Chapter 122: Myne's new sister, Ayri

"So you guys finally come here, huh?"

As Myne and others heard the familiar voice they turn around and saw Sylphy's Siskon Elder Brother who was walking toward them with a smile on his face.

"Elder Brother!" Sylphy seeing Anieue exclaimed excitedly.

"Yo, nice to meet you again, Elder Brother, how are you?" Myne as always greeted Anieue calmly while waving his head and Aisha just wave her hand without saying anything.

Tsu, Anieue who was smiling happily with folded hands after seeing how excited Sylphie is to see him, couldn't help but roll his eyes after seeing how casual Myne is towards him.

"Ayri! Why did you come out? Mother will be very angry if she finds out about it," Sylphy worriedly spoke to the young girl who was standing beside Anieue with a sweet smile on her face while walking toward her.

"Huh? Ayri? Who's she?" Myne asked his first wife who most of the time has the answers to all his questions.

Hearing Myne's question Aisha come close to him and softly whispered into my ear, "She's the Second Princess Ariel, Sylphy's younger sister."

"I see, by the way, how many brothers and sisters does Sylphy have?" Myne asked curiously, although he heard some rumours that The king have three or four children but he is more willing to believe his walking encyclopedia than some rumours.

"You don't even know such a common thing? Our King has a total of 5 children, three boys and two girls," Aisha replies with a weird expression while looking at Myne as if she is seeing some kind of unique creature.

"Don't look at me like that, I didn't know about those things because I have no interest in poking my nose in other people's family matters, okay. I am just a normal hunter who likes to mind his own business, rather than knowing how many children The King has," Myne said with a frown while hitting gently on Aisha's head who was giving him a glance like he is an idiot.

"Well, whatever," Aisha said casually and ignore Myne, who was trying to convince her that he is not an idiot who doesn't know anything about simple things that even a child knows.

"By the way, I heard that her body isn't too well, and usually, she secludes herself in her room and almost never comes out from the castle, at least this is my first time seeing her," Aisha said after thinking a bit with a sad tone.

"Huh? Really? Poor girl, having everything but can't enjoy anything, god really didn't look at her," Myne said sympathetically, although Myne never cares about other people's problems but he is also a Hume with a heart and he always has some special feelings for children (only cute one) and cute animal/monsters.

"But I have to say that she looks exactly copy of Sylphy just a younger version of her with long hair," Myne said with a smile and the way he looked at Ayri become more gentle.

Ayri is a young thin looking girl with a cute chubby face, golden hair tied in a ponytail style, and a height of around 1.3 meters only enough to reach Myne's chest, she is wearing a long one-piece white and blue colour dress that comes to her knee.

"Big Sis, congratulations on your wedding. It's your big moment, after all, there's no way I can shut myself in my room, while you all having fun outside, right?" Ayri spoke with a giggle.

"Yes, you are right, she really looks exactly like Sylphy, I just hope she doesn't attract the attention of some pervert like her big sister," Aisha said with a poker face while looking at Myne out of the corner of her eye after seeing him showing too much gentleness and affection toward Ayri.

"Why are looking at me while saying that? Also which angle do I look a pervert to you who looks at children with the wrong intention?"

Let's clear it up today my sweet wifuu, what kind of my image do you have in your mind, a psycho old pervert who likes Lolis?" Myne asked with a smile that doesn't look like a smile while tightly gripping his fist and showing it to Aisha, ready to beat her up if not for the fact that they are in public.

While Myne and Aisha having a very enjoyable conversation, Ayri who finally couldn't take Sylphy's continuous scolding anymore, looked at them and asked while holding Sylphy's hand, "Big Sis, are not you going to introduce me to your husband?"

Hearing Ayri's voice Myne also calm down his anger, he looked at Aisha while saying, "Just wait, I am not done with you," and quickly put a gentle smile on his face while looking at Ayri who was staring at him curiously.

"Tsk, seems like I spoke too much, this bad habit of mine now become worse," Aisha mumbled while biting her tongue in a cute manner.

Myne ignore Aisha mumbling as he is determined to punish her later, and looked at Sylphy and Ayri who were coming toward him.

"Let me introduce you to him, this is Lord Husband his name is Myne, and Lord Husband this is my little sister, Ariel, but most of the time we called her Ayri. Her body's a little weak from birth. So she usually doesn't appear much in public," Sylphy introduces Ayri to Myne with a smile.

"Hello beautiful lady, nice to meet you! My name is Myne!" Myne said politely with a gentle smile, Myne felt it is not very appropriate to talk while looking down because of the height difference, he sit down on his knee while moving his hand forward for a handshake.

"I'm Ariel, please call me Ayri if you don't mind, Ahm by the way what should I call you? Lord Brother-in-law?" Ayri asked innocently, as she grasp Myne's hand while shaking it lightly.

"Haha, just called me Brother Myne, you don't have to be so formal with me, I am not an outsider anyway," Myne said with a smile.

Omg, Brother Myne is really so nice and gentle, just to make me more comfortable while talking he even sits down on the ground without caring about making his clothes dirty. Is every commoner as nice as him?

No, I heard many servants talking and doing bad things secretly, maybe he is just a special one, it is nice to have one more caring brother to play with, Ayri thought happily with a beautiful smile.

"Okay, then I will call you Brother Myne from now on, and you can call me whatever you like," Ayri said while giggling.

"By the way, since this is our first meeting and you also acknowledge me as your brother then let me give you a gift," Myne said and in the surprised and curious eyes of everyone as well as a pair of jealous eyes who thinks that his other sister is also about to be robbed by the same thief who stolen his first sister from him Myne raises his hand in front of Ayri and an adult palm size metal ball appears on his palm.

"Wow, what kind of magic is this Brother Myne? Did you create this ball with your skill?" Ayri asked surprisingly with her eyes wide open.

"Haha, I have a skill called Inventory which works the same way as a storage bag, so this is nothing special I just took it out from there. Anyway, let me introduce you to your gift, this is an item I created in my free time and it is called Wind Ball. Yes, I know its name is very ugly, but my talent at naming was never very good, so for now, let's ignore its name.

This Wind Ball is a simple product that only has one function, and that is when you open this small iron window, it will releases cool air nonstop." Saying such Myne opened the small window at the top of the ball which had an iron grill with tiny holes inside to prevent people from peeping into its interior design and just as he did that strong wind starts blowing out of it, due to which Myne and Ayri's hair started fluttering.

"Wow! So cool, can I hold it? Please?" Ayri asked with puppy eyes.

"Of course you can, it's your gift after all," Myne said and handed the wind ball to Ayri. He created this wind ball when Roku and his gang were building his bathhouse.

At that time he had nothing else to do but watch them, so he decided to go back to the Dungeon of Strength to kill some monsters for extra money, and while exploring the dungeon he encounter a new type of slime, Wind Slime, which gave him Passive Wind skill. At First, he have no idea how to use it but then he saw Roku working on some metal parts and an idea come into his mind.

He asks Roku to make a hollow metal ball with a window on top of it, he also requests him to add a special mechanism that after closing it the first time it can't be opened no matter what and if someone dares to open it forcefully no matter if it physically or with the help of some skills, then a small blast would trigger in it destroying the pebble inside it.

This is also the reason why he can use this metal ball so carelessly as he has full confidence that no one can know his little secret.

So because of this thing, I haven't felt hot even with the windows closed for the past several nights, Both Aisha and Sylphy thought at the same time, then they look at each other and immediately understood that Myne haven't told either of them about it.

"Hey, Aisha, do you think if we hadn't heard about it today, would Myne have told us about it ever?" Sylphy asked in a low voice.

"I think he would, just he thought we didn't need to know about it, so didn't tell us about it," Aisha said hesitantly.

"Now I think about it, do you think Myne have this kind of more magic tool, that's why he always prepared the bath for us?" Sylphy asked again with a frown while thinking deeply but Aisha didn't answer her as she herself know nothing about it.

"Thank you so much, Brother Myne! I like this gift of yours very much," Ayri said excitedly and give Myne a tight hug.

Did I just hear a glass-breaking sound? Maybe it is my imagination, Myne thought happily while patting Ayri's back lightly.

"Okay, don't be happy too soon, if you think that this is the gift I want to give my new cute little sister then you are very wrong, I give you this Wind Ball because I thought that staying in the same room all the time would be very troublesome, especially at such a hot season, so this ball can give you some coolness.

Your real gift is this," saying such Myne took out a dainty half moon pendant necklace with a vibrant blue hue and a delicate golden chain.

Although at first, Myne wanted to give it to Aisha but then things with Sylphy also develop very well, so till now he can't make up his mind as to whom he gives it to, as he didn't want to make others sad while not giving her anything, but now since he has one more candidate Ayri, his new little sister who is very weak physically, then of course, he would give it to her.
