

Cheat. A 199

Chapter 199: Small Family Drama...

The ceremony ended without any problems, and Myne, Aisha, and Sylphy were now publicly husband and wives.

Aisha and Sylphy both had smiles on their flushed faces, with a hint of slight embarrassment.

"Now, what are we waiting for? Do you want to start another round of fierce kissing sessions in front of this old man? Now go, leave me alone, your family is waiting for you," The temple head annoyingly said while waving his hand.

Tsk, this old man's mouth is quite poisonous, and what's the point of being jealous? It's not like he can do anything even if a girl, I mean a grandma gets ready to play with him, Myne thought while shaking his head. Then, he held his wives' hands and started walking toward the exit, followed by Waffle and Ted, who looked quite bored.

After exiting the altar room, Myne saw the girl who had brought Aisha and Sylphy waiting for them at the entrance. Without saying anything, she respectfully gestured for everyone to follow her.

After another five minutes of non-stop walking, Myne and his gang arrived at a gigantic luxurious hall, where they were greeted by everyone from the Sylphy family.

"Sis, congratulations on your marriage."

"Big Sis, congratulations!"

"Sylphy, congrats!"

"Sigh, my cute little sister finally fell into this naughty guy's evil hands. As an elder brother, I can't stop his conspiracy. Such a big failure am I," Aniue muttered to himself in a random corner, staring at the big goddess statue with a guilty and self-blaming expression. It was clear that his siscon state had awakened at this happy moment.

"Elder Brother is really hopeless in this matter. If this goes on, I wonder if Ayri's future husband didn't turn out to be more powerful than him, will he directly kidnap him to keep him away from Ayri?" Rector spoke while shaking his head.

"Don't make fun of him. He's just a little sad that he can't meet me every day like before after I started living with Lord Husband and Aisha," Sylphy kindly stopped her siblings from making Aniue fun and walked toward him to coax him.

"Hehe, yes, guys, we shouldn't make fun of our dear elder brother who now needs our sis's help to coax him so he doesn't start crying."

As Lewis said that, Garnet, his mother, with a smile on her face, came up behind him and gave him a motherly slap on the back of his head, enough to make him cry out in pain.

"Don't make your brother fun just because he loves his sisters more than you two..."

While watching Sylphy's family drama with a smile in his eyes, Myne's attention suddenly shifted to Aisha beside him, and his expression frowned as he remembered a very important thing: he knew nothing about Aisha's family.

Damn, how could I forget such an important thing? Not even once did it occur to me that I should inquire about Aisha's origin. Now, how should I ask about her family? It's going to be very awkward, Myne thought, and with a forced smile, he tightened his grip on Aisha's hand and asked in a hesitant voice, "Ahm, honey?"

As Myne called out to her, she smiled sweetly at him and, after bringing her face close to his, she whispered softly into his ear, "You want to ask about my family, right? I'll tell you about them later. Now is not the right time."

Tsk, trying to be mysterious, huh? There shouldn't be something wrong with them, right? Myne sighed helplessly while staring at Aisha's beautiful smiling face, which calmed down his inner turmoil.

While Myne was making some emergency plans for future troubles, Sylphy also successfully managed to coax Aniué, who now looked less gloomy than before and had a forced smile on his face.

"Myne, Aisha... I'll entrust my little sister to you. Please take care of her," Aniué placed his hand on Myne's shoulder and said with a very serious voice.

"Don't worry, elder brother. You can count on me. Although I know I'm not a reliable guy in your eyes, but believe me, I will always make her happy and won't give you any chance to complain," Myne said with determination.

"Good, good. I hope you always remember this promise. Otherwise, if one day I find out that you made my little sister sad, I will lead an entire unit of 1000 knights and assault you, beat you to death before healing you, and repeat the same thing until you beg for mercy to my little sister..."

Hearing Anieue's open threat, let alone Myne and Sylphy, everyone present in the temple's main hall had twisted expressions. Even Faren and Garnet were no exception. Although they both knew that Anieue was more protective toward his sisters, they didn't expect things already get out of hands.

"Ahem, don't worry. Your cute, beautiful, and tender little sister is in safe hands, so you can rest assured," Myne replied with a helpless smile. Today, he finally saw the mentality of a true siscon brother.

"Ouch..."

Feeling pain in his waist, Myne resentfully looked at Sylphy, who had just pinched him very hard on the waist and was looking at him as if to say, "Who are you calling tender and little?"

These Brother and Sister duo, I will take my revenge from her tonight, Myne thought while gritting his teeth.

"Yes, I will be happy with Sister Sylphy. We will take care of each other," Aisha replied happily, trying to hold back her laughter at the family drama that was going on in front of her.

Hearing Aisha's cheerful reply and seeing Sylphy's little trick, Anieue finally put away his serious look and, with a smile on his face, encouraged Myne and Aisha as he patted Myne's back, as usual, but this time with quite a heavy hand.

"Oh, work hard, both of you. I believe in you!"

Seeing that Anieue is hogging all the limelight, Ayri, Lewis, and Rector all called out to them one by one.

"Sis! I'll come over to play with you soon! And Brother Myne, don't forget our promise!" Rector, who didn't want to let go of his magic item promise by Myne, hurriedly said with a knowing wink.

"If Brother Rector's going, I'm going too! After all, I'm also very curious about that wonderful bathhouse you guys have at your home. Elder Brother Anieue boasted a lot about it," Ayri also excitedly said, making Garnet rub her head with a slight headache, as she knew that she was going to have a lot of trouble after this.

"Well, although I don't mind, it would be difficult for you to travel such a long distance, right? If something happened to you along the way, Elder Brother would probably eat me alive," Myne jokingly said, getting a nod from Anieue, clearly he also had the same thought and a desperate look from Ayri.

"But if I let a beautiful young lady like you get sad, then I might not be able to sleep peacefully as well. So how about it? Let Rector come to us first, and then, I'll open a portal for you so you can directly come to us? This way, not only will your safety be guaranteed, but we won't have to worry about your health as well."

As Myne suggested that, both Garnet and Anieue opened their eyes wide, as they had never thought about such a wonderful and flexible idea. This way, not only could Ayri go wherever she wanted, but they also didn't have to worry that one day in order to see the world outside the palace, she might run away.

Although Ayri looked obedient from the outside, but she had already started showing signs of wanting to go out and see the world many times as she grew older. Garnet and Anieue, who are closest to her, knew very well about it, and this was also one of their biggest concerns.

"Really! Thank you, Brother Myne, you are the best!!" Ayri exclaimed loudly upon hearing that she could go out, and gave Myne a bear hug, which made Anieue beside him grit his teeth with envy and jealousy.

"Yes, my dear son-in-law, thank you for relieving my biggest tension. Now, at least I don't have to worry about Ayri being a rebellious child who wants to wander outside alone," Garnet said with a big playful smile on her face and spoke in an Ara, Ara tone. After coming to Myne, she hugged him tightly, burying his head in her ample bosom, making Myne's day.

Am I already in heaven? Wow, her scent is so nice. Should I start making some plans to make my cheap father-in-law wear a green hat? Anyway, it's not like he can satisfy two women completely at this age, right?"

While Myne's thoughts were wandering in a weird direction, Sylphy, who had a pouted expression after seeing the perverted look on Myne's face, quickly pulled him out of her mother's heavenly bosom and gave a light slap on his head.

"At least don't make this kind of face for your mother-in-law, you big pervert," Sylphy said angrily, making everyone laugh.

Boom*

Just as the atmosphere was becoming more and more harmonious, suddenly the entire temple shook slightly with a loud splashing sound, as if a big wave had hit the 10-meter metal tall entrance gate of the temple.