Chapter 64: Aisha's Prank

Next morning.

Myne slowly opened his eyes and the first thing he saw is an empty bed beside him.

"Huh? Where is Aisha?" Myne thought confusedly and saw the clock beside him which shows that it is only 6 o'clock in the morning.

"Where did she go, such as early in the morning?"

After which Myne quickly got up from the bed, adjusted his little brother in the pants which were still hard, and wanted to do some action but sadly his wish was not only to fulfill, at least not today. After doing that Myne walked out of the bedroom, and found Aisha in the kitchen who was making breakfast.

All kinds of different dishes are placed on the table, and there are also two glasses filled with red juice which looks like wine, but Myne clearly remembers that he never buys wine, so it should be juice.

"Ahh, Myne! Good Morning. I didn't expect that you wake up so soon," Aisha said seeing Myne walking into the kitchen.

"Good Morning you too," Myne said and after embracing Aisha, he gave her a deep morning kiss and sat down on the dining table before saying, "You know as a hunter if I don't wake up early in the morning for hunting, then later as the sun rises high in the sky, it becomes difficult to hunt a monster, so most of the hunters prefer to hunt early in the morning, because of this it becomes my habit to wake up early."

"By the way, why did you wake up so early? And you don't have much problem finding those ingredients right?" Myne asked, although last night he already took out most of the food-making ingredients from his inventory and place them in the kitchen so Aisha doesn't have any problem making food later.

"Well, I woke up so early because today is my first day in your house, and I wanted to make a sweet breakfast for you while giving you a surprise but alas you woke up early as well, and ruin my all hard work, sigh," Aisha replied while sticking her tongue out with a forced smile.

"I am so sorry I didn't know that," Myne hurriedly apologized, without even thinking that what the hell he even saying. Love really blind people reasoning.

"Idiot if you know about it, then how can this be called a surprise?" Aisha said while shaking her head. "Anyway, can you help me a little bit? Taste this soup and tell me if anything needs to be added to it."

Saying that Aisha give Myne a small bowl filled with a red colour soup, which look quite suspicious at first glance as all ingredients mixed in it have technically no combination at all, but Myne who only cares about eating didn't think too much and quickly took the bowl from Aisha, and drank it in one gulp.

"Huh? Why this soup tastes so weird...?"

"Ahhhhhhh..."

Just as the soup giv by Aisha touched Myne's tongue, as if someone put lava onto his tongue, Myne felt hot, extremely hot, so much that Myne never ev felt it before and a loud scout escaped from his mouth.

Scaring the hell out of a certain group of the trio, who hurriedly come into the house to look into the situation, but after seeing Myne running into the tire house like a mtally handicap patit, they also stop at their place, not knowing what to do. But Little Doggy's confusion only last for two seconds before he finds out what to do.

He also starts running behind Myne while giving him company.

"Myne! What happed? Why are you behaving like this?" Aisha asked concernedly while behaving like she know nothing about Myne's weird condition.

"Water! Give me water, so spicy..." Myne spoke in a weird brok voice, and it took Aisha some seconds to understand, what Myne was saying.

"So You are saying that soup is too spicy?" Aisha asked with a frown.

"Yes, now give me waterrrrr..."

"Ohh, sorry, here, drink this sweet juice, this will be more helpful than water, Aisha said while giving Myne a glass filled with red liquid on which bubbles continuously explode on its surface once in a while.

If Myne were in normal condition th maybe he could notice those details that this liquid doesn't look like sweet juice from any angle but as his mouth was burning in fire because of spiciness, he just grab the glass filled with red liquid from Aisha's hands and gulp down it as well.

This time there was no such a thing as ear breaking noise, but after drinking the red liquid, Myne stood at his place like a statue, without any kind of emotion on his face.

For a while, there was deadly silce in the kitch, and just wh Aisha was thinking that her grandma's special red super spicy chilly sauce has no effect on Myne, suddly she notice smoke coming out from Myne's ears. Th he starts breathing heavily like an old grandpa who might kick the bucket at any second, and th tear also start escaping from his eyes.

Bang... The glass of red liquid fall on the g and shattered into pieces while breaking the silce.

"Ahhhhhhh..."

This time Myne shouted so loudly that Aisha has to cover her ears.

"Water, water, water. where is the hell is waterrrrr..."

While Shouting, Myne hurriedly runs toward the back side of his house, and without further thinking, he directly jumps into the well.

"Bang..."

Aisha and Mightya Trio also come out from inside the house, and together they look into the well and show Myne crazily drinking the water.

"Well, it seems like Myne's tongue can't handle my grandma's super spicy sauce very much," Aisha said playfully while looking at miserable Myne with a satisfied smile, she finally took her revenge with interest.

After hearing Aisha's evil tone, Mightya Trio gave her a deep look and made a little distance from her, they all felt like this woman is not a good thing, and it is better to not mess with her. Her interest rate is a little too high.

"Aisha, why did you do that?" Myne asked angrily after coming out from the well while taking the towel from Aisha.

"Sorry, dear, I didn't expect your tolerance toward spicy things to be so weak, today is a special day for me so I made my grandma's special sauce, which I am eating since my childhood, but who would have thought that it has such a big reason on you," Aisha said while making a sorry face, and crocodile tears flowing out from her eyes. Which immediately pours cold water on Myne's anger.

Seeing Aisha's tear, Myne forgets all his anger and embraces Aisha quickly while trying to calm her down, "It's okay, since you did it unknowingly, so I'm not angry with you, now stop crying and let go and eat something, but first please put away all the things in which you have put your grandma's special spicy sauce, Myne said while patting on Aisha's back lightly.

"Okay, let go then. Otherwise food would get cold," Aisha said and started dragging Myne toward the kitchen.

"I won't lie to you but it's really been a long time since I last eat with someone in this house, contrary to the usual quiet breakfast where I only filled up my stomach alone, I had completely forgotten... This feeling which I haven't felt since Mother and Father passed away..." Myne said emotionally while drinking water, he still felt as if his tongue was burning like hell.

"Ohh, then I will try my best that you never have to do breakfast alone," Aisha said with a smile while placing some sweet fruit on Myne's plate.

"By the way, Aisha, can you give me some more information about the clan? Especially how many clans are there in our kingdom, and what kind of work they do," Myne suddenly remembered about the clan system which Sylphid explained in a hurry but there are many things which she didn't mention, so he was still a little curious about what kind of work those clans do.

"Ohh sure, well most of the things are the same as Sylphid had said, like the clans are private organisations with better services, and professional workers, compared to the guild which is more of like an ant nest, than a good well-disciplined organisation."

"The guild is contented accepting requests from commoners, so it does basically all kinds of jobs. On the other hand, Clans are more focused on requests from nobles, the royal family, and rich merchants."

"Also Clans are different from the guild, they won't accept just any kind of request even from rich and high-level people, but take the jobs which are the speciality of their clan. This is also the reason why most of the guilds are so famous."

"At this moment, there are several Clans in the Kingdom of Augusta, but there are only three major ones."

"The first one is the Clan 'Alchemist Library' which was founded by the Second Prince Lewis. As the name suggests, it is mostly focused on alchemy. Famous people who want to further their alchemy knowledge gather there, and even the Second Prince himself is an alchemist with considerable ability, so you can understand its position."

"Next is Clan 'Soaring Sandstorm,' which is founded by a former S-Rank Adventurer, Cass. This Clan consists of nothing but former high-ranked adventurers, and it's a group that specialises in close combat and cold weapons.

They seem to follow a weird belief because of which they only took people who only fight with their body and have nothing to do with magic, but on the one hand, they say that they don't like magic users, but on another hand, they happily accept people with healing magic skills. They undertake escort and subjugation type requests. Technically they are more gangsters than adventurers.

"And the last one is the fairly eccentric Clan 'Tamers Ring.' As its name suggests, it's a clan centred around a beast taming. They collect precious magic beasts, tame them and then either work with those beasts or sell them in other kingdoms.

The members of this Clan primarily receive requests along the lines of collecting raw materials from various beasts, and it seems there's a former S-Rank adventurer named Tales as its current master."

Well, those guys with weird names and different hobbies don't feel very powerful, especially the last one, I think that guy created his clan to make a zoo, in which he can place all his pets but later probably because of other people's pressure he started doing a beast selling business, Myne thought.

"Since there are many nobles and other high-level rich people, who bring their special requests to those Clans, most of them have a fundamental duty of confidentiality.

So no one can know about them, otherwise, it can become very bad for their reputation, because of this reason clans have so much support from higher up in the kingdoms, which is why those clans are so famous, and every kingdom can only give permission of creating so handful of clans," Aisha said with a smile.

"And main the reason nobles and Royal family don't use the advture guild is because it has many ruffians people as members, and they don't think that they'll be able to uphold their confidtiality obligations.

But because of those clans' strict requiremts, Noble and Royal's families still needed the help of normal advturers, for this, they choose those famous advturers with high reputations and good personal strgth to do their work. My meeting with Sylphid also happed during this kind of mission," Aisha said while cleaning dishes, and Myne was helping her.

"So technically speaking In our case, we are also going to take the same path as Soaring Sandstorm right?" Myne asked after some thoughts.

"Well, you can say that, but we are differt from them as we don't have any kind of problem with magic skills user like them, anyway, let's talk about it later wh Sylphid return, but for now, give me some money," Aisha said with a smile while moving forward her hand in front of Myne.

"Why do you need money, suddly?" Myne asked confusedly.

That's because I am going out to meet my frids, and while coming back I wanted to buy some necessary supplies for our house, tell you the truth, after seeing your bathhouse, and gard condition, at first I thought that I come into an abandoned zoo, I don't understand just how busy you are till now that you don't ev have time to properly take care you own house," Aisha said helplessly while shaking her head.

"Hahaha, about that, you see most of the time I spend in the forest while hunting, only in the evening do I come back to home, so I never actually have time to take care of the garden as for the bathhouse.

You might have already noticed that it is too old, so I am always thinking about renovating it, but because of money problems I can never have a chance to do that," Myne said while rubbing the back of his head while laughing awkwardly, and then he hurriedly runs into the bedroom, put 10 gold coins into a normal pouch from his inventory and after coming back to Aisha, he gives pouch to her.

Aisha casually opened the money pouch given to her by Myne but after seeing it filled with gold coins, she opened her mouth widely in disbelief, "Don't you say that you lack money?"

"Ohh, that was before my awakening, but now I have a little bit of saving," Myne said with a smile.

"Well, I am going then, you take care of yourself," Aisha said and this time she gave a kiss to Myne of her own sweet will.

And then before Myne could take advantage of the situation, She hurriedly ran away from the house.

"Tsk, run away, such a nice opportunity got out of hand," Myne said dissatisfiedly before walking toward the bathroom, to attend the natural call.
