

Chapter 41

Axel held her hand by the wrist, stopping her from going further. He could not do what she wanted him to do even though he wanted it badly as his dick was aching for a release, oozing out pre c.um.

“Axel, please fuck your sexy head” She pleaded with him, her sexy eyes pleading with him.

Axel’s guard loosened and his grip on her hand loosened also. Hazel’s hands immediately started working up his dick.

“Fuck... I am going to c.um anytime soon” he moaned.

Hazel leaned in and kissed him deeply. He kissed her back, hard as he moved further to the edge.

“Argh” he let out a grunt, tearing his lips off hers as his thick, huge load began to spill out onto her thighs.

He went on cumming all over her thighs with his lips parted slightly, pleasure ripping through his body as it went on with her hands still milking him.

Hazel pulled away from him and glanced at the semi-hard dick in her now cum stained hands. She gulped down, the desire in her eyes still evident.

As soon as Axel regained himself, he took her hands off his dick. He was already getting hard again under her touch and he did not want that happening that night.

“You have to go to sleep, pretty head” he tried to push her into bed but she resisted.

“No, I want you, Axel”

“I don’t want to be your pretty head. I want to be your sexy head. Please Axel, fuck me” She begged him, her hands circled around his neck, refusing to let go of him.

She pressed herself closer to him, trying to kiss him while Axel tried to avoid anymore intercourse for the night.

“Axel...” The door opened, Clarissa rushing into the room.

“I have a powerful sleeping pill here. It should work” she walked closer to the naked two.

Axel took the sleeping pill from her and tried to give it to Hazel but she did not want it.

“I don’t want anything. The only thing I want is you” she pushed her boobs against his chest.

“You are my mate after all! Just do it, fuck me” She demanded, already pulling herself closer sit on his dick.

Axel pushed her backwards and took the pill into his mouth and chewed on it for a few seconds before kissing her deeply and pushing the chewed pill into her mouth as he kissed her.

Hazel’s hands continued to roam around the body of Axel as she kissed him hungrily until she felt the hunger dying slowly.

Axel pulled away from the kiss and saw that the desire in her eyes reduce, replaced by sudden sleepiness.

“Go to sleep, pretty head”

She listened to him this time as he gently pushed her into the soft bed.

Her eyes slowly closed and Axel let out a breath of relief. He looked down at his hard-on and got off the bed.

“You... You are still hard” Clarissa pointed out, feeling l*t taking over her body as her gaze fell on his dick that still had some of his c.um on the head.

“Get yourself together, Clarissa. You know what will never work out between the both of us”

Clarissa took her eyes off him. She did not want to feel like this for him too but she just could not control the wetness in her panties each time she saw his dick.

The next day

Hazel woke up with a heavy headache. She gd as she fluttered her heavy eye lids open.

She slowly sat up on the bed and her lips parted into a soft gasp as the headache hit her head. She looked around the room, noting that she was not in her room but in the room that Axel occupied when he was still living with his father, the Alpha.

The memories of the last night came rushing into her head and she felt her face turn red and flushed with every second.

Remembering how she had begged him to fuck her and how he had made her have an orgasm but did not fuck her made her feel tingles in the lower part of her stomach.

The image of his dick spilling cum all over her thighs made her subconsciously bite on her lips. The entire experience of last night was something she did not expect at all but she loved it all and she genuinely wished that more of it would happen in the future, not with him trying to resist her but with the both of them being entirely free with each other.

It was strange that she did not feel full of embarrassment that morning, there was only one feeling in her, the want for more of last night.

“You are awake” Clarissa pushed the door open, walking into the room.

“Clarissa” she whispered her name.

“Where is Axel?” She asked the first question on her mind.

“He went to his home” she replied.

“He left me here?” She questioned.

“He...” Clarissa paused, not knowing what to say.

“Well, I do think that him rejecting you is for a huge reason that he is not willing to tell us yet” Clarissa stretched out a glass of water to her.

Hazel gulped down the entire content of the glass since she was dehydrated.

“I thought about it too. There is definitely a reason” she agreed with Clarissa.

“If he did not love you like he stupidly said, then he would not have cared about you losing control of your sexual urges and he would not have decided to be the one to soothe you himself” she replied and Hazel felt her lips spread into a smile.

Thinking about how many times he had called her sexy head the previous night made her heart pound.

“But Hazel, how did it happen? Did you intentionally take an aphrodisiac to make him come for you?” Clarissa asked and Hazel shook her head, thinking about it seriously now.

“I did not do that to myself and I do not know how it all happened”

“Did you drink or eat something last night before the drama?”

Hazel thought for a while.

“Yes! Someone approached me and asked if I wanted a glass of wine and I took it from him. Thinking about it now, the drink tasted really weird last night.” She replied

“Then it must have been from that person” Clarissa nodded her head thoughtfully.

“What could be the motive behind giving me an aphrodisiac? What does the person possibly stand to gain?”
