Chapter 195: The House Name

"Sylphy, do you know why Father-in-law calling us at this time?" Myne asked with a frown after the maid left.

Hearing Myne's question, Sylphy shut her eyes and pondered for a while, before shaking her head. She also has no idea behind such a sudden summon.

"Sigh, I just hope Father-in-law didn't throw another trouble on our head, and delay our wedding more for his greater good," Myne spoke helplessly while rubbing his head with a little headache.

"No use in thinking about something to which we can't find the answer. Let's hurry to Your Majesty's place," Aisha spoke calmly and started walking toward the exit, Myne and Sylphy looked at each other, and followed her.

"Wafuu!"

Waffle also urged Myne to hurry up so they could return quickly, and he could go back to his sweet sleep. As for why he wanted to follow them instead of sleeping peacefully like Ted, that was because he feared that Myne might go on another exciting mission alone like last time, leaving everyone behind if he wasn't with him.

"Sorry for summoning you so suddenly."

When they arrived at Faren's personal room, Faren's apology flew towards them.

Tsk, this is not a good start, my cheap father-in-law playing the emotional game... Myne thought annoyingly, but he could do nothing about it,

"It's okay, Father-in-law, we are already getting used to your random summon, it is not like the first time you called us at the wrong time," Myne spoke with a smile while hiding his dissatisfaction deep in his heart.

"Hahaha, you are so funny, but everyone present in the room knows that I only summon people when I really have some important thing to tell them, don't I?" Faren said with a light chuckle.

"And Father, what is that important reason for which you called us here this time?" Sylphy without beating around the bush asked, she still had to show her new dresses to Myne, especially those short ones which the kind shopkeeper grandma recommended to wear before committing adultery, so clearly she didn't have the mood to waste her time with her boring father.

"Well, it seems like my little daughter is very impatient today, huh?"

While Faren said that, he sat down on a chair, and prompted Myne, and others to sit as well.

"Did some kind of big matter happen again?"

As Aisha asked that, Sylphy and Myne's faces stiffened. Myne already put his hands on his knees, the moment Faren said yes, he would leave this room without looking back no matter what, he already tried to deal with Faren's mess.

"Hm? Aah, I see... That's why you have such nervous expressions, isn't it? It's completely different from what you think. If there are many cases of dangerous creatures like dragons attacking in this period of time, even I can't bear it, you know?"

Hearing that this thing has nothing to do with free labour, Myne also took a breath of relief.

"Anyway, tomorrow will finally be your wedding ceremony, all of you know, right?" Faren asked and after getting the nod of everyone he continue, "After your wedding, you will become a small noble house, so I called you here to confirm one thing, have you decided on the name of your house or not?"

If not then you might as well do it tonight, because by tomorrow morning I want to know your house name, do you all got it?"

House name, huh? Why did it feel like someone had said something about it before, but I ignored it, Myne thought confusedly.

"And seeing your perplexed expression, I can assume that Sylphy hasn't told you about it before, has she? Although I have told her it'simportance," Faren said with a calm face while staring at Sylphy asking for the excuse.

"Sorry, Father, I forgot about it," Sylphy apologetically replies with her head down in shame.

"Don't take all the blame yourself, I clearly remember you told me about it before, but I've forgotten about it because of another matter," Myne while patting Sylphy's head said gently.

"If that is the case, then go and think of a good name, and tell me by tomorrow. You can go now," Faren said and dismissed with a wave of his hand.

"Lord Husband, how can you forget such an important thing, I thought you had already decided on the house name and wanted to keep it a surprise from us till the wedding, but it turns out that you had forgotten about it."

After coming back to the room, Sylphy reproachfully said while folding her arms below her perfect handful size breasts.

"But honey, you can't blame me for this, after you told me that, a lot of things continuously happened which didn't give me time to sleep properly so how can I remember a little thing like the house name?" Myne with a worried expression explains while lying on Aisha's lap.

"Anyway, it is still not too late, let's discuss our house name together now, Aisha, it's time to use your brain and suggest some nice names, which should be cool enough that our enemy shit in their pants after hearing it, easy to pronounce, have a little dark vibe in it, and can be remembered for a long time even if some only heard one time.

Sylphy you too start running your brain horses," Myne said lazily.

"I'll think about it too!!!" Suddenly excited Waffle's voice sounded in Myne's head.

Well, I don't mind, but do you know what the house name means? Myne thought but seeing Waffle happy he left him to himself.

"Let me see, I think Voidwalker's a good name though, what do you say?..."

Aisha suggests the first name, which surprisingly sounds quite nice.

"Although your suggestion is quite good but I think Bennett is a better name. Myne Bennett, Sylphid Bennett, Aisha Bennett! It's not bad, isn't it?!"

Sylphy suggests a grandma-level old name which Myne expected, this is how Sylphy brain works, old tradition is running in her entire body.

"Wafuu, I think Darkthorn is good!!"

"Humm, that is a good name too, thank Waffle I didn't expect that you could also come up with such a good name," Myne said with a smile while patting Waffle's head.

"No wait, Sylphy! I think a house name needs to be majestic... How about Ebonblade?"

"No, it sounds like a knight family house name. Obscura, how is it?"

Three hours passed like this.

Huh? What, where am I? I was listening to house names from Aisha and Sylphy while lying on Aisha's lap, and then... I think I have fallen asleep, Myne thought with a yawn, while rubbing his sleepy eyes, he looked around, and saw Aisha and Sylphy still discussing house names on the bed surrounded by books and snacks.

As for Waffle, that guy after some minutes of excitement, also returned to his little bed specifically prepared for him beside Ted and fell asleep.

"Have you guys come to a conclusion or still haven't decided on a good name?" Myne came to his girls who were working wholeheartedly while he himself sleeping without any care, which made him feel a little bit guilty.

"Well, after three hours of continued discussion, we came up with three perfect names, now it is up to you to decide which we should use as our house name," Sylphy said excitedly.

"Okay, tell me then," Myne replied while sitting beside her.

"Duskfire, Empyrean, Sacredfield or last which we are still confused about 'Fortuna', these are all the names which we can come up with in the handful of time we have," Sylphy said cutely with a smile.

"I see, but before I make the final decision, which one do both of you think can be good for us?" Myne asked hesitantly, for him all four names are very interesting, and it was really hard to decide which one he should take.

"Amm, Sylphy likes Sacredfield more, and I like Duskfire, but still in the end, as the head of the house, it is up to you to choose, we can only give you suggestions, the final decision is all you to make," Aisha spoke while grabbing Myne left hand.

"Yes, Myne, we don't care whatever name you choose, so you don't have to worry too much about it, it is just a house name, no big deal," Sylphy also grabbed Myne's other hand and said while encouraging him.

"Well, then I decided, from now on our house name will be Fortuna," Myne announced loudly.

"Why am I not surprised?" Aisha asked with a smirk.

"Maybe because you won the bet," Sylphy replied with a pout.

"Huh? What are talking about?" Myne asked confusedly, he thought Aisha and Sylphy might be a little sad that he didn't choose their favourite name but it doesn't seem the case.

"Nothing, this is just a matter between us two sisters, ignore it," Aisha said with a giggle.

"So we are going to be called Fortuna huh? "Fortuna" is the name of the goddess who rules over fortune and good luck. This is quite a cool name," Aisha said while taking off her top.

"Yes, this is indeed the right decision to steal this name from history," Sylphy nodded her head while unzipping her skirt.

"Why suddenly do I have a feeling like this is again going to be a sleepless night?" Myne mutters while watching his both girls taking off their clothes while talking and laughing completely ignoring him.

"Huh? Myne, why are you still not removing your clothes? Don't tell me after using us, now you didn't want to reward us for our hard work," Aisha while throwing away her wet panty said playfully.

"How can this be, Myne is a man of his word since he always tells us that everyone should be rewarded for their hard work, so is not it only natural for him to fulfil our little wishes as well," Sylphy cutely spoke with puppy eyes while unbuttoning Myne's shirt.

"Sigh, you two are right, everyone should be rewarded for their hard work, come here, let me fulfil your wishes as well, tonight I will make you two the happiest women alive," Maine declared dominantly, and after taking off his pants and underwear he jumps on his horny wives like a hungry wolf...
