

Cheat. A 191

Chapter 191: The Wedding Date, and Mock Battle

Aaaaa...

With a loud scream from two girls, Myne and the other fall on the bed one by one.

First, the one who landed on the bed was naturally Myne because he was in the centre of the portal, followed by Aisha, then Sylphy, and finally Ted, as for Waffle that guy's reaction speed was surprisingly fast, just after getting out of the portal he immediately used Flight's ability to stabilize himself in the middle of the air.

"Aisha, honey although I don't want to upset you but can you please move away your heavy ass from my back?" Myne weakly said while lying on the bed on his stomach with Aisha on top of his back, and Sylphy on her, completely buried under their bodies.

"Oops, sorry dear, Sylphy, what are you waiting for? Get away from me," Aisha replied and quickly shook her body so Sylphy could wake up from her daydreaming.

"Huh? Ohh, Yes, yes, sorry, I forgot that you guys are under me," Sylphy said while biting her tongue lightly and hurriedly moving away from Aisha, then she helped Aisha to move as well, only Myne like a dead fish was still lying on the bed.

"I can't take it anymore," Myne suddenly said and quickly used the Stamina Recovery skill on himself to get rid of his fatigue.

"Ohhh yes, now this is much better," Myne said happily feeling no more tiredness or sourness in his entire body.

"A, aah, Myne, you can't use recovery magic to heal fatigue. Only by self-healing completely with one's own body's natural recovery can it be helpful, otherwise, you will lose half of all the effect of the training," Sylphy wordily said, but Myne clearly didn't take her advice to heart.

Don't worry about it, I have been training like a madman for 4 entire hours, and during that time I have never used Recovery skills, so my body already got more than enough training to level up its natural recovery.

Now it doesn't much matter if I lay on the bed all day while waiting for my body to recover, or spend my time doing something more interesting, right?" Myne said while pinching both of his wives' cheeks who were clearly not satisfied with his causal answer but they also didn't have any words to decline what Myne said.

"Anyway, forget about this training matter, let's go take a bath together, last night I wasn't with you two, so now let me do my duty as a husband, which is to make love with his wives, till they don't get pass out from pleasure," Myne said with a wide grin and guided embarrassed Sylphy and excited Aisha to the bathhouse.

"The real exercise is going to start now..."

After spending the other half of the day playing with Aisha and Sylphy, Myne again came to Maya. There he ate the dinner made by her specially for him while telling her the entire story of the dragon child kidnapping drama, as well as how with the help of Fenrir he can now transfer skills to anyone he wants.

In order to demonstrate his new unbelievable skill, Myne gave Ultra Regeneration, Magic Eye of Shock, Strong Arm • Sacred, Cooking, and Cleaning skills to Maya. This is also the special gift he was talking about last time.

Although Myne wants to give her more powerful skills, but currently he doesn't have any in his stock, and because of training matters, he can't just take Aisha and Sylphy on another adventure to steal more skills. This Ultra Regeneration, Magic Eye of Shock, and Strong Arm were also he just stole in a hurry.

While the Troll Gazer wasn't paying attention, he secretly teleported behind him and stole his skills before he could even know.

As for Cooking and Cleaning skills, they are his own skills, but because he hardly used them, he gave them to Maya, who as a housewife needed them the most compared to him, and they are very common skills he can get back from someone else anyway.

Hearing the Skills description, Maya like an excitedly little girl immediately tries them one by one.

First, she made a small cut on her arm, which healed before she could even feel pain, then she blasted away a drunken on the road which was quite funny, as that drunken thought that his dead wife's ghost was hunting him, and he starts apologizing her for drinking booze too much and not taking care of his 7 years old son in the middle of the road.

After this small incident, to test Cooking skill, they went to Maya's home, where she immediately made some pastries that were apparently 20% more delicious than normal pastries

Cleaning skill used to clean dishes, as for the last Strong Arm skill, in front of dumbfounded Myne, Maya used it to rip apart her all clothes, and then she did the same thing with Myne before picking him up in Princess carry style without any effort, who in fake panic quickly grab her both gigantic boobies and walking into the bedroom.

After one more sleepless night, Myne forcefully opens his heavy eyes, unwillingly took out his little brother from Maya's pussy, and after teleporting Maya back to her room in the Inn she is staying in the capital city till Myne's wedding, Myne move his tired ass and again come to the training ground right 1 minute before the decided time, receiving a satisfied nod from Anieue, who was today looks extra happy, seem something interesting happens with him yesterday.

The training from the next three days onwards was also extremely severe (only for Myne), but at the same time, he was able to certainly notice a good, expected result. Which was quite normal if you exercise like a madman for 4 hours a day without much stopping, then what else did he expect?

His body was able to move better day by day, without a doubt. His newly raised tummy also vanished and abs appear once again.

Well, even that, when compared to Anieue, the stone-faced knight leader, and the others who spend half of their day in the training ground and literally have nothing else to do, it's still child's play.

Today Myne's mood wasn't quite right, and his focus on training wasn't even half of what it used to be yesterday. As for the reason behind Myne's loss of focus, just today morning Myne received a piece of shocking news from Sylphy, their wedding date has been decided.

The wedding ceremony will be held on the eve of tomorrow.

With such a piece of shocking news, who the f*ck have time to focus on training? Sylphy after dropping the bomb-like news, grabs Aisha's hand and runs away saying that they need to do a lot of shopping.

Myne also wants to go with them, he has to buy his own wedding dress as well as wedding rings for his both girls, but Aniue doesn't give a f*ck about his problems, after not finding him to the training ground, he forcefully drags him to the training ground without listening to his explanation.

Anyone in this kind of situation would be very nervous, Myne was no exception, in his entire 15 years of life, he has only seen one wedding that too when he was very little, and literally has no idea about what f*ck wedding is. He never thought that the second time he would go to someone's wedding, it would be his own. He has no idea what should do now.

While Myne was panicking and overthinking about what to do for the wedding, Aniue's voice brought him back to reality.

"Now then, Myne, for now, we'll end this part for today. Now, I was thinking of having a mock battle in order to see the results of the training."

"Will I be battling with you again?" Myne asked annoyingly if only he could use his skills then he would be more than happy to battle with Aniue but the problem is that he can't, and without his skills, he is just a punching bag for an experienced fighter like Aniue.

"No, you'll be fighting without using skills, it's still too harsh for me to be your opponent, isn't it?"

"Ummm, although I didn't want to admit it but you are right, in that case, who's my opponent??" Myne asked ignoring the wide playful smile on Aniue's face.

As Myne asked that, the stone face knight leader led one of the knights who looked quite young over.

"He's the most promising one of the young members, I have been training. I guarantee his strength, he will be your opponent," Aniue said with a proud smile, ready to see Myne getting beaten.

"Sigh, understood! Anyway, it is not like I have the option to choose my own opponent."

As Myne returned such an answer, the young knight who was looking a little too excited for such a small matter quickly came in front of him, put his hand on his chest and bowed 45 degrees.

"Nice to meet you, Lord Myne, I am Carl, a member of the second knight unit. I am weak, but I shall strive to become your opponent with all my power. Please take care of me.

Tsk, if only he had told me this thing without that confident expression and bright eyes which clearly looking down on me, then maybe I would have been fooled by his polite attitude like those idiots without brains but only muscles, Myne thought and sneered in his heart while watching the young knight third-class acting, which seems working very well, as most of the mellow eating knights who come to watch the fun, nodded their head satisfyingly, even Aniue was no exception.
