Chapter 171: Almost Got Tricked By An Old Dragon

Myne watched the black dragon family walking in the portal fearlessly, although Myne had saved their child, they did not thank him even once, for them as if it was Myne responsibility to serve them the mighty and ancient race and he should feel honour about it.

Ignoring ungrateful oversized lizards, Myne looked at Jor, who was not only the second Divine Beast he had met but also his employer, who is soon going to empty his pocket on behalf of Myne's service.

From Myne's point of view, Jor is nothing but a walking treasure trove, after all this is a common fact that dragon-like collect shiny and valuable things.

As Myne looked at the giant red dragon, Jor also observed him very closely, releasing a little bit of pressure on him while wondering what is so special about this Hume that his Big Sis valued him so much.

Is he testing me?

His pressure is quite harsh, and bloody, it is as if I am standing at the mouth of an active volcano, compared to him Fenrir's pressure always feels like a gust of cold wind blowing in the rainy season, of course, this treatment might only be reserved for me, and other defiantly doesn't think that, after all, I am her best friend, Myne thought while looking into Jor eyes fearlessly with a smirk on his face, because after hearing the previous conversation between Fenrir and Jor, Myne notice a very important thing, and that is Jor is quite scared of Fenrir, so there is no way he can harm him.

Huh? Interesting, this little Hume doesn't get scared after feeling my Aura? As expected of a person valued by Big Sis Fen so much, he is quite different from others, Jor thought curiously and then saw Myne gesturing him to enter the portal.

Why is this guy unfolding his wings? Don't tell me he wants to enter into the portal while flyi... F*ck! Is he trying to attack me? Should I call Fenrir for help? Shit, why his wings are shining so much...

"Ahhhhh... My eyes..."

"Why are you screaming like a little girl, Big Sis Fen friend? Has my sudden action frightened you?"

"What! Who?" Myne exclaimed suddenly hearing a heavy and old man-type voice in his mind, which was completely different from Fenrir's sweet and lovely voice.

"It's me, little guy, for the time being, it'll be inconvenient if we cannot converse, so I have granted you my sacred protection. You shouldn't be unaware of it, right? After all, you already have Big Sis Fen's sacred protection."

Myne hearing Jor's voice again in his mind, finally calmed down and looked at him embarrassingly, for a moment he indeed got frightened when he saw Jor releasing light from his wings, especially when his eyes suddenly started hurting.

Did I get one more divine protection? Although it should be called telepathy contact link, but anyway, people... I mean beasts have their own way of giving things names, Myne thought and hurriedly used appraisal on himself...

[Name: Myne

LV: 76

Race: Hume

Gender: Male

Age: 15 y/o

Occupation: Hunter, Fiance of Princess Sylphid Augusta

*Divine Beast's Sacred Protection

Telepathy: Fenrir, Jormungandr (New!)

[Skills]

Two-handed Scythe • Extreme (0/50) { New }

Physical Strength Enhancement • Extreme (5/50) { New }

Martial Arts: Heavy Fist (0/50) { New }

Earthquake (11/50) { New }

Presence Detect • Large LV2 (74/200) { New }

Magic • Water Colossal LV3 (29/500) { New }

Just as I thought it was a telepathy link, but it is quite interesting I didn't expect that because of beating a dragon the Water Colossal skill level would directly jump to 3. Seems like In future I have to deal with my enemy with heavy hands so my skills level can increase faster, Myne thought calmly.

"Although I wanted to have a chat more with you, but for now, let's go to Big Sis Fen's place, otherwise if we made her wait too long, then it would be very bad for my health. She's already quite angry with me, and I have no intention of pouring more wood into the already out-of-control fire."

Saying such, In surprised eyes of Myne, Jor's gigantic 150-meter-tall body started shrinking visible to the naked eye, and only when his height was no more than 15 meters tall did he stop shrinking, and after giving dumbfounded Myne a nod, he also dominatingly walked into the portal, leaving Myne alone behind.

"Is this a skill or something else? Fenrir said every Divine Beast can do that, so I suppose this should be a magic trick, then can I learn it? And can we only increase the height of our entire body, or we can select whatever part of our body we want to increase size?

If I can increase the size of a certain part of my body then nothing can be more interesting than it, I can already imagine my naughty wifuu screaming in pleasure while begging to stop."

"F*ck, I have to get this magic trick no matter what, this is a matter of my wives future happiness," Myne spoke with determination and a quick walk into the portal.

"Now then, Jormungandr. How do you plan on settling this matter?"

Just as Myne came to Fenrir's home, he heard her cold emotionless voice, which made all the dragons in the cave break out in a cold sweat

"Big Sis, please calm down, and try to understand, their child was kidnapped by those evil Humes, and they haven't seen him for many days, which made them ruthless. They are searching for the child while flying about day after day without any hint which makes them violent and irritated.

So when they smell their child Aura in that small Hume town, out of anger this guy who was near that town loses his mind and starts making havoc while disregarding my warning. When your friend interrupted him in the middle, he became quite angry and accidentally hurt my little Nephew."

Jor said nervously trying to make the situation clear so Fenrir wouldn't become violent suddenly and beat the hell out of the black dragon family, including himself as well.

But when he saw Fenrir's indifferent emotionless face, he hurriedly changed the topic, in the matter of shamelessness this guy indeed deserved to be called the ruler of the dragon race.

"Anyway, let's put those unpleasant things on hold, and come to the main topic, first of all, I'll have to thank Big Sis and her Hume friend Myne. Thanks to your cooperation in this case, the child could return to his parents safely.

Honestly, with the nature of most of Hume it might have been impossible if it had only been us trying to find this child since most of Hume are very cunning and evil and can't be trusted, so let me thank you from the bottom of my heart," Jor said with a smile which was quite ugly and clearly doesn't suit on his face, and give a small bow to Myne and Fenrir.

Is he praising me or indirectly provoking Fenrir against me? Myne thought confusedly.

"Hey, Fenrir, is your younger brother trying to say that I am very cunning and evil and you should stay away from me?" Myne who doesn't like talking nonsense directly puts his thoughts in front of Fenrir.

"Ignore him, do I look like a 10-year-old girl to you who needs others' advice to judge people?

Don't worry and let him talk nonsense, we will add all of those things to his final bill," Fenrir's calm voice sounded in Myne's mind, making his eye shine brightly, and Myne couldn't help but rub his hands out of excitement while thinking just how much juice Fenrir going to fetch out from Jor in the end.

"However, it shouldn't be a mistake to say that the origin of this entire matter was the Hume race. Originally I wanted to come out for revenge, but considering Myne, I decided to stop that. Because of that, why don't we reconcile on this matter," Unaware of Myne and Fenrir's secret conversation Jor said while looking at Myne with a smile.

What the f*ck! This bastard literally throwing the pot of trouble on my head to save his ass? Myne thought while gritting his teeth in anger, no one had done this kind of shameless thing with him before, and if not for the fact that the other party in terms of power was completely out of the league, Myne would have already thrown a dozen or so wind tornado at him.

"No, no, Lord Jormungandr, how can you not take revenge for such a great crime? Although I am also Hume, but this doesn't mean that I represent my entire race, I am just a commoner without much sense of existence, there are hardly dozens or so people who know me, so you don't have to hold back.

Evil people deserve punishment, otherwise, if you let them go today, tomorrow they might again kidnap other dragons' children. So please rest assured and go and punish those evil Hume as much as you want, there is no need to reconcile on this matter," Myne said with a face excited expression while trying to hold back his anger.

Hearing Myne's awe-inspiring speech, the dragon family in the background nodded their head while looking at Myne with admiration, they also didn't want to reconcile, since those evil Hume dared to steal their child then it is only natural to take revenge, but the opposite to them, Jor, who thought that everything is going according to his plan, hearing Myne speech couldn't help but stare at him dumbfoundedly while wondering if Myne is an imposter in Hume's disguise who has a deep hatred for Hume otherwise how can someone say this kind of thing about his race without blinking?
