

Cheat. A 48

Chapter 48: Now, Where Am I?

"Huh! What was that noise? Princess, do you which monster's voice was that??" Aisha asked confusedly, in her tire life she never hears such a loud roar from any monster, and listing to its voice, it didn't look like it was happy.

"Ev though I can't say properly which monster's voice was but I heard from my father once that there is an extremely powerful monster living in the cter of the forest, which is also the guardian of this area and the tire forest is his territory. Do you know some momt ago we show a large amount of smoke coming out from in the forest?

I think for some reason there must have be a fire in the forest, which must have wok the guardian," Sylphid said after thinking for a while.

"But I never heard that there is such a creature in the forest," Aisha asked with a frown.

"Hehehe, Aisha, you are really quite funny, do really think that if a monster who can shake an tire forest just with its voice alone, if starts roaming a casually like any cat and dog, th tell me how many people will live to see next day sun?

And the people who know about it are either powerful high-level nobles under your majesty or powerful individuals, both of them don't care much about commoners, th tell how can you hear such confidial information?? Sylphid said while shaking her head. "By the way, this is really Myne's house?"

"Sigh, I think are right Princess, we commoners really have no right to know about such a thing, unless we saw it with our own two eyes. And yes, this is Myne's house, At least that's the address he wrote in his personal information," Aisha said confusedly while rechecking Myne's application form.

"Th why is it looking so deserted and haunted as if no one has be living here for a long time?" Sylphid asked with a frown while looking at Myne's courtyard and the outer appearance of his house.

"I think because Myne lives alone so he probably can't save time to take care of his house, after all, we both know that most of the m don't care much about cleaning," Aisha said a matter of fact with a helpless smile.

"I think you are right, my both brother also doesn't like cleaning much, if not for the fact they have to keep an image of the royal family in front of others, th they also ar't much differt from bagger on the road, I wt to their room once wh our maid didn't clean their room, and you won't believe me, for once that day I thought the pigs must be living in a cleaner place than him," Sylphid said with a little giggle.

Aisha just said "Ohh", and didn't commt on it, as she know that most royal's temper is quite weird, one momt they are laughing and talking with you happily like close frids, and the next momt wh they offd by your commt and stce you to death no one can predict it, so although Aisha seems to like talking with Sylphid casually but that not the case, she was extremely careful with her words so she doesn't offd this so-called Princess who has come betwe him and Myne from nowhere.

"So Princess should we go in or I call Myne out?" Aisha asked while changing the topic.

"Let's go in, what I want to say to him is a little serious, so it will be better if I talk to Myne in his house, where not only he feels comfortable, but our privacy also won't disturb anyone else," Sylphid said while tering Myne's courtyard without waiting for Aisha's reply.

But just as she took two steps into Myne's courtyard, three black dogs which were sitting under the tree in the courtyard suddly stood up and walk in the middle of Myne's house's main door, and Sylphid while making a dangerous look on their face, indicating Sylphid that she can't just ter Myne house without their permission and if she did th her title of the princess not going to save her from their bite.

"Amn, Aisha, why are those dogs looking at me with such hostility? Are those Myne dogs?? Sylphid asked calmly while raising an eyebrow, but after seeing Mightya trio deep down she is quite alert, and she is already holding her sword's hilt tightly, which she is hiding under her big robe.

"Sorry princess, I forgot to tell you about them, yes they are Myne's dogs, he once mtioned them to me, but I forgot to inform you about them," Aisha said while bowing deeply to Sylphid but unknown to Sylphid there is a big playful smile on Aisha's face, clearly, she knows about Mightya trio but just behave as she forgets about them.

"That's fine, but what should we do now, their unfridly faces don't seem like they'll let us in, and I don't want to use force either, because we're clearly uninvited guests here," Sylphid asked confusedly.

"Well..."

Just as Aisha was thinking how should she answer Sylphid's question, suddly an old lady come out of nowhere and stood behind them like a ghost and said with a fridly smile, "Do you need any help, ladies?"

Aisha and Sylphid are both suddly stunned after hearing a sound behind them and hurridly turn a to see who is it, th they saw an old aunty age a 40 years old, carrying a big basket filled with fruits on her head, and with a gtle smile on her face she starring at them.

At first, no one spoke for an tire minute, and both parties just stared at each other like owls, but finally, Aisha has to give up as Sylphid gave a wink, and spoke with a smile, "Um Aunty do you Myne who lives here?"

"Ohh, yes, I know him very well, he is a nice boy, he oft helps me, every time we meet in the forest, and by the way, I am his neighbor, although my house is a little farther from him, but compare to other people houses, my house is relatively closest one, hahaha," Aunty said while laughing for no reason.

"Th can you please call him out? As you can we are Myne's frids and wanted to meet him but his dogs are stopping our way," Aisha said while making a fake sad face, and pointing at Mightya trio, who were now just standing at their place calmly while staring at them like they are watching some kinds of drama.

"Ohh, dear, you don't have to fear them, although they look quite fierce, but they are really lovely, at the start wh I saw them I was also terrified by them, but after My introduce them to me, I find out that they are very easy going and cute dogs, especially that little guy, he is my and my daughter favorite, The fridly neighborhood Aunty said with a smile and after taking out a big fruit from her basket, she throw it toward the Little Doggy, who without any hesitation grab it with his mouth and after saying woof (thank you in his language), he started eating it happily.

"But still, we didn't want to try our luck, so you can just call him out?" Aisha asked while making a cute face.

"Of course, I would have definitely called him out if he was in his house," Aunty said with an innocent smile.

"WHAT! Are you saying that Myne wasn't in his house?" Aisha asked with a surprised expression.

"Yes, today morning I saw him going into the forest probably for hunting, by the way, you know he is a nice hunter like his father," Aunty said with a smirk after seeing Aisha's surprised expression, clearly, she was quite satisfied with her own performance.

After hearing that Myne is in the forest currtly, Aisha looked at Sylphid, who just shake her head and start walking toward the forest.

"Okay, thank you for your help Aunty," Aisha said while giving a quick bow to The Neighbour Aunty.

"Okay, dear, see you later th, and by the way, don't call me aunty, I am still quite young, you can call me big sister, Aunty said with a forced smile while handing a Momba fruit to Aisha.

"Ah... Okay, big sister, see you later th," Aisha said and after giving a final glance to the shameless Aunty who is forcing others to say her big sister ev at age of 40, she also left hurriedly.

...

*Cough, Cough...

"Haa... Finally came out of that damn water tide, who would have thought that wave would take me this far," Myne said while getting up from the g.

But now where am I? And most importantly which direction is the town?? Myne thought while looking a, but other than trees, a lot of trees, he couldn't see a single bird.

Now it's probably going to be a lot of trouble finding a way back home. Sigh, my clothes have also become wet, I have to change them, otherwise, I would get cold, thinking such Myne after finding a big tree, hurriedly took off his wet clothes and after taking out new fresh clothes from the Inventory, he wear them.

"Now I feel much better, okay, it's time to go home, today's income is already quite nice, it's not a wise choice to wander in the forest with such bad luck," Myne said with a frown and cast Double Jump skill to climb on the tree to see the direction from a higher angle but after coming to the top of the tree, he found that other the green trees, he can't see any other things around him, but luckily after careful observation, Myne saw a little glimpse of a river in between tree branches.

That should be the Noha river, if I follow its flow then I can probably find get out of this forest, and if I am not wrong then there is a village just beside the Noha river and Lucas Town is 10 km farther away from that village, Myne thought while rubbing his chin.

Then Myne quickly cast Double Jump sometimes and within some seconds he came to the shore of the Noha river. Then Myne started walking in the direction of the river flow but after walking for 10 or some minutes, Myne suddenly heard a commotion in front of him, which was so loud that he can even hear it from so far away.

"Huh? What is sound?? Is someone fighting ahead???" Let's go and see," Myne said and after thinking for a while he quickly cast Stealth and Preserve skills and followed the source of the sound.

Soon he came behind a bush and peeped slowly from behind it, and saw a four-member Orc team, two members were fighting amongst themselves while two members stood in the back making occasional comments, Might be making fun of the loser party.

But after seeing carefully a weird expression appear on Myne's face as he started at one of the fighting Orc with a deep thoughtful look on his face.

It's not because of how wonderful the fight is going, no, not at all, and to be honest, this fight is nothing more than child play in his eyes, where two big children are playing with wood sticks while shouting something, which of course Myne can't understand, but after seeing their expression Myne knows that they are trying to provoke each other with some unfriendly words.

So their fight is nothing serious and of course, can't grab his attention, but what really caught his attention is one of the Orcs, who was completely different from the Orcs he saw till now because that is a female Orc.

This is the first time Myne saw a female Orc before this he only hears about them from adventurers in Inn.

They say that most female Orcs are a little bit weaker than male Orcs but they are much smarter than male Orcs, although their muscles are not as bulky as male Orcs but they are more agile and fast, have more stamina, can do other technical and mental works, etc, because of those reasons most of the male Orcs felt little inferior and prefer Human women who were weak and easy to control for sex than female Orcs.

No wonder those guys in Inn, always talk about female Orcs, while saying that once you seduce or slaved a female Orc, then you can say that you won a jackpot, not only do you get a powerful bodyguard and a meat shield but also a perfect sex partner who will never get tired no matter how much you fuck her.

I have to say that those guys are right, although this female Orc is not as beautiful as they describe but still how can beautiful and sexy Orcs be found in the middle of a forest with three idiots-looking male Orcs? Those beauties either with high-level Orcs or in the most secure place in Orc's kingdom, Myne thought while looking at the female Orc.

Or more especially her huge E-Cup size gre color breasts which were jumping up and down nonstop every time she moved, and because she wore so few clothes, only a leather cloth a her breast area tightly so they do not hinder her movemt, and a small leather skirt a her waist, other than that, there is only a well-trained muscular meters tell naked body jumping a while showing her curve to the audice.

For once Myne ev saw her gre color pussy, thanks to her short skirt, which also confirm Myne's doubt that female Orcs and clothes have a deep mity betwe each other, otherwise, why do they wear so few clothes ev though they can easily get a lot of clothes anywhere? They didn't ev like to cover their most private part, this show how op-minded they were toward their outfit.

Sigh, unfortunately only her breast is something worth seeing in her, other than that she is definitely not my type, Myne thought helplessly while shaking his head, as for why he said that, because the appearance of the female Orc in front him is everything but beautiful, she has short gre hair, gre eyes, a big sharp nose, big lips and on the top of everything two big teeth sticking out of her mouth, not much shorter than any male Orcs, and a well muscular rock hard body, which is completely ruining her ladylike image.

Anyway, let's forget about that, there must be more beautiful female orcs out there, I don't believe there ar't any beautiful female orcs in the world, Myne thought while self-motivating himself.

Th he waited patitly till they complete their fight behind the bush, and wh both parties complete their fridly teeth-breaking match betwe each other till both of them become so tired that they can hardly get up from the g, and the other two Orcs who were watching in the backg, also let their vigilance down because of carelessness, Myne who was waiting for the right momt, first check their status and after confirming that they don't have any useful skills, immediately reacted and used his skill Speed Reduction on everyone in the Orc team, and th taking advantage of their confused state, he cast AoE Magic • Wind Maximum.

This time Myne didn't use both AoE skills together to cast his ultimate combined skill, or if I say more especially he didn't dare to use it, because after knowing that there is a super dangerous monster roaming a him, who can cast magic skills from many km away from its real body, that kind of guy is not something that Myne can probe with his currty puny power.

Who knows after seeing fire in the forest a second time, that monster loses his temper, and decides to deal with him, So isn't he unnecessarily inviting bigger trouble on his head, just to kill some weak bugs?

While Myne was thinking of all those kinds of weird things, the wind tornado had already come in front of the Orcs, who were trying to escape from it with their snail-like speed, but they couldn't break free from Myne's skill and devour by the tornado.

Soon all kinds of horrifying screams start coming out from the tornado, and because they are just normal Orcs, not like that Orc Geral, whose muscles are as if made of metal, so, of course, they can't take full power attacks of AoE skill, and within a few seconds both are reduced to pieces of flesh under the incessant bombardment of the Wind Blades whirling inside the Tornado.

After seeing that both the most powerful Orgs in their team successfully left the world without any accident, Myne also comes out from behind the bush, while showing his villainess face to both remaining tried Orcs who were trying to get up from the g with faces filled with deep fear and worry.

"Do you guys know which direction is nearby Hume Town?" Myne asked with a gtle smile, although he can't understand Orc's language but he still wanted to try it, to see if those guys can understand his words like those trio in his house or not, if yes, th he can also try to find a way to learn their language, this will probably come in handy wh in future he travels in the world.

But to Myne's disappointmt, after hearing his words those two guys, just stared at him confusedly, clearly, they didn't understand what he said.

"Sigh, It seems like ev my dogs are more special than you guys," Myne said while shaking his head helplessly and shot two Fireballs toward the remaining Orcs, which hit them without much surprise, and before they could ev scream from pain Myne again shot two Wind Blades and finish their lowly life peacefully just like that.

Since those Orcs were practicing so casually here, it means that their settlemt shouldn't be too far from here, Myne thought and again started walking with the flow of the river.