

The Alpha Chose Me Novel

Chapter 121

I soothed my hands down my dress and took a deep breath. I couldn't lie, I felt amazing in it. Rylee had matched my makeup with the dress and had my hair in loose curls down my back.

I opened the bathroom door and made my way into our bedroom.

"You look beautiful. My brother is a lucky guy". Rylee smiled.

"I'm nervous". I chewed my bottom lip.

"About prom?". She made a face.

"Full moon is tomorrow". I had been nervous since he told me this morning. I couldn't shift the feeling.

"Are you not ready?". She asked.

"I've been ready for weeks but". I paused.

"Scared about actually doing the deed?".

"Terrified". I swallowed the lump in my throat. "What if I'm no good, what if I forget what to do?".

"It's like riding a bike". She winked. "You never forget".

Great advice.

"But this is Jake".

"Exactly and I bet he's just as nervous as you".

"Yeah right". I rolled my eyes. "That boys had more ass than hot dinners".

A laugh fell from her lips. "He did used to be a bit of a slag my brother but he's not anymore".

"I hate that he's been with so many girls". I was so inexperienced when it came to sex. I had only ever been with the one guy.

"Girls that didn't matter".

"That's not helping".

"You should be excited Leah not thinking about Jake with other girls. Don't let apart of his past ruin what's about to be the best night of your life".

"Best night of my life?".

"Oh yeah". She smirked. "You know my story and what happened between West and I but the night we mated, the sex". She closed her eyes. "Magical".

"I'm overthinking this way to much".

"Yes you are". She grinned.

"Time to put my big girl panties on and climb him like a tree". A laugh fell from my lips at the look on her face.

"Still my brother but yes do that".

"You really think I'll be good enough for him?".

"Leah". She sighed.

"He's an Alpha Rylee and I'm...".

"An Alpha to?".

"Not really, not like him. I can't do what he does".

"We're not doing this, you're not doing this. This is your last prom. You're going to go out, get drunk and have the best time with your friends".

...

"Turn that frown upside down". I grinned.

We were on our way to prom in a stretched limo, a gift from Alanna's parents. She was pissed because the guys were out fixing the fence surrounding our territory.

"How are you okay about this?". She scowled.

"They'll show up and if they don't". I shrugged. "We'll still have the best time". I wasn't pissed or even the slightest bit annoyed. I was taking Rylee's advice . I was going to have the best night with my friends.

"The fence could have been broken on purpose". Lacey said.

"But it's prom night". Alanna huffed.

I rolled my eyes before glancing at Lana. She had been quiet since we left the house. She shrugged and went back to texting on her phone.

"It's our last prom and we're going to have the best time with or without the boys". I said.

"I guess you're right". She sighed.

"And it's the full moon tomorrow". That caught Lana attention.

"That explains my mood". Alanna laughed. "Wait. Thee full moon?". She asked.

I chewed my bottom lip giving her a nod.

"Finally". Lana laughed. "No more pissed off Jake, he'll finally be getting some ass".

"Hey". I frowned.

"What?". She rolled her eyes. "The boy was a whore, we all know that".

Ouch.

"Rude". Lacey huffed.

"No need to be a bitch about it and he is still my brother". Alanna glanced at me.

This wasn't how I expected this to go.

"And your Alpha". Lacey added.

"Not my Alpha. I'm not a wolf". As the limo pulled up outside the hotel Lana was the first one out.

"What's her problem?". Alanna asked.

"No idea". This wasn't like her. She didn't say things to hurt people. All in all she wasn't a nasty person.

"She needs to watch her mouth".

As we exited the limo I pulled my phone from my purse. "I'll meet you guys inside". I would call Jake and then I would find Lana.

Something was up for her to be acting this way.

Dialling his number I put my phone to my ear.

"Hey baby almost done. Have you left yet?".

"We've just arrived. Quick question how's Pete?". Maybe they had a fight?

"Fine why?".

"Oh nothing. I have to go I'll see you when you get here. I love you". I hung up not giving him the chance to reply.

If it wasn't Pete that was causing her foul mood then what was it?

"Damn shorty. Beautiful as ever". He wrapped his arm around my shoulder and that's when I felt it. The slight twinge in the pit of my stomach.

"You don't look so bad yourself". I grinned.

"I know". He winked.

"Where's your date?". I asked as we walked into the hotel lobby. The school had definitely pushed the boat out for this. The prices of food in here were ridiculous so I can only imagine how much it cost to rent out for the night.

"Leah, Ryan, smile". The flash of the camera caught me by surprise. "Year book".

"Is it bad I have no idea who that was?".

He chuckled. "Flying solo but save me a dance". He kissed my cheek before disappearing into the ballroom area.

He had never done that before.

"Better hope Jake doesn't find out he kissed you".

"It was on the cheek". I rolled my eyes. "What are you doing sitting out here by yourself?".

"Getting drunk". She pulled the hip flask from her purse.

"Put that away before you get us both kicked out". School was over but prom was still chaperoned by teachers.

"I didn't ask you to join me". She brought it to her lips taking a sip.

"What's going on with you?".

"Like you care".

Was that the alcohol talking?

"Lana what's-...".

"Just go away Leah before I say something I'll regret".

"Like what?". I crossed my arms over my chest.

"Just go inside and find your whore boyfriend. Go and have the best time with your friends and leave me alone".

Whore boyfriend?

"You sure know how to pick them". A laugh fell from her lips.

"Tommy and now Jake. Are you really that dumb you can't see it?".

"See what?". I swallowed the lump in my throat.

"Once a cheat always a cheat".

"Why are you saying that?". Jake and I were fine, great actually. He wasn't cheating, he wouldn't throw away what we have.

"You're a doormat". Another sip from the hip flask.

"You're drunk".

"Nope". She winked. "But I plan on getting there". Another sip.

I had never witnessed her like this before. She was witty and fierce but never mean. Her words hurt but more importantly I didn't understand why she was trying to hurt me.

"Come inside, we'll get you some water".

"You go inside I'm fine here".

"Lana".

"Piss off back to your whore boyfriend".

Why did she keep calling him that?

"Why are you being such a bitch?".

"Because I want to be. I'm sick of everyone tippy toeing around you, it's pathetic. Poor Leah, craving the attention, it's always got to be about you". She spat.

I was a little taken aback by her words.

"The perfect little princess that has it all". She got to her feet.

"I'm done, I'm done with this shit show and I'm done with you".

"You don't mean that".

"I do". Another sip.

We had been best friends for years, grew up together, she was practically my sister and now she didn't want anything to do with me.

"What's going on?".

"For god sake Leah just leave me alone. Take the hint and fuck off".

"Fine".

I left her by herself and went to find the girls.

Of course I found them on the dance floor having the time of their life's. They pointed to where we were sitting and I found myself a seat.

I took my phone from my purse and opened up a new message. She probably wouldn't get it till morning but I was still going to send it.

'Friends don't quit'

My mood was shattered and I wanted to go home. I wasn't having a good time, I wasn't enjoying myself. This night was turning out to be the worst and it had only started.

"Hey girl". Alanna wrapped her arms around my neck. "I have some vodka in my purse". She whispered.

"I'm good".

"Did you find her?". She asked taking the seat next to me.

"Where's Lacey?". I asked.

"Bathroom now where is Lana?".

I shrugged. "Have you heard from Carter?". I decided I wasn't going to tell her what happened. I didn't need for anyone else's night to be ruined.

"Who's cares". She grinned. "It's our prom". She pulled her phone from her purse. "You excited about tomorrow?".

"A little". I grinned.

A little?". She made a face. "You're finally going to be a mated she wolf".

"Okay a lot". I laughed.

I was a ball of nerves and excitement rolled into the one. I was excited that it was finally happening but I was nervous in case I was no good.

"Hey". She reached over placing her hand on mine. "Remember you're his mate, there's no one better than you".

..

My mood had lifted slightly. I put what happened between Lana and I to the back of my mind and tried to have a good night.

"They're doing this on purpose". Lacey sighed.

The guys still weren't here. I wasn't bothered at all. In fact I was close to texting Jake and telling him to come get me.

We danced, we laughed, but I was ready to go home.

"Could always ditch this and go back to mine?". I suggested.

"And miss prom king and queen?". Alanna gasped.

"You're kidding right?". I made a face.

"Course let's blow this joint".