Chapter 77: Aisha's Test

Myne after coming out from the portal took a deep breath and looked at Little Doggy beside him with a smile.

"Okay, little guy, now you go back to your parts, playtime is over."

Woof, Woof.

"Deal we play again tomorrow," Myne said and rub Little Doggy's head, and ter his house.

Little Doggy also obeditly run back to his parts while waving his tail in excitemt to tell them about his exited advture.

Myne ter the house from the backside door and was tak aback. His house which just this afternoon was mostly empty now is now filled with all kinds of furniture, and carpets, in every corner of the house there was a magic lamp hanging on the wall, giving light so powerful that his house was Illuminating like it was middle of the day.

Some weird looking paintings of birds, The sea, and fishes, are also hanging on the wall, and those things are in just the living room Myne doesn't know what Aisha had bought for other rooms, especially for their bedroom.

Did she really buy all those things in 0 gold coins? As far as I remember the price of the painting is not cheap, and that big brown and blue colour couch doesn't look like something that can buy in just a doz or so gold coins, Myne thought while confusedly looking at all the new things Aisha bought, and heading toward the kitch as the sound was coming from there.

Myne ter the kitch and saw Aisha wearing a black and colour erotic apron on her naked body, other than her sexy blue colour panty she doesn't wear anything beath it, and her perfect hourglass shape slder waist and big bubbly butt which bounce every time she moves, made Myne so horny that saliva starts dripping from his mouth.

F*ck! So beautiful, why is she wearing such a beautiful outfit all of a sudd? Does she finally made up her mind, and is ready to accept me and my little brother both mtally and physically? Mtne thought while wiping saliva from his mouth and just wh he was about to greet Aisha while putting his hand in her panty to make her mood. Suddly He thought of something and stopped his raised step.

Wait a minute, this level of acceptance doesn't look normal, today morning she just give me a kiss and was so embarrassed that she can't ev look into my eyes, and directly run out of the house. Th how did she become so courageous just after going on shopping?

Wait, shopping! Yes, she said that she is going to meet her frids and th going to shopping after that. F*ck, there is a conspiracy going on here. Thank god, I use my brain instead of thinking about my little brother. This kind of evil plan is probably planted in Aisha's mind by one of her devil frids, I can say this with full confidce.

With Aisha's gtle nature, it is nigh impossible to come up with such a dangerous plan by herself to see how I react after seeing her in this beautiful outfit. Motherf*cker, just never let me know about you, otherwise I will bury you alive in the g, Myne thought angrily while wiping the cold sweat from his forehead.

After which Myne took a deep look at Aisha's wonderful figure in a sexy outfit, and made sure to memorise it in his most important section of memories.

Th Myne calm down his super excited little brother, and walk to Aisha who was making dinner while mumbling a song slowly, clearly, she didn't lyrics properly.

"I am back. How was your day, dear?" Myne said as he come to Aisha, hug her from behind and give her a light kiss on her cheek while resting his chin on her shoulder.

"Welcome back, and It was wonderful, by the way, do you like the furniture in the living room?" Aisha asked and give Myne a kiss on his lips shyly.

"Of course, I like those furniture, how can I don't like your choices," Myne replies with surprise seeing how bold Aisha is today, now his suspicion turns to the conviction that Aisha is testing him.

"By the way, you are looking gorgeous in this outfit, I can't take my eyes off you," Myne said romantically making Aisha blush.

Thank you for your compliment, and I appreciate that you like it, but now go sit down I serve you food," Aisha said with a red face while escaping from Myne's embrace.

"Okay, thanks for your effort," Myne spoke and after giving Aisha a forced kiss on her lips, he set down on the chair. And Aisha start placing all the dishes she made on the table.

There are a lot of dishes she made, like vegetable curry, brown bread, meat soup, beef orzo skillet, poached eggs in salsa, fruit juices, salad, etc.

Aisha after placing all the dishes she made on the dining table, also sit down beside Myne with a smile and start talking.

"So what you did do all day?"

"Well nothing much, lazily lying on the bed till afternoon, th play with Little Doggy, train my skills. In the eving I and Little Doggy go shopping to buy a welcoming gift for you..."

"What kind of gift?" Aisha hurriedly interpret Myne in the middle of his speech and asked excitedly.

"Do you want to see it?" Myne asked with a teasing tone.

"Yes, of course, if you don't mind," Aisha said shyly while remembering how childish she is behaving just now.

"Th wait for a little, first we eat this wonderful dinner made by you, otherwise, it become cold, and th I will show you, your surprise gift, Myne said mysteriously.

"Huh? Why are you still talking? Start eating, otherwise, it becomes cold," Aisha said while eating the food like a hungry wolf.

It took Myne and Aisha half hour to finish their dinner, after which Myne help Aisha to clean the dishes while casually telling her some jokes.

Did you also buy a new bedsheet? Myne asked after tering the bedroom and seeing a purple colour cotton bed sheet on his bed which looked like the girl's choice at first glance. But still other than the bedsheet, she didn't change anything else.

"Yes, the previous one was too hard to sleep on it comfortably, so I bought a much softer and more fluffy bedsheet for you, how it is, do you like it?" Aisha asked with a bright smile.

Although Myne wanted to say that now his bed look like it was for a little girl but still after seeing Aisha's bright smile, he swallow his upcoming words, and just patted her head, while nodding his head, making Aisha's face red with happiness or maybe she was thinking something shameful while looking at bed with unknow meaning hidd in her eyes.

"So where is my gift?" Aisha suddly remembers the gift which Myne mtion at the dining table, so she quickly asks, although she really doesn't care much about the gift, but what she really cares about is that Myne bought a welcome gift for her, which is also a big thing for her after all this will become a memory which going to last her tire life, and she wanted to joy this momt to fullest.

"Oh, it seems like someone is very excited about her gift, huh?" Myne said teasingly while taking out clothes buy in which Aisha's clothes were packed, and handed them to her.

"Here, those are the dresses I bought for you as a welcome gift for you to come into my incomplete and boring life and making it complete and joyful," Myne said with a smile, which made Aisha pause for some seconds as if she remembers something, th she took cloth begs from Myne hand and throw them on the bed without looking at them, and hug Myne tightly while burying her head into his chest.

"Thank you too, for coming into my incomplete and pointless life as well and making it complete and alive," Aisha said in a crying voice, but Myne didn't speak just patted her back to make her calm down.

he can see from her voice that she is having some difficulty for some reason maybe because of her past experiences, but since she is willing not to tell him, that means she needs some more time to fully open up in front of him, and Myne doesn't mind giving her time as much as she wants.

"Well, seems like we both need someone in our life to fill its emptiness and maybe thanks to god or our luck, we both found the right person for that, Myne said with a smile while holding Aisha's chin and looking into her eyes.

Then Aisha closes her eyes, and Myne moves his face forward and gives her a passionate kiss.

The kiss lasted a 3 minutes and only when Myne felt that Aisha is running out of breath, he stuck his tongue filled with Aisha's saliva out of her mouth. Aisha's face became red like an apple, and she was so ashamed that she didn't dare to look into Myne's eyes.

Then Myne put his left arm on Aisha's shoulder and the other below her naked butt and with little strength he lifted her into his arm in princess style and climbed up on his bed.

Myne then lay down Aisha on the bed, and just when Aisha thought the time is finally here when she is going to say goodbye to her virginity, Myne who was standing in front of her, took a deep breath and lay down beside her. After which Myne looked at Aisha beside him, who was staring at him with confusion.

"Haha, I know what you are thinking but today is not the day when we are going to make love like a husband and wife. No matter how much you try to hide it but I can see just how much tired you are. Your eyes already started becoming heavy at the dining table, and I you dozing off once in a while.

So now take a good rest, you have done a lot of work today, we will do our lovemaking tomorrow," Myne said with a gentle smile while giving Aisha a light kiss on her forehead, before hugging her tightly and starting caressing her silky hair.

Aisha's eyes become little wet after hearing Myne's caring words, she is indeed very tired after running all the town for the tire day, and even after returning home, she first placed most of the new furniture in their place, then she made so many dishes to impress Myne.

Then in order to test Myne's true personality, she also wears that shameful outfit suggested to her by Mia, saying that it will help her to see if Myne really loves her or just wanted to f*ck her. If he really loves her then he might become horny which is natural but will never do something like forcing himself on her like a wild beast.

After doing those all things, only she knows just how she is keeping her eyes open. But at least by doing that she found out that Myne indeed loves her very much, and she has no further doubt about his loyalty.

"Thank you, for coming into my life," Aisha said with a beautiful smile, tightly hugging Myne back while burying her head into his chest like a little girl, before falling asleep.
