

Cheat. A 42

Chapter 42. Interrogation

"Which Motherf*cker dare to ter my house..." Myne said angrily as soon as op the door with a bang sound. But after seeing the view in front of him, his remaining dialogue stuck in his mouth as he was too much in shock to say anything.

His house looked as if a storm has just passed through. Most of the small furniture are scattered all over the floor, and big ones like table, and chairs are brok into two or more pieces. There are bloody hands prints and scratches marks on walks.

And in front of the stair was lying the source of the previous loud sound, an unconscious man, and on top of him standing the youngest of Mightyana Trio, Myne's favorite his Little Doggy, who was happily biting that poor thief ass with such a great passion as if he wanted to separate them from his body.

Beside the thief stood the parts of Little Doggy with such a deadpan expression that ev if that thief accidtally move his body th he is probably done for.

Thank god, I already put away all my previous things in my Invtory otherwise those guys defiantly break them too, and what the hell is that unlucky thief ev doing in such a poor-looking house? Didn't he have a better place to rob than to try his luck here??

But still, no matter what to say at least those trio didn't waste my food and guarded the house quite well, Myne thought with a satisfying smile while nodding his head.

"Okay, Little guy, now stop biting his ass, otherwise, they will come out of their place, which certainly isn't going to be a good sight to see," Myne said while patting Little Doggy's hairy head.

After hearing Myne's voice Little Doggy immediately stopped what he was doing and stared at him happily with bloody a mouth.

"Baw! Baw!"

"I know, I know, it seems like we have an uninvited guest today," Myne said while taking the mask off from the thief's face.

Huh? This guy seems a little familiar it looks like I saw him somewhere before, Myne thought with a frown, but ev after thinking for a while, he could not remember where he had se him.

[ Name: Quill

Level:

Race: Hume

Gder: Male

Age: 9 Y/o

Occupation: Apprtice Assassin.

[Skill]

Lair LV: ( 3 ) ]

[ Lair ]

Description: A perfect skill for someone who wants to be a politician. After using this skill everything that the Host would say has a special charm it in, which will make it easier for other people to believe in the Host. The higher the level of this skill the more its effect would become powerful.

Special Note: This skill will work times better wh use on someone who is weaker than the Host.

Good skills, now it will be a little bit easier for me to make Aisha happy, Myne thought with a smirk and immediately steal both of Quill's skills.

Just as Myne closes his status window which now has two more skills, he finally remembers why he feels like he saw Quill somewhere, because he saw him in the bar 'The NIght Wine' from he brought information last time.

That guy was also there drinking wine in a corner and because at that time he was the only one other than Alex ( Bar Owner ) who wasn't wearing anything on his face, so Myne looked at him carefully so he could see what kinds of people choose to become an assassin, but after seeing that he is nothing but a young brat who can't even drink properly, Myne lost interest in him.

So he is that guy, who is drinking alcohol alone in a dirty corner that day, no wonder I felt like I saw him somewhere, so he is a fellow mate from the same job, huh. But since he is here, doesn't that mean somebody hire him to kill me? Why did I attract someone's hatred so much that he directly hired an assassin to deal with me?? Myne thought with a frown.

Forget it, anyway thinking about unnecessary things is not going to do any good, so instead of wasting my brain power why don't I just ask him 'who is his contractor?' Myne thought while taking out a chair and a rope from his inventory.

After which Myne picked up Quill from the ground and made him sit down on the chair and tied him tightly with rope. Then he brought a bucket of cold water from the bathroom and without any mercy he poured the entire bucket of water on Quill's face.

"Ahhhh...Whooo..."

As soon as the cold water hit his face Quill woke up immediately with an expression of shock and surprise, but soon his surprise turned into fear as he felt pain all over his body, especially on his butt, they are hurting like thousands of ants are biting him there.

"It's me your father. By the way, You wake up very easily, I thought it would take at least two buckets of water to wake you up, but well, now that you're awake why don't we have a little chat," Myne spoke rudely without making any kind of expression.

But after hearing Myne's words the other party didn't respond just stared at him with a calm face while trying to hide his nervousness and fear but because of his lack of experience, he was clearly not successful to do that.

"Well, I take your silence as an Okay signal. Then here my question is, Who is your contractor?" Myne asked.

"So you are that type of person who doesn't sell his life easily, huh? Well then how about this, tell me who wanted to see me dead?"

..." "

"Now, dude, you are really making things difficult for both of us, and believe me, this will defiantly not going to bring anything good to you," Myne said with a frown.

"Whom do you think you are talking to? Do you think that a real assassin like me is so easy to deal with that you asked something and I honestly answer you??" Finally, just Myne thinking that he should use some special way to open Quill's mouth, Quill spoke a little bit and successfully ignited Myne's anger.

"Good, so you are a real assassin. huh? That's nice then, I was thinking that I should go easy on you while torturing you but now it doesn't matter anymore," Myne said with an evil smile which made Quill's heartbeat stop for a while.

This is not what I mean, Quill thought but it was too late to cry over spilled milk because Myne already walked into his kitchen to take out his most powerful torturing weapon.

Soon while Quill cursing himself that why can't he close his mouth, Myne walks out from the kitch with a small metal box in his hand's size a 50 cm long, 50 cm wide, and 5 cm high.

"Now list closely, this is the last time I am asking you, tell me your contractor's name otherwise what going to happ next is not something that a child like you can deal with, so be obedit and tell me everything honestly, which f*cker sd here to take my head?" Myne asked with one eye closed and the other one wide op while trying to look dangerous but ev though everything is perfect like his acting, backg, speech, facial expression, especially his facial expression which was looking like a certain guy who has one eye, one wood leg, a hook in his hand and a talking parrot, but his oppont has something defiantly wrong with his brain, because although he was scared to death, still he has stubbornly chos to not op his mouth.

Did his contractor offer him his daughter as a paymt or something, otherwise why the hell does he care so much about him? Myne thought with a confused expression.

"I really do not know if I should praise you for your morale or laugh at your stupidity, but sigh, it does not matter anymore, sometimes people only learn after they experice it themself, and believe me that after this, you will also find out that wh you become captive of someone else, th it is not a wise choice to being stubborn in front of your emy and make him angry," Myne said while shaking his head helplessly.

Th he put down the metal cage on the g and took out a small bottle of honey from his Invtory. After looking at the gold honey bottle in his hand, Myne ops its cover and tastes the honey with his finger.

"Mmm, Grandma Fiona's honey was always the best," Myne said and come in front of Quill, whose legs already started shaking because of fear.

"Now it is too late to be scared, Quill, by the way, your little brother is like honey right?" Myne suddly asked something which caught Quill off guard, and just as he was about to ask what he meant by his little brother? And most importantly how he knows his name??

Myne without giving Quill any time to think properly, quickly loos Quill's tight pants at the waist and pour a little bit of honey on his little dick which was currtly in sleeping mode ough to wet it completely.

"What!!! What are you doing you pervert!! Don't come close to me, you madman," Quill after feeling a cold ssation from honey on his dick finally comes out from his shock and starts scouting nervously.

"Hohohoho...Now this is how a captive should react wh he becomes a prisoner of his emy, especially wh your emy was also an assassin," Myne said with an evil grin and after tasting honey a little bit more he put it back into the Invtory and pick up the metal cage from the g.

"Are you excited about knowing what was inside this box, Quill?" Myne asked while tapping on the box and just as he did that scratching sound start coming out from inside the box, and after listing to it Quill's soul comes out from his mouth for a while, but it retunes to its place as it is still little early for it to go to the afterlife.

"To tell you the truth Quill, at the start they are nice guys, and I like them in the house because of their hard-working nature, and thank to them my house was nearly freed from lizards and cockroaches, but after eating all the small insects in the house they start destroying my things, which of course, wasn't acceptable, and after giving me fare share of trouble I finally manage to caught them in this cage," Myne said with a smile while walking step by step toward Quill, and every time he took a step Quill felt like his worst nightmare is coming close to him.

"By the way, before we start our little show I forget to tell you that they didn't eat anything for the last 3 days."

"Okay, okay, stop it, I will tell you everything just take away that cage from me. Please, I didn't want to see that kind of dangerous thing in front of me," Quill said panickingly.

"Huh? But didn't you say that you are not going to say anything to me?" Myne asked with a mocking smile.

"That was before now I change my mind, but promise me one thing, that after I tell you everything you will release me immediately," Quill said nervously.

"Ohh, don't worry about it, I Myne swear in the name of my close frids Nila and Tila, that if you spoke everything true th I Myne would immediately relieve you from your suffering," Myne said with an expression like he is some kind of saint who comes out from mountains after spding a long time in mortification in order to achieve lightmt.

"That's good, th ask whatever you wanted to know," Quill said with a relive expression,

Oh my god, does he really believe in what I said? This 'Liar' skill is so awesome, it really works on weak people perfectly well. I am using it just after I got it, and this idiot believes my all nonsse, I just need to make things seem real and boom, he believes it. Too powerful, this skill is just too powerful, Myne thought with a surprised expression.

But Myne soon put away those useless thoughts and again become serious and spoke, "Th tell me who sd you here to kill me?"

"Well, I don't know much about my contractor, I just meet him some hours ago in the bar. He told me his name 'Lyle' and after giving me your details like backg date, address, etc, and 5 gold coins as compsatation for killing you, he quickly left the bar.

That's all I know about him," Quill said with a helpless expression, if only he had checked everything about Myne before carelessly tering his house, th he would not have be a prisoner and probably currtly sleeping in his house with his wife, but it's too late to think about such things because now his life is in someone else's hands.

So it is Lyle, huh? Such an idiot am I, how can I forget about my dear love rival?? Too careless, seem like after awaking I become quite lazy and reckless, I literally forget about my biggest emy just within hours after meeting him. Sigh, let bygones be bygones, it's time to finish this matter one for all, Myne thought with a poker face.

"By the way, do you know where can I find your contractor? Also how many people know that you come here to kill me??" Myne asked after thinking for a while.

"Yes, he said that if I have any problem during the mission th I can meet him in the Sunshine Inn, As for your second question, no one else know about it since it was a private mission," Quill replied without much thought.

That's good, save me a lot of unnecessary problems, Myne thought with a smile.

"So, since I already told you everything can you now release me, it is really not a pleasant feeling to have honey on your dick," Quill said nervously.

"Ohh, Sorry, I nearly forget about it, I immediately release you," Myne said with an apologetical expression while folding his hands in front of Quill for the apology.

Thud...

Quill: "Huh?"

Myne: "Oops!"

As Myne folded his hands in order to ask apology he accidentally or intentionally drop the mouse cage on the g, and just as the cheap metal cage touched the g, its trance opened for two big guys who were trapped in it to come out.

"Squeakkkkkkkk..."

Like the roar of an angry beast, Both mice come out from the cage like the behemoth after staying there for 3 continuous days without eating or drinking anything. Both mice have a head and body length of 6 inches and a body mass of g, brown pointy hair all over the body two razors like sharp teeth coming out from their mouth.

The first thing both mice did after coming out from the cage is raised their nose as high as possible and after taking some deep breaths they both looked at Quill or more especially towards his little brother's direction with eyes filled with endless hunger and excitement.

Then after making a little bit of noise both mice run toward the Quill like he is their long lost mother and finally today got a chance to reunion.

"No, don't come here, stop there, hey Mister, please do something they are coming close to me," Quill scouted while trembling fearfully and nervously as mice come close to him, but before Myne could even say something both of mice successfully enter in Quill pants too far away from Myne reach.

"Brother, please do something, they are already inside my pants," Quill said fearfully tears already start falling from his eyes just thinking about what going to happen to him.

"Calm Down, Quill, you don't have to be so scared, Nila and Tila are both good guys, they don't do any harm to you, at most they would do is just lick some honey on your dick, and that's it, so believe me you don..."

"Ahhhhhh..."

"Help me, they are biting my dick, it's hurting so much, help, please help me..."

Huh? Seem like after staying in the cage for too long both Nila and Tila become a little aggressive, or maybe because they are too hungry that they can't stop themselves and took a little bit on Quill's little brother. Humm, this is the most convincing explanation I can think of currently, Myne thought deeply while rubbing his chin, completely ignoring struggling and screaming Quill.

"Ahhhh, They biting more aggressively, please help me."

"Ahhh...Why are you still standing there, hurry up and open my hands," Quill shouted in agony.

Now since I think about it, it seems like I have read this kind of scene many times in books, when the hero gets caught by the villain.

The villain then brought the hero's lover on whom the villain also has a crush and just when he was playing house-house with her, out of nowhere the hero awakes unimaginable power and after breaking all fetters like they are made of paper, he beat down the villain and successfully completes the book with a happy ending. Then it is possible that Quill can also awake such a power?

Although I don't have his lover but his little brother is defiantly more important to him than his lover right?? Myne thought curiously while staring at Quill waiting to see the legdary momt wh he beat all odds and woke up his inner power in order to save his little brother.

"You bastard what are watching quickly release me, Ahhhh..."

Like this Quill's painful cry echoed throughout the house for nearly 4 minutes before Quill lost consciousness because of unimaginable pain and also the trauma of losing his dick.

Ah, I'm really expecting too much from cannon fodder, if he really was a hero how would he have be caught by someone like me? Myne thought disappointingly while shaking his head.

Th Myne took out a dagger from his Invtry and as he promised before in order to relieve Quill from his suffering he skillfully cut down Quill's throat.

"Why I am such a good person? I can't ev break my promises, Sigh..."

Now Only thing left is where to dispose of his body, Hum...Orcs will be probably happy to find some additional food on the road, right? Myne thought while placing his hand on Quil to put his body in his Invtry manually, as for why Quill didn't ter Invtry directly like before were just as he killed any monster their corpse immediately transferred into his invtory?

That was because after playing with Invtry for many days, Myne learn that wh he tered into Invtry, he could customize the Invtry corpse transfer feature as wise, like this time where he customize Invtry in such a way that after killing any Hume only his belongings except for the cloth on the body will be tered into it, instead of the tire body.

This way he could avoid a lot of unnecessary questions if someday he killed anyone in front of someone else.

Huh? That's weird, why isn't Quill's body going into Inventory? Don't tell me he is still alive?? Myne thought while again trying to put it into the inventory but even after trying more than five times, Quill's body didn't move from its place, but just Myne having a creepy feeling while standing beside Quill's corpse, his eyes suddenly caught movement in Quill's penis area.

Then Myne hesitantly looks inside the Quill pants with an uncomfortable expression, after all, unless you are a woman, or someone with unique taste peeking into a man's pants was of course not a good thing.

Before this Myne did it with a calm face because the situation forced him to do that and he could do nothing but act tough so his Liar skill worked more effortlessly but deep down he was cursing Quill's entire family, but now since everything is under his control Myne felt he might throw out all the food if he looked too much inside Quill's pants.

Despite Myne's unwilling expression he still peeks inside the Quill pants and immediately saw the cause of his problem.

Nila and Tila, Both little bastards were still glued to Quill's body, first one was eating Quill's little brother's remaining parts, and seemed like he liked Quill's little dick tested more than anything else, while the second one had nearly made a hole in Quill's upper area of his dick on which it's half of the body was already penetrated in it and he appears like he is more interested in Quill's internal organs than his little dick.

No wonder my skill isn't working so they are making trouble huh, Myne thought angrily, while grabbing his shoe from the ground and smash on their heads.

Squeakkk...

After getting hit by Myne two times both mice hurriedly run away from their place and after climbing down from Quill's body they quickly run toward Myne's kitch.

"Little Doggy, go and kill them, don't let them go, understood?" Myne asked while looking at Little Doggy with a serious expression.

Bow! After saying that Little immediately run after them, while wagging his tail.

"What a good child," Myne said while nodding his head happily while putting Quill's corpse into the Invtry and this time without any further accidt it tered in.

"Sigh...But it seems like tonight is going to be long, great people really can't take a break ev after working all day long," Myne said with a tired expression as he shook his head while looking at two moons in the sky from outside of the window. "At least tonight is a full moon night..."
