Chapter 62: Resignation From The Guild

"So, do you have anything to say to me that you are trying to hide?" Myne asked Aisha who was lazily sitting on the couch, just after returning to his house after giving Sylphid farewell, technically getting rid of her.

"No, why do you ask so?" Aisha replies calmly.

"Nothing, I am just a little curious and surprised at how easily you give away your one and only the world's cutest boyfrid to another girl, without ev blinking," Myne said while sitting beside Aishe.

"Hahaha."

"Sorry, I thought I heard someone saying that he is the world's cutest boyfrid. Sorry dear, but although you are indeed cute but not at that level that I can consider you the world's cutest, also you and I both know that what we did is not our own will, we were forced by circumstances, and can't do anything about it," Aisha said helplessly while shaking her head.

"Sigh, maybe you are right, but I am still a little sad because I thought that you would start fighting with Sylphid after hearing that she wanted to steal your boyfrid.

Still, you just calmly accepted her all proposals without hesitation, one time I ev felt like you are her agt rather than my girlfrid," Myne said while making a fake sad face and th lay down on the couch and put down his head on Aisha's soft thigh.

"Th what do I need to do to make you happy?" Aishs asked with a smile while stroking Myne's hair.

"Nothing, but if I get a nice kiss, th maybe I can become happy," Myne said innoctly, looking into Aisha's eyes. ( And giving all single readers, as well as the Author a huge amount of damage, after reading their romantic conversation. )

"Huh? That is? I thought you would ask something more interesting, but well th, since you just need a kiss," After saying that Aisha slowly lowers her head, and her hair falls on Myne's face, which she sides away with her hand and locks her and Myne's lips together.

*Kiss

"So how does it feel shearing your boyfrid with another girl and that to a princess," Myne asked with a smile after taking off his lips from Aisha's.

"To tell the truth, currty I am just wanted to beat someone, that is how I am feeling but I also know that vting my anger on others not going to give me any peace, and it will only make me more irritated on my lack of power," Aisha said with a sigh.

"Don't worry, no matter what happs I will always be on your side," Myne said the same cliché line which every protagonist uses to hook their girls, and surprisingly this trick always works for them.

Th he gets up from Aisha's thigh, sat beside her, pulls her toward himself and gives her a tight bear hug while saying, "Idiot, you don't need to beat someone for peace, you just need a big warm hug."

"Now do you feel better?" Myne asked while patting lightly Aisha's back.

"Yes, at least now I don't have the mood to beat someone," Aisha said with a smile and buries her head in Myne's chest with closed eyes.

"Okay, so I am going to the guild to kick their worthless job, and till I do my work you prepare a room for me because from now on I going to live with my Lord husband," Aisha said while leaving Myne's to embrace.

"Huh? So quick? And if you live with me th what about your house?" Myne asked curiously.

"Ohh, about that, don't worry, the house whose addresses I give you last time is not mine, it was giv to me by the guild leader on the rant, and now since my Lord Husband have such a nice house, th why the hell am I going to live in that small house?" Aisha said while giving Myne a wink.

"Okay, but do you need any help carrying your luggage? And please can you stop saying that Lord Husband, it is so weird to hear," Myne said helplessly while rubbing his forehead.

"Sorry Lord Husband I can't do that, as my mother also said that calling your husband by his name is very ominous," Aisha said with a playful smile.

"I see, well th, let me tell you an interesting thing, my mother also said that if your wife doesn't list to you obeditly th you should do this," Myne finished talking and like a bear quickly grab Aisha from behind and began to tickle her.

"Hahaha...stop"

"Haha...stop it... hahaha, I said.. stop it, otherwise I will beat you to death. hahaha..."

That idiot ruined all my clothes, and because of his continuous tickly, I laughed like a maniac on the g. This time Myne did too much, I have to take revge, evil for evil and tickle for tickle, yes, but for that, I need a foolproof plan, Aisha thought with a smile while walking toward the guild.

After messing with Aisha for some seconds Myne stops tickling. Th Aisha give Myne a sweet bump on his head for his notorious action and left his house.

As it was already Afternoon, and lunch break time, almost the tire guild's main hall was empty, Aisha ter the guild like always, but today instead of going to the staff room, she directly headed toward the guild leader's office.

Knock Knock.

"Come in," A familiar voice comes from the guild leader's office which she has heard countless times before. Aisha op the door calmly and saw Guild Leader Bazzam who was eating his lunch but surprisedly his head was covered in bandages as if he was hit very hard by something or someone, while Mia serving him like an obedit child.

"Ohh, my dear Aisha, come in and have a seat. Do you want to eat something? I have a lot of food here," Bazzam said while offering Aisha a plate filled with all kinds of vegetable salads.

Why today everyone offering me salads? Can't anyone have something better to offer than those things? Aisha thought and shook her head, "No thank you guild leader but I just did lunch and I am not hungry."

"Th tell me, what kind of good news did you bring today for me, as I really need it very much now as rectly my luck is not very good, Bazzam said with a sigh, And Mia behind him after hearing this a bright smile appear on her face, which she quickly hid.

"Well this is indeed a piece of good news for me but I don't know about you," Aisha said with a smile.

"Th tell me quickly let's hear what type of news it is," Bazzam said with a smile while drinking a mouthful of soup.

"I want to quit my job."

Puff!

"What! "

Both Bazzam and Mia scouted loudly.

"What did you say, you wanted to quit your job? But it has only be 3 or so years since you start working here. If is still too early, why are you wanted to leave so soon? Do you need raise in your salary? Or needs more holidays? I can give both to you if you want," Bazzam tries to persuade Aisha so she won't quit the guild.

At this moment In the tire guild, he and Aisha are B-Rank adventurers, who can manage the guild if things go out of hand or someone dares to mess a, but Bazzam is old now and as the guild leader he has too many other guild's related works to do and can't stay in the guild all the time.

So most of the time he handed security work of the guild to Aisha, but now if she also left the guild then doesn't he have to take a big hit on his reputation if someone did something wrong behind his back and no one can stop it?

"Sorry guild leader, we were together only so far, but still thank you for all your support till now, if you haven't helped me that day maybe I would have taken some kind of bad decision, for which I would probably have had to suffer all my life.

So thank you, and if someday you need any kind of help, please don't hesitate to ask help, I will do my best to help you, also I'm moving from your house, so you can send someone to lock it before night as there are a lot of thefts these days," Aisha said with a smile, and after giving a deep look to dumbfounded guild leader and Mia who wanted to say something but didn't know what to say, she stood up from the chair and walked out from the office.

Bam!

Just as Aisha closes the door, Bazzam collapses on the chair while taking heavy breaths, clearly, Aisha's good news hit him very hard.

"Ahm, Grandpa?"

"What!"

"Do you want more Eggplant curry? Remember what grandma said that if you didn't finish the tire lunch th you are again going to sleep outside today. So, do you want more?" Mia asked innoctly while looking at her tired grandpa who look like a dead fish.

"Hahaha! Give more, give me this motherf*cker Eggplant!" Bazzam shouted scaring the hell out of Mia, but she still handed the tire bowl of Eggplant curry to her grandpa, who start eating like a bagger who didn't eat anything for many days, while tears continuously coming out from his head, and those tears are definitely not of happiness.

Sigh, why are vting your anger on me, Since it is clearly your own fault, who ask you to hide so many things from Grandma? Mia thought while shaking her head helplessly.
