

Cinderella And Her Beautiful Octuplets

You are going to help me find her

Chapter 101

"Mommy, are we leaving?" Jayden asked

"Yes honey, we are leaving the country," Hannah said and the kids stared at her in surprise.

"But why?" Allison asked

"Does that mean we are leaving Daddy?" Aubrey asked and Hannah closed her eyes and opened them, then turned to their kids.

"You all stop asking questions. Pack the things you know you would be needing, we are leaving and that's final" Hannah yelled at her kids making them flinch.

Aubrey burst into tears but Hannah ignored her, while she kept arranging her kid's clothes.

When she was done, she carried the luggage outside to her car and came back to her kid's room.

"Let's go to the car," Hannah said and the kids nodded silently.

Jayden moved towards Aubrey who was still crying and hugged her.

"Mommy is just angry alright. She didn't mean to yell at us, stop crying alright?" Jayden said as he wiped Aubrey's tears.

The octuplets walked out of the room trailing behind Hannah, who was walking out of the house.

"Immediately, they climbed down the stairs, they saw their grandma, Arianna and yelled happily.

"Grandma!" They yelled as they rushed towards Arianna and hugged her legs so tight, making her almost fall.

"Oh sweethearts, I missed you guys so much," Arianna said as she bent toward their level and hugged them all.

Hannah stood for some seconds as she watched her kids who looked so happy to see Arianna. They love Arianna so much and it was so obvious they missed her so much.

"Jayden, take your siblings to the car and wait for me," Hannah said and the kids turned to her.

"But mommy, Grandma is here, we should stay with her," Jamie said and Hannah shot them a deadly glare.

"I said go to the car and wait for me," Hannah said and the kids nodded sadly as they moved away from their Grandma Arianna and walked out of the house to the car. "Hannah, you can't just leave and take the kids away," Arianna said and Hannah scoffed

"That's exactly what I'm going to do," Hannah said. Arianna tried stopping her but Brandon held her.

"What do you think you are doing? You should stop her from leaving" Arianna said and Brandon sighed

"She needs space. She just heard the biggest truth of her life, after you lied to her, she needs time to process all of it. Let her be" Brandon said

"You do not know Hannah, she would leave the country with the kids and you would never hear from them again," Arianna said and then turned when she heard footsteps of someone walking towards them. It was Jessica. She had been standing upstairs watching the whole scenario.

"Mommy!" Jessica called as she rushed towards Arianna and hugged her. Tears spilled down her cheeks.

"Mommy, where have you been? You left. I thought you were dead" Jessica said and Arianna smiled out tears.

While Jessica and Arianna were busy telling each other how much they missed themselves, Brandon turned to Liam and asked him to keep his eyes on Hannah and make sure she doesn't leave the country. Liam nodded and left, Elizabeth on the other hand walked away to her room, she just couldn't believe everything she had heard and seen today, it still felt like a dream to her.

She thought Camilla was dead, she remembered the day her son had caught up with her. She was in the car that day and watched everything happen.

He shot her and left her for dead, she wondered how the hell she survived.

Meanwhile, Brandon stood as he watched Jessica and Arianna do mother and daughter bonding.

"We need to talk," Brandon said as he pulled Arianna's hand and dragged her to his study room with Jessica trailing behind them.

Immediately they entered the study room, Brandon turned to her.

"Why should I believe everything you said? Huh? I do not trust you and the fact you saying Hannah was the woman I raped years ago, I still do not believe you" Brandon said and Arianna sighed softly. "I'm telling the truth, Brandon. Can't you see the kids looks so much like you" Arianna said and Brandon scoffed

"She's telling the truth, Brandon," Jessica said and they all turned to her.

She walked towards Brandon and gave him the DNA test result for him to see.

"And what the hell is this?" Brandon asked

"It's a DNA test result. I did it on you and the kids after they pressured me to do it without telling anyone.

I had to and the result states you are the father" Jessica said and Brandon stared at the result and saw Jessica was saying the truth.

Brandon was speechless. It was true that Hannah was the woman she raped years ago, but why did Rhoda pretend to be the one? he thought

"Why didn't you tell me the truth? Why didn't you come and tell me the octuplets were my kids?" Brandon asked

"I thought you would be able to figure it out on your own since the kids look so much like you.

I thought maybe you would try to find out why the kids look so much like you" Arianna said and Brandon sighed softly

"Brandon I'm so sorry," Arianna said

"If you are sorry, you should leave the same way you came and never come back," Brandon said

"Brandon, you can't just say that he's our mother," Jessica said and Brandon shot her a deadly glare

"Brandon please forgive me, I'm so sorry I left you and your sister years ago. I'm back now, I promise I will make up for those times I wasn't around and fix everything" Arianna said and Brandon stared at her without saying a word and then he finally spoke.

At first, he felt so angry at her, but as he stared at her, his looks softened.

She was still his mom, he missed her so much and he still love her. This marriage in the first place was to make sure he finds his mom and now he has.

"You want my forgiveness?" Brandon asked and Arianna nodded in response.

"You are going to help me find Hannah, earn Hannah's forgiveness, and make things right"

Chapter 102

"You are going to help me find Hannah, earn her forgiveness, and make things right," Brandon said and Arianna nodded in response.

Brandon stared at both Arianna and Jessica. Jessica was so soft towards her and accepted her too early, he sure wasn't going to do the same, he thought, and then walked out of his study room leaving Arianna and Jessica all alone. He walked inside Hannah's room and locked the door behind him.

He stood for a few seconds and walked towards her dressing table. Memories of when he and Hannah had arguments came running inside his head.

They've never had a sweet romantic memory, all the memories of her that he had was when they were arguing over one thing or another that might not even make sense.

He smiled as he remembered the day Hannah had packed inside his house and he told her they were going to share the same room, her face had turned sour that day.

Brandon smiled, tears filled his eyes. Hannah was the lady he had raped years ago and he didn't know that. The octuplet looks so much like him yet he was just so dumb that he couldn't see the truth standing in front of him.

He imagined the pain Hannah must have gone through. He had offended this lady from the first day they had both met. How he asked his guards to throw her out of his company. He owes Hannah a lot of apology.

He was the man who almost ruined her life, he thought sadly. He could remember how she begged that day, cried, and asked him to stop but he just couldn't because he was drunk.

He sighed softly, all he wished right now was to make things right between him and Hannah. He needed to be there for Hannah and his kids. He needed to make things right, he just wished Hannah would give him another chance. But on second thought, he wondered why Liam told him Rhoda was the girl he raped years ago? Liam sure has a lot of things to explain to me, he thought.

Just then he heard his phone ring, it was a call from Liam. He immediately answered the phone call.

"She's at the airport now, her flight leaves in the next two hour," Liam said and Brandon raised his eyebrows.

"Woah, I need you to stall her before I get there," Brandon said and ended the call.

He walked out of the room and climbed down the stairs. He walked to the living room and saw Alexander closing the door holding a sealed paper in his hands.

"Sir, I was about to come to give you this," Alexander said as he gave Brandon the paper.

"What's that?" Brandon asked as he took it and tore it open.

He brought out the paper and read it, it was a divorce letter. Hannah was serious about getting a divorce.

He felt his heart shattered as he held the paper in his hands.

He sighed softly and walked out of the house, he ignited the engine and zoomed off.

He was going to stop Hannah from leaving the country. He wasn't gonna let her leave, she was his and his alone.

She checked the caller's ID and saw it was Jefferson, her boyfriend. He finally called after a long time, Jessica thought as she stared at the phone without answering it.

"You're not gonna answer that?" Arianna asked and Jessica raised her head.

"No," Jessica said and ended the call. She felt so angry at Jeff for not calling her in the past few days neither returning her phone calls nor text messages. She wondered what kind of boyfriend he was, she thought to herself. "Why? Who is that?" Arianna asked

"My boyfriend," Jessica said and Arianna smiled. Jessica has a boyfriend already, how time flies. She could remember the time she held little Jessica in her arms. She smiled softly.

"What? Why are you giving me that look?" Jessica asked.

"Nothing honey. Just thinking that my baby girl is now grown. I missed a lot more of the things about you, I wasn't even there to watch you grow into an adult" Arianna said as tears gathered in her eyes.

"Hey Mom, stop crying. It's fine. I'm here now, you are here now and you won't leave again, I and Brandon will protect you" Jessica said and Arianna smiled at her.

Just then she heard her phone ring again and she rolled her eyes without checking the caller's ID, thinking it was Jeff.

"You should talk to him," Arianna said

"No, I don't want to, he stopped answering my calls days ago and now he's just calling like everything is alright? No, I won't" Jessica said and Arianna raised her eyebrows and sighed.

"At least hear what he's about to say," Arianna said and Jessica nodded. This time her phone that was ringing had already ended.

"I would love to meet your boyfriend one of these days. I need to see the man that my daughter is in love with and I'm going to make sure he doesn't break your heart.

I promise" Arianna said and Jessica smiled.

Just then she heard her phone ring again.

This time it was Brandon calling.

She quickly answers the phone call.

"I want you and Mom to come to the airport right now," he said and with that, he ended the call.

They both stood up and walked out of the room. Just as they were about climbing down the stairs they both saw Grandma Elizabeth walking out of the kitchen.

Elizabeth frowned as she saw Jessica and Arianna catching up so fast. She had told Jessica a lot of bad things about her mom that she left and abandoned them but yet she just can't leave her mom alone since she came. "Grandma, are you alright?" Jessica asked and Elizabeth forced herself to smile.

"Why don't you wait in the car, Jessica? I and Grandma Elizabeth have some catching up to do" Arianna said and Jessica nodded before walking away leaving just Arianna and Grandma Elizabeth all alone.

"I know what you are thinking. You watched your son pull the trigger blah blah. Guess what? I survived. Now, you can leave me and my children alone, I'm back now, this time to stay permanently " Arianna said and Elizabeth swallowed hard. She felt scared of Arianna, she wasn't the same lady her son had married years ago.

She was a different person.

Chapter 103

At the Airport**

"Mommy, are we leaving the country?" Jayden asked for the tenth time and Hannah sighed softly.

"Honey, yes, I promise we would be back in no time," Hannah said and then turned to the rest of the kids who weren't saying a word to Hannah. They were still sad because Hannah had yelled at them. After all, they refused to leave their Grandma.

"Sweethearts, I'm sorry I yelled at you all. I was just..." Hannah paused as she stared at her kids. They wouldn't understand how she was feeling.

The woman she trusted so much, lied to her, and the man she's been married to all these time is the man who raped her years ago and is the father to the octuplets.

She stared at her octuplet who looked so much like Brandon. The kids bear so much resemblance to Brandon. She wondered why it has never crossed her mind that Brandon could be the father.

All this while, she thought it was probably a coincidence that they looked so much alike. She just didn't know Brandon was her babies Daddy. She sighed.

"I'm sorry sweethearts, mommy is sorry please do not be sad," Hannah said as she made a sad face. The kids stared at her and sighed. They love their mommy so much, and can not afford to see her unhappy. "It's okay Mommy," the kids said

"Come here," Hannah said and the kids hugged her in a group hug.

"I love you all so much, you all are my life," Hannah said as tears gathered in her eyes.

"I love you too Mommy," they all said at once.

"Love you more," Hannah said as she pulled away from the hug and ticked them making them laugh while everyone stared at them at the airport.

A woman and eight kids that looked so much like each other, they were surprised. Some other people brought out their phones and took pictures of them. They all loved how the kids looked.

"I need to use the restroom," Hannah said as she stood up.

"You all do not move, I'll be right back," Hannah said and the kids nodded in response.

She walked from the reception where her kids were, down to the hallway, and to the restroom.

"I think I found them," Liam said as he caught a glimpse of the octuplets sitting calmly. They all rushed towards them.

"Sweethearts" Arianna muttered and the kids turned to her. Immediately they saw her, a wide smile spread on their faces.

Brandon stood as he watched Ariana and the kids. The kids seem to love Ariana so much, and they seem to have a strong and unbreakable bond, he thought as he stared at them. "Where's mommy?" Arianna asked

"She went to use the restroom," Jayden said in response

"Take the kids to the car and go home, I'll go look for Hannah," Brandon said and Arianna nodded in response.

He walked away from them to go search for Hannah while Liam and the rest took the kids to the car.

Jessica who was trailing behind them heard her phone ring, it was a call from her boyfriend Jeff.

She then turned to Liam and Arianna,

"You guys should go without me, I'll meet you guys at home," Jessica said and Arianna understood immediately. She was going to see her boyfriend.

"Alright," Arianna said as they all entered the car and of course except Jessica. Liam ignited the engine and zoomed off.

Jessica sighed and answered the phone call.

"What do you want Jeff?" She asked in an angry tone.

"I know you probably hate me now for not answering your calls and not returning them. I'm sorry, something happened and it was an emergency.

I can explain please" Jeff said and Jessica sighed softly.

"Fine, let's meet up. I'll send you the address to where we are to meet" Jessica said and ended the call.

She picked a location and sent the address to Jeff. It was a restaurant not that far from the airport.

Hannah walked out of the rest room and to her greatest surprise she saw Brandon standing outside the restroom.

"You!! What are you doing here?" She yelled and Brandon stared at the beautiful woman standing in front of him angry at him.

"Hannah, I know you are so angry at me right now but please....."

"You should leave, nothing you say is going to change my mind," Hannah said, cutting off Brandon's speech and was about to walk away when Brandon stood in front of her blocking her way. "Get out of my way now, Brandon," Hannah said, giving him a threatening look.

"Hannah....." Brandon paused as Hannah pushed him and walked past him. He sighed softly and trailed behind her.

"Hannah please, I know you are so angry at me but I can explain, whatever happened that night, it was a mistake, I was drugged and I didn't know what I was doing," Brandon said and Hannah scoffed "Yet, another lie from the pit of hell," she said and hissed loudly.

Brandon held her hands making her stop and then stood in front of her.

"Let go of my hands, people are watching us," Hannah said and Brandon looked around and saw a few people watching them.

"If you do not come with me, I'm going to make sure everyone at this airport stares at us," Brandon said and Hannah scoffed.

"Do your worst," Hannah said struggling to free her hands from that of Brandon.

"Okay," Brandon said and then turned around.

"Everyone, this is my wife Cinderella Colby, the most beautiful and strongest woman I have ever seen and I love her so much..." Brandon paused and turned to Hannah.

This time all eyes were on them. Everyone was staring at them, and videoing them, while they were smiling.

"They look so cute together" People kept murmuring and Brandon raised his brows in a sexy way.

"Come with me else, I'm going to do worse," Brandon threatened and Hannah stared at him angrily.

Brandon sighed softly, this woman's mind seemed to be made up and she wasn't going to go home with him easily, he just had to force her, he thought and surprisingly he carried Hannah from the ground and put her on his shoulder. "Woah" Everyone muttered

"I'm taking my wife home to have hot sex with her," he said and all the women who were staring at them began blushing.

Now, they were wishing they were the one on Brandon's shoulder instead of Hannah.

"Let me go, Brandon. Put me down. My kids are in there" Hannah said as she wiggled her legs but Brandon held her two legs together, pinning them down.

"They are not there anymore. Liam and my mom had taken them home" Brandon said as he made his way to his car with Hannah on his shoulder.

"What?!" Hannah muttered angrily.

Chapter 104

A black car screeched to a halt in front of Colby's mansion and Brandon alighted the car. He walked to the passenger seat and opened the door for Hannah to walk out but she refused.

Brandon sighed softly and carried her out of the car. He pushed the car door with his leg while he carried Hannah on his shoulder and walked inside the house.

Hannah on the other hand kept on yelling for Brandon to let her go but Brandon refused as he carried her inside the house to his room upstairs.

He dropped Hannah gently on the bed.

"Okay now, what are you going to do? Force yourself on me like you did years ago? Oh yes, of course, that is the only thing you are good at, do it! Force yourself on me" Hannah said as tears gather in her eyes as she spoke angrily. Hannah stood up and was about to walk out of the room but Brandon stood in her way, not willing to let her leave.

Fine, she is angry with him but he wasn't willing to let her go.

"Get out of my way Brandon," she said, tears slipping down her chubby cheeks. Memories of that night came rushing into her head.

"Hannah...." Brandon called but she paid no attention to him as she kept on crying.

"You ruined my life, I almost died that day. I hate you Brandon, I hate you so much" she cried as she kept on using both hands to hit his chest.

Brandon on the other hand let her hit him so hard, she was angry at him and he deserve whatever she was saying. He is a monster who got drugged and then forced himself on an innocent lady upon all the pleas. She must have felt a lot of pain that day. It was all his fault.

"Hannah," he called again but she kept on crying.

"Hannah" he called and then held her hands.

"Hey, look at me, I'm sorry," he said as he held her hands, staring at her eyes which were filled with tears. It broke his heart so much that Hannah was in tears and it was all his fault.

"Sorry isn't going to fix the pain you caused me years ago," Hannah said and pulled her hands away from Brandon.

She's right, it wasn't like an apology was going to change how she truly felt. Sorry isn't going to take the pain away.

"I know, but I'm still sorry, I wasn't myself that night, I was drugged and...."

"Is that an excuse for not believing I didn't kill Rhoda and then you let the police take me away without doing anything?" she said and Brandon became dead silent.

There was no excuse he could give on that. He could have done something to stop the police from taking her away but he didn't.

"I believe you received the divorce paper, you should sign it and we both will go our separate ways," Hannah said and was about to walk away but Brandon held her hands and pulled her towards him.

"I'm not signing any fucking divorce paper. You are my wife and that's final Hannah. You are mine and mine alone" Brandon yelled as his eyes had already become red. Hannah flinched as she saw the look on his face. Brandon became calm instantly as he saw the look of fear on Hannah's face. He quickly let go of her hand, he didn't want to hurt her.

"Can't you see Hannah, can't you see the truth.... Without you I'm miserable, the thought of you leaving me is making me go crazy.

You make me happy, Hannah. Even as hard as it is to admit it, whenever I'm around you, I lose control, I become vulnerable" Brandon paused and swallowed hard before saying the word he's been wanting to say for a really long time. "I'm in love with you, Hannah," he said and Hannah opened her eyes wide in shock.

"What?!" She scoffed as she stared at Brandon. She could feel her heart beating so fast with what Brandon had just said.

Her heart was running a marathon race.

"You can feel my heart beating right? This heart beats for you and you alone Hannah" Brandon said and Hannah swallowed hard.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

She blinked twice as she stared Brandon straight into his eyes like she was searching for something, probably the love he says he feels for her.

Brandon stared at her eyes and then at her small sexy nose and to her lips which were as red as blood and also clamoring to him.

She felt a cold shiver run down her spine as she stared into Brandon's eyes, and suddenly her breath became intense. She felt like her lungs were closing up and she couldn't breathe properly.

She closed her eyes letting whatever she was feeling wash over her but suddenly she opened her eyes and pushed Brandon away from her.

"The only thing you are good at is taking advantage of a helpless woman and you talk about love? You do not know what love is, and I won't fall for your lies" Hannah said as she swallowed hard.

"I know I hurt you so much in the past and no apology can make up for what I did but please give me a chance to prove to you and the kids that I can be a good husband to you and father to the kids, please, just give me another chance," Brandon said and Hannah scoffed.

"Never!! This marriage is over Brandon Colby. And there's nothing you can do to bring it back....." she said and Brandon tried speaking but words weren't leaving his mouths

"And you say you love me? If you love me you would let me go and never bother me and my kids again" Hannah said and was about to leave when she paused and turned to him.

"And if you love me, you would sign the divorce paper.... Now, where the hell are my kids? Tell your mom to bring them to me" Hannah said and with that, she walked out of the room leaving Brandon and his sad look and shattered heart all alone.

Rhoda's phone

Chapter 105

Immediately, Hannah walked out of the room, Brandon brought out his phone and called his mom, and asked her to bring the kids over to the mansion which she did without asking why.

Hannah is seen standing outside her car, waiting for Arianna to bring her kids. Just then a black car came to a stop in front of the Colby's mansion and Arianna and the octuplets alighted the car, same as Liam too. Hannah walked towards her children and asked them to go wait for her inside the car which they did obediently.

"Hannah" Arianna called and held her hands.

Hannah turned to her and she quickly let go of her hands.

"I'm sorry for everything," she said and Hannah stared at her without saying a word.

She turned and saw Liam and Brandon also staring at her. She looked away from them and walked towards her car.

She opened the car door and hopped inside the car. She took one last glance at Brandon, Arianna, Liam, and Colby's mansion.

She ignited the engine and zoomed off.

Arianna turned to Brandon who wasn't saying or doing anything.

"Why did you let her go? You could have stopped her from leaving" Arianna said and Brandon sighed softly.

"Let her be. She had just found out about a lot of things in one day, she needs time to process everything.

Besides, I already apologized but she asked me to let her go" Brandon said

"And you're just going to give up like that?" Arianna asked

"What do you expect me to do? Go around and start chasing after her? She told me she didn't want the marriage anymore and wanted a divorce and that I shouldn't go after her. She made it clear" Brandon said and Arianna scoffed. "What about the kids Brandon?" Arianna asked and Brandon stared at her without saying a word but just then he walked away from Arianna, his mom.

Liam sighed softly and followed Brandon.

Arianna scoffed and just then she saw Elizabeth walk out of the house with a smile on her face.

Arianna wondered what was making her feel so excited.

"One gone, remaining one, and then this house will be finally free of unwanted people, " Elizabeth said and Arianna rolled her eyes at her.

"You still haven't changed. A devil will always be a devil. I know this is always what you've wanted for Hannah to leave the house but sorry to shock you, Mrs Colby, she's gonna be back.

She and Brandon are going to be good again and be happy with each other. And when that happens then I'm going to have your time.

And I'm going to start by telling Brandon that you had a hand in her missing daughter, Melissa.

Damn! He's going to kill you when he finds out " she said and Elizabeth opened her eyes wide in shock.

"How did you know....." she paused and Arianna scoffed.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"You've forgotten the reason my name was Camilla Colby Montez Aka CCM. I know about all of all the dirty things you've done Elizabeth and I'm going to expose you" Arianna said and with that, she walked away from Elizabeth. Elizabeth felt her heart beat running a marathon race. She felt so scared, she's done a lot of dirty things that if Brandon finds out about, he could torture her to death.

She cannot afford for Brandon to find out about it. She needed to do something to get rid of Camilla before she exposes her, she thought with fear in her heart. Meanwhile, Brandon is seen in his study room answering a phone call, and just then he ends the phone call and then turns to Liam.

"We need to talk to Liam," Brandon said and Liam felt his heartbeat increase at once in fear. He felt so nervous.

"W...what happened?" Liam asked, trying to compose himself and not make it obvious that he was nervous.

"If Hannah is the woman from years ago then who the hell is Rhoda? How come you told me she was the lady I had forced myself on" Brandon asked Liam, swallowing hard. "It was....." Liam paused when he heard Brandon's phone ring.

It was a call from the secretary.

"Sir, our investors are planning on withdrawing from the company because of What happened.

They said if your wife the COO could go to jail for murder, their business isn't safe with you and the COO" The secretary said and Brandon sighed softly and ended the call.

"Did you know?" He asked Liam immediately after he ended the call. He had put the phone on the loudspeaker and Liam had heard everything.

Liam heaved a sigh of relief as Brandon changed the topic from earlier on.

"Yes, I was just looking for the right time to tell you. You were dealing with family issues," Liam said and Brandon sighed.

"What do we do?" Brandon asked

"I think Hannah should step out from the position of the COO and Let someone new should step in....." Liam said and Brandon stared at him without saying a word. Liam was right, Hannah should step down and let someone do it, he thought.

"Since your mom is back, she should take over as the COO, besides, when your dad was around, she was the COO," Liam said and Brandon nodded in response.

"What about your marriage with Hannah? Are you going to sign the divorce papers?" Liam asked

"What? Hell no! I'm not signing it. Giving her space doesn't mean I'm letting her go. Hannah is mine and mine alone.

She's going to forgive me, I'll make sure of that" Brandon said and Liam sighed

"What if she's left the country already!" Liam asked

"She won't, I made sure of that. Her flight had been canceled and booking another flight would be so stressful for her, so she wouldn't leave" he said and Liam nodded In response. Just then a phone rang in Liam's pocket.

Brandon recognizes the sound of the ringing tone. It was Rhoda's.

"Isn't that Rhoda's phone? What the hell are you doing with her phone?"

Chapter 106

"Isn't that Rhoda's phone? What the hell are you doing with her phone" Brandon asked with a look of surprise on his face.

"I took it from evidence," Liam said as he brought out the phone from the pocket. He was looking so scared and nervous and thinking of a lie he would say to Brandon. "Why would you take the phone from evidence?" he asked

"I just wanted to find out the real killer. Rhoda and I were a little bit close and her death came as a shock to me. I know your mom already closed the case but I just wanted to find the killer" Liam said as his facial expression became a sad one. "Liam, I'm sorry about Rhoda," Brandon said and Liam sighed softly and then nodded in response.

"Any idea who is calling her now?" Brandon asked

"I don't know, it's a contact that was saved with Mr jones," Liam said as he gave Brandon the phone.

Brandon stared at the number calling and sighed.

"I would look into the number and find who owns it, maybe it could lead us to the real killer," Brandon said as he took the phone and put it in his locker.

Liam exhaled deeply.

"That was close!! Damn!" he thought. He had stolen the phone from evidence because he had wanted to delete all the threatening messages he had sent Rhoda when he found out she was planning something bad.

He was glad he deleted everything, now even if they try they would never be able to find out he was the one who killed Rhoda, he thought.

Meanwhile, Hannah is seen at the fuel station putting fuel in her car with her kids in the car, when her phone rings. She moved away from the car and answered the phone call.

It was the flight attendant from the airport.

"I'm sorry ma'am, your flight has been canceled," she said and Hannah nodded and ended the call. Without being told she knows whose handwork it was.

Brandon Colby, it is his handwork, good at ruining people's life, she thought as she walked back to her car, and hopped in.

"Mommy, where are we going now?" Aubrey asked

"Uhm, to our new house. I bought a house downtown so we would be leaving there for now but first, we need to get groceries from the grocery store" Hannah said and the kids nodded in response. Hannah ignited the engine and zoomed off her car. She and the kids stopped by the grocery store and after that, they went to their new home.

The car came to a stop in front of a mansion, Hannah and the kids alighted the car.

"Mommy, is this the house?" Jamie asked and Hannah nodded in response.

"You all can go inside, I need to bring some things from the car," Hannah said and the kids nodded and rushed inside the house.

Hannah sighed softly as she watched her kids go inside the house. She stood beside the car looking tired and stressed.

Just then she heard her phone ring, it was a call from Micheal Adams.

"Hey," Hannah muttered as she answered the phone call.

"Hi, I know your mom is in town and I'm sorry I wasn't able to do anything when the FBI took you away," Micheal said and Hannah smiled.

"It's fine," Hannah said and sighed again

"I heard what happened Hannah, Arianna called me and told me everything. I understand how you must be feeling right?

I know you trusted her and all, but she ended up betraying you, but trust me whatever she did wasn't just because her son was the father of your children, it was because she has a kind heart and she is Arianna, she helps people" "Oh you mean her name is Camilla," Hannah said and Micheal sighed

"You are not just anyone to her, you are like the daughter she never had," Micheal said and Hannah scoffed

"She has a daughter, Jessica.

I thought the Mikealson had something to do with the death of her daughter, Cinderella but all those times she lied so I could trust her" Hannah said

"She didn't lie to you, Jessica is not her....." Micheal paused and swallowed her. Hannah was not going to hear the truth from her. Arianna made him promise he won't tell anyone the truth. He cannot tell anyone that Jessica is not Arianna's daughter, even Jessica cannot find out about it.

"If Camilla called you and asked you to come to talk to me, I'm sorry no matter what, I would not forgive her," Hannah said.

"No. She called me but she never asked me to call you, I did willingly.

Hannah, even though you hate Brandon and Arianna, at least for the sake of your kids.

You had just found out about their biological father, you should give them the chance to experience a real father's Love and know what it feels like to have a father.

Do not separate them from their father, give them the chance to experience a father's love and know their father" Micheal said and Hannah became dead silent.

Micheal was right, whatever decision she was going to make now, it's gonna be what favors her kids, not her, she thought to herself.

"Fine, I heard you," Hannah said and ended the call.

Just then Aubrey and Allison ran out of the house.

"Mommy are you not going to come inside?" They asked

"Of course sweethearts, I'm coming," Hannah said and the kids nodded and ran back inside.

Meanwhile, Jessica is seen with Jeff sitting in a restaurant while they speak.

"I'm sorry Jessica, I had gone out of town for business and there was no network in the area I was in, I'm so sorry, please.

I promise I will make up for those times I wasn't able to call or return your messages" Jeff said and Jessica rolled her eyes

"I'm not a child Jeff. Even though you would have looked for a way to reach me if you loved me like you said. You were only toying with my feelings, you never loved me" Jessica said "What? That's not true. I love you, Jessica, from the moment I set my eyes on you, I fell for you.

I love you and want to spend the rest of my life with you. I want us to take the relationship to the next level" Jeff said as he stood up and went on his knees then brought out a ring. "Jessica, will you marry me"

How is your mom alive?

Chapter 107

"Jessica, will you marry me," Jeff said and Jessica opened her mouth wide agape as she saw the Diamond ring in Jeff's hands. "Jeff, please stand up please," she said as she looked around, luckily no one was staring at them.

"Please sit," Jessica said and Jeff nodded.

"What's wrong?" Jeff asked calmly

"I wasn't expecting a ring from you. Jeff, we've just known each other not for a very long time and you want us to get married, I'm sorry, I can't. I feel everything is happening so fast. I can't" Jessica said and Jeff sighed softly.

"It's fine, I'm sorry if it seems things are going too fast. We will take it slow, I'll wait till you are ready," Jeff said and Jessica Forced herself to smile.

She then checked her phone and raised her head at Jeff.

"I'm sorry I have to go now, I have something I need to do at home," Jessica said and stood up, with that she walked out of the restaurant, boarded a taxi, and went straight home.

Immediately she left, Jeff clicked his tongue. His plan didn't go accordingly. He thought she loved him and would be so happy to marry him but yet she kept on acting up, now I have to come up with another plan that would make her say yes. He thought as he then brought out his phone and dialed Dave's contact.

"Hey, did she accept the proposal?" He asked.

"No, I think she's scared," Jeff said

"What are you gonna do about it now? She's the only means you can use in getting Brandon" Dave said

"I know, that's why we're gonna bring in her best friend. She's gonna convince her and tell her how I'm a good guy and she should marry me" Jeff said

"Uhm, you should leave that to me. I think I know of a way to reach her best friend" Dave said and Jeff smiled and ended the call.

He just can't wait for Jessica to accept his proposal. He thought as he imagined the look on Brandon's face when he finds out his younger sister is in love with him and is getting married to him.

And Hannah, she would be so jealous, Jeff thought as he smiled to himself.

Immediately she walked in she met Arianna in the living room, sitting looking sad and lost in thoughts, that she barely noticed someone had walked inside the house.

"Mom" Jessica called and Arianna jumped out of her thoughts.

"Honey" Arianna called and Jessica smiled at her and then sat beside her.

"What's wrong?" Jessica asked and Arianna sighed softly

"It's Hannah, she left with the kids, again, She probably hates me now," Arianna said and Jessica sighed.

"Common mommy, anyone in her shoes would feel the same way, just give her time, she will come around," Jessica said and Arianna nodded in response.

"And you, how did it go? You and your boyfriend" Arianna asked and Jessica smiled.

"Yeah but there's something else," Jessica paused when she heard the doorbell ring. Jessica stood up and went to get the door and to her greatest surprise, she saw her best friend, Krystal standing outside with a smile on her face. "Krystal, what are you doing here? I didn't know you were coming" Jessica said and Krystal rolled her eyes.

"It's been a long time since I gave you a surprise visit and it's been days since I saw you, I miss you. Now, would you please invite me in" Krystal said and Jessica laughed

"Of course, you can come in," Jessica said and Krystal walked in staring at the interior design of the house. The house looks so much different from the last time she came.

"I thought you were leaving for Australia today?" Jessica asked

"Yes, but I changed my mind. I wanted to give you a surprise visit and you know, see your brother, my crush," Krystal said and they both laughed.

Krystal and Jessica had been friends since childhood. They both went to high school and graduated from college together. Krystal had relocated to Australia with her mother after her both parents separated.

Whenever she comes to Atlanta to visit her dad, Jessica would be the one to pick her up from the airport, they would go clubbing and have lots of fun.

Recently, Jessica came to visit her dad and is in town and was planning to leave when Dave called her.

He had paid her a large sum of money to convince Jessica to marry Jeff.

"Where is he?" Jessica asked looking around and just then she caught a glimpse of a woman who looked so much like Jessica staring at both her and Jessica.

"Jessica, is that your mom?" Krystal asked and Jessica nodded. She didn't recognize Camilla anymore. The last time she saw her was when she was still a child and she thought Jessica said her mom was dead. How come she's alive? She thought to herself.

"Woah, hi ma'am" Krystal smiled

"Oh my Krystal, you've grown into a big girl already," Camilla said and Krystal smiled at her.

Just then Camilla heard her phone ring, she smiled at them and walked away.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"I thought she was dead?" Krystal asked

"Same here, it's a long story, I will tell you about it later," Jessica said as they both sat on the couch and then sighed softly.

"What's up with the mood?" Krystal asked

"Jeff asked me to marry him," Jessica said and Krystal opened her mouth wide pretending to be shocked.

"Oh my God, tell me you said yes," Krystal said and Jessica rolled her eyes.

"Oh no, don't tell me you said no," Krystal said with a frown.

"I didn't say no, neither did I say yes. Everything is complicated Krystal.

Jeff and I hadn't known each other for a very long time and days ago he wasn't answering my phone calls and today he proposed to me.

I can't just say yes, although he said he would wait for me till I'm ready" Jessica said and Krystal clicked her tongue.

"Oh, my goodness Jessica. I'm sure there's a reason he didn't answer your phone calls. He was probably busy.

Common Jess, Jeff loves you so much and from the way I see him, he's a nice man. You should give him a chance and accept the ring.

Then when he takes you to see his family, you would get to know him more" Krystal said and Jessica went dead silent.

"Jessica, all the guys you've been with in the past, you've been the one who loved them more but this is different, Jeff loves you more than you love him," Krystal said and Jessica sighed softly. "Fine, I'll think about it," she said and Krystal smiled knowing too well that Jessica would accept the proposal.

"Now, tell me how the hell your mom is alive," Krystal said and Jessica smiled

My PA

Chapter 108

It was morning and a new day. Arianna had woken up so early and got dressed for work, and prepared breakfast for both Jessica and Brandon. The maids had already resumed work today.

Arianna went upstairs to wake up Jessica for breakfast. She brushed her teeth and came downstairs to join her mom for breakfast.

Arianna and Jessica are seen in the dining area eating when Brandon came down the stairs, all dressed for work, and joined them.

"Mom, I was thinking you should resume your position as the new COO," Brandon said

"What? No! What about Hannah?" Arianna asked

"I think she should step down for the now and you should take over for the good of the company, till we are able to fix the issues on ground" Brandon said

"No, I can't honey. Hannah and you are going to fix whatever is going on in the company, that position of the COO is hers and no one else " Arianna said and just then they caught a glimpse of Grandma Elizabeth climbing down the stairs while cat walking.

She was putting on a black gown and black heels while holding a black bag in her hands.

Everyone was surprised to see her dressed that way, they wondered where she was heading to.

"Where are you off to, Elizabeth? Church? God knows you love to get down on your knees" Arianna said as she remembered how Elizabeth had sex with the former chauffeur when she was still married to her son. Elizabeth rolled her eyes.

"Camilla or Arianna, whatever your name is, I'm headed to the same place as you, work.

I'm going to resume my position as the new COO of Colby Co.

Do you even have an office yet? I'm sure you do not even have a job " Elizabeth said and Arianna laughed

"Oh, we both know I run one of the biggest companies in New York. I own the Mackenzie company, so to answer your question, I do not just have an office, I have a company I run, unlike you who chase clout and do nothing. And as for the COO position, it belongs to my daughter, Hannah" Arianna said and Elizabeth scoffed.

"Your daughter? Oh wow! The daughter you lied to. I'm sure she hates you now and wants you dead, what a bad mother" Elizabeth said and Arianna scoffed.

"Oh, we both know you are the bad mother here, imagine a mother supporting his son to kill his wife," Arianna said and Brandon stared at his mom, confused wondering what she was talking about.

"I was a good mother to my son, you were a bad wife," Elizabeth said

"I was a good mother, Bad mothers always say that," Arianna said Elizabeth frowned and threw her handbag at Arianna but she was quick to dodge it and it hit the floor.

Arianna stood up and walked towards Elizabeth and slapped her on the face and just then the both of them started fighting.

Jessica stood up to separate but Brandon shot her a deadly glare.

"Don't you dare" he said as he watched Camilla beat Elizabeth black and blue. Deep down Brandon was never going to separate them, whatever beating Camilla was giving Elizabeth, she so much deserved it. Jessica then rushed towards Them and pulled her mom away from Elizabeth then stood in between the both of them.

"Mom! Grandma! Enough!" Jessica yelled

"Tell that to the woman who you call your mom. This was the reason Wilson hated you, I wished you were dead Camilla, I wished you never came back" Elizabeth yelled, breathing hard.

"Oh yes, and I'm not gonna wish you dead now because I promise you I'm going to kill you and I won't make the same mistake you and Wilson did years ago.

I will stay by your side till you breathe your last breath" Camilla said angrily.

"What are you talking about?" Brandon asked

"Why don't you tell him? Why don't you tell your grandson how you stood and watch Wilson shoot me? Why don't you tell him you were there when he shot me and left me for dead? Tell him the truth, Elizabeth " Arianna said and Brandon stood up at once and turned to Elizabeth.

"Is it true grandma?" Jessica asked as tears gathered in her eyes.

"She's lying, she came to scatter this family, that's all she knows how to do," Elizabeth said and tried touching Jessica but she moved away from her.

"I don't know what to believe anymore," Jessica said and walked upstairs to her room.

"Jessica" Arianna called and went after her.

"She's lying Brandon, I would never do that, you trust me," Elizabeth said and Brandon scoffed.

"Trusting you would be the last thing I would do here on earth, not after you tried to kill my wife.

And I do not want to see you anywhere close to my company" Brandon said as he stared at her in disgust, then walked past her and walked outside the house.

He wasn't in for another family drama, a lot is going on in the company and his marriage, his only priority now is to fix his marriage and his company, he thought as he hopped inside his car and zoomed off to the company.

His car came to a stop in front of the Colby co, he stared around and noticed a strange car parked in his parking space.

Maybe it's one of his clients, he thought as he walked inside the company. Liam rushed towards him and was about to speak when he cut him off.

He hopped inside his elevator and walked inside his office. Immediately he opened his office door to his greatest surprise, he saw Hannah sitting on his chair looking as beautiful as ever. "Hannah" he called out surprised

"Hello, Ex husband or should I say, Brandon Colby," Hannah said with a smile on her face.

Brandon stared at her speechlessly, he wasn't expecting her,

"What are you doing here?" He asked and Hannah raised her eyebrows

"Are You seriously asking me that? Or have you forgotten I'm the COO of this company? I'm back now to resume office" Hannah said and Brandon swallowed hard.

"I think....."

"I heard the rumor Brandon and you gonna fix it, for your information, I'm not stepping down, I am the COO of Colby co and no one's gonna take that position from me," Hannah said and stood up "Now where the hell is my PA, Kate?"

Are you threatening me

Chapter 109

It was morning and Hannah had woken up feeling so tired. She and the kids had to put everything in order at their new house, so they slept late.

She stood up from the bed and walked inside the bathroom, brushed her teeth, and took her bath. She then went downstairs to prepare breakfast for the kids.

After she was done, she went upstairs to the kid's room, luckily they were already awake. She helped them take their bath and get dressed for school.

They ate breakfast and she went to drop them off at school. After which she went back home and got dressed.

She was going to resume as the COO of Colby co, but the fact that she and Brandon are not on good terms doesn't mean she should give up her position in the company. He stated in the contract that whatever is his, is also hers.

So far, he hasn't signed the divorce paper yet, whatever he owns, was also hers, she thought as she got dressed. Besides, before he signs the divorce paper, she plans on making Brandon's life hell.

She made sure she put on her most beautiful clothes and looked her best. She took her handbag and phone, then walked out of the house, hopped inside her car, and zoomed off.

Her car screeched to a halt in front of the company. She alighted the car and walked inside the company and of course, all eyes were on her, they couldn't dare say a word right in front of her, she had planned on firing anyone that dared say an i'll word about her.

She ignored their looks and entered the elevator then went to her office when she had gotten there she didn't meet her assistant, Kate.

Just then Liam walked in.

"Hi, Mrs. Colby, I didn't know you would be coming today," Liam said

"You didn't need to know if I would be coming, Liam. Anyways, you came just in time, where the hell is Kate?" Hannah asked

"Uhm, she no longer works here, Brandon asked me to fire her " Liam said and Hannah sighed softly and nodded.

"And where the hell is Brandon?" Hannah asked

"He's yet to arrive at the office," Liam said and Hannah nodded in response.

She then decided to go wait for Brabdon at his office, it didn't take long for Brandon to arrive at the company.

At first, he was shocked to see her and his face softened the moment he saw her.

"What are you doing here?" He asked and Hannah raised her eyebrows

"Are You seriously asking me that? Or have you forgotten I'm the COO of this company? I'm back now to resume office" Hannah said and Brandon swallowed hard.

"I think....."

"I heard the rumor, Brandon and you gonna fix it, for your information I'm not stepping down, I am the COO of Colby co and no one's gonna take that position from me," Hannah said and stood up "Now where the hell is my PA, Kate?" Hannah asked

"She no longer works here, I asked Liam to get rid of her, " Brandon said and Hannah scoffed.

"You should have let me decide if she could work for me or not. She's my PA, not yours, I fucking hired her and only I had the right to fire her" Hannah said angrily.

"She wasn't worth being your PA, besides I just found out recently that she's been in contact with someone telling her about your every move.

She was just a spy and nothing else" Brandon said. He had checked Rhoda's phone after he took it from Liam and found out Kate had been sending messages about Hannah's whereabouts to Rhoda. He was glad he fired her before he found out, or else he was going to kill her.

"What are you talking about?" Hannah asked

"Nothing, you should go back to your office, I have work to do," Brandon said and Hannah rolled her eyes at him.

She wasn't willing to exchange another word with him, the sight of him alone makes her angry, and the fact that she was the man who forced himself on her years ago, made her angrier.

She stood up and was about to leave when Brandon suddenly called her name, making her pause.

"Hannah" he called and swallowed into nothing and she paused but didn't turn to him.

I thought he asked me to leave, why the hell is he calling my name?

"I'm sorry for everything, I'm sorry for the pain I caused. Please come home" Brandon said and Hannah turned around giving him the coldest look ever.

"Sorry cannot fix the damage you caused, I told you already, I want a divorce," Hannah said and Brandon's gaze fell in disappointment. He became sad.

"Hannah please, what about the kids? Are you gonna separate me from them? I just found out they are my kids, please just give me a chance to be a father to them and make up for those years I wasn't by their side" Brandon said and Hannah became dead silent, like she was in a deep thought.

"Fine, I'll let you spend time with the kids but that doesn't mean we are coming back together because it's never going to happen, not even in your dream," Hannah said and Brandon felt his heart leap in joy. He was making progress. Hannah allowing him to see the kids was a big win for him. If he could win the kids over, they would help him win Hannah, he thought.

"And don't even dare think you can convince my kids to convince me into forgiving you because the moment I find out, I'm going to convince the board members to fire you from being the CEO," Hannah said like she had read Brandon's mind and Brandon on the other hand stared at Hannah in shock.

"What???" Brandon yelled and Hannah smiled.

"Are you threatening me?" Brandon asked still surprised

"Try me and see," she said and with that she walked out of the office, leaving Brandon shocked.

TBC

I am sorry.

Chapter 110

Try me and see" she said and with that, she walked out of the office.

Immediately, she walked out of the office Liam walked in.

"Why didn't you tell me she was in my office?" Brandon asked immediately after Liam walked in.

"I tried telling you but you said you weren't in the mood to talk," Liam said and Brandon sighed softly.

"Did she forgive you?" Liam asked

"No, but she said she would only allow me to see the kids but that doesn't mean she forgives me. It's still progress, right?"

Gradually, I know I will win her heart again, it might only take time" Brandon said and Liam nodded in response.

"What do I have on my schedule today?" Brandon asked

"A board meeting by 12pm and a meeting with Mr. Holland by 2pm, he's willing to meet and discuss business terms with you.

He's from New York City. Mrs Colby lived there before so she should know how to convince him to agree to our business terms, so you would be going with her" Liam said and Brandon nodded in response.  At Colby's mansion *****

Jessica walked inside her room angrily with tears in her eyes, she then sat on the bed when suddenly the door opened revealing Camilla.

"Honey" Camilla called and Jessica stood up and hugged her.

"I'm so sorry honey, I didn't mean to get into a fight, I promise I won't fight her anymore," Camilla said and Jessica cried the more.

"Mom, I'm so sorry you had to go through all of that, I thought Grandma was a good woman, I didn't know she was behind all this" Jessica cried. It hurts her so much because of how much she loved Elizabeth. She could remember the night She came home and told her Camilla was dead. She consoled her that day and since then she became a mother to her.

She didn't know all this while she had separated her mom from them. Why?, she thought more tears were pouring out of her eyes.

She had forgiven her when she tried killing Hannah but this, she was never going to forgive her, she thought.

"Hey, sweetheart, please stop crying, I'm sorry," Camilla said as she pulled away from the hug and wiped Jessica's tears.

"You're gonna ruin your beauty with tears," Camilla said and Jessica pouted and smiled.

Just then the door burst open revealing Elizabeth.

"What do you want?" Jessica asked at once

"I'm sorry Jessica but whatever Camilla is telling you is nothing but a lie, can't you see she's been trying to split this family since she came here," Elizabeth said and Jessica scoffed. "You've been the one trying to split this family since day one. You tried to kill Hannah and I forgave you for that and now you were the reason my mom had left years ago.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

You and my dad were the fucking reason, I will never be able to forgive you and Dad for what you both did. You denied me the love of my mother for years" Jessica shook her head and walked out of the room angrily. "Jessica please," Elizabeth said but Jessica paid no attention to her. She sighed softly, she needed to do everything in her power to make sure Jessica forgives her.

Jessica was the only reason Brandon hadn't kicked her out of the house. If Jessica refused to forgive her, Brandon wouldn't hesitate to kick her out.

Just then she turned and saw Camilla staring at her with a smile on her face. She was mocking her.

"You bitch!" Elizabeth said and raised her hands to hit Camilla.

"You won't dare," Camilla said and Elizabeth paused her hands in the air.

"Elizabeth Colby. I'm no longer that weak woman you and your son used years ago. I bet you, if you try me I'm gonna tell you why my name is now Arianna Mackenzie and no longer Camilla Colby.

Jessica would hate you more when she finds out the whole truth of what a demon you are. Now you have the time, I'll advise you to run and never look back because by the time Brandon finds out about the real truth behind her missing daughter, you would be so dead.

Poor thing, sorry, your greatest nightmare is back, and trust me I'm going to make your life as miserable as hell!!" Camilla said and with that, she walked out of the room with a smile on her face.

Elizabeth groaned and gritted her teeth trying to hold herself from screaming out loud out of the anger she felt.

Camilla was so strong now and unlike then, she was now a different person. Even how strong she pretends to be, there was only one person she believed she'd always been scared of.

The mafia lord, Brandon's father, Wilson Colby. It was time for him to return home, Elizabeth thought, and then brought out her phone.

Meanwhile, at Colby's company, Hannah is seen walking out of the board room with a straight face. She walked to her office and closed the door. Just then the door burst open revealing an angry Brandon.

"What was that shit you pulled in front of everyone? If you know the company does not have the resources to train those engineers in the Wilson field, why bring it up in the first place?" Brandon said, looking so angry.

"To make you look stupid and show everyone that you ain't capable of being the CEO anymore, instead I am," Hannah said and Brandon stared at her angrily but then took a deep breath trying to calm himself down. He knows what Hannah was trying to do, she was trying to get back at him for what he did to her.

"I know what you are trying to do Hannah, you are trying to get back at me for what I did to you.

I apologized to you and will keep on apologizing, I am sorry for hurting you in the past. What else do you want me to do?" Brandon said looking frustrated.

"You think sorry is gonna fix all the damage you caused? You think if you say sorry then everything is okay and I'll forgive you and come running back to your arms?" Hannah asked angrily.

Brandon could see how angry Hannah was, so he decided to calm himself down. He hurt her, he was wrong, he didn't have any right to be angry at her because he's done worse to her. "Hannah please" Brandon begged Hannah, shook her head and was about to walk out of the office when Brandon held her hands.

"Let go of my hands, Brandon," Hannah said as she tried to avoid Brandon's gaze.

"If you do not let go of me, I'm going to scream," Hannah said but Brandon on the other hand didn't let go of her.

Instead, he did the unexpected. He went down on his knees to apologize.

Hannah opened her eyes in shock as she saw Brandon Colby, kneeling in front of her asking for her forgiveness.
