

CHEAT AWAKENING

Chapter 3: Chapter 3. Godly Skills

While thinking about my Skills, I set out for home, while riding a cheap carriage.

There were about people in the carriage with me.

The awaking temple is located in the capital city and my house is on the outskirts of the Town of Lucas. My house is about half a day away from the capital city if I go by carriage.

Lucas Town is a relatively nearby town to the capital, with a population of about a thousand. Beginner advturers always pass through here, so It's a lively town.

Well th, since now I have some time let's try my new skills, first 'Appraisal', Myne thought.

While sitting in the carriage, which is shaking like an old man, I siltly used Appraisal on a muscular advturer in front of me.

As I did that, his information surfaced in my mind.

[ Name: Keith

Race: Hume (A/N: Hume is the name of the human race in this world.)

Gder: Male

Age: 3 Years Old

Occupation: C-Rank Advturer

[Skill]

One-handed Blade

Cleaning ]

His skills are... [One-handed Blade]and [Cleaning], huh....

It's a bad combination, isn't it? Although he has a stern face and looks quite scary, but he has an extreme gap in his skills and looks.

While thinking about [Cleaning]skill, I looked at Keith's skills with a little more focus, and information about his skill suddly surfaced in my mind.

[Cleaning]: Able to properly carry out efficit cleaning, wh skill level is increased, able to clean neatly with 0% efficity.

I see, so Appraisal can also give me detailed information, this is quite convit, Myne thought.

I think that it's probably because it's [Appraisal • Complete]and since there is 'Complete' behind it, that means it contains every type of Appraisal.

While looking at Keith's skill information there's a word that arouses my curiosity.

It's 'Skill level'.

I don't hear anything about skill level but the word seems like the more you use the skill, the better its ability becomes just how a new advturer always loses in battle with an old advturer ev if they have some skills.

Th If that is the case, the more I use skills, the more my skill becomes powerful. If so, th from now on I should use Appraisal skills everywhere, since this skill gives me the most advantage in battle, like how old people say, know about yourself, know more about your emy and you will never be defeated.

Next, let's see [Inventory].

When I activate [Inventory] a blue transparent window appears in front of my eyes that only I can see, I thought since I don't have a weird expression even though there is a blue transparent window floating in front of my face.

In the window, there are columns with every column having boxes. Everything I store in Inventory comes in those boxes.

Below the window, there is the word 'Page' written and in front of the word there are numbers written to 0, and after 0 there is the option of 'Next page'.

I click on 'Next page' and everything remains the same, the only Number that is written from 0 now changes into 40, which means every window has 40 pages and a 000 storage box.

Out of curiosity I continually click on 'Next page' but even after minutes I don't reach the end and now I am on pages number 34 to 360.

Doesn't that Awakening Host say that storage type skill like my [Inventory] only has to 0 cubic meters of storage, then why does it look like I have unlimited storage?

It seems that because my [Inventory] skill doesn't have a level cap in front of it, that's why Awakening Host thought that it is just a normal storage-type skill like others.

But seriously, unlimited storage! I can store anything in it and now I don't have to think about which item or weapons I bring with me when I go hunting. No need to worry about their weight, or numbers, I can bring everything with me, Myne thought happily with a wide smile but his sudden happiness doesn't seem normal in other passengers' eyes.

But Myne doesn't have time to look at other people's expressions since he still has more important work to do.

Out of curiosity, how my [Inventory] works, I took out silver coins from my pocket silently, after confirming that no one is looking at me, I thought about placing them into [Inventory], and just as I thought, coins in my palm shine a little bit and suddenly vanished from my palm.

I look at [Inventory] window and below the last storage box column, there is a new line written in normal language appears, there is 'Money' written on that, and below is the symbol of a silver coin, and in front of it written on that.

Then I thought of silver coins and out of nowhere silver coins appear in my palm.

This skill is so awesome! Myne thought excitedly while playing a little more with it.

After some more experiments, Myne put all coins back into his [Inventory], and just as he was about to close [Inventory], his eyes suddenly fall on the upper right corner of the Inventory window there is a circle-type symbol flashing continuously in low light.

I click on that symbol and immediately everything around me began to change, and in the blink of an eye, I appear in an open field grassland.

Just when I am looking a bit confusedly I suddenly realized that under my feet I can't feel anything.

I looked down but after looking down what I saw made my eyes pop out of the socket because of shock since I am flying 100 meters high in the air like a bird but without wings.

F*ckkkk!Ahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh...

How the hell did I come here, someone helps me, Myne shouted loudly, like a girl or might even better than a girl, and closed his eyes, while praying to every god whose name he knew, in hope that he could see a girl in shining armor to save him.

But even after more than minutes of falling, nothing happened, not only did his dream girl didn't come to save him but he also didn't fall to the ground.

This doesn't seem normal, Myne thought as he slowly opened his eyes and saw that he is still standing in the air without falling.

After calming down, he saw the weirdest thing of his life, that there is no sun in the sky but the light is everywhere like a normal summer day and as far as he can see there is nothing other than grassland, not even a single tree.

Myne looked a for some time and soon he become bored since there is nothing to see other than the vast grassland.

Just as Myne was thinking that how the hell he is going to go down but before he could ev finish his thoughts he suddly felt cold touch under his feet. he looked down and without knowing he was already standing on the g.

Wh did I come to the g? Myne thought while touching the g, to confirm that he wasn't daydreaming. After all, everything that happed till now with him doesn't look normal from any angle.

After confirming that he is really standing on the grassland that he saw from the sky, Myne finally, took a breath of relief.

Since there is nothing on the g to see, Myne started searching for a way to get out of this place, but just as he looked a he saw something that immediately attract his atttion.

There were some silver coins on the g. He hurriedly got down on the knee and took them from the g, but after seeing the coins carefully, what he saw left him completely speechless because in his palm there are exactly silver coins.

The number of these coins is quite coincidental, Myne thought suddenly a weird idea comes to my mind and he look at the infinite grassland without any d with a weird expression.

After thinking for a while, he said words and suddenly there is a bright light lit up in front of his eyes for a moment and when he opened his eyes again he was already sitting in the carriage.

Just like I thought, I was inside my [Inventory] skill, what a magical skill, Myne thought with amazement.

Then he look at the people inside the carriage and saw that nothing is changed, everything is the same as before he entered the Inventory, not even a single second pass. If I remembered currently that I am inside the Inventory for more than minutes. This means that inside the Inventory time doesn't work.

So no matter how much time I spend on the Inventory but not a single second will pass in the real world, after thinking about it, a big smile appears on Myne's face.

I don't know what kind of surprise my last skill is going to give me, first two skills are already powerful enough that if anyone knows about them, they might probably kill me out of jealousy. Let's see what can this skill do, Myne thought.

Wait a minute, Shit, I forgot that I can't use [Cut & Paste] in places with people. Since I didn't want to let other people know about my skills and bring me disaster. What a pain in the ass, Myne thought while looking outside from the carriage window to know how long it will take to reach his destination and after looking out carefully he found that it still takes some hours to reach Lucas Town.

Now, what do I do? I am feeling so bored, there is nothing to do, there are still 5 hours before the carriage reaches Lucas Town, if this goes like this then I am probably bored to death, Myne thought while looking at the passing trees.

Thinking such, Myne starts using Appraisal skill on all passengers one by one inside the carriage.

First, he looks at the girl sitting on his left side. She is the same age as him, she has long gre hair with a cute face and red lips. She has B-Cup size breasts and a good-looking body. She is wearing a blue dress with a long skirt that comes to her kneel.

she is currty sleeping peacefully, ev though I don't understand how she manages to fall asleep since this carriage is shaking a super old man who is already lived more than what he should have to and now he can kick the bucket at any time.

[ Name: Neha

Race: Hume

Gder: Female

Age: 5 Years Old

Occupation: assistant healer

[Skill]

Magic ▪ Healing-Low

Bandaging ▪ Extreme ]

No wonder she is sleeping peacefully, after all, having awaked super useful healing type skills and anyone after having expectations, and desire for something, and wh finally your that wish is complete, th, of course, you will be super happy.

If she doesn't awak those skills th she will also like others, go home, first cry op heartily, th work with her parts, after some time marry some ugly-looking rich random guy or uncle, give birth to a son or daughter for him, and spd the rest of her life boringly and die with old age but now, everything is chance, because of her useful skills.

From now on she has two ways in front of her, first, she can join any kind of organization, then she will have a peaceful life with a high monthly salary, there she also has a high chance of seducing a rich good looking boy from the noble house and become his main wife and then she can spend her rest of life like a queen.

The second way is, that in the excitement of having good skills, she can become a healer and join an adventuring party since they always have high demand because of their low number.

If she decided to become an adventurer and everything goes well and her luck stands with her till the end, then she might get a good team and she might become a pro adventurer, but if she was unlucky then who knows if in just her first adventure she and her team face goblin ( most common monsters that adventurers have to fight ) and lose the battle with them and she becomes the breeding product of goblins to give birth to new goblins until she can't handle it anymore and die somewhere in a random cave in the forest, Myne thought without expression on his face, this kind of things are not new for him, who spends most of his time in the forest, of course, he heard this kind of rumors every month, it's just that there are no goblins near his town otherwise he might have long since become their food.

Afterward, Myne looked particularly at everyone, those people don't have any good skills they are just commoners after all. Huh? Ohh shit, it seems like I am not going to home on time, Myne thought while looking at the last person's status with a frown.

[ Name: Gaskarth

Race: Hume

Gder: Male

Age: 3 Years Old

Occupation: Robber

[Skill]

Stealing hands ▪ Extreme

Dagger ▪ Extreme

Swift feet ▪ Normal ]

Robber! What the hell he is doing on this poor-looking carriage? Can't he find some other good or expansive-looking carriage, wh did robber's standers fall to this low?? Furthermore, he has two skills of Extreme level. With those kinds of skills, he still chooses to become a robber. Does the robbery profession have this much scope??

It seems like I also have to try this someday, Myne thought seriously.

But this is not important now, what is more important currntly is that this carriage is in danger, and how patitly he is sitting, it seems that he is waiting for the right time.

The Robber Gaskarth has a thin body, short black messy hair like a monkey, fox-like face that anybody just after looking first thought come in anyone mind is 'This man is not a good person, his face is perfect for scaring childr.

He was wearing a black t-shirt with wearied design and blue pants, he doesn't have any sse of clothes at all, he looked 0% loser at first sight that can't find a girlfrid ev if he searches the tire kingdom.

Right now he's sitting quietly and his eyes are tightly closed, anyone who doesn't know about him would think that he is sleeping.

Although there are some advturers on the carriage, but all advturer's ranks are too low and if Gaskarth attacks them with his skills, th it won't be long before they die without any resistance.

Myne looks at the robber and starts making a plan so he could deal with this trouble, The most ideal choice in this situation is that he run away wh those robbers are giving their speech or talking nonsse in order to scare passgers so they obeditly give their valuable things to them and if that can't possible th I will let them do what they want to do, anyway my all things are in my Invtory, so there is no chance that those robbers can rob me and wh they didn't have their focus on me, I would run away, Myne thorough with a frown.

Yes, this plan sounds nice, Myne thought but suddly his eyes fall on Gaskarth's dagger and an idea come to my mind.

Th Myne looks a and after confirming that no one is looking at him, he secretly casts [Paste]skill on Gaskarth's dagger and sticks his scabbard and the dagger together. Now, no matter how much he tried he can't use his weapon for some time.

Although It is my first time using it, but it seems like I somehow manage to use my skill without any difficulty, it felt like they were all part of me, Myne thought with a smile.

After that, he uses [Paste]skill to stick Gaskarth's shoes on the carriage floor.

Now wh he acts, Keith and other advturers might be able to deal with him, Myne thought while nodding his head in satisfaction.

After dealing with Gaskarth's matter, Myne again starts thinking deeply, since he also has to deal with Gaskarth's comrades, but while he is thinking of a way to deal with incoming trouble, suddly a magnifict idea pops up in his mind.
