

Chapter 17

Lilah's POV

I have been waiting for this day for a long time.

My sixteenth birthday!

Ever since the elves and fairies showed up, the moon goddess has been speaking to me more and more.

It is not like it used to be, where I just randomly feel or know things, I can still feel emotions like I used to, but now the moon goddess talks to me in my head. It feels similar to talking to my wolf, except I know I'm talking to the goddess.

It is like permanently having a very smart best friend in you head.

Except she won't help me cheat on my test, something about honesty and... something... I don't usually listen to the end of her speech.

And she definitely gives a lot of speeches.

And now, I will finally be the leader of the different mystical creatures in our pack. There is a lot of them, and I love each and every one, with all my heart.

I would do everything I can to protect them. They are incredible and special and deserves to be praised.

With my gifts I can feel everything. Pure and evil. And every one of them is pure and beautiful.

When I am in their presence I feel this sense of calmness.

I make my way towards my party, where Xay will also announce my new position in the pack, with all my friends at my side.

Seth gives Daisy the side eye. Ever since they showed up at the pack Flower has been spending more time with Daisy than with him.

Poor Seth feels neglected.

Although the moon goddess has a lot of plans, she doesn't want to tell it to me too far ahead.

I know the dreams I had when I was younger was of the battle during the war, but she won't let me see those anymore. I know that means I am in them.

She doesn't show me my own future. Yes, she had a big speech about why, I just didn't listen to the end.

Maybe I should start listening to the end.

But I'm pretty sure this is not the reason, but I think it is just because she is spiteful and she know I don't like surprises.

How can she spoil me my whole childhood with knowing everything and now she is starting to hold back on me?

"Hello miss Sassy Pants, happy birthday" I'm pulled into a tight hug and instantly recognize the owner of the skinny arms as my mom.

"I can't believe all my babies are all grown up. Sixteen already. Can't you ask the moon goddess to make you tiny and cute again..."

I'm not cute anymore?

"Next thing I know you are going to find your mate, move out and make me some more adorable grand babies. When are you finding your..."

My mom was thankfully pulled away by my dad, allowing me to catch my breath. That skinny arms have a death grip.

"Baby give other people a chance to congratulate the birthday girl before you squeeze her to death. She is not going anywhere."

My dad was about to give me another hug, like him and mom didn't wake me up just after midnight with cake singing happy birthday and ultimately passing out in my bed from a sugar high.

Children. I don't know how they are going to survive when I decide to move out someday.

Before my dad can pull me into a hug, I'm picked up from behind making a very high animal like squeak, getting spinned in circles.

"Uncle Eliot! Put me down that hasn't worked since I was little!" after two more spins he puts me on my feet letting me go.

Hope quickly catches me before I fall on my face in front of the whole pack.

Okay, so it has been working all this time but there is no way I'm letting him know that. That is what friends are for.

My birthday went on with pack members coming by with friendly congratulations on my birthday and new position.

My first order of business was picking a leader for each individual mystical creature type. I have been searching for the right people since I ask my brother for this position. And they are all standing behind me like my own personal body guards, all grateful for their new position.

While we were on stage earlier when my brother announced my new position I surprised them by announcing their new positions.

Elena - Witches

Gordon - Elves

Gem - Fairies

Drake - Phoenix

Harper - Bear shifter

Riley - Gnomes

Jake - Coyote shifter

Colton - Fox shifter

And it goes without explanation that it is Seth for the vampirs.

A lot of the people found new mates when everyone started showing up, and it is save to say that if we don't already, there will soon be some hybrid babies on the way.

But that is definitely a problem for the future and one that I will not be solving on my birthday.

So for the rest of the day I study my face with everything sweet and unhealthy, and when it starts getting dark my parents reveal my amazing surprise.

An outdoor movie night.

They had a huge white backdrop put up, and I spent the rest of the night watching movies, under the stars, with all the people I love, my family, my friends, my pack.

🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉🎉

I am sorry for taking so long to update, I am very busy with tests and assignments. Thank you for being patient.

I hope you enjoy the new update!

Please let me know who you think her mate will be, because surprise, you will meet him soon!
