

Cheat. A 50

Chapter 50. Now, He Really Pisses Me Off

Ormanulunas after seeing that he can no longer steal time, put away his fake mask of being weak, just as two fireballs come in front of him, he smashes the butt of his stick on the g, and a firewall materializes in front of him, blocking Myne's fireball with ease.

"Let's begin the game..."

F*ck! How did he do that? I am definitely sure that I steal all his skills and abilities, then how did he suddenly make a firewall in front of himself? Myne thought dumbfounded and hurriedly used appraisal skills on Orc Priest again...

[Name: Ormanulunas (Orc • Priest)

LV: 44

Race: Demon Race

Gender: Male

Age: 45 y/o

Title: Life Sucker

[Skill]

None

[Ability]

None]

Weird there are no other skills on his status than how he is using magic? Don't tell me my appraisal skill isn't working properly, does it also need some kind of maintance or something?

As Myne was still in a daze staring at Ormanuluna's status without knowing that his oppont has already raised his staff high and pointed its shiny red crystal toward him while mumbling some incantation in a low voice.

And as Ormanulunas complete his final incantation the crystal on top of his staff produces a red light and in visible naked eyes a fireball more than times bigger than Myne's, suddly appears in front of it while hovering in the air. And as Ormanulunas wave his staff gtly, the fireball as if hit by a bat, shot at high speed toward Myne.

Ormanulunas low his stick and stare at every move of Myne, with a deadpan expression on his face, although he has shot a fireball times bigger than his oppont, but he doesn't have ev a little bit of confidce in his heart that his attack can do anything to him.

Because even now after spending so much time, he still can feel or use his skills, which is not a good sign, this is the first time in his long life Ormanulunas saw someone who can forcefully stop others to use their skills. And a person of such caliber, how can he be defeated by a weak attack like fireball?

Just as Ormanulunas was hoping that his anxiety might be wrong and Myne die on the spot from his attack, the fireball finally came in front of Myne who still didn't raise his head as if everything going against him and the fireball coming to burn his ass has nothing to do with him, but just as the fireball was about to hit Myne, suddenly a great transparent wall made of wind invisible to everyone other than the caster appears in front of him.

*Boom...

A loud explosion like someone detonated a TNT sounded in the forest, scaring nearby birds and animals to death.

Ormanulunas nervously watched flying dust in front of him, because he used too much magic energy to taste water just now, to see how powerful Myne is, the collision between Myne and his fireball was quite loud and explosive, which not only made him lose his balance but also produced a lot of such dust, blocking his sight.

Soon dust settled down and everything became clear in front of Ormanulunas, but after seeing the situation, for a moment Ormanulunas felt that it would be nice if he hadn't seen this scene and might as well run away from this dangerous Hume.

Myne was still standing in his place, safe and sound, without any injuries, but his mood was not good as his body condition, because although the Wind Shield managed to stop Ormanulunas' fireball attack but maybe because its levels were really too low or it maybe the fireball was too powerful, his Wind shield completely shattered after stopping the fireball, and because of it, even though Myne wasn't injured but he still has to deal with the aftermath of the explosion, which not only did his makeup with dust but also made many little holes in his clothes.

And this was his new dress which he just brought some days ago.

And as Myne had spent most of his childhood years in poverty without his parts while working hard, so even though now he has become rich compared to his old life before awaking, but his thinking was still the same as before and he is still a little stingy, so after seeing his newly brought clothes to damage his mood immediately drop from Casual to extremely angry.

Seeing Myne's uninjured and not so friendly expression, Ormanulunas without any hesitation took out a palm size yellow color liquid bottle, and after hesitating for two seconds, he crushed Myne's tire family in his heart and drank it unwillingly with one gulp.

Myne who was about to take action and beat the hell out of Ormanulunas, after seeing him drinking a mysterious potion, stopped his step.

After all, jumping on something you don't understand, can make him pay a heavy price for his carelessness, and also he didn't want his already damaged clothes to become explode completely in the middle of a battle and later he has fight naked, this is probably not going to be a good experience.

While Myne waited to see what kind of change is going to happen in Ormanulunas after drinking that unknown potion, suddenly Ormanulunas let out loud roar. No one knows whether he is screaming with pain or excitement.

Suddenly in front of Myne's surprised eyes, Ormanulunas's body started increasing evidently and soon he became a .5 meters big grey muscular giant, his grey eyes became red and started shining as if someone ignites a fire in them, His already big front teeth got even bigger like a mammoth, making him more uglier than before.

If his ugliness was 3 points before then now it raises to 7 points directly.

"Stupid Hume, now no one can save ya, ya force me to drink my only blood burning potion, which my teacher gave me for emergencies. Do you have any idea how much I have to pay for drinking this potion?"

You dirty worm, just die for me," Ormanulunas scream loudly, and the light in his eyes become more intense, and just as Myne activate all his defensive skills, Ormanulunas pointed his staff toward Myne and extremely hot fire shot out for it like a waterfall, and rush at Myne astonished speed. Till it reaches Myne, not only does its heat become unbearable hot but its size also increases to 3 meters.

Myne after seeing Ormanulunas attack, finally put away his careless and lazy attitude and becomes serious, clearly, he also finds out that things start getting out of control.

Just as Ormanulunas's fire was about to embrace Myne, he uses Double Jump skill, and after jumping on top of the fire, he landed behind Ormanulunas in order to make a surprise attack, but how Ormanulunas can't see it?

So as Myne land on the ground, an adult male's head size fireballs come in front of him to greet him. Myne who till now only won every battle through cheating and has literally no real combat experience clearly didn't expect such a beautiful surprise and was blown away by its stuporous power.

*Boom

With a crash landing, Myne falls to the ground on his butt. His Wind Shield again shattered from impact, and this time, Myne also tasted some of the remaining power of Ormanuluna's attack.

Although because of his other skills, like Rock Skin and Fire Attribute Resistance, he is not injured, not ev a little bit, but his clothes wer't as lucky as him, especially his shirt, which turn to ash, making Myne's upper body naked. But at least his pants were still in good condition, providing his little brother some security.

If it is also destroyed th the fight might really become interesting, with a boy running a, while his little snake jumping all a betwe his legs.

Sigh, here goes my new shirt, tsk, what a loss, Myne thought with a helpless expression, and just as he again cast a new Wind Shield a him, Ormanulunas, finish his incantation, and after raising his staff as high as he can, he looks at Myne and spoke with an ugly smile," Now say hello to my baby." After saying that he hit the butt of his staff on the g with his all might.

Just as Ormanulunas staff touch the g, a big red color magic circle size a meters emerges in front of him, and soon it is brightly lit in red light.

Soon in front of a country bumpkin like Myne's who doesn't know anything about the skills that Ormanulunas using, a big hand comes out from the g, th one more, th a head, and like this right in front of Myne's dumbfounded eyes, soon a big Rock Monster made of lava, a 3 meters tall come out from the g or from the magic circle.

Now, what the hell is this? Did he just create a Rock Monster made of Lava from out of thin air?? And how the f*ck is he ev doing all of this??? Myne thought surprisedly, only today he realized just how little he know about the world.

"Go, my child, go, and kill this damn Hume for me," Ormanulunas said excitedly.

"Roar...

Lava Rock Monster let out a high pitched scream and start running toward Myne, but because it was made of rock and have a lot of weight its speed was not fast.

After seeing that Rock Monster just look scary and powerful but its speed wasn't ev good as years old child, Myne let out a sigh of relief, th he use his newly brought skill AoE Magic Earth maximum.

As Myne did that two meter big brown magic circles appear on both sides of him on the g, and soon g under the magic circle start vibrating and two giant hands made of soil, raise from the g.

Just as magic hands completely took their shape Myne felt a strong connection with them in mind, as if they are his own limb, whom he can control as he wish.

But just wh Myne wanted to test his new skill, The Rock Monster has come close to him only 4 meters away from him, so he abandoned the idea of playing with his newly grown two rock hands, and commanded the left rock hand to grab the Rock Monster with his mind,

The left hand, after receiving the command immediately starts moving, and just as the Lava Monster comes in its range, it grabs the Lava Monster from its stomach.

Wait a minute, there is something wrong going on here, I clearly remember that this guy already uses 3 differt skills, th how can he still have more skills? Does he also got an Inheritance like me?? But I didn't see anything like a magic weapon on him??? Ormanulunas thought with a frown, for some reason, he always felt like something bad is about to happ to him.

Should I run away from here, anyway, I don't have much attachmt to Orcs in the settlemt if they die th die, I don't care. I was only working here because The Orc King gave me quite a lot of befits, so even if I run away, not many Orcs would care about it. But if I run away, then what happens if this guy tells everyone about my magic staff?

If news about my staff really reaches Hume's King then won't I will be hunted by greedy Humes day and night?? Ormanuluna mumble in a low voice hesitation can clearly be seen on his face, for a moment he can't decide what to do.

On one side While Ormanuluna was making the decision to run away and play it safe, or fight with Myne to death so his secret won't leak out. On the other side, Myne successfully stops Lava Monster from moving, and starts throwing fireball after fireball on the face of the Lava Monster nonstop, and only after the third fireball hit the Lava Monster did that damn guy die without a cry.

After the Lava Monster loses its head, its body tumbles a little bit and creaks appear all over the body, and soon with Bang, its body explodes and is shattered all over the ground.

Hoo, that was easy, I thought it would be a little challenging but it turned out to be quite weak. Just hold it in one place, then hit on his defenseless head, and Boom, game over, Myne thought with a smile while staring at the red rocks on the ground.

Then Myne took his eyes off the ground and looked at Ormanuluna, "Now, I also defeat your little baby, then why don't you obediently surrender and give me your staff? I promise you that I won't do anything to you."

Huh, dream on, I won't bow my head in front of an ant like you, and don't forget I am not alone, Saying this an excited smile appears on Ormanuluna's face, he looked behind Myne and shouted loudly, "My King, this little Hume is the one who is killing our people nonstop."

Hearing Ormanuluna shout a chill ran down Myne's spine, he hurriedly looked back but after seeing The King in Ormanuluna's mouth, he became completely speechless, because there was no giant gre Orc behind him but only a squirrel crossing the road. Clearly, first time in Myne's life an Orc, who is known for its low intelligence, fooled him.

"Motherf*cker!!!" Myne roared and looked in front but the only thing he saw is a fleeing figure of Ormanulunas who was already made a distance of more than 0 meters between himself and Myne.

"F*ck! Stop you coward, where do think you are going with my magic item," Myne said angrily and hurriedly chase after him.

Seeing this unknown to Myne a smile appears on Ormanuluna's ugly face.

*Bang

Myne who chasing Ormanulunas blindly, suddenly heard a glass shattering sound under his right foot, and when he subconsciously look down, he saw an unknown broken potion bottle casually buried in the ground. And just as Myne thought 'What is this' suddenly a red light shone under his feet and a fire pillar shot out from it, catching Myne off guard.

Ahhhhh...

Myne let out an ear piercing cry, but still, somehow jump out from the fire pillar saving his puny life. But he still wasn't without any injuries, because this time fire pillar power was much stronger than the fireball, so of course, Myne Wind Shield won't last much in front of it, and Myne have to take its full power head-on, which clearly wasn't a pleasant experience.

His body was a little burned in many places, his full size pants were burned and become shorts, with a black burn design, he also got a free haircut, his long silky sight hair become curly, overall now Myne only missing a bowl in his hands, to work on a well-paid job, the job of begging.

"F*ck! Now he really pisses me off, Who would have thought that one day an Orc would give me so much trouble?

But I have to say that ev though this man acts like an idiot but he is really smart, and because of his smartness, today, he is going to die in a very horrible way, no one can run away from me after making my hair like a birds nest," Myne said angrily with blood red eyes while wiping his face with his hand.

But just wh Myne was about to use his all skills to quickly catch Ormanulunas, suddly a familiar voice come from behind him, and as the voice die down three arrows passed from the top of his head, and at extremely high speed they all hit the back of Ormanulunas.

"Myne! Don't give up, we are coming to save you!!"

"Roarrr..."

"Huh...?"
