Chapter 162: Concern...

"I never expected that there could be such a perverted skill that can transfer someone else skill to anyone that skill holder desires," Lewis whispered thoughtfully while leaning on the railing of his room balcony.

"Indeed that skill is certainly outside of our expectations," Aniué nodded his head and fell in deep thoughts.

During the mock battle, I thought that his battle style was strangely reliant on skills, and even a newbie knight could beat him if he didn't use them but now after knowing about his new skills, I don't know what to say, after all, in most case scenario people rely on their skills to do things, and if you have powerful skills then why someone wanted to fight brutally like a barbarian?

If during mock battle Myne had his new skills, he would have easily stolen my skills, and made full use of the skills he had, there is no doubt I would have lost. As for the loss of one month's life? What a joke if you can become powerful by losing an invisible life without even knowing how long are going to live, no one with a right mind would hesitate to use that skill.

However, I am still very worried about Myne, if information about his new skills gets leaked then many powerful people start targeting him, and since he is about to become a family member of the royal family his enemies wouldn't only use physical power to deal with him.

They might also set honey traps to get him, or kidnap Syslphy or Aisha and threaten him to work for them and if those things don't work then there is a high possibility that he might be assassinated when he's unprepared or something.

Myne is too young and inexperienced about all those things, if I didn't help him then my cute, younger sister might soon become a widow. Hell no I can't let this happen. Seem like I'll have to train ahead of time.

While Anieue is thinking about all those weird things which in the end becomes a firm determination to make Myne's life hell in the name of training, Lewis beside him suddenly looks at him and asks worriedly, "Elder Brother, is Myne really safe? You know what I am talking about right?"

Hearing Lewis concern Anieue's thoughts for a while but In the end, he can only sigh helplessly and answer, "I too am a little worried about him."

Hm? Elder Brother too? And here I thought it was only me who was overthinking but seems like it is not the case. Well, certainly, if you think of "only his skills", you might be worried. Those Skills are unique skills Lord Divine Beast bestowed.

But if things come to your own skills on which you rely greatly but one day someone comes and says that he can easily take away your skills without you knowing, even if that guy is your sister's husband, there is always a little uneasy in your mind that what if he steals your skills?

Although I didn't want to have doubt about Myne's character, nor do I think my skills are anything worth bragging about but it's weird for people like me to not be worried about this kind of thing, after all as a businessman my first motto is 'Never trust anyone fully.

"You guys, there's no need to worry so much. Calmly think, if Myne felt like stealing your skills or he doesn't trust us at all, then why does he even need to reveal information about his skills? He can easily fool us with the help of Lord Divine Beast, wouldn't he?

You two are just being paranoid," Rector who was lying on the couch lazily while taking a massage from a beautiful maid of the same age as him said calmly.

"Ah, although I didn't want to admit but Rector is right.

Maybe instead of thinking everything negatively we should look at the positive scenarios, not only can someone as powerful as Myne who has literally 15 skills, and a godly being like Lord Divine Beast backer as our cute sister's husband but there is also a chance that he help Sylphy become powerful, no matter what, all in all, our royal family now have one more trump card," Anieue said excitedly to cheer up Lewis and himself as well.

"You are right Elder Brother, If Myne wanted to steal our skills he could easily do it with the help of Lord Divine Beast's teleportation skill when we are not paying attention, and on top of that someone who has Lord Divine Beast as a backer why he even needs our skills? He can easily get more powerful ones from monsters.

I have read his game report and the monsters he killed during those two days are more than what an A or S-rank adventurer kills in an entire year. if you simply compare his present battle power, there isn't a reason for Myne to hold back on that and take such a high risk to open up to us about his skills which can be very dangerous for his life," Lewis said with a sigh, while cleaning his glasses.

"His purpose in telling us that Lord Divine Beast is his backer is also not to threaten us, but rather to mentally ensure that it will end without hostility. Therefore, what we have to do is to believe in Myne, and deepen our relationship with our future Brother-In-Law," Anieue said calmly to Lewis and Rector.

Although unlike Rector who hasn't awakened his skills and unnaturally shows a deep trust in Myne, Lewis didn't come to a clean decision but he still had more calmer expressions than before.

"Sylphy has gotten an outrageous person as her spouse, as expected of our Princess Knight.

By the way, a cooperation has been decided between Sylphy's future Clan and mine, so rather, since Myne is that strong a person, I can look forward to the exotic materials he sells to me, hehehe, I can't wait to research new potions," Lewis spoke while rubbing his hands with a businessman like smile plastered on his face.

"That's true, we are now family, we should help Myne in his early stage while developing our bond instead of worrying unnecessarily," Aniue said with a smile once again switching over his thoughts to how he should train Myne.

"Okay, since everything is decided then I should also go back to my room, Good night brothers. Let's go, Luna," Rector said while jumping down from the couch and starting walking toward his bedroom, but just after walking 5 meters he turned around and spoke to his personal maid who had been taking care of him for the past 5 years.

"Luna why are you still standing there... Oops, I forgot that in order to not let her hear our private conversation I blocked her both ears and eyes," Rector said and hurriedly came to his personal maid and put away her blindfold and cottens from her ears.

"But why the hell do you even need to bring her with you? Can't you stay some moment without her? I have observed recently that you are spending most of your entire time with her, remember although I don't care with whom you play all day long, but if you dare to miss your studies and training then not even Second Mother can save your ass," Aniue said threateningly.

"Haha, what are talking about Elder Brother, I am very serious about my studies and training. You can ask Charlie, he is keeping close eyes on me thanks to Mother's strict order, so you can rest assured. Okay, see you tomorrow then, good night," Rector said with a smile, and after grabbing his personal maid Luna's hand, he hurriedly ran away.

"He is lying," Lewis said with a smile.

"I know, I will talk to Second Mother tomorrow, he needs her personal lovely care only then he will focus on his studies and training," Aniuie said helplessly while shaking his head.

"Pri, Prince why are we running so fast," Luna asked while running with Rector, and panting heavily.

But Rector didn't answer her question and continued running toward his room. Soon they came to Rector's room, they hurriedly went in and Rector tightly closed the door.

"Because we don't have much time, if everything goes like always, then tomorrow I am going to receive a lot of love from my Mother, and you know very well that which kind of love I am talking about," Rector said while taking a deep breath, and looking at his beautiful personal maid who was also his secret lover whom he finally confessed his love just two days ago because of some special circumstance.

"If you want then I can talk to Second Queen, I believe she won't be mad at you too much if I talk to her," Luna said concernedly while wiping sweat from Rector's forehead with her handkerchief.

"Hehe, you don't have to worry about that, I can deal with Mother, but now since I have to do a lot of work from tomorrow, we might not have a lot of free time like the past two days, so tonight let's make a lot of love, I also brought stamina recovery potion from Mother's lab, so we can make love entire night with getting tried," Rector said while grabbing Luna's hand, and pulling her into his embrace, and then putting his both on her soft butt under her skirt.

"But then how are you going to work tomorrow if you don't get proper sleep?" Luna's asked shyly with a red face.

"Hehe, I have already thought about that, so you can rest assured, for now, let's stop our chit-chat, we have a lot of work to do," Rector said while licking his lips evilly, before moving his head forward and kissing Luna passionately.

While kissing he lifted Luna by her butt and headed toward his bed ready to make a lot of mess there...
