Chapter 57: My Name is Sylphid Augusta

"This novel is actually much better than the last one, and those techniques are really better, I should also try them wh I get the chance," Myne spoke while reading his novel in his house.

After waking up he found himself alone in June's house, clearly, once again June left for her work, without saying goodbye to him. So waking up Myne eat ready-made breakfast which June left for him, with a sweet Thank you note, on which she wrote how much she joy last night, and if he have time, he can come to her anytime, no matter where she was, she won't sd him back without making him happy.

Such a nice girl.

So after coming back home, Myne first made food for Mightya Trio, th he cleaned his house, and dirty clothes, took a comfortable bath, and now relaxed a bit, as today he has no mood to go out for hunting. Since he already has quite a lot of skills, which he needs to practice, and some of the skills he doesn't ev understand, nor did he use them until now.

So today his plan is fixed, if nothing unexpected happed th just going to stay at home, reading novels, practicing his skills, and later go out to do some shopping, and tomorrow on a date with Aisha.

The book he is reading is called 'The Twilight of Love,' writt by famous author Kuru Nightwalker, whom people also knew as the Father of Perverts, because of his world-class writing and storytelling skills about love betwe m and wom, and something m and monsters (Female).

People have long since ago recognized him as the greatest writer of the kingdom, it is said that a 90% of his fan following are well know perverts, who would buy his book on the first day of publishing, and support him full heartily.

Most of the people are really crazy about his books because he writes all kinds of bizarre and unique sex techniques which can make any wom cum in a matter of seconds, and there is no man with a right mind who want to cum before his woman, so you can say that he is also a great teacher who teaches people about love, and now he becomes ough famous that people going to crazy to meet him, but alas till now no one has to seem his face.

"Omg! We can also do that?! Such creative thinking, who would have thought that there is also such thing as pussy tower, this is really eye oping," Myne said while imagining three beautiful girls in front of him laying on top of each other while placing their butts in front of him with wet pussies on top of each other.

"One day, just you little guy, one day we also going to do that," Myne spoke to his excited little brother while adjusting his dick position in his pants.

"Knock Knock..."

Huh? Who comes at this time? Myne thought and op his door, and saw a man with a height of a .8 meters wearing gold knight armor head to tie, standing in front of his main door, with a gold sword hunting on his wrist.

Behind him stood Little Doggy with a curious face, while continuously taking the knight small.

"Who are you? What do you want?" Myne asked with a frown.

"I was just passing by here wh a lady said to me that she wanted to meet you, but your dogs are coming in her way, so I am just coming here to inform you that come out and meet them. Okay, that's it," The knight said and after nodding his head, he turned a and walked toward where he come from.

And after he left Myne's eyes finally fall on Aisha and that robe girl, who was standing at his house trance.

"Yo, what a great surprise! Did you guys actually sd a royal knight to knock on my door? I don't know you have so much power," Myne said jokingly with an op arm trying to give Aisha a hug but she show her fist, and Myne's inner excitemt immediately die down.

"Myne, this Miss wanted to talk to you," Aisha said directly coming to the point while pointing at Sylphid, who was trying to act mysterious in front of Myne while nodding her head.

"Okay. Th come in, let's talk inside the house. By the way, what is that royal knight doing in our town?" Myne asked while leading Aisha and Sylphid inside his house, and Little Doggy giving him company.

"The guild leader called them to deal with the Orc King. And I have a piece of good news, they already dealt with the Orc King and his settlemt, I just saw two royal knights carrying the Orc King's headless body," Aisha said excitedly, clearly she is happy that now she doesn't have to worry that the Orc King attack on the town at any time, and she has to flee from here.

"Now since you mtion this, did those guys find any woman in the settlemt? I think I heard a woman cry yesterday wh I found the settlemt," Myne asked suddly remembering that unlucky woman whom an Orc kidnap for his fun.

"Ohh, you mean Amy? Sigh, they can't save her, they said that till they reach her, she had already become food for rats, and they also mention that her dad wasn't peaceful, poor lady, I heard that she recently remarried," Aisha said sadly with a voice filled with full of sympathy.

"Sigh, life is just like that, without power, you never know when someone come f*ck you up," Myne spoke in a saint-like tone.

"So what do you guys like to take? Tea or fruit juice? Myne asked with a smile while changing the topic.

Aisha and Sylphid are both taken aback after seeing Myne's speed of changing topics. But both of them didn't say anything as they also have nothing to do with that poor woman.

"We didn't need anything I just wanted to talk to you," Sylphid finally opened her mouth and said while removing her hood.

"No, no, how can this be possible, you guys are my guest and the guest is akin to God. So how can I not serve my God?" Myne said a very beautiful slogan with a smile, that he read in a book some time ago, and after guiding both of them to the living room, he walked into the kitchen, prepared tea with some fruit salads, and placed them in front of them.

Both Aisha and Sylphid said thanks, and after taking a sip of tea, Sylphid started talking.

"Now then, let's start with self-introductions. To tell you the truth till I meet you I always thought that I am quite famous in the kingdom, but after meeting you, I finally throw out this thought from my mind, and accept the reality."

Is she such a famous person? Th why the hell I can't remember who is she, Myne thought confusedly after hearing Sylphid's intro, and to clear his doubt he hurriedly look at Aisha who was sitting at his right side.

Aisha after seeing Myne's confused face, Just said sorry with her lips without making any sound, took the plate of fruit salad from the table, and start eating while playing with Little Doggy, clearly, she has no inttion to interfere with Sylphid's task.

"So let me officially introduce myself, I am Sylphid Augusta, this Kingdom's first Princess. if by any chance you've heard of it, I have be also giv an exaggerated title called Princess Knight," Sylphid said proudly with a big smile on her face.

"Ohh, so that's you, I've heard a lot about you, but because of my financial condition, I never wt capital city, so I hav't se your face before, Princess, so please forgive me, for not recognizing you," Myne said politely while bowing his head a little bit.

But in his heart, he is crushing himself for not using Appraisal skills before, and now he has to act carefully in front of this Princess, whom only god knows what the hell wants from him.

Also to tell the truth, he never has heard about her, he only knows that there is a crazy princess in the kingdom who likes making trouble, and always runout from the royal palace to mess a wearing silver armor.
