Chapter 187: Perfect Acting Combo of Good and Bad...

"Ouch, ouch, hey, can you be a little gentle, It f*cking hurt," Myne's painful cry echoed in the entire room.

"If for a single moment you stop crying and moving your body like a b*tch then of course I don't mind being gentle," Jin said angrily while applying ointment on Myne's baboon-like red bloated ass, a little on his own face as well.

"But I can't control it, okay, you know very well just how strong Big Sis's hands are, one slap from her is enough to make any person cry in pain and I was beaten by her mentally, physically, and emotionally the entire night. Do you even have an idea just what I went through in this single night?

I have seen Lady Death 10 in just one night, and narrowly escape from her motherly embrace," Myne said angrily in one breath, which made his red ass more painful.

Slap!

"Ahhhhh... Basterd why did you slap there?!" Myne exclaimed in a crying voice.

"Because every time I look at your face, my face hurts like hell as well, and now you are complaining in front of me? You get punished for your own deeds. Since the last time you promised her then you should have thought about the consequences before trying to be a hero. But what about me? What I did do that I get beaten?

Just because I didn't want to poke my nose in your brother-sister matter, I get beaten? Is that even an excuse? You know after marriage this is the first time I get beaten so heavily by your sister, and this time for no f*cking reason," Jin yell angrily with bloodshot eyes and again slaps tightly on Myne's red butt which is currently bigger than Aisha and Sylphy compare.

"Ahhh, f*cker stop slapping on my butt," Myne also yell painfully and pushes Jin away from himself.

"No, today I won't be silent and ensure this hellish pain, which I got for no reason. This all happened because of you, you have to take responsibility. You are my student, right?

Then as your teacher, today I want you to give me payment for all the knowledge you have learned from me, and I don't need money as a payment, just let me beat the hell out of you and we are done," Jin spoke like a madman, and with his swollen and injured face and a bleeding nose, he looked quite scary.

"F*ck! Did Sis beat Big Bro too hard that he became a crazy psychopath?" Myne thought nervously while standing up from the bed with great difficulty because of pain and looked at Jin who had a horrific smile plastered on his scary face, which made Myne's entire body hair shoot up.

"Hahaha, die you bastard," Jin roars like a beast and charges toward Myne with his all might.

"Sorry, Big Bro, I hope you won't take it to heart," Myne apologised and just as Jin's fist was about to hit his face, he easily dodged it and punched Jin's stomach with his full power without using any skill of course.

Bang!

And the result of their fight was as clear as rainwater, Jin a low-level dude who spends most of his time in a lab either making potion or reading his favourite books, after getting hit by Myne's punch he open his eyes widely, clearly shows signs of getting out of madness, and after spitting saliva on Myne's stomach unintentionally (Maybe), he falls down on the ground while holding his stomach.

Seeing Jin crawling on the ground like a child while holding his stomach, Myne shook his head helplessly, he took out a high-grade healing potion bottle he got from a random storage bag, and emptied the entire bottle in Jin's mouth.

"You know although I love your sisters unconditionally, but sometimes I hate you both brother and sister to the bone and believe me one day I will take my revenge," Jin spoke after some minutes of rest as his all injuries healed thanks to the magical effect of a high-grade healing potion

"Sigh, Big Bro, although I don't want to discourage you but unless you play dirty, and do something very dark like a real psychopath to take your so-called revenge, which I know in this life you can't do, then you might as well change your determination, because you can never beat Big Sis, or me, we are completely out of your league," Myne said the matter of the fact while siting beside Jin.

"Only time will tell who is out of the whose league," Jin said expressionlessly while staring at the ceiling.

"Sigh, okay, but remember to deal with me first, I didn't want to see Big Sis sad. By the way, this is a small apology gift for all the trouble I caused you," Myne said while placing a storage bag beside Jin.

"What is it?" Jin asked heartlessly.

"Nothing, just 50 platinum coins. They should be more than enough to fulfil your special wishes," Myne said with a smile while giving Jina a knowing wink.

"By the way, I heard that recently Grandpa Paape restored his stock, and this time not only did he have many new and unique books, but he also started a side shop in which he sells some other interesting things, but that shop is only available for his premium customers.

Also before you decline my offer saying some nonsense like you don't know any Grandpa Paape or you don't need your student money, then listen that premium membership is not cheap, and with Big Sis's current mood, I don't think she is going to give you extra pocket money this month," Myne said with a smile, and after wearing a big robe on his naked body so his big butt won't hurt more and hidden well, he walks out of the room.

Sigh, I hope her anger must have subsided, otherwise, with those big ballon-like butt, I might not be able to show my face to anyone. Damn it, how can there is such a pervert potion that could stop any type of healing skill. Whevetever invent that potion, I curse you bastard/b*tch you will never be happy in your life.

Myne yelled in his mind, but seeing a beautiful waitress coming to him, he lowered his head and wore a hood, so she cannot see that the person with the big butt in front of him is not a woman but a man.

"Ahmm, Maam, why are you standing in the corridor dazely? Do you need any help?" The girl innocently asks but her eyes starring at Myne's big ass with envy.

After hearing the waitress's polite question, first Myne wants to decline her with a gentle gesture, but after feeling her unnatural gaze on his butt, he immediately uses King's Intimidation skill and scared the shit out of the waitress.

Feeling mountain-like pressure mixed with killing intent, the waitress collapsed on the ground while staring at Myne with horrifying eyes, before she passed out.

Tsk, pervert, how can she pee in the public? She is going to lose her job if her boss finds out about it, Myne thought and after giving the waitress's blue heart-printed panty wet with her own urine a final glance, he knocked on the room right opposite the room in which he was.

"Come in."

A sweet but somewhat tired voice came out from the room which Myne was very familiar with.

Myne took a deep breath, and after calming down his desire to just run away from her, Myne gently opened the door and saw Maya sitting on the chair in front of the window reading a book, while occasionally looking outside.

Myne entered the room, locked the door, and after coming to Maya, he stood behind her and silently started massaging her head.

For the next ten minutes neither of the two spoke anything, Maya had her eyes closed, just enjoying the head massage, while Myne also without any impatience continued his work.

"I... I am sorry Sis. After becoming powerful and hearing about a special reward from Fenrir, I was a cherry away and forgot the promise I made to you."

Finally, it was Myne who broke the silence with a guilty voice.

"Huh? What kind of special reward," Maya asked coldly still eyes closed.

"A hundred years of extra lifespan and an entry pass to a prison full of powerful dragons," Myne said with a smile, while taking a breath of relief, since May started the causal talk with him, this meant she had already forgiven him, and just didn't want to admit it easily.

"What!!! Seriously? Why didn't you say this before?!" Maya exclaimed with shock while standing up from her chair and after grabbing Myne's collar she started shaking his body like a rag doll, clearly even for her things related to lifespan are very important.

"Well, because I also felt guilty for breaking our promise, and after getting so many skills I became more and more arrogant, so I thought I needed a nice beating so that I don't lose my way again in a short time, and who could do it more perfectly then you? Although it hurt quite a lot, but this pain is worth it," Myne said with a giggle.

"Sigh, if you had told me about the reward before, I might only hit you a little, and have forgiven you shortly after that, and although I understood the importance of a hundred-year lifespan but what do you mean an entry pass of the dragon prison?" Maya asked with a frown while raising her eyebrow.

"Well, that is a big story I will tell you about it tonight, now I am in a hurry, and if you don't want to see your sweet brother become a laughing stock, then can you make them as they were before?" Myne asked removing his robe and pointing at his naked red butt.

"But you look very cute like this," Maya said jokingly and slap on Myne's ass just like he does during their intercourse.

"Ahhh, f*ck, don't slap there, unlike you they are not natural, they hurt like hell with just a little touch," Myne spoke in a crying voice.

"Okay, okay, here drink this, after drinking it your healing skill will again become active..."

While Maya was explaining Myne hurriedly snatched the red potion bottle from her and drank it without any hesitation. He couldn't take this pain anymore.

Just as the potion entered Myne's stomach, white smoke started coming out from his entire body and within 3 seconds his all injuries were healed as if they had never existed. Even his baboon-like butt also becomes normal, making Maya a little disappointed.

"Finally no more pain," Myne took deep a breath of relief, after seeing his body perfectly fine.

"Although I didn't want to admit it but I am quite jealous of your healing skill," Maya said while caressing Myne's normal healed ass.

"Hehe, don't worry when tonight I come to you I will bring you a special gift and if possible please sleep alone tonight, I might be a little late, as you know I also have to satisfy my two little kittens," Myne whispered in Maya's ear playfully and after getting the nod from her he continued, "And for my sake please apologizes to Big Brother, his mind doesn't seem right today, he was talking some crazy stuff some a movement ago."

"Ohh? I see, don't worry I will take care of him, you go have fun, and I am looking forward to our night date, remember to bring a nice wine," Maya said and gave Myne a deep kiss.

Okay, see ya then," Myne waved his hand, opened the portal to the training ground of the royal palace and walked in it.

"Looks like Jin has played his role well, Myne looks very concerned about him," Maya giggles watching the portal disappear in front of her, after that, she comes out of the room, and sees Jin trying to wake up a waitress who is lying on a yellow liquid.

"What happened?" Maya asked confusedly.

"Who knows, when I came out, she was already lying here, on top of her own urine," Jin said calmly while poking his finger in the waitress's cheek trying to wake her up.

"Forget about her, she will wake up on her own after some time. By the way, Myne was very concerned about your mental health, he said that you are trying to do some crazy thing and asked me to apologise," Maya said playfully.

"Haha, this is the magic of my acting, it is just too real for anyone to find out about it, and I scared Myne so much with my acting that he literally knocked me out with his punch. He is also like you crazy powerful," Jin said while rubbing his stomach, he still felt a little painful sensation there.

"Hehe, after all he is my brother how can he be weak?" Maya said proudly.

"By the way, honey can you give me some extra pocket money this month? You see there are some new books about alchemy appearing in the black market and I was thinking about buying them," Jin said but till he finished his sentence his voice became so low that Maya hardly heard that.

"Sorry dear, not this month, you already know I want to give Myne a surprise wedding gift, we really have no extra money to waste, maybe next month," Maya said directly rejecting Jin's request without any hesitation.

"Amm, okay, no problem," Jin said with a smile.

Dman it, Myne know his sister more deeply than me, even though I have spent my half-life with her. Thank god I didn't tell her about Myne's little gift otherwise she would definitely have taken away that money from me, Jin thought and start making plan for what kind of books he is going to buy this time.
