Chapter 196: Wedding Ceremony (Part-1)

Myne stretched his arm above his head as he took a deep breath, before rubbing his sleepy eyes.

He was steadily getting less drowsy, and his mind gradually became clearer as time passed. He first looked beside him and saw Aisha on top of him glued like a lizard and Sylphy on his left tightly cuddling him like a pillow sleeping soundlessly with a wide grin on their face, without showing any signs of waking up after the bed-breaking performance of last night.

"Hehe, last night was very exciting Aisha and I finally managed to drag Sylphy into the game and did all kinds of naughty things together till early morning. It seems like after this playing with a single one next time would be a little difficult since there is no way other one would wait for her turn like before."

Myne while recalling last night's happy moment, gently took out his little brother from Aisha's pussy, and after pushing her away from him a little bit, he carefully slipped out of the quilt so that they don't wake them up.

Then Myne gave his completely mess-up bed a satisfying nod, before entering the bathhouse to clean himself up.

Inside the bathhouse Myne saw Ted and Waffle, who had been happily dog-paddling in the bathtub and making "splish-splash" noises about it, clearly having a lot of fun.

Myne mouth twisted a bit seeing such a novelistic sense, but he didn't comment on their way to fun, and after greeting them, he also stepped into the tub and lay down there while exhaling a heavy breath.

After playing with Ted and Waffle a bit, Myne quickly walks out of the bathhouse with only a towel wrapped around his lower part. He then looks at the clock on the wall and exclaims in disbelief after seeing the time.

01:32 P.M.

"F*ck!! We are going to be late!"

Basterd, how can no one come to wake us up?

It is as if no one cares about the groom and brides, and everyone has already gone to the temple to witness the marriage ceremony while thinking they might be already gone there hiding from everyone, Myne crushes Sylphy's siblings for their carelessness and quickly comes to his brides who should have been ready by now but were still sleeping with perverted expressions.

"Girls wake up quickly, we are going to be late for the wedding ceremony..."

As Myne shook both of them who had been naked, Aisha was the first to forcefully open her sleepy eyes.

"Aisha! Don't look at me with those dangerous eyes, and quickly wake up, we are going to be late for the wedding ceremony," Saying such Myne slap on Sylphy's naked butt hard finally waking her up with a scream as well.

"Ouch, it's hurt," Sylphy cries out in pain, while rubbing her butt with a red palm print on it, and looks at Myne with teary eyes full of resentment.

"Oops, sorry, dear, seems like I didn't control my strength well enough, hehe. You can take revenge about it tonight, but now hurry up, we are going to be late," Myne gave Sylphy an apologise kiss, before pointing at the clock.

"WHAT!!"

Two same loud screams echo in the room, after seeing the time, Aisha, and Sylphy, without caring about their lady-like image, hurriedly get out of bed, and jump to their feet.

They both started acting in a fluster and quickly ran toward the bathhouse. Sylphy who didn't forget the pain in her butt, also pull out Myne's towel while running, making him sigh with worry while shaking his head at her childish behaviour.

Then he again gives a quick peek at the clock. Although there is still 4 and half an hour before the appointed time, but there are many things that will waste a lot of their time, for example, first they have to go to the temple in a formal carriage sent by them unveiling to the citizens at an extremely slow speed, which will be going to take an entire hour.

Then there is Aisha and Sylphy's formal dress-up step-up, changing into the bride's dress, putting on makeup etc, which is also an extremely time-consuming procedure.

"Sigh, I hope everything went well," Myne prayed and urged both girls to be quick.

In the end, both of them finished their morning preparations with unbelievable speed. Clearly shaking Myne's worldview, till now he always thought that girls took a lot of time to wash themselves up, but only today does he realise that they can also do it quickly it is just they are lazy creatures who like to waste time.

But although Aisha and Sylphy try their best, they are still not fast enough, as a result, they aren't as lucky as Myne, and could only enter into the carriage with a sad look and empty tummies.

"Why are making a sad face now, before leaving haven't I advised you two to eat something but you guys insist on not eating anything and run out of the room like a headless chicken? What is the use of regretting now?" Myne said with his trademark smile while gently waving his hand at the crowd outside his carriage, who were supposed to give them blessings for their upcoming happy life.

But till now Myne only has seen fake smiley faces which he knows very well as he himself has on his face most of the time while interacting with others, and various negative emotions, especially envy and jealousy. Which were quite normal considering his identity.

I wonder how many people would have come knocking on this carriage angrily with the intention of making trouble if there weren't so many knights protecting us? Myne thought with a playful smile.

Currently, they are in a special carriage sent by the temple to pick them up and head towards the temple at turtle speed, even horses look tired because of how slow they are walking and that too in the middle of those noisy voices.

The entire carriage's upper part is made of luxurious gold-like metal or perhaps it is gold itself and has three big glass windows and a big sunroof, so civilians can see the groom and brides.

"But we are already very late, how can we have time to eat breakfast leisurely? And as a husband, you should have fed us while we were getting ready but no, you just sat on the couch and watched us suffer," Sylphy complained with a pout, on which Myne just rolled his eyes.

After completing 15 minutes of the journey in an hour, the carriage they were on safely arrived at the venue of the ceremony, the temple. And Yes, this is the same temple where Myne awakened his skills.

"Ahh, coming here brings back good, old memories. As if it was just yesterday when I came here to awaken my skills," Myne said emotionally while looking at the gigantic building from the carriage window.

"Yes, everything starts from here, if you haven't awakened your skills this year, maybe I have already fallen into someone else's hands by now," Sylphy with a little giggle said while holding Myne's hand tightly.

"And I might be still working hard in the guild as a receptionist just to earn some puny coins to fill my stomach, poor me, sigh," Aisha also follows suit.

You and hard work? What a joke, you were like the child of the boss of the building who gets paid handsomely and has to do nothing other than sleep and eat on your desk, or once in a while beat someone for entertainment," Myne thought while rolling his eyes at Aisha's shamelessness.

Soon they alighted the carriage and were greeted by two little girls in white clothes at the entrance of the temple. Those two girls will guide them to different waiting rooms, separated by gender, from now on groom and brides can't see each other till the appointment time of the ceremony.

"See ya later girls, have fun," Myne waved his hand and said goodbye.

"We will," Aisha and Sylphy reply with a giggle while following the girl into their personal waiting room, where they are going to change into the formal clothes exclusive for the wedding ceremony on which they have spent more than 100 platinum coins, just to wear it once in their life. For this, Myne has nothing to say, other than crushing the shop owner in his heart.

Thank god, marriage happens only once in a lifetime, at least with a girl, otherwise, I can see poverty from miles away waving at me, ready to hug me like an incurable plague, Myne thought while shaking his head and walking toward the waiting room especially prepared for him to change his clothes as well, at least this is what the girl in white told him.

Waffle and Ted, who were looking extra handsome today thanks to Aisha and Sylphy's 15 minutes of hard work following him obediently like well-trained bodyguards, ready to protect him from any harm till he is away from his brides.
