

Chapter 10

♥ Lilah's wolf    ^^^    𐐀

Lilah's POV

It was very early the sun had barely woken up, when daddy came into my room waking me up.

"Come on sleepy head, everyone else is already awake." daddy says giving me a gentle kiss on the forehead making me swallow the complaint about wanting to sleep more.

Daisy is up, barking like an excited puppy. She loves days like today. Ellie on the other hand li s her head lazily looking at Daisy before she turns her head and falls back asleep.    𐐀 Lucky!

Don't get me wrong, I love days like today but I just wished we didn't have to start so early

We made a new tradi... tradition a while back, where our whole family, including our grandparents and uncles and aunts go on a run together.

Daisy gently nudge me with her snout to get me moving. Once I'm out of bed, I go straight out not even bothering to change my clothes or brush my hair.    𐐀

When I get outside the chilly breeze sends a little shi er through my body, waking me up a bit.

Most of my family is already in wolf form and with a little pout on my face I walk over to grandpa Caleb and hug his wolf's legs.

He uses his other leg to pull me even closer curling his head around me like he is giving me a hug while I snuggle deeper into is warm fur.    𐐀

"Come on baby, it is time to shi into your wolf" momma says, and we move to the woods. Removing my clothes, I quickly shi , grateful for my now, warm, fur covered body.

I step out behind the tree, to see everyone is already in wolf form.

Daisy comes to run by my side. We start o slowly and then go faster and faster. Daddy is in the front and grandpa Hayhay and grandpa Caleb is at the back making sure we stay together.    𐐀

I was the smallest but definitely not the slowest. As we run we were playing and jumping over fallen trees and rocks.

I was trying to catch mommy's tail while we ran. It is so funny she has a moon on her bum.    𐐀

I don't know how long, or how far we have been running, definitely further than 30 miles.

I was racing against Ace and Daisy when the adults and Daisy suddenly stopped without any warning, making me run face first into uncle El.

I got up and shook the dust o my white fur giving a little whine, uncle El turned and protectively stood over me looking around us.

As I looked around us, I could see rogue wolves slowly making their way towards us.    𐐀

Like predators stalking their pray they walked closer. Twenty maybe more of them. I didn't even need my powers to know the were bad, very bad.

'Liley, to the le sweatheart, go hide in that fallen tree' I hear uncle El's voice in my mind.

I quickly make my way there and turn to see where my brothers and sister is.

Malia si ed back into her human form and is standing on grandpa Hayhay's back, using him as a step to get high in a tree.

And like I suspected the boys are not hiding, but just standing to the side in case anyone needs their help.

And like a they came to a silent agreement the rogues began storming towards my family. In seconds daddy had a rogue by his throat, biting down and pulling back. The lifeless rogue fell to the side and daddy went for the next.    𐐀

I've never really seen wolves fight for real before, but it looked nothing like the ones in practice. It was loud with howling, growling and snarling.

I've never seen this much blood in my life, I could see almost ten lifeless rogues and I can't make out to whom all the blood on my family's fur belonged to. We're they injured or was it the rogue's blood?

I've also not seen the woman in our family fight that much, but they were very good. Especially aunty Nina, I guess uncle El trained her.    𐐀

I heard a howl of pain coming from the side and saw a wolf biting into aunty Belle's leg, within seconds uncle James killed the rogue and made sure he stayed even closer than before to protect her.    𐐀

I was so busy looking at them I didn't even see the rogue coming closer to me, baring his teeth.

He was about to attack me when he got bumped out of the way. I saw Ace attacking the rogue biting its ear and kicking it towards Daisy who finished the job.    𐐀

Ace and Daisy just saved my life. I've always known he would protect me.

Most of the rogues were already dead, but then it felt like it happened in slow motion, a rogue bit into grandpa Hayhay's side making both him and grandma Lila howl in pain.    𐐀

Daddy jumped onto the rogue killing it while uncle El and Daisy killed the last of the rogues.

We all made our way towards grandpa, he shi ed back into a human and blood was streaming out of his tummy.    𐐀

His face was scrunched up in pain. He started coughing blood. Mal came running towards him putting her small hands on his wound.

Tears were streaming down her face as she tried to concentrate, I could slowly see the blood slowing down and and he started to look better.

Mal looked up at daddy with her teared covered face whispering "it is too big" before looking down and continuing.    𐐀

A few minutes later the wound stopped bleeding when Mal suddenly passed out. She has never tried to heal such a big wound.

Uncle James picked up Mal while daddy and uncle El carried grandpa. The rest of us were back in our wolf form, quickly making our way back to the pack.

We have been at the pack hospital now for almost two hours, which felt like days, waiting not so patiently to hear some news about grandpa.

Nurses came and checked up on everyone to make sure no one was too badly injured. They took Mal into a room to give her something to help her get stronger, mommy was with her refusing to leave her side until she got better.

Lexi was sitting with Ace while he rested his head on her shoulder. Xay was holding Hazel tight in her arms like he was afraid she would disappear. And grandma had silent tears streaming down her face.

The silence is the room was deafening.

Everyone was tense when the doctor came back into the waiting room, she gave a tiny smile and everyone relaxed instantly.

"He got very lucky, if Malia wasn't there that would not have been the case. The surgery went well and he is resting. If you want you can go and see him." the doctor said loud enough for everyone in the room to hear.    𐐀

Everyone silently made their way towards grandpa's room, to see him hooked up to cables and machines, but he was breathing and he had a good, strong heartbeat.

He is going to make a full recovery.

Today was unexpected and could have gone worse, I just knew I should have stayed in bed.

𐐀 𐐀

In the next chapter there is going to be a big time jump!! I hope you enjoy...

Vote & Comment!

Continue reading next part