

Cheat. A 127

Chapter 127: Getting An Beauty By Singing, Well That's A Cool Idea...

"Consider it your lucky day. Tsk, loser," Myne said while looking at Claude with disdain before the knight who guild him just some moment ago come between them.

"Lord Myne, what happened? Did Lord Claude attack you?" The knight hurriedly asked but then his eyes fall on scared Claude who was laying on the ground coughing blood while staring at Myne with eyes wide open as if he was some kind of ghost and become silent suddenly as he didn't know what to say.

Myne who didn't want to see Claude taking other people's sympathy immediately opened his mouth, and told him what happened, of course, he didn't forget to add some twists and turns.

"Thank god mr knight you've finally arrived, if you delay some more minutes then I think you can only find my lifeless body, and that too if Mr. Claude left it behind instead of feeding it to monsters in the forest to clear all the evidence. After saying goodbye to you I return back to my tent and wanted to take a rest, but then Mr.

Claude suddenly enter my tent without permission and start saying bad words which I can't even speak."

After which he told me that if I wanted to save my pitiful low life I have to withdraw from this game and get out of this kingdom, he even said that if I did that he will give me one of his slaves as a gift whom I can marry, but when I refuse his offers, he starts fighting with me, saying that he will kill me as I dare to disobey the command of a noble.

At first, I dodge some of his life-threatening attacks, which made him angrier, because of it he wanted to take out his weapon to kill me, finding no other way, I can only push him away and wanted to run away to call you guys for help, but then Mr.

Claude saw you running here, so in order to not get in trouble and as well to punish me for attacking a noble, he wounded himself and lay down on the ground while acting to be injured by me."

Hearing Myne words, all the knight present couldn't help but look at Claude carefully, and after seeing that he is only coughing blood but actually have no wound on his body which can prove that someone actually hurt him, everyone immediately made up thier mind that what Myne said is true.

And because most of the nobles who come here to participate in games are cheating very openly, most of the knights didn't have any good impression of them, with this incident thier belief that those nobles are evil from the core become more profound.

"Lord Claude, do you have any idea what are doing? Lord Myne is your opponent for tomorrow. Don't you know that If you try to harm him before the match, the game will be called off right here and now, and it will be your loss!" After realizing the entire matter, The knight who guild Myne before also didn't try to be polite with Claude and angrily scold him without caring about his status.

Claude seeing that even a cannon fodder knight dares to scold him becomes more angry, he was never humiliated like this in his entire life. He stood up from the ground with little difficulty while ensuring the pain.

After which he first glances at the courageous knight who was seeking his own death by insulting a noble, after all, unlike Myne, he doesn't even have any overpowering skills to back up his arrogance, and this kind of act can be very deadly for someone like him. Then he looks at Myne who has a smug expression on his face and showing middle finger to him.

"Good, good, just wait, if I didn't give you the hundredfold pain and humiliations that I suffer today, then am not the next head of the Roselia family!!!" Claude exclaimed angrily, clearly showing the sign of losing his mind in anger, then he took out a decent-looking golden spear from his storage pouch and wanted to attack Myne.

But before he could do anything two knights who were standing behind him hurriedly pinned down him and forcefully drag him back to his tent.

Come to think of it, I haven't appraised this idiot yet, right?

Since he is talking so much nonsense let's see if he has some good skills which I can steal later, anyway since he dares to threaten me, then to avoid future trouble it is natural to kill him silently after this matter is over, Myne thought and use appraisal skill on berserk Claude who was trying to escape from the clutches of both knights.

[ Name: Claude Roselia

Race: Hume

LV: 16

Gender: Male

Age: 21 y/o

Occupation: The young master of the Roselia family.

[Skill]

Two-handed Spear • Extreme LV2

Fine Art • Singing LV3

That's it? With such weak skills, he still dares to dream about becoming Sylphy's husband? Where the f*ck his confidence coming from? Don't tell me just because he is the sole son of a random noble family he thought that he is very important and qualified to marry a princess and later if his luck is good enough can also try to become the king.

Sigh, some people are really frogs in the well, just because they didn't face hardship they think that they can achieve anything. Now it seems like killing him quietly is also a great favor to his family, otherwise, one day their family will definitely vanish from this world due to the blind ambition of this guy, Myne thought while shaking his head.

[ Fine Art • Singing: Can sing skillfully.]

Well one more useless skill, but anyway better than nothing, maybe I can impress a beauty with my singing alone one day, that will be very cool, Myne thought and hurriedly stole Singing skill from Claude, anyway it doesn't seem like Claude have any mood to sing anytime soon, so it is better to take it now than later, as for Spear skill let Claude have it some more days, this skill value in his hand is not much as Singing skill anyway.

While thinking about how he is going to use Singing skills, Myne who is just about to go back to his tent, again stops by the knight.

"Lord Myne, we are sorry. It was negligence in our management that you have to go through all of this, we will restrain Lord Claude from moving out of his tent tonight. Also, since we cannot let even a one in a 10000 chance of anything happening to you, we will perform a night watch around your tent, so you can rest assured and have a rest without any worries."

"Well thank you again for your help Mr. Knight, also you don't have to watch my tent all night, just watch Mr.

Claude and everything will be fine, after all, he is the root of all the problems," Myne said politely, and patted the knight's shoulder with some sympathy in his eyes, because now he is also in a trouble, a big one thanks to his act of poking his nose in other people's business without thinking about the consequences.

Hearing Myne praising words, The knight becomes more confident, "Hahaha, it's alright. We'll take turns standing guard so it is not much trouble. Besides, taking care of Lord Myne, the future husband of Your Highness Sylphid is also our important duty. Please don't worry and have good rest, and prepare for tomorrow. All of us knights will be rooting for you."

Saying that all knights were left to do their work, leaving Myne alone.

"Hooo, finally some peace, but now what should I do? Sleeping in this tent full of these bugs is definitely not an option, and my stomach is already making sounds, although I have a lot of food in my Inventory but eating alone, and that too in such a boring place with insects is not a good idea from any angle.

Should I go back to home? But there is no one other than Ted's parents, and they are just too serious type, completely opposite to Ted. Then how about visiting Big Sis Maya? She wouldn't mind me staying at her house. Shit, I can't go to her, she knows I am in the capital city, I have no way to explain to her how I came back to Lucus town so quickly.

Sigh, seem like tonight I can only sleep alone... Ohh, yes, how can I forget about her, we haven't met for many days although we both know that we are just friends with benefits but ignoring a young caring lady like her is not a good thing, I should apologize properly.

Okay, It's decided, let's go and give June some trouble, hehe she would definitely surprise seeing me, Myne thought while rubbing his hand and after confirming that no is around him, he hurriedly opened a portal in front of June's house.

Myne excitedly step out from the portal and looked at the same wooden house as well as the scary graveyard beside it, and couldn't help but took a deep to calm down, the memory of a certain ghost in tattered clothes sucking black smoke from the graves is still very fresh in his mind, and this is also the main reason he hesitates to come here, but today out of friendship, he finally gathers enough courage to come here.

How the hell that silly girl didn't get scared living in such a dangerous place? And most importantly why she never saw that ghost? I only come here no more than 2 times, and both times I saw it but she is living here her entire life, no matter how blind and careless she is, there is no way she never accidentally encounter it. Wait for a minuter what if that ghost is her relative?

So it just protects June from the shadow which is why it never revealed itself to June.

Now this makes sense otherwise I only say that June's luck is so high that her ignorance alone is enough to save her from any ghost, Myne thought with a sigh, and after giving the creepy graveyard one more glance while activating his Soul Eyes skill and confirming that there is no ghost wandering in it currently, he knocks on the door.

"Who!"

Just as Myne knock on the door, a familiar voice come from inside the house, calming down Myne's nervousness a little.

"It's me, Myne, your BFF, or you can SFF ( Sex Friend Forever )," Myne said calmly while taking out a bouquet of flowers from Invenotry which he himself doesn't know when he put it inside at first place.

Hearing Myne's voice, there are sounds of someone running inside the house and soon the door opens, and like a gust of wind a person comes out from the house, directly jumping on Myne's embrace, hugging him tightly.

"Myne, you bastard, where the hell was you those days, do you even have any idea how worried I am because of not seeing you for many days? I thought something happen to you, I also visit your house but there was no one there, so I can only come back empty hands, later I learn from your neighbor Aunty that you went to Adol Town.

How can you do that, although we both decide that we are just friends with benefits and not going to have any deep feelings for each other but still leave me behind without telling me anything, you are so selfish.

I hate you, don't talk to me even again," June said angrily with eyes filled with tears, but when she wanted to get out of Myne's embrace, she found out that no matter how much she try she couldn't get out.

Myne on the other hand with a gentle smile on his face just calmly staring at struggling June, who was trying to get away from his embrace, but how can Myne let go the fist caught in the trap? Myne June struggles the more tightly he hugs her, of course without making her uncomfortable.

"Don't waste your energy, I won't let go of you until you give me a sweet kiss and forgive me for my mistake of not meeting you for so many days, but believe me I have strong enough reason to ignore you, after hearing which you will definitely forgive me, While saying that Myne put one of his arms under June skirt below her butt, lifted her up like a child, and start walking inside the house.

"Hey what are doing, let me go, you idiot can't you see I am angry, let me go..."