Chapter 152: Fenrir's Entry...

Faren who heard that put his hand on his head and touch the Little Fenrir's soft fur before he burst into laughter. And really loud at that.

"I will have to cheer up if that's what Lord Divine Beast says! Otherwise, It would be very rude, hahaha..."

Hearing Faren's words, The Little Fenrir again said "Wafuu", while patting on his head, and then he jump down from his head and returned to Myne.

After which silence once again spread in the entire room, Myne just looks the furniture in Faren's study room with surprise wondering how many platinum coins he have spent to decorate this room, while Faren stared at the Little Fenrir with a smile, this process went on for 10 minutes, till then none of the three said anything and finally, when the door of the room opened with a bang, Myne breathed a sigh of relief.

The one who open the door was non-other than Myne's second wife Sylphid Augusta, and beside her was Aisha waving her hand with a smile. Right behind Aisha was Ted running toward Myne excitedly but after seeing a small beast on Myne's head his excitement immediately die down and a serious expression appear on his face.

"Lord Husband! When did you come back? Why did you not inform us instead of coming to Father? Did something happen during the game?" Sylphy as always just after seeing Myne directly bombard him with questions.

"Sylphy dear, take it easy, everything is fine, I just wanted to convey an important message to my father-in-law from my friend, I thought before meeting you two I should complete my all work, so after that, we can relax without any further disturbance," Myne said with a smile while hugging Sylphy tightly in front of Faren making her face red from embarrassment.

"Hey, what are doing, Father is watching us," Sylphy hurriedly said in a low voice, and after seeing her Father's playful smirk she push Myne away and escape from his hug.

"Sigh, why are you so embarrassed? What's wrong with hugging each other in front of Father-In-Law? We are about to get married, there is nothing wrong with hugging my wife," Myne said helplessly and come to Aisha and give her a tight hug as well.

But Unlike Sylphy, although Aisha was also a little embarrassed getting hugged by Myne in front of Faren but she still didn't push him away and let him hug her as much as he want.

"Ahh, I miss your hug so much," Myne mumbled in Aisha's ear and give her a quick kiss on her cheek.

"I missed your little brother too," Aisha said teasingly in Myne's ear and after giving him a quick kiss on his cheek as well, she separated from him with a red face hearing a lot of footsteps behind her.

Haha, it seems like I turn an innocent girl into a big pervert, Myne thought with a smile and finally look at Ted who was staring at the Little Fenrir on his head continuously as if he saw his lifelong rival.

But just as Myne is about to ask Ted why he staring at Little Fenrir so seriously, suddenly more people enter the room because of which Myne look away from Ted giving him 1000 points of emotional damage.

The people who enter after Myne's family was First Queen Garnet, Anieue, and a woman Myne has never met before.

She should be Rector's mother, in other words, the Second Queen, after all, Rector looks exactly like her, Myne thought and look away from the second queen as she look quite fierce, with whom you don't want to mess with easily, unlike the first queen that anyone can easily fall for just after seeing her.

No wonder Rector is so scared of his mother, she has a natural talent in this field, and her eyes alone are enough to scare most people, Myne thought.

Following both queens was Lewis with his always smiley face, sweet and cute Ayri, and the last Rector, who just after seeing Myne immediately shows him a victory gesture with a wide smile, but quickly changes his expression back to normal after her mother gives him a quick glance.

Seem like the little tiger become an adult huh? I wonder who he would have made his prey to accomplish his secret mission," Myne thought and nodded his head toward Rector telling him he understand.

"Elder Brother Myne," Ayri hurriedly run toward Myne after seeing him, and jump into his arms excitedly, giving him a warm hug.

"How are you, sweetie? Did you miss your Elder Brother?" Myne asked with a smile picking up Ayri from the ground and making her sit on his arm like a child, although their age gap is no more than one year, but because of Ayri's health problem, her body is still developing at a slow speed making look like a 10-years-old girl.

"Of course, I did, I wanted to hear your adventure stories, how you and sister Aisha become lovers and many other things, but you left just after meeting Father, so we have a lot of things to discuss," Ayri cutely said.

"Okay, I will tell you everything, but not now, look Father-In-Law wanted to say something," Myne said dotingly while pinching Ayri's cheek gently, before putting her down.

Faren seeing everyone in the room motions for Aniué to close the door, before start explaining the situation, about what happened during the game, how Fenrir become Myne's backer, and bestowing him her skills, as well as how she is coming here with help of her skill etc.

Hearing the entire matter, everyone showed expressions of surprise, and look at Myne as if they seeing him for the first time.

"That being the case, in order to make things clear, I want to apologise to her personally, I thought you guys might also want to see Lord Divine Beast, that's why I summon all of you here, also Myne who has become friend with Lord Divine Beast will become our relative.

We may not be thinking of using him in any way, but Lord Divine Beast may be worried about that after what happened with her children. Therefore, I had been thinking of proving our innocence to Lord Divine Beast," Faren said to everyone about his thoughts, and after confirming that no one has any problem, he look at Myne and continue, "Myne, now you can invite Lord Divine Beast."

"Okay," Myne reply calmly and put his index finger on his forehead with eyes closed acting as if he is communicating with Fenrir so she can here, and secretly use his Unique Magic Space-Time, and connected the space between here and Fenrir's residence, the cavern.

As he did that a black vortex appeared right in front of Myne as usual.

"Ooooh!!"

A large violet wolf with a height of around 10 meters slowly comes out from the vortex with great momentum and pressure, making everyone expect Myne and Little Fenrir's tremble from fear.

Yes, that wolf, is the one whose stories are handed down through the ancient legends, Divine Beast Fenrir. Myne's new best friend.

"Huh? Fenrir how did your height increase two times just within some hours? Did you eat some poisoness fruit or something?" Myne asked confusedly.

"No, I increase my height with the help of magic, after all, I am meeting with your King I have to take care of my image. You may not know but most of the celestial animals can adjust their height as they wish but none of them have a height less than 100 meters, except me. Why because according to them the bigger you are, the more other races will respect you.

So I thought I might as well try this trick and seem like they are not completely wrong," Fenrir said in Myne's mind with a satisfying tone, clearly she is enjoying everyone's dumbfounded expression.

"Divine Beast... Lord Fenrir..."

Just as Myne and Fenrir talking randomly someone muttered breaking the silence.

"Huh? Why are you all sweating like you are standing on a volcano?" Myne asks confusedly although he already knows the answer.

Hearing Myne's question and seeing his calm expression, others can only smile helplessly but none of them said anything.

"King of the Hume race. I have heard that you have something to talk to me about, what business do you have?" Fenrir's loud early pricing voice sounded in the entire room like thunder.

"I am grateful that I am able to meet you, Lord Divine Beast, this is like a dream to me.

I won't waste your too much precious time, so let me straightly come to the point, first of all, I want to ask to apologise for what happened in the forest, it was my neglect that those people dare to steal your children, but I promise that after today I will try my best that this kind of thing never repeats again. And second, I have heard that you have become my daughter's spouse, Myne's backer.

Lord Divine Beast becoming Hume's backer is something I never even heard of in legends, so Myne might be very important to you that you desire to protect him, I..."

No wonder Sylphy like talking nonsense so much, so she learns this from her Father, I just hope Fenrir doesn't get angry with me since she finds out I'm technically a member of the royal family too. Damn you Father-In-law couldn't you keep me out of your matter?" Myne mumbled while watching Faren angrily who was still talking with Fenrir nonstop.

Other than Faren who was becoming more and more confident with each word he spoke, everyone else present in the room held their breaths as they looked at the scene.

"Umu, there is no doubt that my best friend is very important to me and he also has a big secret only if he didn't hide anything else from me. My best friend, as you can see, is also the uncle of my children whom they love very much, and one of them is also staying with him, so he can see the world.

Therefore, I have become his backer so no one can dare to hurt him, and if someone did then they have to deal with me first," Fenrir said in a loud voice, releasing her violent Aura-like tide on everyone, making them expect Myne and Little Fenrir kneel on the ground in doggy position.

"Fenrir! Stop, you are scaring children," Myne scouted angrily.

Hearing Myne's voice, Fenrir stops the act of displaying her power while rolling her eyes, clearly annoyed by Myne's interference.
