Chapter 68: Lightning Edge

"Oyy Myne! What are you doing here?"

Just as Myne left the armor shop and was about to walk toward his house, someone call him from behind.

Myne turn back and saw Aid, Ethan's elder brother, waving at him.

"Nothing, big bro Aid, it's just my previous armor got destroyed because of some accidt so I come here to buy a new one. But why are standing outside instead of doing work in the shop?"

Don't tell me you are attracting customers, if so th I think you might as well hire a beautiful girl for this job, otherwise, people would only avoid your shop after seeing you at the trance of the shop," Myne said jokingly.

"Brat, you are talking too much today, it is not good for your health, and I am much more handsome than you think," Aid said a smile that doesn't look like a smile while showing Myne his big fist.

"I am just returned from work and saw you coming out from Ethan's shop, so I thought of saying you help, but it seem like I was wrong, you didn't need any goodwill, you just need some nice beating," Aid said.

"Yes, Boss, I also think so, why don't you show Myne that legendary move of yours, which you use once to punish me when I ruin your date with a beautiful girl?" Suddenly Kofi appeared out of nowhere behind Aid and started giving him unnecessary advice.

Hearing a voice from behind, Aid turned and saw Kofi standing behind him, with a big chick leg in one hand, and a bowl filled with noodles in the other, while staring at them with great interest as if waiting for a nice show.

"Kofi! What are you doing here? Didn't I give you the task of checking all the materials in the warehouse, and making a report about them? And is that chick leg the one I placed in my drawer before going out?" Aid asked after seeing the familiar cooked chick leg with butter all over it in Kofi's hand.

"Ahm, If I say that I bought this chick from the market do you believe me?" Kofi spoke innocently while slowly taking his step back.

There was suddenly silence on the scene and Myne expected that Aid would go mad and beat the hell out of Kofi for eating his lunch, as he knew just how much Aid cared about his own food.

It doesn't matter if you eat food in front of him, but if you dare to eat his own food in front of him, which most of the time he prepared himself, (There are too many benefits if you can't find yourself a girl, like you can learn how to make food, in your free time.) surprisingly didn't jump on Kofi to beat him, but just wave his hand and dismiss him.

And Kofi also in view of the fragility of time, gave Myne some gestures with his one hand while placing his bowl down on a chair, asking him, if he wanted to go out with him for some fun, which Myne refused with hesitation. He would be the world's biggest idiot if he left his sweet wife home alone, and spent time with a loser like Kofi, who most of the day only knows how to eat other people's food.

"Anyway, let's forget about Kofi, I will deal with him later, but now let's come to the main topic, Myne do you still go to the forest for hunting? I heard that recently forest is not safe anymore," Aid suddenly asked a serious question while walking into his shop and gestured to Myne to follow him.

"Yes I know about it very well, but currently I have no other job to do, so I can only go there," Myne said with a smile, anyway he is saying the truth, till Sylphid returns with good news, he really has no new plan other than going into the forest for hunting.

"Well if that is the case then let me show you something, maybe it can help in your journey," Aid said after thinking for a while, then he walked into his personal room at the back side of the shop.

Myne waited a minute when he again saw Aid with an arm-length size box in his hand.

"Here take this, this is a special item that I got some years ago, maybe you like it," Aid said and handed the box to Myne with a smile.

Myne quickly opened the box and a big dagger of the same length as his arm, with yellow coating and many gold patterns all along its blade, and looked very mysterious at the very first glance.

[Name: Lightning Edge (Dagger)

Attack Power: +99

Grade: High

Attribute: Lightning

Effective Against: Demon Race

Special Effects: Critical Hit 3% Chance

Description: A dagger made with a mysterious force, and come out from the heart of Thunder Lion King, attach to a certain dungeon.

Strong Against Humanoid Monsters]

Huh? A Magical item? And that too attack type? How the hell, did Aid get his hands on such a rare item? And if he wanted to buy this kind of weapon like Amma th ev if he sell his all property ev th he still can't gather ough money to buy it, Myne thought with a dumbfounded expression.

Today he really can't believe just how lucky his day is going, just in a day he not only saw two magic items, but people are also very willing to give them to him, of course, if they don't ask for money th it would be more perfect.

"This dagger is a drop from a dungeon guardian, and it's said to have a magical attribute," Aid said while looking at Myne who is carefully stroking the dagger as if it was his child.

"Said to have? What do you mean?" Myne asked confusedly.

"Wh the guy who got this dagger in a dungeon used it, it was clad in lightning.... However, since that guy died, the dagger has never be clad in lightning no matter who used it.

Because of that, there's now no one who believes in its worth as a magic dagger, and everyone thought that this is just a normal dagger, with fake weird patterns on it to raise its value," Aid said with a helpless smile.

Huh? Is Aid joking with me? How can he not recognise a real magic weapon, and ev if no believes in him, can't he just go to the magic item shop, and let those guys check it? Those guys deal with magic items all year , so they should clearly have something to check if it is fake or real, Myne thought with a frown on his face.

"Sigh, don't look at me like I am an idiot, I know what are you thinking, but just as I said this dagger is dropped from a dungeon guardian, so it is fundamtally differt from the typical magical items we show in normal shops.

I also bring it to them for verification, and those guys said that it is fake without hesitation," Aid said while shaking his head, clearing Myne's doubt about his intelligce.

"The truth is, the person who brought this back with him from the dungeon was a frid of mine. That's why I've se him using lightning attacks from it before. That's why I can say with full confidce that this is a magic dagger, but I think that there's some condition that needs to be met before it can show its real power.

But before that, it's just a dagger with a slightly good performance and a sharp blade."

"How about it? are you interested in it?" Aid asked after telling the dagger's backg story.

Well although Aid didn't tell me how to use it, but with my smart mind, it shouldn't be too difficult to learn how to use this dagger, right? Myne thought and decide to buy it, anyway at the d of the day it is still a real magic weapon, who knows wh it comes in handy?

And he also has a hce that he has se this dagger somewhere before, but not remember if it is just his illusion or something else.

"Okay, I am interested, what is its price? "

"Let me see, considering the fact that it's a real magic dagger, at the start I want to sell it for 5 platinum coins, but... after too much time has passed, and it is still unclear whether you might be able to use it or not. How about 50 gold coins?" Aid said after making a rough guess.

F*ck, so cheap, why didn't he say this before, Myne thought and hurriedly spoke in fear that Aid might change his mind.

"Deal, th from now on this dagger belongs to me, here is your money," Myne said and quickly give Aid a single coin, which made him frown.

"I have already giv you such a huge discount but you still wanted to buy this dagger in instalmts, don't you feel shame," Aid said helplessly while taking the coin from Myne but after seeing that the coin wasn't gold but platinum he was shocked.

"Why did you give me a platinum coin? Don't I say that it is not clear if you can use this dagger or not," Aid said while looking at Myne with a complicated expression.

"It doesn't matter, I believe in you, since you said that this is a magic weapon, th it is, and I am really not so selfish that I take advantage of you who have tak care of me so much," Myne said making Aid very emotional.

"Hehe, you are really such a nice boy, come here and give your big brother a hug," Aid said trying to give Myne a hug, but he swiftly avoided his hug, and have no inttion to hug his smelly body.

"By the way, you don't mind if I take this dagger as well right?" Myne asked while taking a pitch-black crude looking dagger from the shelf.

[Name: Dagger of Origin

Attack: +

Grade: None

Attribute: Growth

Special Attack: None

Description: A dagger made with a mysterious force, and come out from the dungeon filled with dark ergy.

Strong Against Humanoid Monsters.]

"Ohh that dagger, sure you can take it free if you want, this is just a useless dagger sold to me by a drunker who needs money to buy a drink," Aid said causally.

"Thank you," After saying that Myne said goodbye to Aid and headed toward his home.

Aid looked at Myne back until he can no longer be visible, before releasing a heavy breath.

"hey, Dyne, it seems like your son has finally become an adult, now he doesn't ev fear Orcs and can fight with them very bravely, can you believe it? I still remember wh I first time counter an Orc, I nearly lose my life if you hav't saved me at the right momt back th.

And after that day I can never gather ough courage to fight with any Orc again, but here your son like you playing with them as if they are dogs."

"Haha, Maybe I shouldn't give up that time, Sigh, those old painful memories. By the way, The dagger you sold me that day so you can gather some savings for your son...

Haha, today I handed your dagger back to your son back, sorry although I charge some fee for safekeeping it till now, as you know my business wasn't going well," Till saying that tears start falling from Aid's eyes, but the smile on his face never faded as continue talking while looking at the floating cloud in the sky.

"It seems like I becoming quite emotional now, my old frid.

I hope you be happy wherever you are, and don't worry I will always give my utmost support to your son if he ev needs it, but looking at his super-fast growth, I don't think he needs the help of an old man like me..." Aid said and after looking at the sky for some more minutes, he calm down his emotions, and after wiping tears from his eyes, he return to his shop, to deal with a certain fellow who dare to eat his food without permission...
