Chapter 133: Power Of A Divine Beast

"Gyauuuu...n"

The child who had been stabbed in the stomach, its cry, full of sorrow and pain echoed throughout the forest, making everyone shiver from fear.

Hearing the cry, and seeing its child stabbed by a dagger, and stopped moving, the Divine Beast's rage heated so much that all fur on her body stood up and her eyes turn red from starry blue.

"D, Do you understand!? if you go against us, your remaining kids will also become like this. Y, you obediently wait over there for us to get out of the forest!!! Ya hear me, if you love your kids, you'll do as you're told! The cold-hearted Foxgirl said with a trembling body clearly understood the gap between her and the Divine Beast.

F*ck yeah, here is the opportunity I am waiting for, that child of the Divine Beast at its last breath, if I can save it, there is no way the Divine Beast won't recognise my effort.

There is also the possibility that she has a lot of treasure and she gives me something from it, Myne thought excitedly, but seeing that the time is running out and the Divine Beast child is about to die, he hurriedly took action.

First Myne cut his skill Ultra Regeneration and pasted it on the Divine Beast child who was taking his last breath. As he did that, the Divine Beast child who had been lying down limply, suddenly white smoke started coming from its body and the deadly wound on its stomach very quickly healed visible to the naked eye.

After which Myne jump out from behind the bush he was hiding in and rushed toward those adventurers.

Myne, who suddenly appeared in front of everyone, adventurers as well as the Divine Beast, all of them seemed to be taken aback as they didn't know which uninvited guests come between them now.

Of course, Myne did not miss his chance in that confusion of both sides, he looked at the adventurers, and activated the King's Intimidation skill!!!

"F*ck, what, what's happeningggg...!!!"

The adventurers who received full power attack from King's Intimidation skill directly fell into their knees with horror-filled eyes one by one before they could understand what is going on.

While the adventurer was screaming in panic, Myne hurriedly come behind the nearest guy who was holding the beg in which he was carrying the Divine Beast child.

Because of overwhelming pressure from the King's Intimidation majority of adventurers are kneeling in doggy style, so in order to impress The Divine Beast more, Myne first kicks that unlucky fellow's crotch area with his all strength making that guy faint directly from the pain before he could even main any sound.

Seeing such a horrific sight everyone else in the adventuring party covers their private part with fear, even the only female member of the adventuring party the crazy Foxgirl also hurriedly covers her private parts.

As other adventurers are busy adjusting their sitting position while ensuring heavy pressure release by Myne, Myne on the other hand has already gathered all children of Divine Beast from the adventurer and now running toward the last remaining guy who was stabbed by the Foxgirl.

After picking the last child of the Divine Beast as well, Myne give a glance at the Foxgirl who was sitting on the ground in a sexy way while covering her breast with her both arms, looking extremely pitiful only to someone who doesn't know what she did a moment ago, before shaking his head in disappointingly and running toward the Divine Beast who was clearly more confused them anyone else.

"You, who are you? That was The Org King's exclusive skill "King's Intimidation" wasn't it? Why can a Hume like you use it? Furthermore, my boy was undoubtedly stabbed very hard, how can such a heavy injury get healed so quickly?" The Divine Beast asked.

"Ms. Divine Beast, before I reply to your question, first of all, let me tell you that I am not with them, I was just wondering around nearby when I heard the sound of your battle and come here to take a look, but after I saw what those evil people doing I can't stop myself and decide to help you.

I heard somewhere once that powerful being like you don't like it when some poke their head in your business, so if you get offended by my Interference then please forgive me," Myne said politely after releasing The Divine Beast other children from beg with a little bow.

"Fuu, Hahaha, where did you hear this kind of nonsense, although we Divine beasts are indeed powerful but this doesn't mean that we don't need help, so you don't have to apologize for helping me save my children. If it were not for your help, I might have already lost one of my precious children while watching him die helplessly.

You might not realize but you have done a great favour to me, so let me thank you from the bottom of my heart for rescuing my children," The Divine Beast said with a smile, her anger already calm down a little after seeing her all children safe and sound in front of her.

"By the way, did you use your skill to heal my child? I have never seen any Hume processing such a skill which can heal someone from a long distance," The Divine Beast asked curiously clearly she is more interested in Myne's skills rather than taking revenge on the adventurers who dare to kidnap her children.

"Well yes, that was indeed my skill, I use it when I saw your child who was about to die," Myne answered while nodding his head since it is pointless to hide everything about his skills from the Divine Beast who live an unknown number of years and know many things which is out of his or any other Hume reach, so he decided to tell her honestly, of course with a little mixer of truth and lie.

There is no way he can just tell her that he can cut other skills and paste them on himself, this kind of information is a little too scary and can easily cost him his life, so unless it is absolutely necessary and his life is on the line, he is not going to reveal his greatest secret to anyone.

As Myne said that, the Divine Beast child whose life he save just now, come close to him and start rubbing his face against Myne's feet.

Myne looked at the little divine beast whose body was still stained with blood, rubbing his small face on his feet, probably trying to say thanks, with a gentle smile on his face, Myne knee down and start stroking his little head dotingly. Like Myne always said he has a soft place in his heart for cute children and creatures.

"This child is also thanking you," The Divine Beast seeing the interaction between Myne and her child, spoke gently.

"It seems he like me very much," Myne said and pick up the Divine Beast's child carefully from the ground and held him in his arms.

"That must have been painful for you right?" As Myne said that the Divine Beast's child start licking around his face as if telling him not to worry.

"Hahaha, okay I understand you are a brave kid and this kind of pain is nothing for you, but can you now stop licking my face, haha, it is tickling so much."

Looking at the scene, Divine Beast first show a motherly smile but then an expression of anger appears on her face, she glared at the adventurers who couldn't move in panic and released very powerful energy from her body filled with killing intent.

"Young man although I am very thankful to you, but there is no way I will forgive those fools from your race who dare to harm my children," The Divine Beast said angrily.

"Yes, of course. Since they dare to harm such a cute little guy then it is natural that they should get punishment for their crime, I never have any kindness toward those kinds of people, let's forget about forgiving them," Myne said with an emotionless face while looking at the adventurer as if they are already dead in his eyes.

"So what is your plan for them? How are you want to punish them?" Myne asked absently minded while thinking something.

"Of course, I will kill them all, after harming my children, the lightest punishment I can think of is to give them a quick death," The Divine Beast said while observing Myne carefully.

"Okay, by the way, can you wait a little bit longer before killing them? Myne asked with a smile.

Although The Divine Beast doesn't understand why Myne suddenly wanted to delay their death, but she still nodded her head, after all, he saves her child's life so it is not a big deal to wait a little bit.

After getting The Divine Beast's permission, Myne put down the Divine Beast's child on the ground, and hurriedly run toward the adventurers who were waiting for their death.

Finally, after so many days later, I can use my favourite skill again, Myne thought happily and while running between confused adventurers he activate his money-making skill, Stealing hands which he miss a lot, and start stealing everyone's storage pouches.

As most people are facing their upcoming death, the Divine Beast who was ready to send them to hell at any moment, so of course they don't have time to care about their storage pouches which suddenly disappeared from their waist and a certain person's middle of boobs.

Although The Foxgirl suddenly felt a little empty between her big boobs, but she was also like everyone else clearly in no mood to put her hand there and check if her storage pouch is there or not, now she only hopes that a miracle happened and she somehow manages to save her life.

After stealing everyone's storage pouches, Myne starts looking at them one by one as if he was trying to remember their face, so he can tell a story about their deed to everyone later, and also steal their most useful skills as well, anyway it's not like dead people need their skills.

Finishing his work and proving another idiom true that 'You come in this world with nothing and you die with nothing,' Myne wave his hand and said goodbye to his benefactors who give almost everything to him for the greater good, although they themselves probably not know anything about it, but anyway, Myne is not such a cheap person who wouldn't say goodbye to great people for their contribution.

"Okay now you can send them their way," Myne said with a happy smile, after returning back to The Divine Beast.

The Divine Beast who still trying to understand the reason behind Myne's strange action, could only nod her head while putting her thought on Myne's secret on hold.

Getting Myne's permission the Divine Beast raise her face towards the sky and a loud war cry escapes from her big mouth.

As she did that, one by one black colour magic circle with a hexagram symbol in the middle appeared in a massive quantity in the sky covering a kilometer radius with The Divine Best in the centre, and things that look like black arrows start getting out from each magic circle. Then all at once like rain, they rained incessantly onto all 7 adventurers.

A few thousand? No, maybe a few ten thousand. A dreadful number of black arrows pierced into the area the adventurers were at one after another, showing the true horror of a Divine Beast.

The rain of arrows then ended a minute or so later, and after the billowing dust disappeared... No trace of the adventurers were left.
