

Cheat. A 143

Chapter 143: The Magic Stone

"Sigh, today's children, only know how to make trouble.

Okay, let me see your precious treasure if it is really valuable then I might think of helping you otherwise you can find someone else," Myne after being starred at by the little girl for a while, in the end, only gives in, after all as he always says he has a special place for cute animals and children in his heart, and naturally the little girl in front of him is cute enough to make his cold heart soft.

"Hehe, wait a minute I bring my treasure," The little girl while giggling cutely, hurriedly running toward her house.

"Ahhm, Sir, I am sorry for my younger sister's rudeness, although she is young, but she is always worried about me that's why she is saying those things, you don't have to waste your time, you can go till she is not here.

After all the treasure she was talking about just some stones and toys she gathered randomly, she really has nothing valuable," The girl nervously bowed before Myne and apologized, she is really worried that Myne might get angry because of her younger sister and do something bad to them.

But Myne who already know about this just stood his place in deep thought while ignoring The girl's apologies.

Looking at both sister's financial situations even an idiot can say that the little girl doesn't have any treasure, but Myne who gets impressed by the little girl's bravery still wanted to give her a chance if she has something good, then he doesn't mind helping her, anyway, it just killing some random idiots who are robing comonomers to earn money, it is not a big deal, but if that little girl really doesn't have any valuable thing, then he can only teach her a little about reality, and walk on his way.

The little girl didn't let Myne wait too much and soon she return with a small wooden box in her hands.

"Here take this, in it I have stored my most precious treasure," The little girl said innocently raising the wooden box high on her head, so Myne can take it easily.

Myne didn't say anything just took the box from the little girl, open it and look in it.

Although Myne expected there wouldn't be anything good in the box, but to his surprise in the box lay a palm size blue crystal-like stone.

A magic stone? Where did this little cutie get it? When did magic stones become so common that anyone can pick them up from the ground? As far as I heard the only way to get a magic stone is to dig it out of powerful monsters' hearts, as powerful as the Org King level, Myne thought confusedly while picking the magic stone from the box and inspecting it seriously.

"Where did you find this stone?" Myne asked calmly without changing his expression, although deep down he is very surprised.

"I picked it up from the river when my sister and I went there for a picnic," The little girl said nervously while hoping that Myne accepts her treasure and beat the hell out of the bad people who always rob her sister and give her a lot of trouble.

"I see, by the way, this is indeed a rare stone, I don't expect that you have such a precious thing," Myne said with a smile while playing with the magic stone in his hand.

"Huh? So big brother will you teach a good lesson to those bad people, so they won't trouble my sister anymore?" The little girl asked with an excited expression.

"Sure, I am happy to accept your mission, but this thing is a little too valuable in exchange to beat some weakling, so how about I give you extra money in order to make this trade fair?" Myne asked gently while putting the magic stone in his Inventory, anyway since the magic stone is already in his hand then there is no way he can give it back to the little girl.

"Well, whatever you want big brother as long as you can deal with Lyauru and his friends I don't care," The little girl innocently said clearly she don't know the value of the blue stone she give Myne if she does she maybe hesitate to exchange such a precious thing with a stranger who can easily fool her, as for her elder sister she is just standing behind her younger sister like a fool with her eyes wide open without saying anything.

She defiantly didn't expect that her younger sister has something so valuable.

"Good, now quickly they lead me to this Lyauru place, I am in a little hurry," Myne said while rubbing the little girl's head with a smile.

"Yes, big brother this way, Lyauru's home is not very far from here," The little girl said excitedly and run toward the right side.

Myne also quickly follow her completely ignoring a certain half-naked girl who watching silently everything from start to end, and only when Myne and the little girl walk 100 meters away from her did she come back to her sense, and quickly chase them while covering her naked body with the cloth Myne give her tightly so it didn't fall down.

Just as the little girl said Myne's mission target house is indeed not very far, he just run half a kilometre before he comes in front of a two-story old house that look like it can fall down at any moment.

"So the person you are talking about really lives here?" Myne asked confusedly while wondering how much courage a person needs to live in such a dangerous house that can collapse at any moment.

"Yes, he and his other five friends live in this house. Big brother, don't be fooled by the outward appearance of this house, although it looks old and looks like it will collapse any moment but it is not the case, it is very well maintained from the inside and probably not going to fall even after decades, The little girl said seriously.

"Hahaha, Not going to fall even after decades huh? Let's see if it is as strong as you say," Myne said with a smirk, and after confirming that there are all six people present in the old house with his presence detect skill, Myne use his latest skill which he just got some hours ago.

Earthquake!

As Myne use the earthquake skill he got from the catfish to the fullest, the earth under the old house in front of him starts shaking while producing a lot of dust, and noise.

10 seconds after Myne use his earthquake skill a lot of screams also start coming out from the old house, enough to scare the little girl beside him and made her hide behind him.

Just when Myne and the little girl wondering when the old house would fall, a loud glass-breaking sound attracted their attention and when they looked toward the sound source, they saw a naked a man jumping out from the top-floor window without caring about injuries.

Right behind the man, a young girl holding a big cloth which look like a quilt also jump out of the window, and she was also completely naked. Because both the man and the girl jump right after each other, the girl falls on top of the man who just turns around.

The poor man who doesn't even have time to take care of his previous injuries literally loses consciousness because the girl's knee hit directly on top of his dick.

"Ouch! He shouldn't have turned, that defiantly hurt like hell," Myne look at the man with sympathy, but his main focus was still on the naked beauty with big breasts, who was showing her seductive body while rolling on the ground and crying in the pain because she broke her leg.

"How did that big sister get hurt if she fall on Lyauru?" The little girl asked confusedly but Myne himself was as confused as her so he didn't say anything.

Boom!

Just as the man and the girl crying in pain, the old house finally couldn't hold it anymore and collapsed with a loud sound, sending four people inside it to hell who don't get out at the right time while waking up almost one-fifth of the capital city people.

"Cough! Cough! Cutie are you okay?" Myne asked the little girl while coughing loudly because of the dust.

"I am okay big brother, maybe we shouldn't stand so near the house," The little girl said but her eyes still looking at the location where the man and girl are laying a moment ago.

Soon dust settles down and to the little girl's disappointment, both the man and the girl are still alive, it just their condition doesn't look anything good. Their body has some serious injuries, they are bleeding heavily while coughing blood, and almost their entire body becomes white after showering in the dust.

"Who is that girl?" Myne asked calmly while wiping his face with a clean cloth.

"She is Lyauru's girlfriend, she is also a bad person, she always comes to our house when Lyauru and his friend are out to eat our food," The little girl said while gritting her teeth in anger.

"I see, then let's end this matter now shall we? Myne said and shot four wind blades at the Lyaurur and his girlfriend, and after that without looking at their end, he picks up the little girl from the ground and starts walking toward her home, not letting her see what happened behind her.

"Big brother, why are we going back? Are not going to beat them?" The little girl asked hurriedly, she clearly didn't want to let Lyeurur and her girlfriend go away easily.

"Now you don't need about them, they are already finished, after today you will never going to see their faces again," Myne said with a smile while flicking the little girl's forehead.

"Ouch, it's hurt, big brother you are bullying me," The little girl said fake angrily, but then she give Myne a light kiss on his cheek and hug him tightly.

"Thank you big brother for helping us."

"Ahh, no need to thank me, since I took your money, then it natural to help you. Look your sister also finally reached us, now you go back, I also have to do some other thing so I can't accompany you anymore.

By the way, here take this, this is the money I promise you," After placing the little girl down, Myne handed her a small storage bag, he stole from a random guy in which he already put 200 golden coins, which should be enough for both sisters to live a happy life for many years.

After that Myne patted the little girl's hair head for the last time before suddenly disappearing from his place like a ghost.

"Haa, haa, Tina, where is that handsome brother who was with you just now?" The little girl's elder sister finally caught up with her and asked hurriedly while panting heavily.

Although she follow Myna and her younger sister right behind them but because both of them were a little too fast, and because Myne didn't waste too much time to finish his mission, so till she caught up with them everything was already over.

"Big brother said that he have something to do so he run away leaving me behind, he is indeed a bad brother," The little girl said angrily but her bright smile show that she is just faking.

"Ohh, by the way, Sis here, big brother give me money, although I didn't check but it seems there are a lot of coins in it, you quickly check it and see if it is enough to buy me a new dress after all this is my money.

"Huh? But don't I bring you a new dress last month?" The girl asks with a frown while taking the storage bag from the little girl.

After which she quickly open the bag, and peeked inside it, but the seeing eyes blinding golden light inside it, she without changing her expression, with twice the speed she close the bag, and hurriedly look at her surrounding and only after seeing that there is no one around them, did she took a sigh of relief.

"Sis why did you close the bag I also wanted to see how much money..."

"Ssss, don't talk nonsense, let's go back home quickly this is not the place we should talk about this kind of thing," The girl said in a low voice while covering her younger sister's mouth tightly, after which she grabbed her hand and hurriedly run toward her home.
