of my face immediately, just seeing your face makes me feel like vomiting."

Rejected clearly by Sylphy with insulting words, Claude made a vexed expression for a moment, before glaring at Myne, as if he stole the virginity of his sister, and then run away with another woman.

"What are you looking at you disgusting worm, don't you hear what Sylphy said, now f*ck off from my house before I personally send you and your bulter away, and believe me you defiantly won't like that," Myne who is already pissed off by Claude didn't give him any face.

"You will regret this, Your Highness! And you too bastard!"

Like every typical villain, Claude also didn't forget to leave behind a rubbish line, before boarding his carriage and returning to whatever shitty place he came from.

"Sorry, Lord Husband... This is all my fault, that you had to go through all of this," After Claude is gone Sylphy also returns back to her cute form and quickly apologises.

"Don't blame yourself, you and I both know whose fault is here," Myne smiled after seeing Sylphy's guilty expression and gently give her a pat on her head.

"Let's go, Aisha told me that she has already prepared snacks for us, let's eat something first before discussing this matter," Myne said calmly while putting his arm around Sylphy's neck and walking into his house with her.

Sylphy who was in a very bad mood thanks to Claude, smiled seeing Myne care, she also wrapped her arm around his waist and while giggling beautifully she enters the house with him.
