Chapter 7: Chapter 7. Selling The Orc

What a great way to start a day, I just get my skills yesterday and today I kill an Orc, If people know about it, th probably a long line of people will appear in front of my house in just a matter of some days, Myne thought while walking toward the town.

Ev though I hardly recovered some of my lost ergy but now the forest is too dangerous to stay in one place and take a rest.

I think that's the danger the new town gatekeeper said about, but how can forest inspection teams doesn't find out about the Orc? After all, Orc is quite lively monsters, wherever they go, they are so much disturbance and trouble that ev the capital city knows that Orcs appear in a certain region, Myne thought with a frown.

Thank god's that I have a skill that can improve my sight, otherwise if I carelessly walk in front of the Orc, th I probably become that Orc's morning breakfast.

But thanks to this evt, I find out a good and safe way to get more powerful skills.

Now I don't have to take risks while stealing other people's skills.

After all, if I steal too many people's skills, and wh they found out that they can't use their skills, th, of course, this will attract some unwanted people's atttion in this matter and one day someone will probably find out that every time someone loses their skill, I am always prest there, and with all kind weird skills that people have in the world, they will currty find out about me.

You should never underestimate people's greed.

Now if I think about it, if I want to get more powerful skills, th being a hunter is not going to work, since I hardly know anything about monsters.

If I continue as a hunter, I will only counter those normal monster that doesn't even have the ability, let's not talk about skill. Naturally, if I can't get more powerful skills then my growth will also be affected by this.

So how the hell I am going to find them and steal their skills without sufficient information? Myne thought angrily.

It looked like I can only join the adventure guild. Adventure guilds provide all kinds of information, as long as you have enough money but in some special cases, you also need status.

But, if I became an adventurer, not only guild will give me some common information for free but they also provide missions to adventurers and as an adventurer, you also have the right to know everything about the mission from the guild.

So while doing a guild mission not only I can make money but can also kill all kinds of monsters and steal their skills, Myne thought, while using his skill to run since they don't consume too much energy like Magic skill and he already recovered enough to reach the town.

Even though I went deeper into the forest than usual in order to hunt mutton sheep but with the help of skills, in the blink of an eye, I run out of the forest and arrived at the entrance of Lucas town.

The new gatekeeper was still standing in his place with closed eyes and looked like he is sleeping.

Myne just looked at him a little bit and walked into the town. Myne has no intention to tell those lazy guards that today he finds an Orc near the town. Because of their laziness, if he doesn't have powerful skills, then now he might be having a reunion with his parts in heaven. Since they can't do their job properly, then why the F*ck does he care about it.

After that, I headed straight towards the usual butcher old man.

Yes, he is the one who gives me the wrong information about Strom rabbit. Although he is a good person, and that was also what I thought till today but that was a big mistake. By the way, He is also one of my father's old friends but he has a great problem, he likes to listen to gossip and rumors too much like women.

The Butcher old man looks like 50 years old man, with fat all over on his body, he also has a big jelly-like stomach. He has black short hair, brown eyes, a wild beard, a 1.8-meter height, and a pig-like ugly face that can easily scare children, rumours say that if you unexpectedly see him in the middle of the night, then the only thought that comes to your mind is that "Ohh shit!

Why did pigs start to walking on two legs?".

All in all, if you compare him to a normal person then he is just levels above from ugliest man in Lucas's town, and this is also because he is rich.

[ Name: Booj

Race: Hume

Gender: Male

Age: 47 y/o

Occupation: Butcher, Pro Merchant.

Title: Gossips lover.

[Skill]

Small Enhancemt ( Small )

Art of Negotiation ]

Huh? Does he also have a title?? Myne thought in surprise.

"Ahh! Myne, my boy, good morning, how was your day, BooJ said, after seeing that I was walking toward him.

But I don't answer his questions and just took out my dagger and throw it toward BooJ with all my strgth ( without skills ).

Seeing the dagger coming in his direction, BooJ Immediately looking something to stop it, since he knows that if he didn't do something, th he will probably not have a good night's sleep for many days.

Just as the dagger was 5 meters away from him, BooJ grabbed a wood plank from the counter and use it as a shield, while successfully saving his jelly-like big tummy.

Although BooJ looked like a big fat pig, but I heard that in his younger days, he was also a fighter, who fight for his living. so of course, he has some battle experice.

Kid, so are you finally lost your mind? that's why I always used to say, that you should have come with me to learn, how to joy life, but you never list to me, now look at you, you attacking this old man without any reason, BooJ said while putting wood plank to its place.

The first thing is that it's afternoon now not morning and second, what, do you mean without reason, Thanks to you old man, 3 days ago I almost lost my life from storm rabbits, and now you are asking me a reason? Myne said while taking back his dagger from the wood plank.

What! th why don't I remember anything about this? Booj said while making little distance betwe himself and Myne.

I sat down at the counter table and start telling him the story about the Strom Rabbit incidt.

After wiping fake sweat from his forehead Booj said with a frown, "But that advture said that he defeat a Strom Rabbit with just one attack."

"And what was the level of your this so-called advturer?" Myne asked while rolling up his shirtsleeves and a cross-shaped vein se clearly on his forehead.

"I think he was a C-Rank advturer," Booj said but after seeing Myne, he already know that if he didn't do something, th today no one save him from a nice beating.

"Old man, are you lost your mind? Ev after knowing that I didn't ev awak my skills, you still tell me half story," Myne said angrily while grabbing BooJ from his collar.

"Sorry, Myne, it's all my fault okay, how about this, as an apology for all this incidt, everything you sell me for the next two days, I will buy at the doubled price."

We'll since, you are apologizing so sincerely, th deal. I accept your apology, Myne said without hesitation, while releasing BooJ's collar.

Mission accomplished, Myne said in his mind, in order to get compsatation from BooJ for the last incidt, he did all this drama so can make some profit.

So, what do you want to sell today, BooJ said with a serious face, wh the matter comes to business, he never take thing lightly.

By the way, Today I have something special for you, Myne said while putting his hand into the storage bag so others think that he taking out something from his storage bag and started taking out the meat of both red ear rabbits and Orc from his Inventory, and placed them on top of the counter one by one.

... Huh? Oye kid is that's orc meat??

Yes, that's right. With the skills that I was awaked to yesterday, I somehow managed to defeat an Orc.

Wait a minute, but where did you find the Orc? Booj asked hurriedly.

This kind of question Myne already predict ev before tering the town, so he doesn't ev blink while saying in Booj's ear, list now what I am going tell you is a super secret, so remembered not to say anything about it.

Today wh I go to the forest for hunting, for some reason, I didn't find any prey for a long time, so I decided to walk in the cter of the forest, and wh I reached there I saw a heavily injured Orc, who was just some momts away from last breath.

So I waited and soon he kicked the bucket and die without peace but that was not my problem, so after that, I shot some arrows at him and wh I confirmed that he is really dead, I took advantage of the opportunity and hurriedly dismantled him.

After taking away everything precious and useful from him, I returned to the town.

I think he have a big fight with some other monsters and run away towards our town after being heavily injured, Myne said with a serious face.

I should try to write a book, after all my imagination is at a completely differt level than my other skills, Myne thought in his mind.

Booj after hearing Myne's story thought a little and said while making a not-so-good-looking smile, Yes, I also think that he run towards our town by mistake, otherwise if there are Orcs in the forest th forest inspection teams have long be known about it.

Myne nodded his head to Booj's statement, and he even gives some compliments to the forest inspection teams but in his mind, he is abusing the forest inspection team's several generations.

If every kingdom has people like the forest inspection team, then I guess demons would have dominated this world long ago.

But still, you did good work kid, not many people can stay in one place and look at the situation clearly after seeing an Orc, most people pee in their pants after seeing them, Booj said while laughing but jealousy can clearly be seen on his face.

Seriously?! I see so you finally become an adult huh, kid? To be able to defeat an orc by himself, you must have got such a great skill.

I can see clear jealousy in his eyes towards my skills but what can he do about that, after all, he doesn't have [Cut & Paste] skill.

As for why he didn't ask anything about my skills, that's because generally, it is a courtesy not to ask about others' skills, and asking about it can easily make the other party unhappy.

Ev though most people don't ask about other people's skills but there are also some cases wh someone joins an advturous party or do some mission with a team they have to tell other about their skill in order to make a so-called perfect team fighting plan, that never works well and there is also peoples who like tell others about their skill to gain publicity like King or almost every noble in the kingdom, or every common person, wh he something good, he will tell everything about his skills, you just have to say some good words to him and that's it.

While thinking about those things, I finally take out all the meat that I intd to sell, Orc meat that I wanted to sell to Booj is not ev half of its original quantity.

By the way, Orc meat is very expsive of want to buy, because not only does Orc meat contain magic ergy that is quite useful for our body but its tastes are exceptionally good and there are not many supplies of Orc meat on market, since not many people can kill a healthy Orc.

One more reason why I didn't sell ev half of the Orc meat, that's because I wanted to give some of the Orc meat to my big sis Maya.

"Hmm, you're really good at dismantling, kid, your Orc meat Weight is 60kg and by the way, in order to celebrate your adulthood, I give you % more money for this trade."

While saying such, Booj took out some coins from his Dirty pant pocket and handed them to me.

"Here you 5 gold and 50 silver coins."

Myne who already considered himself a rich young man, of course, he didn't put this little amount of money in his eyes. He just nodded lazily and put away coins in his pocket.

Seeing how careless Myne is with money, that he doesn't ev count them, Booj frowns a little but didn't say anything, after that he starts arranging all meat that Myne just sold him.

But what Booj doesn't know was that, just as he started his work, an evil smile appears on Myne's face.

This f*cking old man has giv me a lot of trouble in past, now it's time to settle all old accounts with interest, Myne thought and oped his Invtory and use his one and only gold digger skill stealing hand on Booj.

By the way, although Booj looks like a normal butcher shop owner, whom you might think a poor ghost but in reality, he is listed as the most money-making person in Lucas Town.

So without any hesitation, I continually use [Stealing hands - Extreme]on Booj, who is placing orc meat in boxes that are filled with ice, while using stealing hand, the only thing I am thinking about is gold coins since I didn't want to see his dirty and smelly underwear.

After using stealing hand at least a 3 times on Booj and only after I felt that nothing related to gold was left on Booj, did I stop.

After that, I hurriedly said goodbye to Booj and left for the alchemist shop, because I know that it's will not take a long time before Booj find out that someone has rob him in broad daylight.

While walking towards the alchemist shop, I oped my Invtory with full of excitemt, since not only did I finally take my revge on Booj but I also rob one of the richest people in the town.

[ Money: Gold Coins ( 50 ), Silver Coins ( 88 )]

OMG! I stole nearly 350 gold coins from Booj. No wonder people called him gold piggy, he probably made tons of money daily, otherwise whom the hell put 350 gold coins in his pocket?

He probably doesn't trust his people, which is why he keeps all the money to himself. By the way, what kind of face does Booj make, wh finding that someone has robbed him without him knowing, I hope he doesn't have a heart attack, Myne thought with big smile plaster on his face.
