

Cheat. A 164

Chapter 164: Faren, The Stingy King

F*cking hell, Jackpot!!! The Supreme Being of Dragon Race, his reward definitely shouldn't be priceless right? I don't know what kind of thing he will me, Myne thought excitedly nearly exclaiming loudly out of happiness, but he quickly surpassed his emotion after remembering that there were three people staring at him from behind.

But first I have to save that dragon child if I want to get this luxurious reward, Thinking such Myne turned around with a calm expression as if nothing exciting had happened and spoke to nervous Faren.

"Father-in-law, Lord Divine Beast told me that she would cooperate with us because she also wanted to save that poor dragon child. So you don't have to worry too much, with my help and the guidance of Lord Divine Beast it shouldn't be a big problem to rescue that child," Myne said with a smile, getting loud cheers from his wives, and a pat on the shoulder by Faren.

Lord Divine Beast will cooperate!? I am thankful for that above all else. If Myne also cooperates, this problem is destined to be solved without any major accidents, Faren thought and finally let down his tense shoulders, feeling relieved.

he was so nervous last night that he hadn't slept for a minute, Garent also scolded him a lot while saying that he is becoming crazier and crazier because of high-intensity work.

"Myne, you help me a lot, I don't know how to thank you," Faren said emotionally.

"So Father is that dragon child in Adol Town?" But before Myne could say that he would be very happy getting some thousands of platinum coins, Sylphy who felt like she was getting ignored interrupted him.

"Ohh, yes, this is what that Slave Trader told us, and after we asked Claude with some strict means, he also confirmed that he hid that dragon child there," Faren nodded his head.

Strict means, It seems like my plan of killing Claude and emptying his vault is no longer useful. Tsk, what a big loss, It seemed like my all luck used to get a super exclusive reward from Dragon Divine Beast, Myne thought disappointingly.

By the way Myne, Lord Divine Beast said that she would cooperate, I don't understand how she is going to help us?" Faren asked confusedly.

Ahh, about it, Lord Divine Beast said that her little brother is quite familiar with the dragon race and currently having a headache about this child dragon kidnapping matter, so she asked me to save it, and if things get out of control I can summon her for support," Myne said causally and suddenly saw two figure walking running toward him, exactly one figure is running while other one is riding on it like a king.

Yes, those two figures are none other than Ted and Waffle. Ted unhappily ran toward them while Waffle sat on it excitedly while waving his tail left and right, clearly enjoying dog riding very much.

"Woof-Woof."

Just after coming to Myne, Ted shakes his body making Waffle fall down from it and after barking toward Myne probably complaining about Waffle, he quickly walks toward Aisha, he still likes her more than Myne, especially after Myne brought Waffle, he always felt like he is abounded by Myne.

"Wafu-Wafu."

Waffle clearly didn't take Ted a small move to heart and after getting up he quickly climbed on Myne's head happily as always.

"You guys really wake up quite early," Myne said with a smile while patting Waffle's head gently making Ted more unhappy.

"Don't be sad, I am always with you, let those two bad boys play with each other, I will make your favourite food later okay?" Aisha seeing Ted sad sat down beside him and spoke in a low voice, making him very happy, after all compared to Myne some second of love he is clearly more interested in his favorite food.

I see, so it is related to Lord Divine Beast's younger brother no wonder she agreed to help us so easily, Faren thought with enlightenment.

Myne seeing that Faren had no other questions, quickly informed Fenrir about the dragon child's location.

"So how many knights are coming with me to Adol Town?" Myne asked after ending his telepathy connection with Fenrir.

"Huh?"

Oh, about that, currently non, as I have told you before, all the free knights currently present in the capital I already sent them toward Adol Town, and the remaining ones are necessary to maintain order in the city, so at present I can only ask you to go there and investigate whereabouts of the child dragon alone before the knight unit reach there," Faren spoke shamelessly with a laugh while rubbing back of his head.

Hearing Faren's shameless request for a once even Sylphy felt a little embarrassed and she gave Myne an apologetic look.

Seriously? I didn't expect that my Father-in-law would be so shameless, he's just making request after request and giving nothing in return, have they taken me as their servant or something? Myne thought while raising his eyebrows.

"Father-in-law, do you really think that I alone can search such a big town like Adol without any help and rescue a tiny dragon child within a little amount of time? Don't you think this joke is going a bit too far?" Myne finally couldn't help but ask, although Fenrir had already promised him a big reward but how could he let go of such a big fish like Faren without getting anything from him?

Don't forget that he still has to build his Clan building, the money needed in that project is not small especially after he sees the luxury of Sylphy's house.

"Don't worry Lord Husband, we will also come with you, with us together It doesn't take too much time to find the dragon child," Before Faren could say anything Sylphy hurriedly again interrupted giving Myne a headache.

I don't know what I called her, a naive girl or pig teammate, can't she understand the seriousness of the situation? After returning home, I will personally train Sylphy for an hour every day, she needs to learn a lot, Myne thought and gave Sylphy a forced smile, and patted her head.

"Sorry, dear but this time, both of you not going anywhere, and before you say anything listen carefully, this mission is very dangerous, although possibility of dragon child parents coming to Adol Town is not high, but the possibility is still present, I might have to fight a dragon and if that happens I'll be alone so I can easily run away but if you guys are with me things might get a little dangerous and there is no way, I am going to put my cute fairies in danger for random strangers," Myne said seriously.

Seeing Myne so serious, Sylphy made an expression of slight regret, but she pulled back when she heard about a fight with a dragon.

"Myne, we'll make delicious food while we wait for you, so take care, and don't become dragon food," Aisha said with a smile and gave Sylphy a helpless look, clearly she also understood Myne's secret plan which was ruined by Sylphy.

Only Aisha can understand me. Sigh, no wonder I fell for her at first sight, she is indeed my soul mate, Myne nodded at Aisha with a smile.

"Myne although I can't provide you knights but here take it. With this token, you can contact with City Lord Of Adol with the same status as a minister and can order him to provide you with all the help needed," Faren after seeing that Myne have no mood takes Sylphy and Aisha with him, gives him a golden token with a symbol of Lion spiting fire from his mouth on side of it, and look quite valuable.

"Well, thank you," Myne said helplessly while taking the token from Faren and throwing it in his storage bag like trash without giving it a second glance.

Seeing Myne's action Faren's mouth twisted, this is the royal family authorization token, and the owner of this token can do anything in the kingdom as long as they have it, but looking at Myne's expression, in his eyes this token's worth is probably not as good as some gold coins.

"I'll be going! See you soon," Myne said and after giving Faren a disappointing glance, he shook his head, opened a portal to Adol town and walked in it with Waffle on his head.

"It seems like Myne is very disappointed with me," Faren said with a forced smile.

"You are just overthinking Father, why would Myne be disappointed in you? You give him the royal family authorization token, with this token Myne has the same power as the royal minister, what else does he need? So relax and don't think too much," Sylphy said confidently.

This girl, how can someone be so innocent in the royal family? Is Sylphy adopted? I should ask her later, Aisha thought while shaking her head.

"Maybe you are right, I am really thinking too much," Faren said while patting his innocent daughter's head with a helpless smile.

"T, this is bad, Big Sis Fen! I think you should call back your little friend."

"What's the matter? Aren't you quite panicked, Jor?" Fenrir asked confusedly.

She had just been contacted by Myne, telling her that he had found the whereabouts of the little dragon, so she immediately relayed the information to Jor. She thought that the dragon parent should be a little more relieved after knowing about their child, but, the situation seems to be somewhat strange.

"The parent dragons flew out to find their child, and from the looks of it, they might soon attack the Hume town you just mentioned," Jor's helpless voice came into Fenrir's mind.

"What! And you still telling me this calmly? Idiot call them back immediately!!" Fenrir exclaimed angrily.

"If I could do that, I would have done it long ago! But things already get out of hand, and If I go out, it'd be worse!!" Jor said fearfully, he really didn't want to face his Big Sister's anger.

My goodness, Myne and my little boy are heading to that town right now. No matter how abnormal Myne is, he is still not ready to deal with dragons, Fenrir thought worriedly.

"Myne, can you hear me? The dragon parent is coming towards you! I fear that they are not in their right mind and will directly start a rampage out of anger, so you better run away as soon as you show them. Also, forget about the child dragon and remember to protect yourself first, alright! Fenrir sends Myne a warning hurriedly.

"I hope they manage to rescue that child before its parents come..."
