Chapter 63: Moving to Myne House

Aisha after coming out from the guild leader's office went toward the staff room, there in front of her old colleague's confused face, she grabbed her belongings from her locker and walked out. The entire process happened smoothly and silently, no one bothers her, or even ask her why she picked up her belongings.

Then she headed toward her rented house. After entering her house, she hurriedly starts putting all the things that belong to her into her storage pouch, like clothes, furniture which she bought from her own salary, etc.

"Sigh, today this house looks much more clean than regular," Aisha said emotionally while giving a final look at her old house in which she had spent three years of her life.

"But life is all about moving forward," After saying that Aisha closed the door and returned to Myne's house. This entire process took her a 5 hours, most of her time goes into selecting which item she should bring with her, and which she just left behind.

After coming to Myne's house, she again saw his three big dogs only the little one is cute, but the other two always give her a feeling of danger, she always felt like those two didn't like her very much.

Little Doggy after seeing Aisha hurriedly came to her, and started running between her legs, clearly very happy seeing her again.

Seeing this a smile appears on Aisha's face, and she kneels down and started stroking his hair lightly.

Little Doggy, who was of course very happy to get a free massage from a beautiful lady, Immediately took advantage of the situation and lay down on the spot and put his stomach in front of Aisha, while indicating her to stroke there as well.

After playing with him a little bit, Aisha bid farewell to Little Doogy, and walk into Myne's house, and Little Doggy of course didn't take her farewell seriously and started following her.

"Bow? Bow bow bow bowww? Woof woof woofff, bow bow bow bowww bow bow," (Honey? Don't you think that our son rectly becoming more and more naughty? He starts playing with everyone he saw, without caring about the rules which I told him every night,) Mother Dog said while looking at her son who just ters Myne house to play.

Hearing his wife worried voice, Father Dog op his eyes, and after giving a quick glance toward Myne's house, he looked at his wife, and said calmly, "Woof Woof bow, bowww bow boow, Woof boow bowww bow boooooowww, woof woof bow bow bow woof.

Bow bow bow woof woof woof, wuuf wuuf bow bow bow bow woof woof, bow bow bow, bow, bow bow bow, woof woof bow woof, bow bow," (Don't worry dear, nothing going to happ him, and he is just a child, it is normal for him to be careless, and playful. We are also like him wh we were childr, so just let him do what he wants, till he is with our saviour nothing going to happ to him.

If you don't believe in me, th believe in our Ancestor, they have se the world which we can never see, and have knowledge that we can't ev think about, so saw some trust in their vision, if they say that person who has Aura like the sun will be our race saviour th let trust them.)

"Woof Woof," (I hope so,) Mother Dog said concernedly with a sigh. Clearly, Father Dog, spiritual talk didn't give her too much comfort but made her more worried about her upcoming future.

"Myne! I am back," Aisha said after entering the house, then she smelled a very nice aroma of food, which made her already hungry stomach cry out in excitement, then without hesitation she walked into the kitchen.

"Welcome home," Myne replied from the kitchen and when he wanted to go out to greet Aisha, he saw her walking into the kitchen.

Myne walked toward her with his arms wide open to give her a hug, which this time Aisha didn't avoid, let Myne hug her. Seeing that Aisha is in good, after releasing Aisha from the hug, he quickly lowered his head and gave her a passionate kiss.

At first, Aisha was a little surprised by Myne's sudden kiss, but she actually doesn't mind much about it, and in order to show joy, she fully wrapped her both arms around Myne's neck and started kissing him back.

Their kiss lasted a two minutes and when Myne's naughty hands started wandering to Aisha's big boobies, she pushed him away.

"For this, you still have to wait a little," Aisha said with a smile, and sat down at the dining table.

Hearing Aisha's sweet talk Myne just gave her a helpless smile and started serving her food, as it was already dinner time.

"So did you finish your work?"

"Ohh yes, everything is done, although The Guild Leader was a little sad after hearing about my resignation, but other than that nothing unexpected happ, by the way, did you make all food?" Aisha asked with a surprised expression after tasting the food.

"What do you think?" Myne asked back with a smirk.

"Ev if someone gives me 0 gold coins I am not going to believe that this food is made by you," Aisha said without hesitation while showing her blind trust in Myne's cooking skills, which hit his little heart very hard.

"Thank you for your trust at least this show how well you know me," Myne said with a fake smile, while placing a small bowl filled with meat in front of Little Doggy.

"And yes, I brought that food from The Valuable Lady Inn, you know those guys really experts in making all kinds of delicious dishes," Myne said sitting down opposite Aisha.

"Okay, but don't do that again, as from now on, I am the in-charge of the cooking departmt and everything related to it, you can hand them to me without any worry, after all, I am a master chef," Aisha said with a smirk while giving Myne a wink

Yes, jackpot, finally, goodbye to outdoor food, and full-heartedly welcome homemade food, Myne thought happily while clching his fist.

Myne and Aisha newly become couple have a lot of things to share with each other, and a simple dinner which should be finished in 30 minutes took them a and 30 hours to finish it.

Little Doggy had long since ago returned to his parts, at first he was also a little excited that someone would play him, but after waiting for an tire hour and seeing that no one giving a f*ck about him, he just left Myne's house siltly.

"So do you want to take a bath before going to bed?" Myne asks, and Aisha shook her head in reply.

"I have se your bath house, and it is not that good that people wanted to take a night bath in it, so just forget about it, today is a very busy day and I am already a little tired, so I just wanted to sleep peacefully," Aisha said.

"As you wish th, let me show you our bedroom," Myne said with an uncontrollable smile while heading toward his bedroom.

"What do you mean by our bedroom? Shouldn't it be my bedroom?" Aisha asked playfully without caring about sharing a bed with Myne, anyway, both of them have already proposed their love for each other, so it was only a matter of time before they would sleep together.

"Haha, sorry dear, but as you can see, I live alone for such a long time, and not many people come to meet me, so I never need to buy a second bed, although you can take any room of your choice, but in the tire house, there is only one bed, but believe me my bed is big ough that we both can comfortably sleep on it," Myne explains hurriedly while oping his bedroom door.

"See is not it big ough?"

"Well, you are right this bed is ough big for both of us," Aisha said after seeing Myne's bed, but wh her eyes fall on the other object in the room, her mouth oped wide with surprise, and she asked with some doubt, "Myne did you rob someone treasury or something? How the hell, do you have so many antique things in your room?"

"Ohh those things, those are not mine, those's are my parts' stuff, they like collecting valuable old things, at first those things are placed in various corners of the house, but for fear of theft, I put the most precious one into my room, and sold the rest," Myne said without ev blinking while calling someone else things which he has stol to his own.

"Omg! Th your parts are really quite awesome, if you sell all those things in your room to the right person, th believe me you can defiantly get a 5 to 0 platinum coins," Aisha said while carefully looking at the painting hanging on the wall.

"Really, th those staff are quite valuable," Myne said casually, he stole those staff to decorate his house not to sell them and earn money, they are his trophies, which make him remember his first assassin mission, so how can he sell those memorable things?

"By the way, from now on I am also going to live in this room, you don't mind about it, right?" Aisha asked while making a cute puppy-like face.

"Of course, I don't mind, how can you refuse a request of such a beautiful lady," Myne said with a smile.

After which Myne helped Aisha with her luggage, and after half an hour of work both of them finally lay down on the bed.

"Don't ev think about doing anything bad in sleep, got it? At least not until I give you permission, do you understand," Aisha said suddly while looking into Myne's eyes.

"What kind of image do you have about me in your mind? A pervert one? I am a 0% pure gtleman who respects wom, not a lustful beast who only thinks with his little brother," Myne said with a sad expression.

Seeing this Aisha also felt like she indeed said too much, so hurriedly ask apologies, "I am really sorry, I was just saying casually, you don't have to be sad."

"Sigh, okay I forgive you this time, now let's go to sleep it's too late, also," Saying here Myne hurriedly took his face forward and give Aisha a quick kiss, "Hehe, Good Night wifuu."

"Hey! What did you say?" Aisha asked but Myne already cover himself with his soft quilt.

"Well played, Myne, at first I didn't want to give you trouble for what happed afternoon but with this, you are already points ahead of me, which is not acceptable, I had to give him a surprise," Aisha thought while making a better evil plan for tomorrow.

"Good Night you too Lord Husband," Aisha said and closed her eyes as well.
