

Cheat. A 125

Chapter 125: Going On The Camping...

After Myne and Rector walk a little farther from everyone, Myne told Rector his task in his ear while looking at everyone, if by any chance someone try to listen to their secret conversation.

"What!!! Brother Myne, are you kidding? I really have to do that. Am I not too young for this sort of thing?" Rector exclaims with surprise.

"No, since you are already aware of these things, then it is okay, just treat it advance training, anyway after a year or so you would become an adult, then this kind of thing can help you to get them, you know what I mean," Myne said with an evil smile.

"But if Mother found out about it then I am definitely done for, I didn't want to lock in my room like Ayri," Rector said hesitantly with a red face, clearly he know about whom Myne is talking.

"Ohh, if that is the case, then you might as well forget about your wonderful reward, maybe I can give that to Ayri as well, she doesn't mind getting one more gift," Myne said with a frown.

Seeing that Myne already decide to not give him the reward, and is about to go back to everyone, Rector gritted his teeth and finally made up his mind, "Okay, I am doing that, but remember that reward should be as good as the risk I am taking doing you this task.

"No problem you can believe in your this elder brother, you will defiantly be satisfied with your reward as long as you are a normal Hume," Myne said while making an okay gesture.

After Myne with Rector who was in deep thought probably making plans of how to finish his task, return to everyone. Although Sylphy asked Rector what kind of task Myne give him but he tightly shut his his mouth and didn't reveal any information.

Seeing that everyone had done their introduction and become familiar with each other only he was left behind, King Faren finally open his mouth as well and spoke with a laugh, "Hahaha, since you guys are done, then let me talk to my son-in-law as well.

You can call me Father-in-law, or just Father would be fine too But if you ask me then I would be happy if you call me Father like Sylphy and others. And there is no need to be so formal and nervous with me, we are now family, so just behave as you are," Faren said with a smile while patting Myne's shoulder.

"Are you really okay with my being casual? It might not be a nice thing especially when there are other people present, they might think that I am disgracing you," Myne asked with a frown, although he doesn't like being formal and serious all time, but there are some people with whom you should not behave casually this can get you a lot of unnecessary trouble.

"Haha, well what you said also has a point, then it seems like you can only be casual with me when there is no outsider present among us. Sigh, sometimes being a king is also not easy, even your family has to be very careful while talking to you, sometimes I really miss my old carefree life before I become king," Faren said with a sigh while shaking his head.

"Anyway, Myne, I'm really sorry for this time's matter. There were misunderstandings, and it brought you unnecessary disorder.

Although because of my position as a king and as well as your Father-in-law, there is no way I can apologize to you, this is a special privilege that every father-in-law has, giving trouble to thier Son-in-law is their greatest pleasure, and believe me I myself have experienced this a lot, and now it's your time so deal with it, but I am so cheap and wouldn't make things difficult for you just for the fun shake, like someone else father," Faren said last part in a very low voice which only Myne can hear while giving a quick glance at his wife Garnet, but before she could notice his gaze he hurriedly look back at Myne and manage to save his sex life if there is any at this age.

"I originally didn't want to drag your wedding into such a boorish matter, but you know that sometimes things just get out of control, no matter how hard you try to stop them. Yosh, the formalities end here, now it's time to come main matter, Myne I want you to remember this, victory or defeat has already been decided. You should harvest without forcing yourself, okay?

Fairly strong monsters appear in that forest. There is no point in forcing yourself to get hurt and die for no reason, Sylphy is yours this is the fact and no one can change this, so treat it as a camping and return back safely," Faren said with a deadly serious expression, and Myne can only obediently nod his head like a duck.

Anyway, he can't just say then that he is going to hunt down those nobles' men to loot thier trophies, right? He has to maintain his good image in front of his Father-in-law.

After this Myne received a few warnings from Aniue and Lewis, which of course was completely useless for him.

"Lord Husband, Aniue said it as well, but there's no need for you to force yourself, okay? I don't think someone like you will fall behind due to some monsters, but nothing is certain. Although I have full confidence in you that you won't do something stupid but please be careful," Sylphy said after everyone except Aisha, Ted, and her left, giving them some private time.

This girl is still very shy in front of her parents.

"Don't worry my little princess, I will be fine, so don't think too much and make preparation for our wedding, also buy some nice dresses for me as well, I will be returned before you could even finish your shopping," Myne said with a smile while pinching Sylphy's soft cheek with his both hands and then give her a deep passionate kiss.

"Do you also want to say something?" Myne asked with a poker face while looking at Aisha after kissing Sylphy till she couldn't hold her anymore and was about to pass out from lack of breath.

"Take care, don't get yourself in trouble I won't be there to help this time..." Aisha said with a smile, but Myne can clearly hear the nervousness in her voice.

Sigh, this naughty girl is so stubborn, can't she be a little more nice for a while? Sigh," Myne thought and come in front of Aisha, hug her tightly, and kiss her the same way as he did with Sylphy.

Aisha, who was much more worried about Myne tightly hug him as well and start kissing him like there is no more tomorrow.

"Come back safely, otherwise you might as well forget to touch them again" After spreading their lips, Aisha said anxiously while pointing to her boobs. Aisha knows just how much Myne like her boobs, so before sending Myne away she wants to give Myne some motivation that can stop him from messing around.

"You both are behaving like I am going on a war or something, relax it's just simple camping, where I have to beat some bad guys and take thier things," Myne said calmly while patting Aisha's head.

After which Myne talks with Aisha and Sylphy a little more before once again getting on the royal carriage and heading toward the Divine Spirit Forest.

...

"He seemed to be quite shocked."

"Yeah, he probably never failed in appraising anything up until now, but I think he is more shocked by your beauty rather than your secret," Faren said to his wife Garnet with a helpless smile.

Yes, his wife Garnet, has a secret. A tremendously great secret. The only one who knows about it is he and the transmutator Mavise, his second wife. This secret will never be told to anyone else for all eternity. And there might not be a need to speak about it. Since they are happy right now, and didn't want any kind of trouble in their lives.

"Haha, you are jealous, right? I saw you biting your tongue while I am hugging him, but it is not his fault, any man other than you seeing a beauty like me can't take thier eyes off me, unlike you who ignore me because of your never-ending work," Garnet said with a mocking and helpless tone, but then she returns to normal and continued, "I wonder if he'll be on guard against us because of this?"

Although seeing how carefree he was with me, I don't think he'll care, even if he does find out. He'll soon become my cute son-in-law, with whom I want to spend a lot of time, so it would be better if there is no misunderstanding between us."

"First of all, I am not jealous, and I will try to give you more time from now on, okay.

Second, I think it'll be all right, that kid is very intelligent, and he like our other children as well, especially our younger daughter he doted on her a lot for some reason, he even give her that powerful magic item as a gift, although I don't know who that work but I can feel that it is very powerful," Faren said with a frown.

"Huh? When did you become like Aniu? Do you care about Ayri receiving the magic items as a gift from Myne more than him knowing about my secret? Are you sure you are okay?" Garnet asked while rubbing her forehead, she suddenly felt that talking with her husband at this moment is not the right decision.

"Hahaha, sorry, honey, I get carried away a little, but our Son-in-law is also very mysterious as well, let's not talk about his overgrown body which doesn't match his age, It's also strange that he obstinately doesn't want to talk about his skills, although he knows that we are aware of his skill."

"Tell the truth, I understand why he didn't want to talk about it, he was an orphan until some weeks ago, and live alone, so him being careful is also reasonable.

And I heard that he also has a sister, not blood-related but they are very close, she raised him after his parents' death like her own child, which is also the reason why his personality didn't get warped instead he became more mature very early age.

Our daughter really found the right partner for herself, I am very proud of her," Faren said with a happy sigh and looked at his absent-minded wife who was muttering some words while ignoring him.

"What we do if he could later appraise me? He will probably tread on a path of hardships. Like Mavise and I. It'll be enough with just the two of us, I didn't want to see my cute Son-in-law have the same burden as us," Garnet muttered while shaking her head

If he doesn't know anything like he is now, he'll certainly live a blissful life, but if he still decides to come into this muddy water then it is his fate, Faren thought while pretending to not notice his wife's muttering with unnecessary worry on her beautiful face.

...

"We have less time than I thought, you bastards! Get harvesting before it's too late!! Tch, that brat, Myne or something, will be here earlier than expected. He's early, but to even dare to use the royal family's carriage, that f*cker really got balls of iron.

Although It's natural since Sylphid's there, but I am still feeling very jealous, that bastard riding the carriage with my wife" Claude said angrily biting his nails with envy.

"He'll probably arrive in a few hours. It'd be impossible to continue harvesting in front of him. In that case, now's the only chance. Well, the Roselia family itself hired five A-rank adventurers. and there are above thirty adventurers including the adventurers the other families hired, and they are hunting in the forest now.

A commoner hunter wouldn't be able to surpass the materials obtained by so many people, let's see how that f*cker wins."

"Our victory has already been determined. Wait for me, Sylphid. You'll soon become mine!! I can't wait to have fun with you, hahahaha..."