

CHOSEN 731

Chapter 731

Chloe chuckled, the couple indeed had a bond.

“What’s up?” Chloe answered the call.

“Tonight, I’m moving into the Olson family. You should come back home.” The voice was filled with provocation. Clearly, Keira was alone now.

“Do you think that’s possible?” Chloe sneered.

“Weren’t you over Lance a long time ago? What are you afraid of?”

“Don’t try to provoke me. There’s nothing I’m afraid of. I just can’t stand your faces. That place is a shithole, why would I step into it? Am I crazy?”

Keira gripped her teeth in anger at Chloe’s words, “Chloe, enjoy your pride while it lasts. Your day to cry will come!”

Chloe suddenly went silent.

Keira frowned, “Why aren’t you saying anything?”

“...I’m just thinking about whether I should enjoy your smug face tonight?”

Keira sneered, “So, you’re planning to come tonight?”

“Absolutely not. I’ve already said it; that place is a shithole...”

Chloe rarely showed this cunning and sly side of herself.

“Pfft...” Rose, who was engrossed in a wedding magazine, suddenly burst out laughing. Chloe winked at her.

Ignoring whatever Keira was going to say next, Chloe hung up the phone.

“What are you laughing at?” Chloe tossed her phone aside.

Rose as still laughing. “Love really does wonders, doesn’t it? You’re becoming cheekier by the day. Got a man to back you up, and now you talk like you’re invincible?”

Chloe didn’t argue, “It’s not like you don’t have a man.”

Rose’s face stiffened a bit. She gave a faint smile, and lowered her head to the magazine again.

After leaving Rose’s house and returning to the office to finish the day’s paperwork, it was already past work hours.

As she left the office, Rose called to ask whether the roses at the wedding should be red, white or champagne. As Chloe walked, she pondered, “Considering the lighting at the venue and the overall color scheme, red might be too bold and might look tacky. White might clash with your wedding dress and venue decor. How about champagne?”

“Alright, champagne it is then!”

Chloe sighed, “Do you really need to micromanage everything? All you need to do is be the most beautiful bride that day. The Witt family won’t disappoint you...”

"I know. But it's a once in a lifetime event, I don't trust others to plan it. I'd rather do it myself from the start, and I enjoy doing it."

"You're right, but you're pregnant now, don't push yourself too hard, your health matters most!" Chloe sighed lightly.

"I know!"

"Is there anything else you're unsure about? I can give you some advice."

As Chloe stepped out of the building and was about to head to the car park, a familiar car pulled up in front of her. The car window rolled down, and Carolina's cold face appeared.

Chloe immediately turned her face away, her eyes cold and impatient.

"What are you doing here?"

"Get in the car. Tonight, we're sending Keira to the Olson family."

Chapter 732

"Hop in, we're taking Keira to the Olsons tonight."

"I didn't agree to this."

"Seriously, you can't see a good thing when it hits you in the face. If it wasn't for Keira insisting on throwing you a bone, do you really think you'd be invited? Get in the car!"

"Such an honor." Chloe snorted sarcastically.

"Even if you're a hundred percent against it, you need to put on a good show" Carolina sighed heavily “Chloe, what’s wrong? Is it about your grandma...?”

“Nothing, you rest up I’m hanging up.”

“Mmm...”

After hanging up, Chloe glanced at Carolina in the car, stayed quiet for a moment, then finally opened the door and got in

Carolina was puzzled and a bit worried about Chloe’s sudden change of heart.

“I’m warning you, we’re only taking you because of Keira’s kindness. Don’t stir up any trouble when we get there!”

“If you don’t trust me that much, maybe I shouldn’t go?”

Carolina shot her a glare and told the driver to start the car.

The Olsons had a pretty large estate. It had recently been renovated, filled with greenery and luxurious architecture, looking like an old castle.

Several luxury cars were already parked outside the estate; clearly the Olson’s relatives had arrived early. The villa was filled with hter and a happy atmosphere, reminding everyone that it was a special day.

After Chloe got out of the car, the car carrying Keira also pulled up.

Viviana removed the bandages on her face. Her injured eyes and lips were covered with makeup, but it still looked a bit off.

Keira wore a red dress today. Her hair was twisted up with some pearl hair accessories, looking elegant and gentle.

“Oh look, the bride’s family is here!”

Someone was welcoming guests at the door, and when they saw the Summers, they shouted into the house. The laughter inside suddenly stopped, and soon, several people came out of the villa.

A long red carpet was laid from the gate to the villa, showing how much the Olsons valued Keira.

Lance was the first to approach, a glint of surprise in his eyes when he saw Chloe. But Chloe just stood aside, not even looking at him.

“Lance...”

Keira noticed Lance’s first glance was at Chloe; she couldn’t help but call out. Lance looked back at her, smiled, and then greeted Carolina, Nick, and Viviana.

“Oh finally, you guys are here. Come in.”

Although the gossips involving Keira’s wedding gifts upset Lauretta, she felt the reorganized gifts satisfying, after all, she was interested in Keira the person.

But seeing Chloe there too, she felt a bit conflicted.

Overall, it was a bit of an awkward situation.

If it wasn't for Keira, Chloe would be the one marrying Lance. Everyone knew her relationship with Keira was rocky, and her being here for this occasion was quite a surprise...

It was a bit unsettling.

Keira was arm in arm with Lance in the middle of the crowd, Chloe was trailing behind, silent. As they entered the grand living room of the villa, all the relatives were circling around Keira.

Chapter 733

When they stepped into the grand villa living room, all the relatives were circling around Keira.

Chloe sat on one side of the sofa, propping herself up with one hand on the armrest, half-listening to the chorus of voices calling out to Keira

"Damn, you're one lucky duck, having such a handsome son, who then married such a talented wife. You guys must've done a ton of good deeds in your past life, huh?"

"Indeed, I'm pretty damn lucky. All thanks to the good upbringing from the Summers family"

"She's not just a looker, but also super talented, radiates kindness, and has an excellent demeanor. You won't find another gem like her."

There were those green with envy, and others a bit bitter. Hearing everyone praise Keira like she was some kind of flower, a few jealous relatives didn't seem too happy

"But lately, her reputation seems a bit... shaky I mean, now that she's married into the Olson family, she should probably keep her distance from the entertainment industry. With so many eyes on her, good news never spreads, but bad news travels fast. The Olson family has a certain standing in society, we can't let their reputation take a hit. That would affect you guys too!"

This remark—was the biggest buzzkill of the night. Viviana and Carolina’s faces fell, and Laretta felt super awkward Keira was now a part of her Olson family. Naturally, she was not pleased with the criticism.

“None of the jobs are a piece of cake, and the entertainment industry is indeed a hot mess. So, the reputation doesn’t necessarily reflect the truth. Besides, everyone makes mistakes.”

“Oh, I was just saying. I’ve heard that industry is pretty messy, with a lot of shady practices like casting couches, skin trade and all, and lots of publicity stunts, like stirring up scandals. Just the other day, wasn’t there some buzz about Philip Reed being Keira’s rumored boyfriend? She’s already an Olson, what’s this about a scandalous boyfriend...?”

Kel face changed, her smile faltering. “Philip and I were classmates. It’s perfectly normal to chat when we bump into each other in the industry. The reporters are just making stuff up...”

“Yeah, yeah, this is all just media nonsense. Besides, Keira being in the entertainment industry can also benefit the Olson family

Suddenly, a slightly sharp voice piped up. Without looking up, Chloe knew who it was. Yes, of course, it was Amelia Schneider from the Olson family.

“Amelia!” Keira’s tone was full of surprise. They hadn’t seen each other since the school celebration.

“Yeah, Keira... Well, congrats on your wedding. It’s been a while..

Amelia responded with a smile.

Chloe snickered inwardly. She remembered how Keira had shifted the blame onto Amelia at the school celebration. Amelia knew it too, but now she was acting like nothing had happened, still treating Keira like a sister. It was hard to comprehend. What kind of “witch’s brew” did Keira feed her?

Amelia was wearing a strapless mini dress, her long hair cascading over her shoulders. She swayed as she walked, radiating sexiness. Looking closely, she seemed to have lost a lot of weight.

Chloe raised an eyebrow but didn't pay her much attention. She was involved in the past incidents, but wasn't she asking for it?

The moment Amelia saw Chloe, her eyes filled with hatred. Though there was no concrete evidence that Chloe was the one who set her up that night, everything that should have fallen on Chloe ended up on Amelia instead. She became the laughingstock.

She was banned from the livestream platform, was under house arrest in her own villa, constantly watched, and only allowed to eat and sleep. After finally getting out, her former fans found her, tempted her with money, and even stalked, forced, and captured her...

All of this, because of Chloe. That infuriating woman.

Amelia glared coldly in Chloe's direction. Seeing Chloe sitting there alone, looking aloof and arrogant, made her eyes sting.

Chloe's unique demeanor always rubbed her the wrong way. She was always so annoying.

Amelia crossed her arms and stood in front of Keira, staring arrogantly at Chloe,

"Chloe, Keira has been building up quite a following in the entertainment industry over the years. She recently participated in Fragrance Frenzy International Contest and the judges thought highly of her. This year's championship is practically in her bag. Once she gets the award at the ceremony, her fame will skyrocket, and her value will shoot up. The Olson Group will definitely secure the rights to develop the champion product, coupled with Keira herself as the spokesperson. Can you imagine what that will do for the Olson Group?"

Hearing this, everyone started to exclaim. The world champion's product, designed by her, endorsed by her, self-produced and self-sold. The saved endorsement and copyright fees were just the tip of the iceberg, and the profit alone was enough to make people green with envy for a lifetime.

Everyone's awe and envy filled Carolina and Viviana with pride. They were practically lifting their chins up to the sky Keira was always their pride and joy. Not only was she considerate and understanding, but she was genuinely talented Over the years, aside from a few recent incidents, she had never let them down. After the upcoming award ceremony, her name would truly be known worldwide.

The glory and wealth she brought, how many people in this world could do that?

Lauretta was over the moon. The one who benefited the most from marrying Keira was, of course, the Olson Group She could already foresee what a grand spectacle it would be. How much higher will the Olson Group rise due to this?

A few relatives just couldn't stop singing Keira's praises. The more they looked at Keira, the more they wished they could take her home with them.

Keira blushed at all the compliments, and deep down, she was pretty chuffed.

She glanced at Chloe who was on the couch, fiddling with her water glass, tapping the clear glass lightly with a smirk. But no matter how you looked at it, it seemed like she was being sarcastic.

Keira frowned, feeling a deep distaste for Chloe's indifferent yet confident expression.

Chapter 734

Keira frowned. The sight of Chloe's carefree and confident expression irked her to no end.

Amelia also couldn't bear it, she moved to the couch and sat down.

“So, Chloe, heard you also joined Fragrance Frenzy, how many points did you score? What place did you get? Are you confident?”

The room full of people all turned their attention to the conversation.

“I won’t go into the details about the points, as for my rank...

She lifted her eyes, glanced at Amelia, and then said calmly, “I obviously have my own expectations.”

“Pfft!” Amelia chuckled sarcastically, “So what if you have expectations? You’re representing Spotlight Beauty, which is incomparable to the Olson Group! Keira might be the champion this time, and what does your higher rank even mean? Chloe, face it, you lost! You lost to Keira again!”

Amelia’s last sentence was almost squeezed out between gritted teeth. It was always like this, she seemed to enjoy Chloe’s embarrassments more than Keira did.

Chloe smirked, draining the water from her cup in one gulp.

“Who knows?”

Amelia was grinding her teeth in frustration at Chloe’s nonchalant attitude. She was always hitting a brick wall with Chloe, or rather, felt like she was punching at cotton.

“I can’t wait to see how embarrassed you’ll be then! I hope you can still be this calm!”

“Amelia, enough...

Keira suddenly interjected, her voice soft, with a hint of timidity and appeasement.

“Chic

I'm sorry, we shouldn't have brought up this topic."

Chloe looked up at the few people in the room; their contemptuous and disgusted looks were all too clear. She scoffed, bent over to pick up the water jug and poured herself a cup of water.

"What is there to be sorry about, isn't this the reason you invited me here?"

Keira's face stiffened slightly. "What are you talking about... I didn't think of that..."

"Yeah, Chloe, it wasn't Keira who brought up the topic just now, but you shouldn't feel ashamed. After all, competition results aren't everything. If it's not yours this time, just try harder next time..."

"Right, I also think it's no big deal. Winning and losing is just part and parcel of life. If you lose, you lose, it just means that's your current ability. But if you can't even lose with your own capability and resources, then it's really... just like muddling through, right?"

Chloe said to Lauretta, but her peripheral vision was on Keira.

Keira's face changed slightly, but only for an instant, and she quickly regained her confidence and calmness.

Chloe stared at Keira for two seconds, then shifted her gaze elsewhere.

Most people didn't understand what Chloe was saying, and didn't know how to continue the conversation.

"What are you guys talking about?"

At the staircase, Lance and a few older men came down together. Descending from the staircase, he exuded an air of nobility and warmth. It made sense how Chloe easily once loved Lance.

“Hello, Lance!” Keira stepped forward and greeted everyone politely, before coyly walking over to Lance with a shy face.

Keira’s politeness and obedience pleased Lance, who gave her a gentle smile and allowed her to hook her arm with his.

“Wow, look, the man is handsome, the woman beautiful. What a perfect couple, I’m so jealous.”

“Yeah, such a pleasing sight to see!”

Carolina laughed and nodded repeatedly, “Having Lance here is a blessing for the Summers family. It’s all thanks to Keira’s good fortune that our family has acquired such an excellent son-in-law.”

Through the crowd, Keira’s gaze found Chloe again, only to find that Chloe wasn’t paying attention at all. At that moment, Chloe was looking down at her phone.

Damon [Where have you gone?]

Chloe [Where have I gone?]

Damon [Someone is asking where you went.]

Chloe looked at Damon’s message and couldn’t help but laugh.

Chloe [I’m at the Olson family.]

Damon [What?]

Chloe (Lance's home.)

After that, Damon didn't reply.

Chloe didn't mind, then she saw a notification in her group chat. She clicked in to check and saw a "group call" notification

Chloe didn't have many friends before, besides her work colleagues and clients, and official groups in the company. She didn't have many friends on WhatsApp either

She knew it was a communication tool, but she wasn't very familiar with its other features. She didn't quite understand what "group call" was, out of curiosity she clicked in.

Immediately, an angry voice from Kane came from her phone.

"For goodness' sake, I just woke up and I've been sleeping in the booth all day on my birthday??"

The loud roar startled Chloe, almost dropping her phone. Everyone in the room turned their heads toward her direction. Their f expressions varied, but all were shocked.

"Were you a tough birth? Did your mom take days to give birth to you? Your birthday is over once it passes midnight! Be grateful we didn't let you sleep on the streets!"

"Oh god, my head is about to explode!"

Chloe also felt a bit awkward; she picked up her phone, ready to end the call.

But then Keira's voice came, "Who were those people..."

"My friends"

Chloe realized that the sound from her phone had stopped.

"Friends? Birds of a feather, I guess. Listen to the nonsense they were spouting, it's ridiculous! But shockingly, you actually made friends."

"Amelia, watch your mouth, I personally don't care for you, but don't go too far. They may have been talking nonsense, but who do you think you are?" Chloe's face suddenly turned cold, her tone icy.

"You..." Amelia suddenly stood up from the couch, "Chloe, are you here to provoke on purpose? Am I wrong saying they're talking nonsense? What kind of noble people can you befriend?! They're all losers!"

Chapter 735

Chloe also rose to her feet, a chill instantly permeating the air. Her domineering aura had everyone feeling stifled and suffocated.

"Take back what you just said!"

"And if I don't? What, you gonna hit me?"

With a snap, Chloe threw her phone onto the coffee table and took two steps towards Amelia

"You clearly need a lesson. I'll say it again, take back what you said!"

"I..." Amelia backed down, stepping back, but still defiant

“That’s enough!”

A sudden roar broke out, filled with Carolina’s fury. “You need to know your place. This is the Olson family, you need to respect that!”

“So what? Just because this is the Olson family, I have to swallow my pride?”

“Chloe!”

“I’m right here! Don’t try to warn me. You stopped me outside my company today, inviting me here, and you should have known what could happen. I’ve already behaved, yet some people here just can’t stand peace!”

With that, she shot another icy glare at Amelia.

“Amelia, apologize now!” Lance stepped in, his gaze grim.

“How could you take her side?”

se the one who’s wrong is you!”

Amelia was close to losing it. This was a humiliating situation for her.

“Alright, Chloe, Amelia was out of line. I apologize on her behalf. Let’s eat first, and we can talk later...”

Chloe was irked by the lack of class displayed by everyone. Being around these people was really rubbing off on her. She was beginning to understand why Keira's crowd was so hard to deal with. Arguing with them only ended up in hurting herself

"Amelia, an apology only takes three words and three seconds. If you don't say it, we'll have to wait. With so many people here, I guess everyone will have to wait because of her."

"Chloe, you're going too far!"

Chloe looked at her indifferently, her eyes filled with coldness, creating a tense atmosphere.

"Amelia! Apologize now!" Lance commanded in a low voice, his expression serious.

"Lancel"

"Amelia..."

Keira also stepped in, gently taking Amelia's arm and whispered, 'Amelia, you were wrong earlier. How could you say that about Chloe's friend in front of so many people? No one would want to hear that Apologize first

Keira didn't deny Amelia's words, she was just emphasizing that Amelia shouldn't continue to damage the Olson family's reputation.

Everyone understood, and Lance frowned at Keira. But Keira looked helplessly at Amelia, obviously trying to persuade her Chloe was her sister, but Keira's words contained a hint of disdain for Chloe, making the situation seem less severe.

It was as if she was saying, "This one from our family is a problem. You don't need to bicker with her."

Her belittling of Chloe actually improved Amelia's mood a bit.

"Fine, I shouldn't have said those things in front of so many people, I apologize! Sorry, are we good now?"

Chapter 736

her face slightly pale, looking a bit awkward and son nodded, his gaze fell on Chloe, with a kind smile on his face

"Chloe long time no see"

Chloe chuckled lightly, "Grandpa Kendal"

Grandpa Kendal?

Kendal blinked in surprise. She used to always call him grandpa only. Seeing her cold and distant expression, he sighed helplessly, then waved his hand. "Let's go to the restaurant for dinner"

The appearance of Kendal eased the atmosphere a little, but it also made people feel a bit stifled. After all, he was the head of the family, and naturally authoritative.

Chloe still had to show Kendal respect. Besides, from the current situation, it seemed she had not lost anything.

She picked up her phone, checked the call status again, and found that the group call had been closed. She glanced at it, turned off the phone screen, and threw the phone into her bag.

She didn't argue about this matter anymore and everyone gradually walked towards the restaurant. But she didn't know that her group chat was blowing up at the moment

Hana i feel ie Chloe was bullied"

Ella And she was ganged up on

Kane "Why is Chloe at the Olson family?"

Sawyer Which Olson family?

Seth Dia [The Olson Group, Chloe's fan family"]

All members Woah)

Noah heard someone calling us trash

Kane Let's go! All hands on deck""]

Keira felt somewhat hurt about Kendal's obvious unfair treatment between her and Chloe. Her heart was also a little uneasy

Kendal had always favored Chice, considering her the best choice for the lady of the Olson Group it was his idea to suggest Lance to propose to Chloe in his eyes, he probably, disapproved of Keira's involvement Kandal and Carolina conversed the most because they were of the same generation and had common topics Besides, they were now in-laws, and no matter what they thought deep inside, they had to get along on the surface

During the meal, everyone was distant and insincere Chloe saw all the hypocrisy After dinner everyone gathered in the living room it was time for chatting and saying goodbye

Chloe ate a bit too much tonight it was not that she thought the Olson family's food was particularly good, but because there was too much drama from this family As a bystander, she treated the food as an afternoon tea

Lauretta said to Grover. "Kerr's competition work looks very promising Why don't we start producing now, so when Keira comes back with the award, we can launch the new product while it's hot, what do you think?"

Although she usually didn't care about the company's affairs, she thought this proposal was good

The competition result hasn't come out yet Starting production now is too early We have a few days left, and there's no rush" Before Grover could speak, Kendal started talking, which made Grover look slightly annoyed

"Why do we have to wait for the competition result? Keira is very confident about this, and her score was very high, far surpassing her senior sister Her senior sister was the world champion for two consecutive terms with such a comparison, do we still need to wait for the competition result) Even if Keira can't win the championship, she will definitely be in the top three Regardless of the ranking the collaboration between the Olson Group and the Harper family has been confirmed if we start production earlier, the time saved will directly affect the sales volume if we lag behind, the popularity of the product will drop, and we will definitely lose many customers during the waiting process

A smile flashed in Chloe's eyes. At this time, having power was very important Like her, she didn't need to consult others, as long as she said to start production, no one would oppose

Kendal frowned. His eyes sharp, as he looked at Lance and asked, "Lance, what do you think?"

also think we should start production as soon as possible. The problems Amelia raised are all things we need to consider

Grover also agreed

Kendal pondered for a while then raised his head and turned his gaze to Chloe, who had been sent all this time

“Chloe, what do you think?”

Sitting aside Chloe was called out and she looked up at everyone. Everyone was staring at her with various depressions

‘Chloe has been working in the Olson Group for more than three years, and her decisions have always been very unique What do you think should the Olson Group start production in advance?’

Chloe’s gaze swept over everyone and finally stayed on Kendal’s face Kendal looked at her very sincerely he really wanted to hear her opinion. He was really fond of her

Since her mother left, Kendal had always cared for her At that time, not many people treated her sincerely Although they didn’t interact much, those caring words were enough for her to remember this kindness Few people would easily forget those who gave them warmth when they were going through the most difficult times

She was fond of him too

“Grandpa, why would you ask her? She’s our competitor now! What good advice could she give?” Amelia was the first to express her unwillingness to hear Chloe’s advice

Carolina also said. “Chloe’s position is a bit awkward Not everyone here might need her advice “Exactly, why the hell are we all here if we’re just gonna listen to her? We should be hearing what Keira has to say

Kera gave a small smile throwing a quick side-eye at Kendal. He wasn't even looking at Amelia his attention was all on Chice, and his attitude hadn't changed one bit

She didn't get it She was the one whod brought honor to the Olson family so why was he so hung up on Chloe's opinion?

Looking at Kendal's firm stance and the trust in his eyes. Chloe paused for a beat, her brow furrowed in thought Then she slowly said.

"suggest we don't start production just yet"

Amelia sneered "See Thats Chice for you, always hoping for our downfall"

"Why Kendal continued to ask

Chipe averted her gaze, picked up her water glass, and took a sip, hiding the meaningfulness in her eyes.

Chapter 737

"Too idealistic, ger for quick succes and instant benet, too stubborn, art these reasons enough?"

Kendal tried to read Chlor's expression, but she conciously hid it. He couldn't see clearly

"What are you talking about? if everyone in business was as cautious as you, there would be no point in doing business! If you have ulterior motives, stop beating around the bushr

Carolina sharply reprimanded her disgust towards Chloe completely unhidden Chloe didn't show too much emotion, just sipped her water quietly

Chloe is right Let's wait until her the award ceremony to decide"

Kendal pondered for a while and finally drew this conclusion

“Grandpa” Amelia exclaimed, “How can you listen to her! Her boyfriend has already dumped her, so she’s just trying to get back at us”

“Shut up” dad turned his gaze to Amelia. “Do you think you haven’t embarrassed yourself enough? Think before you speak! You’ve caused so much trouble for the family! If I knew you, I’d tread carefully, but you, you show your true colors no matter where you are

Though Kendal was always authoritative he seldom lost his temper Now he was furious, a sight few had seen

Amelia was so frightened that she shrank back Her eyes instantly turned red

“Are you disgusted with me? I’m a victim too

“What are you doing? Amelia is your granddaughter too She’s already upset, do you want to keep hurting her

Amelia’s mother couldn’t bear it and spoke up

Kendal’s face turned serious. “She brought it on herself if they hadn’t thought of hurting others first, how would this have happened?

The word “they” made Keira tense up suddenly She looked at Amelia nervously. She was afraid Amelia would tell Kendal about what happened at the school celebration if Kendal had definite evidence that she was involved in the plan, she wouldn’t have a good time in the Olson family

“Grandpa

Lance suddenly spoke up. "Let's not dwell on the past About what we just discussed also think if better to start producing Kein's work ahead of time. Even if air doesn't win the championship dis time her work has already received high praise from the international jury What do you think?"

Perhaps considering Chloe's presence, Lance's words were both assertive and humble

He really stood out Compared to the current family members, Lance's demeanor and words were the most steady and persuasive

The difference between him and the others was easily noticeable

Kendal looked at him with satisfaction and relief

However Chloe's suggestion

He didn't believe Chloe would take revenge on him. Even if she had some dissatisfaction with the Olson family, she wouldn't say it directly. He knew that this time. Chloe's suggestion was purely professional

When Kendal stared at her Chloe just smiled casually

"My suggestion is just that a suggestion Whether to accept it or not, is up to the decision makers of the Olson Group"

She turned to Lance. "I suggest not to start production but of course, this is your family's business, you are the decision maker and everything is up to you. Focus on the benefits, and don't mix in other fiktors. Chice emphasized her point again, not to mix in other factors which also indicated she had no ulterior motive

Truth be told both the Olson and Summers families trusted Kera so unreservedly, she could predict how much of a blow they would take after the award ceremony

The consequences they were already facing were not easy to bear if they now diverted funds to start production early, it would only deepen the Olson Group's predicament. Although she would be happy to do so, considering Kendal's sincerity, she still had to give her advice.

All in all her suggestions tonight were well-intended if they still had blind faith in Keim, then she could only say that she had tried her best

However, Lance mistook Chices "do not mix in other factors" as her way of not letting his guilt over her influence his decision. He smiled at Chloe grateful for her understanding

Chloe was a bit confused

"Alright, you are in charge of the company now, the final decision is still in your hands

Kendal spoke again fully handing over the decision-making power to Lance

Lance nodded, not seeming to consider Chides advice

Amelia raised her eyebrows in triumph. "I believe that the Olson Group will get better and better in your hands and your wife's! It will become a world-renowned company

"Amelia don't put such a big hat on me, it's a lot of pressure

"You have to believe in yourself

Chloe put her cup back on the coffee table, stood up and said,

"The ceremony is over if there's nothing else. I'll leave first"

As she spoke she headed towards the door Lance immediately stood up, following Chloe out Keira followed closely as if worried about Lance and Chloe having further interactions.

Amelia also followed them out

When a guest leaves, people like Lauretta usually had to get up and see them off So, everyone moved towards the door

“Chloe you didn’t drive did you? fi give you a lift

Lance

Kera chased after themi

“Don’t sweat it! She has so many friends, a single phone call and someone would come and pick her up right? Carolina took a deep breath, “We have no idea who she hangs out with, the Oljon mily ant à ( they can just waltz in and out of We also don’t know who she’s hobnobbing with every day Since we came together, let’s leave together, and let the driver take you home.”

Chloe frowned. “Amelia has a sharp tongue and she’s much younger than you You just let her rudeness slide rip you? Aren’t you afraid of getting embarrssed?”

Carolina felt like she was about to faint, in front of so many people. To be disrespected by her own granddaughter and made to feel so awkward in front of the Olson family, she was fuming with anger

Chapter 738

You scoundrel Am wrong? Who didn’t hear what those people just said? Their words were so vulgar and low hanging around in places of pleasure Aren’t they just indecent frenda?r

Chlow's face turned cold, but before she could say anything, a shout came from the direction of the Olson family's gate

"Chloe've come to take you home!"

Chloe's heart skipped a beat, this familiar voice

Chloe could see Kane's very familiar face sticking out of the car window from afar, waving at her

"Who the heck is making such a racket in the middle of the night?"

"Why is the gate open? What is the butler doing?"

Several people complained while looking towards the gate

Not long after a blue Lamborghini whizzed to a stop in front of the mansion's main entrance

"Wow it's a limited edition Lamborghini! I saw it on the official website not long ago, and it's not even available in our country yet to cool Amalia suddenly screamert almost jumping with excitement

At this point, the door of the Lamborghini on the driver's side opened, and Kane dressed in a blue suit, appealed in front of everyone. His tall figure and carefree handsome appearance made the few people present stare unabashedly

Amelia was even more excited. "Mr Ziems? How did you come?"

"Mr Ziems?" Carolina frowned. The Ziems Family? The first real estate moguls of P City?"

“Yeah, apart from him, who else in P city would dare to call themselves Mr. Ziems? Amelia clasped her hands together, looking at Kane with a face full of adoration and fascination

Before Kane had a chance to greet Chloe he heard the very familiar voice of Amelia He turned his steps towards Chloe, and then walked straight towards Amelia

Amelia was thrilled, watching Kane coming closer and closer to her her eyes wide with excitement Finalh, Kanie stopped next to her, staring at her for a long time.

“Mr Ziems Amelia was both nervous and excited, looking at Kane’s face up close. There was not a single flaw on it

After hearing Amelia’s voice, Kane frowned, “Did you just call me trash?”

Amelia was taken aback, No, why would i call you that?”

Ive been praised most of my life rarely insulted I couldn’t possibly mishear your voice

“I didn’t. “Amelia was getting anxious

Kera, on the other hand, suddenly understood something and her face turned pale

“Mr Ziems, you must be mistaken. Amalia has been at home these days, she hasn’t had a chance to meet you. How could she insult you?”

Lance suddenly spoke giving Amelia a look to step back

Kane frowned. “I definitely heard her insult us over the phone!”

What phone?

Everyone completely disregarded Chloe's presence they never even considered the possibility of any connection between Chloe and Mr. Ziems

As they were puzzled, the sound of car horns came from the gate again Then they saw several cars slowly driving in

A silver Porsche stopped and Hans dressed casually, got out of the car leisurely

A white Maserati stopped, and Noah, dressed in a handcrafted Italian suit, looked calm and indifferent

Then a red Ferrari stopped Ella, dressed in jeans and a white T-shirt, was full of youthful vibes

Finally, a silver-grey Aston Martin stopped, and Sawyer, dressed in a striped suit, looked refined and noble

In a moment the courtyard was filled with five of the world's top luxury cars, a sight to behold

The five of them, with extraordinary temperaments and handsome appearances, were most importantly, of noble identities and were all high society figures in P City

Everyone present was puzzled, they couldn't understand why so many of P City's elites would suddenly show up here.

Grover stepped forward, although he was facing some juniors, his voice was still filled with respect and caution

"don't know why you all came together? Shall we sit inside the house?"

After Ella got out of the car her eyes swept around and then fell on Chloe, who was standing at the door She ran up to her with a happy face and affectionately linked arms with Chloe

She sweetly called out. "Chloe

Chloe's lips twitched slightly She clearly felt the stares from behind her

Carolina frowned and walked forward to examine Ella "Who's daughter are you?"

Carolinas face was expressionless, her voice cold, as if she was interrogating a criminal

Ella frowned at the sudden appearance of this old woman. She realized her voice was exactly the same as the one that scolded Chloe over the phone

Even though they didn't fully understand the relationship between Chloe the Olson family, and the Summers family, they still had a general idea of the situation. They guessed that this old woman was the one who was biased against Chloe

Ella didn't give her a pleasant look, he sneered, "Why should I tell you, you old witch"

"You

Chloe instinctively shielded Ella and Noah followed closely pulling Ella behind him

The intense aura made Carolina short of breath, she squinted at Noah, Mr Noah from HC Television, nice to meet you!"

Kerra was shocked HC Television was currently the highest-rated TV station The TV dramas and variety shows had always been the best in the country, Now they had established their own TV website in the wa of internet development Ther exclusive web dramas and online variety shows were innovative and unique, attracting widespread attention

Many celebrities were vying to participate in HC Television's variety shows, or hoping ther works could be broadcasted on HC Television

This TV industry tycoon was also someone you absolutely could not offend in the entertainment circle

Noah glanced coldly at Carolina, ignoring her The woman behind him was currently digging her nails into his waist. He was scared that the moment he acknowledged the 'old woman', she would just make his

ast ache like hell

Carolina's attempt to get chummy got shot down, and she was totally filled with embarrassment.

"Did we find out who that broad was that insulted us?"

Chapter 739

Guys, have we found the lady who was badmouthing us?"

Lane, stroking his chin, gave Amelia a wickedly cold smile

tans and Sawyer shifted their gaze to Kane

Is it her?"

melia quickly waved her hands in denial, "No, it's not me. I swear I've never met you guys before, why would I insult you?"

Huh, still denying it? Just a moment ago, you were saying all her friends are ruffians, not a single decent one among them, all trash How could you forget on soon? You're so young, and you're already thin forgetful?"

is Kane spoke, he reached out and tapped Amelia's head heavily causing her to scream

At the same time everyone suddenly understood what was going on! Their gaze once again fell on China

Could these people be the friends Chloe just mentioned

Everyone was surprised in their eyes, accepting Kairs meant rejecting Chloe Carolina was no different. Even now, she found it hard to believe

Chloe, what's going on? Her voice was icy as usual when addressing China but this time it contained a cautious inquiry

Seeing so many people coming Chloe knew that Kane had brought them to back her up

'Can't you see? These are the indecent friends you were just talking about

The moment Chloe spoke, Kane, Hans Sawyer Noah, and Ella all turned the attention to Carolina

'Holy cow Amelia Who do you hang out with a bunch of snobs' My family's pretty alright. We've got a decent inheritance Now from trash in your eyes? Am I a disgrace to my family?"

Kane hands in his pockets, walked towards Amelia. He looked nonchalant, but his handsome face was filled with anger

"Don't you think" If our ancestors, heard you, they'd probably lose sleep over this right?"

Hans chimed in escalating the situation to the level of insulting their ancestors

Carolina turned pale. She knew these were all well-known aristocrats that you couldn't offend easily.

"You all misunderstood I didn't know Chloe's friends were you guys"

Ella sneered, "I can see right through you. You don't like Ms. Chloe and we look down on her friends. Now you're scared? You're such a fucking coward?"

"Watch your mouth" Noah warned

For these people no amount of insults can calm my anger They called me trash with no dignity? is that true? is it?"

Ella defiantly refused, finally questioning Noah with a hurt look.

Sure enough Noah's face darkened, his gaze on Carolina colder. "Of course not

Ella scoffed and Carolina's face fell

MÈ Noah, it was a misunderstanding! I can apologize, but I hope we can drop this matter? Carolina looked extremely embarrassed.

"Why should we

Ella retorted not having a bit of a good impression of this old woman

Watching Carolina bring Chloe over today and get embarrassed, Keira pursed her lips, and took a deep breath. She put on a perfect smile and said softly. "Everyone, there seems to be a misunderstanding. On behalf of Amelia and my Grandma. I apologize Why don't we all go inside have some water, and then explain this misunderstanding

"Misunderstanding my ass We don't plan on having any sort of partnership with you guys You bullied our sister in law today and insulted us. There must be consequences. Do you think, we're pushovers."

Kane seemed very impatient He didn't even give Kera a second glance it was clear they were here to back Chic up

Chloe couldn't let these big shots actually start a fight here After thinking it over, she decided to hold them off

"Alright cut it out Let's get going

Kane immediately walked to Chloe, looking reverent, "Okay, don't worry We will definitely help you get back at them for the humiliation you suffered today! It's getting late, and you should go back. Otherwin Wi Harper will worry.

One moment Kane was hard-nosed, the next he was fawning over Chloe, leaving everyone stunned. They were also wondering who this "Mr Harper was.

Before Kane could finish, another car engine sounded at the gate Chloe looked up to see a low-profile, steady black car slowly pulling up She hesitated, gave Kane a warning look, said "Let's go and quickly making towards the car

Chloe met Damon's car halfway. The car stopped she opened the back door and got in

Damon, dressed in a black, high-end suit, looked noble and dignified

"Why are you here?

"I support you, to keep you out of trouble. Damon's eyes were filled with complex emotions

Chloe nodded, tipped her chin towards the front. "See? They all came to support me

Damon's gaze swept over the luxury cars parked in front

“Do you need me to handle this personally?”

Of course not Any one of them is stronger than those two families together. They’re even stronger in a group

Chapter 740

“Any one of them could handle both their familie€ let alone when they team up?”

Just because they heard a few words in the group chat they had rushed over to help, which was unprecedented in Chiods life Having friends and was really nice “You seem pretty happy’ Damon tilted his head to look at her, keenly sensing her mood

Chloe smiled. “Yeah having friends around feels really good

Damon turned his head to look at her the satisfaction on her face touched his heart. As he stole a kiss from her upturned lips, their eyes met

“Having a husband around would feel even better Wanna give it a try?”

“First off, you’d have to become my husband 9820 78Chine gave his shoulder a little push, ‘Alright let’s go Noma”

Nate served the car around

Carolina walked a few steps towards the car out of curiosity but only saw the shadow of Damore car

She could see two figures in the backseat of the car, but she couldn’t make out who they were

“They just left like that, and i wanted to go back and get some credit for my help but they beat me to it? this! Keep your tail between your legs jumbled inking at the people around him, his face once again bewating amugani

As Kane and his group were about to leave Carolina suddenly said M Zims, could you tell me who picked up Chine just now?"

Kane stopped in his tracks, recalling Chloe's waming glance before she left. Why should tell you?

"Chloe is my granddaughter | think have the right to know about her current situation

Kane blinked, suddenly bursting into laughter "Ha! You re too funny he turned to look at Carolina. 'Since she's your own granddaughter why do you ne to ask me abno

Tm speechless, i can't understand how you guys can have such weird thoughts if you really want to know, igre you a hint Well? Her current situation is similar to ours, nothing to brag attratt

With a look of disdain, kane glanced at Carolina and left with the others

Amelia was frustrated Watching Kane and his group about to leave, she ran out and yelled, you all were fooled by that woman Chloel I'm telling you. Chloe is a devious and bad woman, those scandals about her are not unfounded! Don't let her lower your standards "

Kane stopped looked down at his expensive leather shoes He scratched the back of his head, muttered,

"A devious and bad woman?"

As Kane tumed and walked into the room Amelia approached and nodded, "Yes, if you don't believe it, you can ask. Ah!!

Before Amelia could finish her sentence, a crisp slap echoed followed by a scream. When everyone came back to their senses, they found Kane had turned around and slapped Amala hard on the face.

There was a collective gasp.

Amelia covered her burning face, slipped, and fell to the ground.

Kane pulled out a handkerchief, wiping the hand that had just touched Amelia, looking disdainful.

"I didn't want to teach you a lesson on the Olson family's turf. I was going to let you off, but you had to push it. Do you think I'm a fool or blind, that I need you to tell me who's good and who's bad? Ever hear you say anything bad about Chloe again, I'll make sure you regret it!"

After these harsh words, Kane glanced at Lance beside him, patted his shoulder and said,

"I'm sorry for causing trouble here. But this woman is just too much! My apologies!"

With that, he wiped his hand on Lance's shoulder, turned around, and got into the car with the others.

For a moment, the sound of luxury car engines filled the yard as they left the Olson family's courtyard. The lively courtyard quickly returned to silence. Although there were many people, Awkward glances were cast towards Carolina, followed by Amelia's crying.

"Lance, are you just going to let them bully me? This is the Olson family."

Amelia suddenly burst into tears, looking at Lance, angered by his indifference. Arr Lance's eyes were cold as he looked at Amelia's pathetic figure on the ground.

"You deserved it! You don't know when to stop! If I were him, I wouldn't just slap you, I'd tear your mouth off"

Amelia was stunned, looking up at Lance tears streaming down her face

"Grandpa

She turned to look at Kendal who had just arrived Kendal shorted

"Take her back Don't come here again""

Her mom, Sona's face turned white She had come back because she heard that Keira had an outstanding performance in an international competition, which would greatly benefit the devitlopit Group She wanted to secure a position in the company for Amela so she could settle down and have some control over the company.

But now with this commotion, she didn't have the face to mention it, even if she did, it would surely be rejected.

But how could she be content with not getting a piece of the extraordinary company that was the Olson Group

"Get lost! I really don't know how you raised your daughter who did she learn this arrogance from! She's such an idiot Wasn't the incident at the previous school celebration mough? Now look the trouble she caused

"The five guests who just left, do you think our family afford to offend any of them? The power of any one of them could have a major impact on the Olson family! And you dajni të provoke the severed ties with the Olson family They won't help the Olson family in the future, they might even hinder our ventures! How will we survive in the business world?"

they've

Kendal's words shocked everyone present. Most of them were here for the Olson Group, right? But now, before the Olson Group could even make a move, the path ahead was already blocked. How was anyone supposed to swallow that?

Everyone's eyes were now on Amelia, all weaning faces full of disgust.
